Selling Bonds

Why Do Some Men Sell More Bonds Than Others?

(1) Salesmen differ in their Knowledge of Securities. Hence some can talk much more intelligently and gain the investor's confidence better than others.

(2) Salesmen differ in their ability to capitalize their knowledge so as to present their issues in a forceful manner. Hence some can close much better than others.

MORE SALES

The Babson Institute Training in Security Salesmanship not only contains the facts so absolutely essential to success in selling securities but also shows how to present these facts in a way which means More Sales.

Our booklet, "Security Salesmanship—The Profession," outlines a training the tremendous value of which cannot fail to impress you. Write for this free booklet today.

For 1924 —A Policy

The uncertain character of the investment market in 1923 emphasizes more strongly than ever the necessity of keeping informed on the outlook and progress of events throughout the coming year.

Clients of our Service were forewarned in December, 1922, of the heavy stock declines which commenced in March, 1923. They may expect equally farsighted interpretations of conditions during 1924.

If you are interested in forming a sound investment policy for the new year, we shall be pleased to describe how we can help you.

Many neglect their own affairs

Many persons are so busy that they have no time to care properly for their own investments—coupons are not collected—called bonds are not presented for payment—proper records are not kept—securities are not sold or purchases made because the individual has not the opportunity to attend to all the detail this involves.

The Bankers Trust Company will act as your "Financial Secretary." The charge is moderate. Our officers at any office will be glad to explain in detail.

There is a booklet "Your Financial Secretary" to be had for the asking.

THE BRITISH OVERSEAS BANK

LIMITED

Established 1919.

Report presented to the Fourth Annual General Meeting of Shareholders held in the Bank Premises, 33, Gracechurch Street (Lombard Court), London, E.C., on Friday, 14th December, 1923.

The Governing Council submits to the Shareholders the Balance Sheet of the Bank, as at 31st October, 1923, and Profit and Loss Account, together with copy of the Auditors' Certificate.

The Profit, after allowing rebate of interest and providing for all bad and doubtful debts, Income tax and other taxation for the year ended 31st October, 1923, amounts to		£100,968	1 6
Balance available from last account		57,813	18 2
Making a total of		£158,781	19 8
Interim Dividend on "A" Ordinary Shares at the rate of six per cent per annum for the half-year ended 30th April, 1923, and Income tax thereon		30,000	0 0
Leaving a Balance of		£128,781	19 8
which has been appropriated as follows:
In payment of a Dividend on the "A" Ordinary Shares at the rate of six per cent per annum (less Income tax) for the half-year ended 31st October, 1923, which together with Income tax thereon amounts to	£30,000 0 0
To Reserve Fund against Shareholding Interests in Foreign Banks	£15,000 0 0
To Reduction of Premises Account	£10,000 0 0
To Furniture Account	£5,000 0 0
Leaving a Net Balance to be carried forward to next year of	£68,781 19 8
		£128,781	19 8

During the year, as already announced, the Bank purchased the Shareholding Interests in the London and Liverpool Bank of Commerce, Limited, for the sum of £645,000. The results have completely justified this step, and the most cordial and satisfactory relations have been established with the customers of that Institution. On the 14th May the Bank was put into Liquidation, and since that date the business has been completely absorbed with our own. The liquidation of the assets has not yet been completed and the amount outstanding is included with "Advances to Customers and other Accounts." Mr. H. E. Lawford, the late Manager, has been recommended by his Medical Advisers to winter abroad, and his resignation has been regretfully accepted.

Certain alterations are recommended in the Constitution of the Bank, and these changes are dealt with in some detail in a separate Circular to the "A" Shareholders, whose direct interests are, however, unaffected by the fresh regulations submitted.

The retiring Auditors, Messrs. A. W. Tait, C.B.E., and A. S. Macharg, are eligible for re-election and offer themselves for re-appointment.

By order of the Governing Council,
A. E. THORNE, Secretary.

NOTICE DECLARING PLAN OPERATIVE

Readjustment of Debt

To the holders of bonds, notes and other securities included in the Plan and Agreement of June 16, 1922, and the Deposit Agreement, dated July 1, 1922, referred to in the Committee's previous notice dated July 9, 1923.

Sufficient progress has been made under the above mentioned Agreements, both in the deposit of bonds and in making available funds for bond interest service during 1923 to justify the Committee in declaring the Plan operative. At the present time the amount of funds made available to the Committee is in excess of $13,500,000 U. S. gold. Assurances have been received from the Minister of Finance of the United States of Mexico that the balance of the $15,000,000 U. S. gold named as the minimum fund for the service of the debt included within the Plan during the first year of the five-year period covered by the Agreement with the Mexican Government will be made available prior to December 31, 1923. The amount of cash already made available to the Committee exceeds the amount required for the first year's interest service with respect to bonds now deposited and assenting, which represent a substantial majority of all bonds included under the Plan.

The Committee, therefore, in accordance with the powers granted to it by the June 16, 1922, Agreement and by the Deposit Agreement, declares the Plan and Agreement operative in respect of all the bonds, notes and other securities above mentioned. Bondholders who have not yet deposited their bonds should do so promptly as the Committee reserves the right to accept deposits of bonds after December 31, 1923, only subject to such terms and conditions as the Committee may fix.

Depositors will be notified in due course to present their receipts and receive the bonds represented thereby, together with the appropriate warrant sheets and interest in arrears receipts, to which they are entitled.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

From a letter addressed to us by Mr. C. F. Huber, President of both The Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Corporation and Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, we summarize as follows:

Security: The Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Corporation owns 149,788 shares equivalent to 81.3% of the total outstanding capital stock (184,200 shares) of Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company.

These 149,788 Coal Company shares are to be assigned to the Trustee as collateral security for the payment of the principal and interest of the Corporation's $10,000,000 Five and One-Half Per Cent. Serial Collateral Trust Bonds under an indenture with the usual protective provisions and to contain rigid covenants protecting the holders of the bonds as to future additions to the funded indebtedness of the Coal Company beyond the present amount of $5,550,000 now outstanding; as to the reduction of the Coal Company's combined capital and surplus below $20,000,000 by cash distribution to its stockholders; as to the sale or other disposition of its coal lands; and as to stock dividends unless 81.3% of the resulting distribution be pledged with the Trustee. The indenture will also contain suitable protective covenants to cover the possible merger of the Coal Company or the Corporation or either of them with other corporations or with each other.

These 149,788 shares of stock of the Coal Company were purchased by the Corporation on December 10, 1923, at $150 per share, and shares are pledged under the indenture at only $66.76 per share.

The Corporation has no debt aside from this issue of bonds.

Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company: The Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company's mining operations are mainly in the Wyoming, but partly in the Lehigh region of the Pennsylvania anthracite fields. It owns in fee 11,658 acres of coal lands and holds under lease 2,724 acres, or a total of 14,382 acres. It also owns in fee 26,105 acres of surface and has eleven collieries with modern breakers, washeries, and miscellaneous equipment for efficient and economical operation. A conservative estimate of the remaining marketable tonnage in its properties is 325,000,000 tons, and as its average annual production is approximately 5,000,000 tons the properties have a life of about sixty-five years.

Earnings: For the five calendar years 1919 to 1923, both inclusive (1923 partly estimated), the net earnings of the Coal Company after all operating expenses, maintenance, interest charges, taxes (local, State, Federal and income) and adequate allowances for depletion and depreciation, have averaged $5,450,000 per annum. In no year during this period have the earnings been less than $3,850,000.

Thus the proportion of the average annual net earnings indicated as applicable to the Coal Company shares owned by the Corporation and to be pledged as security for its bonds has been nearly three times the maximum amount necessary to meet the annual requirements for retiring the yearly maturities and for interest on the bonds outstanding from time to time; and eight times the maximum annual interest requirements of these bonds.

We offer these bonds, subject to issue as planned, at the following prices for the respective maturities:

1927 to 1934 at 100 and accrued interest to yield . 5.50 %

All legal matters in connection with this issue are being approved by Messrs. White & Case, New York. It is expected that temporary bonds of the Corporation will be ready for delivery on or about January 2, 1924.

For detailed information regarding these Bonds, attention is directed to a letter of Mr. Samuel Insull, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Company, from which the following is summarized:

TERRITORY: The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois operates in fifteen counties, surrounding Chicago, in northeastern Illinois. This territory includes the suburban district tributary to Chicago, also one of the best manufacturing sections in the United States.

SECURITY: The Mortgage under which the Bonds are issued will be secured, in opinion of counsel:

(a) By a first mortgage collateral lien on a power plant designed to be the principal generating unit of the system;

(b) By pledge of $19,308,000 par value of the Company's First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds;

(c) By a direct mortgage lien on all of the Company's physical property now owned or hereafter acquired.

STOCK EQUITY: These Bonds precede 100,000 shares of outstanding Preferred Stock, paying $6 per share per annum and 198,711 shares of outstanding Common Stock, paying $7 per share per annum, having a combined market value, as indicated by recent quotations, of over $28,900,000.

EARNINGS: For the year ended December 31, 1922, gross earnings were $14,225,115.82 and net earnings, before depreciation, $5,007,865.33. Earnings for the calendar year 1923 will be the largest in the Company's history. Gross and net earnings will show an approximate increase over those for 1922 of from 14% to 17%. The annual interest on the entire Funded Debt of the Company in the hands of the public, including these Bonds, requires $2,593,110.

MANAGEMENT: The management is in the hands of experienced public utility men, who have built up for the Company a well established and growing business, as is evidenced by the increasing popularity of the Company's service.

These Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to approval of counsel. Temporary bonds or interim receipts later exchangeable for definitive bonds will be ready for delivery on or about January 3, 1924, at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc. Quicksands of the Investment Market

When the bond market is weak or "mushy" it is a sure sign that the ultimate consumer is not buying. The dealer is holding the bag and hesitates to take more syndicate issues.

The surest way to obviate this dangerous condition, to bring about the quick absorption of current issues and to maintain the market for future issues, is to advertise to the consumer through the mediums that hold his interest and confidence.

Because The Chicago Daily News prints the most comprehensive market and financial page in Chicago, and in its "Final Edition" gives the complete story of the financial day TWELVE HOURS EARLIER than the same reports are supplied by any morning newspaper, Chicago investors look to The Daily News for their market and financial information.

Advertising in these pages commands the same interest and confidence that the readers extend to The Daily News itself.

State and City Section.

A new number of our "State and City Section," revised to date, appears to-day, and all readers of the paper who are subscribers should receive a copy of it. As previously announced, this Supplement is now printed in two parts, Part One, containing the New England, the Middle and the Middle Western States, having been issued last June, while Part Two, embracing the rest of the country, appears to-day. The change is due to the fact that with the growth and multiplication of the municipalities of the United States the demand for additional space has become too heavy to satisfy within the limits of a single number.

The Financial Situation.

The recent decision upholding the right of the Cotton Exchange to withhold its ticker service from users whom it does not approve is of such fundamental and far-reaching importance that some comment upon it is appropriate at this time. Some 30 years ago the Consolidated Stock Exchange obtained an injunction forbidding the Stock Exchange from withdrawing its quotation service. It was not deemed best then to contest that action, and although bucket shop operations and disclosures thereof have produced very different conditions from those at that time the main Exchange has not yet thought it expedient to push the matter; now, however, comes the decision of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals, affirming the action of a lower court in refusing a similar injunction, and not only greatly strengthens the stand of the Stock Exchange, legally and morally, but throws a sharp light upon the substance and the public importance of the subject.

To go directly to the root of the matter, a statement of the positions taken by the contending parties will best serve. The Cotton Exchange considers the Odd Lot organization a successor to a former body which was guilty of improper trading and therefore refuses to supply its own quotations to that minor body; the minor body insists that it is now clean, and sought the injunction which thus far stands denied; through its official head it puts its case in a statement so clearly contrasting the alleged with the real principle involved that we quote it without attempting to paraphrase it:

"The Odd Lot Cotton Exchange of New York is fighting for a principle, and that principle is the right of the small cotton merchant, the small farmer and the small trader, to the facilities and privileges of the cotton futures market on the same basis as the wealthy and powerful members of the Big Board. . . . We do not believe that the New York Cotton Exchange has any unconditional ownership in the price of a world-wide commodity such as cotton. We appreciate the painstaking care and consideration given our case by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and regret that we should have lost it. We are informed by our attorneys that we have the right of appeal to the United States Supreme Court, and have instructed them to make such appeal."

The action of the final tribunal, when such an appeal reaches it, cannot be properly assumed in advance, however strongly one may feel concerning it. But another appeal has already gone to a tribunal which ultimately decides all human questions that can be decided by a majority concurrence upon them, namely the court of public opinion. It is or should be impossible to entertain doubt what that tribunal will finally do with such an issue as is raised by the foregoing statement, which shows what utter absurdity can be declared when a case of special pleading becomes desperate. The alleged "principle" is "the right of the small farmer and small trader to the facilities and privileges of the cotton futures market on the same basis as the wealthy and powerful members of the Big Board," and it is denied that the accused powerful association "has any unconditional ownership in the price of a world-wide commodity such as cotton." It is worth while to quote these declarations a second time, so illuminating are they. Here is the familiar attempt to fan anew the hatred of the poor against the rich, and the same attempt to convert every business association and every business success into a "trust." Certainiy nobody has any "ownership," exclusive and "unconditional," or otherwise, in the prices of commodities. Like the Stock Exchange, the Cotton Exchange is a voluntary organization for business, with an inalienable right to grant or refuse admission to its membership to anybody it chooses (the same right as a literary or social club has to do the same) and a like right to control its own private facilities and information. Destroy this right, and a bank would be compelled to do business with unprofitable or undesirable customers, a clearing house could have no control over its own membership, a newspaper could not exclude advertisements deemed objectionable, nor could newspapers associate for the purpose of obtaining news. It is needless to multiply illustrations of the chaos to which such a doctrine of enforced sharing would lead us if carried to the full, because the essence of it is the "principle" that everything must be shared with everybody who is willing to pay something for it; that is to say, there is no indefeasible private ownership, which means that there is no private property. Human beings must have air to breathe, or they cannot exist; not more surely must the rights of ownership in property be maintained or property cannot exist.

It may once more be pointed out that there is no analogy between a bank and a "trade" association; further, there is none between the latter and a common carrier or a public utility. When men get together for obtaining information and other business facilities, at their own cost, they have no franchise, no monopoly power, and no means of preventing an unlimited number of others from combining likewise and for the same purpose.

Some statements in a recent address to associated bankers by President Cromwell of the Stock Exchange may also claim a right to mention at this time. Mr. Cromwell denies the current story that in failures of Exchange houses losses to customers have been a large percentage of the total. In the last three years, he says, the sales of listed securities upon the Exchange have shown a loss to the business handled of only 2½ one-thousandths of 1%; this marks anew the distinction between listed and unlisted securities, and gives emphasis to our recent remark that to be on the Exchange "list," though not a guaranty in the usual sense of that term, does imply and does give a warrant of financial "moral character." Says Mr. Cromwell:

"The remarkably high percentage of cash payments in Exchange failures is well known; the fact must also not be lost sight of that these cash payments are made after large amounts of securities have been returned to customers; failures on the Stock Exchange during recent years have not been isolated instances of business insolvency but were the result of conditions in American business which have brought about failures in all lines of endeavor in even larger proportions, including banking. . . . Upon the Stock Exchange is often placed responsibility for the sins of others."

All perfectly true, but not yet enough "well known." Mr. Cromwell proceeds to say that stockholders of companies are "extraordinarily apathetic" about periodical statements from their companies; that he has no sympathy with excuses for not making such statements, and he thinks the Exchange is not enough awake to the need and expediency of drastic action in such cases; he goes so far as to say that when public reports concerning listed stocks are too long withheld the stockholders ought to be informed, thereby receiving opportunity for action, and that if their demands (supposing they make such) are not complied with the stock ought to be stricken from the list, after a certain period; such an action would deal the company a blow through loss of confidence, yet he believes one such sharp lesson would be sufficient and in the end there would be a public gain.

These are a few of the "high spots" in an address which ought to be read by all persons, in or out of Congress, who let unverified rumors pass as facts and fall into the deplorable habit of denouncing. Mr. Cromwell shows once more that the Stock Exchange has better ability and a keener concern in setting up and keeping the highest standards of business morality than any self-appointed reformers and investigators can have. What business and prosperity need now is in large measure what a mother worrying about the ill-behavior of her little boy was told by a more judicious mother might be hopefully tried: "A little wholesome neglect.'' Give us a term of rest from meddling interventions. As Grant said long ago, "Let us have peace." In attacking one another we attack ourselves.

With the selection of Henry M. Robinson, lawyer and banker of Los Angeles, the American membership on "the expert committees which are to investigate the condition of Germany's finances under the auspices of the Reparations Commission" has been completed. It will be recalled that "the other two American members, previously selected, are Charles G. Dawes and Owen D. Young." General Dawes was the first Director of the Budget, while Mr. Young is Chairman of the Board of the General Electric Co. The former has been asked to serve as Chairman of the special committee to which he has been appointed. Mr. Robinson is President of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and prominently identified with other financial institutions. During the war he was a member of the National Council of Defense and assistant to Edward M. Hurley, Chairman of the Shipping Board. Later he was Special Commissioner of the United States Shipping Board at the Versailles Peace Conference. In the Paris cablegram, through which the announcement of the selection of Mr. Robinson reached this country, it was noted that "he was created a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor in 1920." It seems that "Mr. Robinson will be named a member of the committee to estimate the amount of German capital abroad."

According to a Paris dispatch, "all the delegates of the Powers represented on the Reparations Commission have notified Colonel James A. Logan, the American representative, that they will attend a plenary session of the Commission, to be held shortly, and join in extending the invitation to Mr. Robinson." Word was received from the same centre Wednesday evening that "the Reparations Commission to-day formally approved the nominations of the two expert committees which are to investigate Germany's financial situation, and issued an invitation to Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles lawyer and banker, to be the third American member, Charles G. Dawes and Owen D. Young having previously been invited. It was announced also that "the first committee, that on budget, will meet here on Jan. 14, and the second, which will consider German capital abroad, on Jan. 21, so as to give Mr. Robinson time to get here." In a later cablegram it was stated that the Commission made "official nomination of 15 delegates who will represent the United States, England, France, Belgium and Italy on the two committees to inquire into the means of creating stable money for Germany and balancing the budget, and into the extent to which German capital has been transferred abroad and methods by which its return can be secured. Notice of their nomination and invitations to attend the first meetings of the committees in Paris were sent to the delegates." Announcement was made also that Sir Robert Kinderley had been substituted on the English delegation for Montagu Norman. It seems that the Bank of England, of which he is a Governor, could not "see its way" to give its consent to his being absent from London long enough to serve on the committee. Sir Robert "was the first British representative on the Bankers' Commission on which the United States was represented by J. P. Morgan."

The New York "Times" representative in Paris cabled that, "though the first meeting of the two committees will be held in Paris, it is expected that later they will find it convenient to work in Berlin. Sir John Bradbury and Louis Barthou are in agreement that the fullest liberty shall be granted them to meet where they wish and when they wish, to discuss the situation from every angle with complete freedom and to report their findings irrespective of any political considerations." He added that "among the members of the Reparations Commission responsible for the creation of these two committees and the nomination of their members there is a fairly optimistic spirit, for it is realized that under the chairmanship of General Charles G. Dawes and with such members as Reginald McKenna the two committees will prove themselves 'strong.' It is no secret that much is hoped from the driving force of the American delegation and from its detachment from the circumstances which have recently so much hindered the work of the Reparations Commission and caused a practical deadlock." According to the correspondent also, "there is ground for hope, too, in the fact that the German Government appears to consider very favorably the work of the committees and is ready to give all the help it can both in supplying full information on the actual and potential situation of German finance and in helping Committee No. 2 to estimate and identify exported capital. The Belgian and Italian representatives who were nominated to-day have been like the American, British and French, selected because of their technical knowledge of the questions to be examined and not because of political prominence."

According to Washington advices, Charles G. Dawes and Owen D. Young, "for nearly two hours on Thursday conferred with Secretary of State Hughes and later went to the White House, where they were luncheon guests of President Coolidge. Neither would make any statement on their forthcoming visit." They will sail for Europe to-day. The Washington correspondent of "The Sun and The Globe" observed that, "while explanations were made by Administration officials that the American Government is not officially interested in the examination by the Reparations Commission into Germany's budget and the escape of her capital to foreign countries it is appreciated that both President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes entertain the highest hopes that something definite and practical for the restoration of the financial and economic balance in Europe will result from the participation of the members of the delegation from the United States."

Premier Poincare, in the Chamber of Deputies on Dec. 21 made a three-hour address in defense of his foreign policy, particularly with respect to the occupation of the Ruhr. The New York "Times" representative said that he "painted a rosy picture of all that would result from the exploitation of the Ruhr and a very dark picture indeed of what would have happened had the Ruhr not been occupied." The Premier was reported to have admitted that "it is unfortunately certain that Germany can pay nothing now in cash. She must first stabilize her money. Immediately afterward a loan can be raised on many different securities." He further qualified his optimism by saying that "I do not think the hour of optimism has yet struck. We have still serious reasons for remaining reserved." Relative to the proposed investigation of Germany's financial position by two special committees, under the direction of the Reparations Commission, M. Poincare said: "We are ready to take up or allow the Reparations Commission to take up the study of reparations at the point which the question has now reached, that is to say that, having our guarantees, we will not abandon them before we are paid." The New York "Times" correspondent observed that "the French attitude toward the League of Nations has been one of the points on which the Premier has been attacked, but to the League and the Council he paid this somewhat lukewarm compliment: 'As it exists, without the serious and practical means of action with which we wished to furnish it—an international army—the League exercises great moral authority and can render appreciable services; but it is not capable of stopping a nation animated by warlike and aggressive sentiments, and it does not relieve us from the task of looking to our own security."

At the session of the Chamber the next evening the French Premier "won the first stage of a hard fight by a vote of 392 to 169." By this action the Chamber "rejected an amendment to the high cost of living allowance bill." It was explained that "the Premier had made rejection of the amendment a question of confidence in the Government." The further information was imparted that, "as it now stands the bill would give slight increases in the high cost of living allowances to Government employees in those cities where the conditions are severest. To fulfill its provisions would cost about 290,000,000 francs a year, as compared with about 1,000,000,000 francs under the plan favored by the opposition."

As might easily have been expected, the Germans took an entirely different view of this troublesome question of reparations, and it was not at all surprising that the Berlin correspondent of the New York "Herald" should have cabled that "Germany no longer can undertake to make any reparations payments whatever and consequently cannot reimburse individual Ruhr industrialists for coal and other deliveries to France under the Duesseldorf agreement. Chancellor Marx to-day [Dec. 21] so informed the committee of fifteen charged with the economic and financial reorganization of the Rhineland and the Ruhr, according to authoritative information." The correspondent declared that "this development means the canceling of the Duesseldorf contract officially ratified by the German Government in its note to the Reparations Commission of Nov. 30. The Stresemann Cabinet then announced that the reparational deliveries made under the convention signed by Hugo Stinnes and other coal operators with General Degoutte would not be repaid to the individual shippers by the State 'after the Reich's finances had been put in order.'" He also observed that "the Chancellor evidently hopes that his repudiation of the Duesseldorf agreement, which certainly will not be carried out by the industrials without Government backing, will clear the ground for an entirely new arrangement evolving out of the present direct negotions between Paris and Berlin. This step puts back the German position in the occupied territory to what it was immediately after the proclamation abandoning passive resistance, which Premier Poincare refused to recognize, since it did not insure the resumption of work in the Ruhr industries."

Of course, the French have continued to maintain that, not only should Germany pay a full measure of reparations, but that actually she is able to do so, notwithstanding all statements and evidence to the contrary. It was perfectly natural, therefore, that the Paris correspondent of the New York "Times" should have said that "publication by the American press of the opinion of New York bankers that the Germans hold $200,000,000 or thereabouts in the United States is taken by the French as justification of their argument that Germany can find means to finance food purchases in America other than by asking for the derogation of reparations." He said also that "the French estimate that German citizens hold abroad 15,000,000,000 marks gold, or nearly $4,000,000,000, which has been sent out of Germany to avoid taxation for reparations. That being the case, the French feel that Berlin should arrange with the holders of this wealth to finance food purchases rather than try to float in the United States a $70,000,000 loan having priority for repayment over reparations, which, they argue, amounts to asking France and Belgium to foot the bill, since, theoretically at least, if this $70,000,000 were not repaid it would go for reparations."

Dr. von Hoesch, German Charge d'Affaires at Paris, called upon Premier Poincare on Dec. 24. The New York "Times" correspondent in the French capital said that "what Dr. von Hoesch proposed to M. Poincare to-day was a discussion of issues concerning a modus vivendi in the Ruhr. Official secrecy is thrown about the actual propositions, and so it cannot yet be said whether the German suggestions per se make an accord probable. But the nature of to-day's demarche indicates that Germany is willing to negotiate on the basis laid down by M. Poincare." He added that "it is understood that among the subjects on which Dr. von Hoesch to-day asked conversations were commercial exchanges between occupied and unoccupied Germany, monetary questions, in particular the Rhenish-Westphalian Bank, navigation on the Rhine, transport on the Rhineland railroads and other questions of general administration, and application under the French occupation of German general and local laws." According to this dispatch also, "M. Poincare replied to the German Charge that he would answer his note after he had conferred with the Belgian Government." The Associated Press representative declared that Premier Poincare "agreed with the proposals." The New York "Tribune" representative cabled that "the appointment of Dr. von Hoesch as German Ambassador to France is expected this week."

An announcement of more than ordinary interest came to hand on Dec. 26. It was contained in an Associated Press dispatch from Paris and was to the effect that "the Chamber of Deputies to-day approved M. Loucheur's proposal to reduce the number of Deputies from 626 to 591. The vote was 290 to 230." It was also stated that "France's budget for next year, submitted to the Senate to-day by its Finance Commission, shows a surplus of 568,000,000 francs. The receipts are given as 23,950,000,000 francs, against expenses of 23,382,000,000." The Associated Press correspondent explained that "the favorable balance is obtained by a steady increase in tax collections, attributed partly to the activity of business through low exchange, which is tending to increase exports." It was further explained that "last summer the Poincare Government obtained the consent of the Chamber and Senate for operation throughout 1924 of the same budget arrangements as had been decided for 1923. During this year the estimates have been exceeded by 750,000,000 francs, from which sum will be taken the amount voted last week by the Chamber toward increased cost of living allowances for State functionaries." Reporter Beranger declared that "the real financial situation of France is very wrongly represented by the adverse exchange rate of the franc, which to-day [Dec. 26] touched nearly twenty to the dollar on the Paris Bourse." M. de Lasteyrie, Minister of Finance, "replying in the Senate to questions regarding the financial situation," said that "commerce and finance were in good shape. But nevertheless the franc had been falling for three years. He concluded that the psychological reactions of world finance were unfavorable to France. He recalled that France this year had repaid to Spain 204,000,000 pesetas, the United States $13,000,000, and Japan 50,000,000 yen, but had to borrow for expenses chargeable to Germany." The Finance Minister "blamed the depreciation in French exchange on Germany's failure to pay reparations and 'consequent evils.'"

At a session of the Reparations Commission in Paris on Dec. 21 that body "took up the request of Germany for permission to float a $70,000,000 food loan with priority over reparations and somewhat sidetracked it by referring one part of the request to the Allied Governments and the second part to the Committee on Guarantees. The original German request was made under Article 251 of the Treaty of Versailles. As the point was made in Paris that this article refers to exceptions to the reparations rules which may be made by the Allied and Associated Governments, Berlin sent yesterday a supplementary note asking that action be taken under Article 248, which says about the same thing as Article 251, but refers to exceptions which may be made by the Reparations Commission." The New York "Times" representative cabled that "the Commission decided as follows: 'First—To refer the German Government's request to the Allied Governments in conformity with Article 251 of the Treaty of Versailles. Second—To request the Committee on Guarantees, with a view to facilitating the decision to be taken either by the Governments or by the Reparations Commission, to draw up with as little delay as possible a report on the situation in Germany with regard to bread cereals and edible fats.'" He declared that "this means officially what was apparent from the first, namely that the decision will be made by the Allied Governments and will have to be unanimous. The French and Belgians have firmly decided not to give Germany clear permission to float a loan which shall come ahead of reparations in repayment."

A lively controversy has been going on for a week or more between Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of the Soviet Government of Russia and Secretary of State Hughes relative to the charge that the Soviet was carrying on propaganda in this country with a view to bringing on a revolution. Near the close of last week the American State Department issued a statement to that effect. The Moscow correspondent of the New York "Times" in a wireless dispatch on Dec. 21, said that "Foreign Minister Tchitcherin issued a vigorous denial to-day of the assertion by the American State Department that the Soviet Government had sent instructions to the American Workers' Party to prepare a revolution in the United States." That evening the Foreign Minister issued the following communique relative to his side of the controversy: "Having acquainted myself with the contents of the documents made public by Mr. Hughes, I communicated with Zinovief and Stekloff, and on behalf of the Soviet Government, and these two citizens, I emphatically declare these documents unmitigated forgeries, like the infamous Sisson papers, and challenge Mr. Hughes—failing unconditional withdrawal—to produce them before any impartial arbitration court jointly agreed upon. If he fails to do this, Mr. Hughes will show the whole world that he consciously made himself instrumental in publishing and broadcasting forged documents. It is for Mr. Hughes to exonerate himself from this accusation leveled against him." According to a Washington dispatch the same evening, "Secretary Hughes declined to-night to comment on Tchitcherin's denial in behalf of Zinovief and Stekloff of the authenticity of the documents which Mr. Hughes made public on Thursday with respect to Communist revolutionary work in this country. It is not the desire of the Secretary to engage in a controversy with the leaders of the Soviet regime at Moscow through the medium of newspaper interviews. The Secretary of State has been assured by the Department of Justice of the authenticity of the Zinovief instructions, as given out by the State Department, and also with respect to the statements made by Stekloff, member of the Russian Communist Party, of the All-Russian Central Executive Committee and editor of 'Izvestyia,' official organ of the Soviet regime, and Mr. Hughes has no reason to believe that either document is a forgery."

Those who know Mr. Hughes and his methods of working realized from the start that he was sure of his position and that he would not have gone as far as he had without having in his possession what he regarded as satisfactory documentary substantiation of his assertions. With respect to this assumption, the Washington correspondent of the New York "Times" said that, "although the Secretary of State refused to comment for publication on the denial made at Moscow, it is ascertained in a trustworthy quarter that the position of the State Department, which has the endorsement of the President, has not been shaken by the attempt of certain Senators to ridicule the statements made by Secretary Hughes, nor by declarations from Moscow that the documents are forgeries. It is learned that the documents given out by Secretary Hughes do not by any means constitute the portfolio of documentary evidence in the case upon which the Government bases its charge that the men in control of the Soviet regime at Moscow have not abandoned revolutionary propaganda aimed at the American and other Governments. The Department of Justice is declared to be possessed of other evidence, and the State Department is also in possession of what it regards as ample proof that has come to it through other channels of trusted character. The Secretary of State, it is learned, has no reason to doubt the evidence in the case. It is understood that in due time, through official channels, the other documents upon which the Secretary bases his accusations against the Soviet regime will be made public." The same day the Washington correspondent of the New York "Herald" telegraphed that "President Coolidge is standing pat on his statement in regard to recognition by the United States of the Soviet Government of Russia. He has nothing to add or detract. The White House declaration was regarded as notice that the President is committed to the policy set forth by Secretary Hughes as to what the Moscow Government must do by way of restitution before the United States can enter into negotiations." He further suggested that "it was also taken to indicate that the President is not disposed to be stampeded by the fireback in the Senate and the preparations being made there to launch an independent investigation of Communist propaganda in the United States."

It did not take long to show that Secretary of State Hughes has been unmistakably certain of his ground before he made charges against the Soviet Government. On the evening of Dec. 24 he made public in Washington a copy of an article in "Izvestyia." The Washington correspondent of the New York "Herald" said that "Secretary Hughes made public to-night the text of the official document on which he based his charge that the Soviet Government of Russia and the Third or Communist International, the instrument of revolutionary propaganda, are integrally united in their political and material aims." He added that "the document in question is from the pen of Stekloff, the editor of 'Izvestyia,' the mouthpiece of the Soviet Government. Secretary Hughes charged that Zinovief, President of the Communist International, issued revolutionary instructions to the Workers' Party of America." According to the dispatch also, "it was pointed out by the State Department that the Stekloff article, which appeared on Nov. 7 1922, on the fifth anniversary of the October revolution and on the opening of the fourth Congress of the Communist International, was entirely devoted to a recounting of the close political and spiritual unity and aim of the Soviet Government and the International." The New York "Herald" correspondent further stated that "Stekloff asserted that all the Soviet leaders and all the leaders of the International were in accord, and that they accepted the principle of co-operation at home and abroad." The New York "Times" discovered that the copy of the Soviet organ in which the article, written by its editor, appeared, was on file in the New York Public Library. The editor of "Izvestyia" was reported in an Associated Press dispatch from Moscow under date of Dec. 25, to have declared in the issue of the paper of that date that "the American Secretary of State could claim only 'a formal triumph' in his quotation of an article from 'Izvestyia" of Nov. 7 1922 to substantiate his charge that the Soviets conducted active revolutionary propaganda in the United States and that there was no real difference between the Communist International and the Soviet Government. M. Stekloff also accused Secretary Hughes of changing the sense of the article."

Apparently the leaders in the overthrow of King George of Greece have not known just how to proceed following their victory. A special European correspondent of the New York "Times," cabling from Athens under date of Dec. 22, said in part: "The Greek political leaders are suffering a reaction after launching a thunderbolt that failed to produce the expected detonation. Having got rid of a King by a bold and sudden stroke, they do not quite know what to do with the Kingdom a week after the quietest and most momentous election in the history of Greece, in which ballots replaced for the first time the historic cannon balls." The correspondent added that "the Glucksburg dynasty is abolished, but the next step is as uncertain as ever. Only the return of Venizelos could move to enthusiasm a people who viewed the departure of King George with complete indifference. The Greeks are tired of crises. They cast their votes almost impartially last Sunday between the Liberals, the out-and-out Venizelists, and the Democrats, who in Greece are the Republicans." The situation was outlined still further in part as follows: "The willingness of the Liberals to allow the Republicans to assume full responsibility in the critical interval until Parliament convenes has weakened the clamor for the immediate formation of a Republican Cabinet; also, there are differences between the military wing of the Republicans, represented by General Pangalos, the fiery soldier responsible for the manifesto of the 4,000 army and navy officers that forced the Government to expel the King, and the political wing, headed by M. Papanastasion, the leader of the party. Both are national heroes. Pangalos reorganized and whipped into shape the army after the rout in Asia Minor and enabled Greece to make a stand against paying indemnities to Turkey. Papanastation was one of the seven members of the Venizelos Cabinet thrown into prison by order of Consantine."

Through an Associated Press cablegram from the Greek capital under date of Dec. 21 it became known in this country that, "Premier Gonatas, replying to formal demands from the Republicans that the Government be turned over to them because of their successes in the election, to-day announced that the Government would retain power until the National Assembly had convened and elected its President." The correspondent said also that "General Pangalos, Military Governor of Athens and Republican leader, expressed surprise and indignation that the Government should not be turned over to the party that won the elections." General Pangalos was reported to have said, "I demand that the Gonatas Government resign immediately. If the Liberals have a majority, let them form a new Government, but the present Government must get out." The Associated Press representative further reported that "it is learned that the officers who sent an appeal by telegraph to former Premier Venizelos in Paris requested his return to Greece only on the condition that he favored a republic. The appeal sent to him declares that the dynasty is ended and says the officers desire him to return and reunite the people in a republic." He added that "in well-informed circles it is not believed that M. Venizelos will consent to return to Greece, at least until the National Assembly has been given an opportunity to attempt to clarify the present clouded political atmosphere." The very next day word came from Athens through an Associated Press cablegram that "the Council of Ministers has decided to instruct Colonel Plastiras of the revolutionary committee to ask ex-Premier Venizelos, without any conditions and with complete liberty of initiative, to return to Greece and take the political situation in hand." In a subsequent message more details were given, it being stated that "the invitation asks M. Venizelos to arrive before the convocation of the newly elected National Assembly on Jan. 2. This request is interpreted in some quarters as indicating a fear on the part of the Revolutionary Committee that a Republican Government will be formed if the return of the former Premier is delayed." The Paris representative of the Associated Press cabled that "ex-Premier Venizelos of Greece, informed through new sources to-day that a delegation bearing a letter from Colonel Plastiras, head of the Greek revolutionary committee, inviting the ex-Premier to return to Greece, had left Athens for Paris yesterday on the steamer Andros, replied through his secretary that he would be glad to receive the delegation." It was added that "he expressed doubt, however, whether the explanation accompanying the invitation, would cause him to alter his decision not to return to Greece for the present." The next development of interest was the report from Athens on Dec. 24 that "ex-Premier Venizelos has telegraphed from Paris to Colonel Plastiras of the revolutionary committee requesting information as to the relative strength of the contending parties in Greece." It seems that he asked Colonel Plastiras "to transmit to him immediately the following particulars relative to the political situation in Greece: 'First—The number and full names of the Deputies claimed by the Republicans, Liberals and Liberti Republicans. Second—The number and votes they received in each province and the number of people who voted. Third—The number of registered voters in each province and how many of them are refugees. Fourth—The number of people voting in each province in the 1920 elections.'"

Word came from Athens in a cable message dated Dec. 22 that "the Rumanian Minister to Greece, M. Djouvara, has suddenly been summoned back to Bucharest." It was added that "the Minister notified the Greek Government he had received instructions from his Government to depart from Athens forthwith. He planned to leave at 4 o'clock this afternoon" (Dec. 22). Commenting upon the incident, the Associated Press correspondent at Athens called attention to the fact that "Queen Elizabeth is a daughter of Queen Marie of Rumania." It will be recalled that the former, with her husband, King George of Greece, left their country late last week, at the request of the Republicans, who had won at the general election just held. The Athens dispatch stated that "M. Djouvara informer Premier Gonatas that he hoped to return to Athens in three weeks' time." The news came from Bucharest in a dispatch, also dated Dec. 22, that "King George and Queen Elizabeth of Greece arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Athens." It was also stated that they "will reside at the royal palace at Controceni."

Definite word came from both Paris and Athens Wednesday morning that former Premier Venizelos had decided to return to Greece "temporarily." The Athens representative of the Associated Press cabled that "ex-Premier Venizelos, in compliance with the request of the Greek people as voiced by the leaders of the various political parties, will return to Athens immediately. In informing the Government of his decision, M. Venizelos, however, clearly points out that his return will be only temporary, for the purpose of acting as a guide and adviser in regulating the situation, and that in no circumstances will he undertake the formation of a Cabinet. He will take ship at Marseilles Dec. 29, according to his present plans, and he begs that there shall be no public reception." The Greek Legation in Paris issued a communique Wednesday afternoon that was said to have been "dictated by Venizelos himself." According to a special Paris cablegram from the New York "Tribune" correspondent at that centre, "of the 396 newly elected members of the Greek Assembly, 300 joined in the plea to Venizelos to return and take the Government in charge. It is the opinion here that, despite his initial reservations, Venizelos is likely to accede in full to this request, and a Greek republic is not considered outside the bounds of probability."

It is a long time since the European cable dispatches have contained even mention of Gabriele D'Annunzio, the highly temperamental and erratic poet-soldier of Italy. His last striking and sensational act was made known here through an Associated Press dispatch from Gardone, Italy, Dec. 24. It said that "Gabriele D'Annunzio, poet-soldier, has bequeathed all his possessions as 'an altar of victory' to his country. The bequest consists of his villa and spacious garden, where he has erected numerous shrines in circular form, each shrine consisting of rock hewn from the Alps, where the fiercest encounters of the war occurred." The further details included the statement that "D'Annunzio has consigned the gift to Major Giovanni Giurati, former Minister of Liberated Regions and former Chief of D'Annunzio's Fiume Cabinet, representing the Government, with a voluminous deed."

Apparently efforts wil lbe made to put Great Britain on a trade protection basis in spite of the unfavorable results of the recent general election. In a special London cablegram to the New York "Times" under date of Dec. 24 it was stated that "the committee on tariff reform, consisting of industrial experts and economists, with Lord Milner as Chairman, which the Government set up to formulate suggestions for the introduction of protection in Great Britain is expected to report soon, in spite of the result of the elections. How far it will go has not been announced, but it is believed that it will lay down certain broad principles, even if the exigencies of time and politics do not permit it to make detailed proposals." The correspondent added that "its determination to report is based on the fact that a good many supporters of the Government do not believe that the protection issue is really dead. They admit that it has had a bad setback, but they argue that the conditions which drove Premier Baldwin to come out in favor of a tariff still exist; that the modified protection under which the country has lived for the last few years cannot be abolished without a great outcry, and that the sheer force of circumstances may yet induce the politicians who have been loudest in praise of free trade to agree to some kind of protection." In further explanation of the situation, he said that "consequently the Conservatives wish to place on record the policy they would enforce if they could still retain power and to lay it before the electorate, so that its real merits may sink into the popular mind. It is even suggested, but without any trustworthy confirmation, that the Government may put protection into the King's speech and go down to defeat in the House of Commons with its colors flying."

Still another foreign Ministry has gone down. That of Japan is the latest to be reported. The incident occurred on Dec. 27 and followed "the resignation of Home Minister Goto, who assumed the responsibility as Home Minister for the attempted assassination of Prince Regent Hirohito by a youth under arrest." Acording to an Associated Press cablegram from Tokio, "Baron Goto's home and all Socialist centres are being closely guarded owing to fear of anti-Socialist outbreaks. The assailant of the Prince Regent was identified some hours after his arrest as Daisuke Namba, 27, the son of a politician of minor note. He formerly was a student at Waseda University, but was driven by force of circumstances to work as a laborer. In this occupation he became interested in Communism." Explanation of the whole unfortunate affair apparently may be found in the last sentence. In a cablegram from Tokio last evening it was stated that, "in view of developments growing out of the attempted assassination yesterday of Prince Regent Hirohito, the latter has requested the members of the Cabinet to continue in office for the present. They are expected to retire before the meeting of the Diet on Jan. 20."

Official discount rates at leading European centres have not been changed from 7% in Norway; 6% in Denmark; 5½% in Belgium and Sweden; 5% in France and Madrid; 4½% in Holland and 4% in London and Switzerland. A cable dispatch to the New York News Bureau from Berlin, Dec. 22, stated that with the stabilization of the currency by the issuance of renten marks, the new discount rate established is 10%. The previous discount rate was 90%. In London the open market discount rate has been advanced to 3 7-16 @ 3½% for short bills, from 3¼%, and to 3 7-16% for three months' bills, against 3 5-16 @ 3⅜% last week. Call money at the British centre, however, was slightly lower for a time at 1½%, but closed at 1¾%, the same as a week earlier. At Paris and Switzerland the open market discounts remain at 4½% and 2½%, the same as last week.

For the first time in several weeks the Bank of England reported a loss in gold holdings, albeit only £3,701, while the proportion of reserve to liabilities again fell, declining to 14.82%, from 15.66% last week and 16.73% for the week of Dec. 12. In the corresponding week of last year the ratio stood at 15¾% and a year earlier at 16⅝%. On the other hand, note circulation was reduced £42,000 and reserve increased £39,000. Public deposits expanded £487,000 and "other" deposits £7,090,000, while there were increases in both loans on Government securities and loans on other securities—£2,196,000 in the former and £5,153,000 in the latter. These changes were ascribed to preparations for the year-end disbursements. The Bank's gold stock now stands at £128,019,382. At this time a year ago it was £127,443,007, and in 1921 £128,434,359. Reserve amounts to £19,624,000, against £21,015,337 in 1922 and £20,364,114 a year earlier. Circulation is £128,143,000, in comparison with £124,877,670 and £126,520,245 one and two years ago, respectively. Loans aggregate £81,073,000, which compares with £78,158,131 in 1922 and £83,164,909 the year before that. Clearings through the London banks for the week totaled £470,669,000, comparing with £716,406,000 a week ago and £469,566,000 last year. The Bank's minimum discount rate has not been changed from 4%. We append herewith comparisons for a series of years of the different items of the Bank of England returns:

The Bank of France continues to report small gains in its gold item, the increase this week being 111,725 francs. The Bank's gold holdings, therefore, now aggregate 5,540,380,600 francs, comparing with 5,534,829,194 francs at this time last year and with 5,524,227,896 francs the year before; of these amounts 1,864,320,900 francs were held abroad in 1923, 1,864,344,927 francs in 1922 and 1,948,367,056 francs in 1921. During the week silver increased 129,000 francs, bills discounted were augmented by 386,953,000 francs and general deposits rose 238,915,000 francs. Advances, on the other hand, fell off 13,836,000 francs, while Treasury deposits were reduced 6,134,000 francs. Note circulation registered the further expansion of 275,437,000 francs, bringing the total outstanding up to 37,905,434,000 francs. This contrasts with 36,359,286,410 francs on the corresponding date last year and with 36,487,456,505 francs in 1921. Just prior to the outbreak of war in 1914, the amount was only 6,683,184,785 francs. Comparisons of the various items in this week's return with the statement of last week and corresponding dates in both 1922 and 1921 are as follows:

After an interval of two weeks, during which time no reports were received, the Imperial Bank of Germany has issued a statement, as of November 30, showing the usual monumental expansion in the principal items. Note circulation is shown to have again almost doubled, the increase for the week being given as 176,340,325,217,954,379,000 mks. Bills of exchange and checks increased even more spectacularly, viz.: 203,237,033,414,056,721,000 mks. In discount and Treasury bills there was a decline of 64,171,103,614,178,138,000 mks., but deposits gained 50,309,188,259,450,499,000 mks., and other liabilities 60,305,347,629,873,646,000 mks. There was a large reduction in other assets, which fell 31,121,481,383,061,695,000 mks., and smaller increases in the following,—notes of other banks, 72,400,837,428,834,000 mks.; advances, 5,167,560,817,413,187,000 mks., and investments, 247,400,034,723,000 mks. Total coin and bullion (which now includes aluminum, iron and nickel coins) was reduced 372,000 mks. Gold reserves, however, remained unchanged, total holdings being 467,025,000 mks., as compared with 1,004,800,000 mks. last year and 993,698,000 mks. in 1921. The Bank's note circulation has attained the colossal sum of 400,267 649,729,000,000,000 mks., as against 794,000,000,000 in 1922 and 100,763,000,000 mks. a year earlier. The statement for the previous week, that is for the week ended Nov. 22, was issued at the same time, and this showed changes as follows in thousands of marks—that is three ciphers (000) being omitted:

Total coin and bullion	decreased	7,983

The Federal Reserve Bank statement for the week, issued at the close of business on Thursday, reflected the increased activity due to holiday trade requirements and the coming end of the year settlements, both locally and nationally heavy expansion was shown in rediscounting operations. For the system rediscounts of Government-secured paper increased $56,000,000; in "all other" discounts there was a gain of $50,500,000, while bill buying in the open market increased $14,000,000, so that altogether there was an addition to bill holdings of $121,000,000. Earning assets showed the unusually large gain of $144,000,000, while deposits increased $55,000,000. At New York the same general trend was observable. Discounting of all classes of paper increased approximately $74,000,000, and this coupled with a small addition to open market purchases, brought about an increase in total bill holdings of $75,000,000, to $295,008,000, as compared with $190,600,000 at this time last year. For the banks as a group total bills on hand aggregate $1,193,566,000, as against $876,178,000 in the corresponding week of 1922. The national statement recorded an increase in the amount of Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation amounting to $44,000,000, and at New York of $6,400,000. Member bank reserve accounts likewise showed material expansion, more than $36,000,000 at the local institution and $25,000,000 for the banks as a group. Gold reserves were reduced, the System reporting a loss of $21,000,000, and the New York Bank a decrease of $28,000,000. As a result of this feature and the sharp expansion in deposits, reserve ratios were lowered; at New York 5.9%, to 76.7%, and for the System 2.4%, to 73.3%.

Last Saturday's statement of the New York Clearing House banks and trust companies reflected the usual demands for funds entailed by the holiday trade and was featured by reductions in practically all of the principal items. Chief among these was a cut in net demand deposits of no less than $49,137,000, which brought the total to $3,742,147,000, while net time deposits were reduced $3,331,000, to $460,873,000. The total of demand deposits here given is exclusive of $46,518,000 in Government deposits, a gain in the last-named item of $40,203,000 for the week. Loans and discounts were reduced $9,397,000. Cash in own vaults of members of the Federal Reserve Bank gained $6,873,000, to $61,133,000 (not counted as reserve). Reserves of State banks and trust companies in own vaults were increased $423,000, but the reserves of these same institutions kept in other depositories dropped $218,000. Member banks again drew down their reserve credits at the Reserve Bank this time $10,297,000, so that notwithstanding the decrease in deposits, there was a loss in surplus reserves of $3,547,880, which brought the total of excess reserves down to $14,018,060, as compared with $17,565,940 last week. The figures here given for surplus are based on reserve requirements of 13% from member banks of the Federal Reserve System but not including cash in own vaults to the amount of $61,133,000 held by these banks on Saturday last.

This is the one week above all others in the entire year when a flurry in call money causes no surprise in financial circles. As it had been realized that the disbursements on or about Jan. 1 1924 would be unusually large, the advance in call money Thursday and yesterday afternoons to 6% was not deemed strange. The Street was prepared for this quotation by the fact that the opening and renewal rates were higher both days. These rates do not signify any real change in the money position, but only an extensive shifting of accounts. Soon after the first of the year the funds will be shifted back again into the regular channels, and the quotations for call money are expected to drop back to about where they have been for some weeks, namely, 4½@4¾%. The Government withdrew $5,000,000 from local institutions the day following Christmas, while on Thursday and yesterday a fairly large amount of money loaned on demand was said to have been called. But this was incidental to the preparations for next Tuesday's disbursements. On Jan. 2 the Government will withdraw $8,075,000 from this Federal Reserve District. The reaction in stocks Thursday afternoon was attributed in part to the calling of loans and the 6% quotation. However this may have been, banking authorities say that there are ample funds for all requirements. The offerings of new securities have been on a pretty good-sized scale. Next month the volume is likely to be larger. It is reported that the Persian Government will soon begin negotiations here for a $10,000,000 loan as the result of the award of oil fields to the Sinclair group. The outlook for business in this country continues somewhat mixed.

Referring to money rates in detail, call funds have shown an upward tendency, owing to preparations for year-end payments, and the range has been 4¾@6%, as against 4½@4¾% last week. On Monday the high was 5%, the low 4¾%, with 4¾% also the rate for renewals. Tuesday was a holiday (Christmas Day). Wednesday there was an advance to 5½% maximum, although renewals were still put through at 4¾%, which was also the low. Increased firmness developed on Thursday and the range moved up to 5@6%, with 5% the ruling rate. On Friday the renewal basis was 5½%; no loans were negotiated under that figure, while just before the close a high quotation of 6% was again reached. The stiffening was of course due to demands incidental to Jan. 1 settlements. In time money the situation was quiet and quotations unchanged, so that sixty-day money continued at 4¾@5% and ninety days, four, five and six months at 5%, the same as a week ago. Fixed-date funds were in fair demand but the inquiry was light and the market dull.

Commercial paper has been easier and sixty and ninety days' endorsed bills receivable and six months' names of choice character have been dealt in at 4¾@5%, with a fair proportion of the business at the lower figure. Trading, however, was quiet, with the bulk of the limited inquiry still coming from country banks. Names not so well known require 5%.

Banks' and bankers' acceptances were moderately active in the early part of the week but with the stiffening in the call market the demand fell off perceptibly. Only a small turnover was reported. For call loans against bankers' acceptances, the posted rate of the American Acceptance Council has been raised from 4¼ to 4½%. The Acceptance Council makes the discount rates on prime bankers' acceptances eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve banks 4⅛% bid and 4% asked for bills running for 30 days, 4¼% bid and 4⅛% asked for bills running 60, 90 and 120 days, and 4½% bid and 4¼% asked for bills running 150 days. Open market quotations follow:

Prime eligible bills	4¼@4⅜	4¼@4⅜	4¼@4⅜

Business in sterling exchange has been marked by the holiday inactivity which is usually in evidence at this season. For a while, especially in the early part of the week, the market for long intervals was at a practical standstill owing to the Christmas celebrations, and the volume of transactions was reduced to minimum proportions. Continued uneasiness over the political crisis in Great Britain, coupled with the sentimental effect of the sustained fall in the value of the French franc, all combined to depress sterling rates, which, while not sharply lowered, sagged steadily until 4 33¾ was reached for demand, although later on there was a rally to 4 35⅛. Large operators apparently took very little interest in foreign exchange. Even the strictly speculative element kept away. The extremes for the week in rates have been 4 33¾@4 35⅛. In the final dealings there was a slight broadening in the inquiry. A small accumulation of orders over the holiday made itself felt in the way of advancing prices, and, although offerings were somewhat larger, the market seemed able to absorb them; hence closing prices were near the highest for the week.

Bankers generally are somewhat mixed as to the immediate outlook for sterling. For the most part an undercurrent of optimism prevails and despite fears of further unsettlement in the event of a change of Ministry in England, the opinion seems to be gaining ground that sterling is due for a rise, although it is practically certain that there will be no general increase in market activity, at least until British political skies have cleared. Intimations that German reparations affairs were proceeding satisfactorily were well received, but failed to exercise any appreciable influence on actual values.

Referring to quotations in greater detail, sterling exchange on Saturday last was heavy and there was a decline to 4 33 13-16@4 34⅜ for demand, 4 34 1-16@4 34⅝ for cable transfers and 4 31 9-16 @4 32⅛ for sixty days; the weakness was ascribed to freer offerings on a dull market. On Monday the usual pre-holiday dulness prevailed and trading was at a low ebb, with the range for demand a trifle lower at 4 33¾@4 34 5-16, cable transfers at 4 34@4 34 9-16 and sixty days at 4 31½@4 32 1-16. Tuesday was a holiday (Christmas Day). Disappointing foreign news was responsible for a further slight recession on Wednesday, although the loss was limited to a fraction; demand bills ranged between 4 33¾@4 34¼, cable transfers between 4 34@4 34½ and sixty days between 4 31½@4 32. On Thursday there was a tendency to improvement and rates were marked up to 4 34⅛@4 34⅞ for demand, 4 34⅜@ 4 35⅛ for cable transfers and 4 31⅞@4 32⅝ for sixty days. Friday's market was quiet but fairly steady and demand was quoted at 4 33 13-16@ 4 35⅛, cable transfers at 4 34 1-16@4 35⅜, and sixty days at 4 31 9-16@4 32⅞. Closing quotations were 4 31⅝ for sixty days, 4 33⅞ for demand and 4 34⅛ for cable transfers. Commercial sight bills finished at 4 33¾, sixty days at 4 31¼, ninety days at 4 30, documents for payment (sight) at 4 31½, and seven-day grain bills at 4 33¼. Cotton and grain for payment closed at 4 33¾.

So far as could be learned, there were no gold engagements made this week either for import or export.

Dealings in the Continental exchanges have likewise been restricted by Christmas festivities and trading, save in a few instances, has been quiescent. As a matter of fact, most of the limited business passing was in French francs, which again took the lead in point of activity and weakness. Following an opening quotation of 5 05½, there was a drop to 4 99, a new low record. Heavy selling for foreign account, with almost no takers, was responsible. Paris interests were alleged to be unloading francs in large quantities and accumulating dollars. Later on, buying, said to be on the part of the French Government for the purpose of stemming the decline, brought about a rally to 5 07½. Subsequently the price dropped back to 4 99, but before the close recovered to 5 19¼. The sensational pressure to sell, which is regarded as especially disappointing in the face of the conceded improvement in the reparations outlook and what is regarded as France's victory in the Ruhr, was ascribed to a variety of reasons, primarily anxiety over internal financial conditions. Considerable dissatisfaction is felt over the rise in the cost of living and failure to bring about readjustment in trade balances. M. Lasteyrie, Minister of Finance, lays the blame for the fall in the franc to inability of France to collect reparation claims and the heavy additional expenses of the Rhineland occupation. Late in the week publication of the new French budget for 1924 created a better feeling and franc values improved substantially.

The collapse in French exchange exercised a sentimental effect on the rest of the list, although this was apparent more in limited dealings than in lowering of rates. Antwerp francs as usual moved in sympathy with exchange on Paris, but lire ruled steady, at close to last week's levels, while the Central European currencies were only slightly changed, and reichsmarks remained stationary throughout the week. Greek exchange, despite the prevailing political uncertainties in Greece, was firmly held and advanced more than 33 points, to 2.19, on what was regarded as betterment of the outlook for a stable form of government in that unhappy country. For the time being it would seem that the introduction of the rentenmark is having some effect in stabilizing mark exchange, notwithstanding huge increases in note circulation. It is rumored that the Italian Government of late has been supporting lire. This might account for the steadiness of that currency.

The London check rate on Paris finished at 84.25, against 84.75 last week. In New York sight bills on the French centre closed at 5 09½, against 5 10¾; cable transfers at 5 10½, against 5 11¾; commercial sight bills 5 08½, against 5 09¾, and commercial sixty days at 5 03¼, against 5 04½ a week ago. Antwerp francs finished at 4 47½ for checks and at 4 48½ for cable transfers, in comparison with 4 51½ and 4 52½ last week. Final rates on Berlin marks were 0.000000000025 for both checks and cable remittances (unchanged). Austrian kronen continue to rule at 0.00014⅛. Lire finished the week at 4 32½ for bankers' sight bills and 4 33½ for cable transfers, which compares with 4 30½ and 4 31½ a week earlier. Exchange on Czechoslovakia closed at 2 92¼, against 2 93¼; on Bucharest at 0.51½, against 0.52¼; on Poland at 0.00017, against 0.00017, and on Finland at 2.48 (unchanged). Greek exchange finished at 2.19 for checks and 2.19½ for cable transfers. This compares with 1.80½ and 1.81 last week.

There is very little to report regarding exchange on the former neutral centres. Trading has been exceptionally dull and rate movements unimportant. In the main the undertone has been steady and guilders have shown a small gain from the close of last week. Swiss francs and the Scandinavian currencies have all been firmly held, but Spanish pesetas closed at a small net loss.

Bankers' sight on Amsterdam closed at 38.01, against 37.81; cable transfers at 38.05, against 37.85; commercial sight bills at 37.93, against 37.75, and commercial sixty days at 37.59, against 37.39 last week. Swiss francs finished at 17.46 for bankers' sight bills and at 17.47 for cable transfers, as compared with 17.42 and 17.43 a week earlier. Copenhagen checks closed at 17.73 and cable transfers at 17.77, against 17.75 and 17.79. Checks on Sweden finished at 26.40 and cable transfers at 26.44, against 26.30 and 26.34, while checks on Norway closed at 14.73 and cable transfers at 14.77, against 14.81 and 14.85, respectively. Spanish pesetas finished at 13.00 for checks and 13.02 for cable transfers. A week ago the close was 13.01½ and 13.03½.

With regard to South American exchange, Argentine currency has been a shade easier, finishing at 32 for checks and 32⅛ for cable transfers, as against 32¼@32½, but Brazilian milreis turned strong on improvement in the coffee situation and the quotation moved up to 10.10 for checks and 10.15 for cable transfers, with the close 9.95 and 10.00, against 9.40 and 9.54 last week. Chilean exchange was also firmer, finishing at 11.10, against 10.75, but Peru remained unchanged at 3.99.

Far Eastern exchange was as follows: Hong Kong, 51½@51¾ against 51¼@51¾; Shanghai, 73¼@73½ against 73½@73¾; Yokohama, 46¾@47, against 46.55@46.60; Manila, 49¾@50, against 49⅜@49⅝; Singapore, 51¼@51½, against 51½@51¾; Bombay, 31½@31¾, against 31¼@31½, and Calcutta, 31½@31¾ (unchanged).

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 522 of the Tariff Act of 1922, the Federal Reserve Bank is now certifying daily to the Secretary of the Treasury the buying rate for cable transfers in the different countries of the world. We give below a record for the week just past:

The New York Clearing House banks in their operations with interior banking institutions have gained $4,621,472 net in cash as a result of the currency movements for the week ended Dec. 27. Their receipts from the interior have aggregated $5,499,772, while the shipments have reached $878,300, as per the following table:

As the Sub-Treasury was taken over by the Federal Reserve Bank on Dec. 6 1920, it is no longer possible to show the effect of Government operations on the Clearing House institutions. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York was creditor at the Clearing House each day as follows:

DAILY CREDIT BALANCES OF NEW YORK FEDERAL RESERVE BANK AT CLEARING HOUSE.

Saturday, Dec. 22.	Monday, Dec. 24.	Tuesday, Dec. 25.	Wednesd'y, Dec. 26.	Thursday, Dec. 27.	Friday, Dec. 28.	Aggregate for Week.

Note.—The foregoing heavy credits reflect the huge mass of checks which come to the New York Reserve Bank rom all parts of the country in the operation of the Federal Reserve ystem's par collection scheme. These large credit balances, however, reflect only a part of the Reserve Bank's operations with the Clearing House institutions, as only the items payable in New York City are represented in the daily balances. The large volume of checks on institutions located outside of New York are not accounted for in arriving at these balances, as such checks do not pass through the Clearing House but are deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank for collection for the account of the local Clearing House banks.

a Gold holdings of the Bank of France this year are exclusive of £74,573,797 held abroad. b It is no longer possible to tell the amount of silver held by the Bank of Germany. On March 15 1923 the Reichsbank began including in its "Metal Reserve" not only gold and silver but aluminum, nickel and iron coin as well. The Bank still gives the gold holdings as a separate item, but as under the new practice the remainder of the metal reserve can no longer be considered as being silver, there is now no way of arriving at the Bank's stock of silver, and we therefore carry it along at the figure computed March 7 1923.

Taxation the "Paramount Issue."

That the Democrats in Congress intend to oppose the "Mellon Plan" is indicated by the statement of Senator Simmons, made before adjournment for the holidays. The old political war-cry "make the rich pay" is not to be allowed to languish. The unanswerable argument in favor of lowering the inordinate surtaxes—and thus to re-invigorate business—semes to take no hold on the party mind. Here is a chance for division; and an appeal to "the people"! Here is opportunity to ring the changes on "Wall Street" and make the small taxpayer believe he is the victim of an unholy alliance between wealth and the ruling party. At the time this statement appears, in a page editorial on taxation, the "Saturday Evening Post," with its tremendous popular circulation, warns all parties against the evil of "playing politics," when so important a subject is at stake.

We have already expressed an individual opinion as to some changes that might well be made in the law, changes apparently not embodied in the "plan."

But on the whole we concede it to be equitable. We do not believe that the people will receive it otherwise. It is the matured plan of a great financial mind working inside the needs of the Government; and a mind, we may be assured, that is not thinking of parties or politics. The holiday recess is to be devoted to committee consideration, pending a time, apparently, when it must be determined whether tax revision or the bonus is to have precedence. We do not know what the outcome of this will be. There is in the thought a species of disquietude we do not like to entertain. Is it more important, as a Government, that we spend money than save it? Is there anything that can be more important than the reduction of taxes?

As we ask ourselves this question we are reminded that a very riot of public expenditures is taking place. Cities are veritably running a race to see which shall be first in "improvements." Let us cite, for instance, the old, conservative, financially powerful and stable city of St. Louis. A city that has not grown by "fits and starts" due to booms. A city not so long ago the outpost of Western advance, just this side the then "Great American Desert," now the centre of agriculture and home of the bloc. St. Louis, in the next few years, is to spend from eighty to ninety millions on civic improvements. Kansas City, nearest important neighbor on the West, is in agitation over new needs to be met only by bonds. Chicago, some think destined to be the largest city on this continent, is reaching out for population and territory, with the taxing power this will give. Pacific Coast cities are not wont to lag behind, and are not deeply aroused over civic economies.

One might argue from these conditions that the people are not concerned over Federal taxation. On the contrary, they are the more deeply concerned. The benefits of huge national appropriations are in a way intangible. These local expenditures promise, at least, local beneft. Your county seat town that votes two hundred thousand for a "consolidated district," or a "high" school—one often that it does not need more than the average taxpayer "needs a diamond ring"—your county seat town can see and touch the "improvement." But these local expenditures are not made without a murmur. Those who pay the tax, who foot the bill, are protesting with all their power. They vote against these "improvements." They see the coming burden and would avoid it. They know that business in the end must pay. They are fully aware of the mounting annual tax levies. Thus, when Congress, far away at Washington, refuses to reduce the Federal tax, toys with new expenditures not even experts can estimate at the full, the people are awake and watching—or at least this part of the people.

Whence comes this determination to repass a Soldier Bonus bill once vetoed by a President? Our belief is that any party that refuses to entertain taxation on broad and non-partisan lines will "hear from" the thoughtful, patriotic, conservative business people in the next election. We admit the chaos that often rides like a storm in political elections. But it is our only method of relief. And since uninstructed members of Congress and Senators do sometimes play politics for party purposes, voters have the one means of redress. And they will use it. And he who thinks he can ride down this "paramount issue" for petty political advantage will, we think, live to regret the fact.

We concern ourselves not at all with the politics of this problem save for the economic effect. There must come a time when reduction will be imperative. Strong Governments, as well as strong corporations and financiers, may overreach themselves. We can conceive of a time of depression, when business would be unable to earn these extraordinary taxes, when the Government would have to pay high rates on renewals—and when our Government securities might sag in the market. The time to retrench is now. Laboring mightily and bringing forth the Budget, shall all the good work go for naught because of the Bonus? There is such a thing as a long-suffering people. But beware of the wrath of the silent man! Again, we care nothing for the politics involved—care not which party fails or refuses in the hour of need—the time and opportunity point the way, and those who refuse to walk therein will live to find they have mistaken the numbers who can be trifled with by false and hollow appeals.

The Immigration Law.

The necessity of re-enacting the law on immigration, soon to expire, gives rise to widespread discussion concerning proper amendments thereto. Even though the Per Centum Act be retained there is call for change in its administration to overcome admitted evils. And the subject is likely to be completely "overhauled" in debate, if not in enactment, by the present Congress. In view of this, popular interest covers a wide range of consideration. Industry and "labor" are again at "outs" over the question, with "labor" occupying the decidedly selfish ground of restriction in the interest of wages and scarcity. Industry, including agriculture, in actual want of employees, may be expected to advocate an increase in the quota of admissions though endorsing better means of selection and distribution.

Some very broad questions of correct national policy suggest themselves. If "self-determination" of peoples be advocated, as in recent times, (a policy that must be taken with a large grain of allowance at its best) why deny individuals in their world-freedom the right to choose the country in which to live and government under which to pursue their natural and needful activities? The question can be asked without reference to racial restrictions already instituted. And while the question pertains to theory rather than practice it involves a principle that affects world peace. Consideration cannot escape the fact of post-war conditions. But it is material to brotherhood, and to that merging of manners and customs, by means of the so-called melting-pot process, which, it is so often averred, freshens and advances civilization—or, conversely, according to the peoples to be amalgamated, sends it downward or into decay. In certain areas of the earth's surface the population (comparatively) is crowded, confined, cramped. War often comes as a means of liberation and escape. Is it a mere dream that an international conference might some time consider the proper distribution of the present world's population. We merely call attention to a basic principle vital to a fair and equitable consideration of our present law. As citizens we are not very far removed in point of time from the period when the bars were down and our forefathers came from England and the rest of Europe, regardless of political divisions, to subdue a continent and create a Government free to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." And though it may now be desirable to have some degree of restriction as to numbers, some means of selection as to kind; and important to include in the new law the element of enforced distribution; in view of the manifest needs of agriculture and industry, is it not wise to be guided by the liberal policies of the past, rather than to shut the gates as we have been doing?

It may not be quite germane to the decisive question at issue, but it again is part of a guiding principle, to examine immigration with reference to "isolation." We are berated by some for the policy of "minding our own business." These would have us engage in a constant world crusade in behalf of the down-trodden and oppressed. Others, not following this belief, are eager for "saving" peoples by feeding them out of a limitless Government chest or by huge private charities. Why, then, would it not be a real and helpful "Good Samaritan" policy to offer to these suffering millions (who can show health and character) the opportunity to work in a new land, with all its attendant benefits? Here we do not deal in quotas. We ask the question as a matter of principle and policy. At best, the present quota is an arbitrary policy founded not on present needs abroad and at home, but upon a policy of shutting out foreign labor in the interest of domestic. It proves itself inadequate to our own industrial advancement and should meet with considerable, just and liberal change. It must appear contradictory to many of the unfortunates of the World War in Europe that we are willing to give alms but unwilling to give work—and this to worthy and honest men and women eager to escape into new environments. As to the emigration policy of these older countries, that is a domestic question for each to consider—a question with which we have nothing to do. And when this is properly so considered it will act as a foil to any "too great" liberality on our part.

The present law expires in June. It should have careful and serious amendment. Its administration features are of themselves faulty. The spectacle of overloaded ships crowding our harbor on the first of each month, and dumping tens of thousands upon our inspection officers and facilities, should be obviated in some way. If it seems impractical to examine health and character on the other side in advance of departure, there should be enlarged facilities for a deliberate sifting policy on this side. And above all, the scenes at Ellis Island which give rise to reproachful comments by intelligent visitors should be done away with. These are minor matters and should easily be met by legislation. But the view others take of our main position on immigration we should not ignore in the re-enactment.

As the law now stands it will hardly be disputed that we are at war with our traditional policy. The latch-string no longer hangs on the outside. As a political policy we no longer import the "cheap goods" or the "pauper labor" of Europe. If political contentions are superseded by industrial needs and popular benefits, are we pursuing an immigration policy that will bring greatest good to greatest numbers? Or are we protecting a certain class at the expense of the great majority of the people? And are we really furthering that growth in commerce, trade and manufacture, that, spreading blessings over the whole earth, unites peoples in amity and peace?

The Summons of the New Year.

After the usual festivities the first summons of the New Year is that we face facts. In business, books automatically close, and trial balances are studied. In the larger relations of the State and the nation the facts are not so readily obtained, nor are they so seriously regarded; yet they are the foundation upon which all business is conducted; and to-day they are beginning in all lands to be recognized as conditions ultimately determining the happiness and even the lives of the people.

At this time a year ago, at a public meeting in London, Viscount Grey, who was Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in Great Britain at the outbreak of the war in 1914, in replying to the question, What was the underlying cause which had been working for years to bring about war, said three things. We had only now learned that great armaments did not prevent war; they brought it about. Also, that if war came again on the modern scale no victory would enable the conqueror to escape from the awful suffering which would ensue; and that if there should be another war it would be far more terrible than the last, and it was certain that civilization would not recover from it. The moral he drew was that we must apply the lessons of the war and set to work to make war impossible.

To make this more than an individual opinion, however wise the speaker, we must recognize that whatever advance the year has made towards an established peace the extent of the destruction wrought by the war has become increasingly evident, and, if we would appreciate the situation, we must try to visualize it, that it may influence our actions.

For this purpose the destructiveness of the war, viewed simply as wrought in the materials of human peace and progress, may be summarized in four groups: the waste of human life; the waste of raw material; the waste of accumulated production, and the waste of moral strength.

We can only call attention to a few facts under each of these heads, while we refer to a new book which gives them in authoritative detail.* The official summary of casualties of the 18 States engaged in the war is 8,646,024 killed and 20,775,459 active men wounded. To estimate the meaning of this, we must add the number in whom the destructive effect of the war appeared later, greatly increasing the mortality list and amplifying the extent of subsequent disease and disability. We have also to note that both groups are composed almost entirely of young and sound men, depleting the vital productivity of the world correspondingly both in human energy and in the possible size of the next generation. The direct economic loss of human capital, or Social Value, is put by the actuaries at over £5,000,000,000. In a new war the development of deadly gases and of aeroplanes introduces an element of human destruction almost, or altogether, beyond possible calculation. It would be inconceivably frightful.

The destruction of the materials of industry is too varied and vast to estimate. It extends to the product of forests and of mines of all kinds, and to the elementary materials of chemistry and combustion. As a single item, the British Ministry of Munitions reports that it spent during the war £1,600,000,000 extra, beyond the normal demand, in things of destruction. During the latter years of the war 95% of the steel production of the country was used by the Government, and probably between 50 and 60% went into weapons and war material, war ships, guns, shells, etc. The demand for shell steel rose from 2,000 tons monthly in 1914 to 183,000 tons monthly in 1917; the total amounted to 5,375,000 tons; all economic waste of first magnitude; and this in addition to the material of 11½ thousand million rounds of ammunition for small arms. 800 naval vessels and 5,500 merchant vessels were sunk during the war.

As a suggestion of the wasted product of human effort during the war, it is estimated that it equals the employment of one million workers working 44 hours a week for 3,000 years! A sum altogether beyond imagination. A concrete single instance is more intelligible. At the time of the French intervention in the Ruhr the great Krupp works, which during the war were producing instruments of war, had shifted to articles of general use, machinery for agriculture, public works, railways and the like, and were employing 18,000 more men than during the war. Or, to return to Great Britain and the shells produced under the Ministry of Munitions and fired at the enemy, the statement is that the steel consumed represents only half their cost, and that to produce them complete, including finishing, filling, packing, transport, etc., which doubles the initial cost of the steel, would require the labor of 30,000 persons for 100 years.

Turning to the waste of moral strength, this is witnessed in the heavy cloud of discouragement which after five years prevails over so much of Europe, and the tendency to cast aside moral obligations visible everywhere. While it is true that the war did not create moral delinquency, and only brought to light, or gave opportunity to such as already existed, if one would know what this means in a single and terrible instance, he has but to turn to the intimate and accurate account of what transpired in Russia, affecting every rank of society during the terrible revolutions which occurred during the closing years of the war, as now recounted in the personal narrative of Madam Varoubova, the lifelong friend of the Empress, just published by Macmillan. It is a revelation of the perfidy and ruthless savagery which can break forth when men are released by war from the ordinary restraints of civilized society.

The summons of the New Year is to recognize that the conditions which still make war possible have not been removed.

Despite high military authority, both English and American, corroborating Lord Robert Cecil's statement that "without disarmament there can be no complete security against future war"; and the economic civilian statement that "the more a State does for its army and navy the less it does, or can do, for its people"; armament everywhere goes on. Great Britain spent on her army and navy, according to the figures in this book, in 1921-22 £201,000,000, as against £85,000,000 in 1913-14; France spent in 1921, £146,000,000, as against £58,000,000 in 1913-14, and the United States in 1920-21 £379,000,000†, as against £92,000,000 in 1913-14. Limited reduction has begun in navies; but no agreement is reached as to armies; and with aeroplanes, which, according to General Foch, "are to be the greatest factor in the next war," construction advances rapidly. The total expenditures on war affairs in 14 leading nations rose from £284,618,820 in 1900 to £14,242,644,850 in 1919. "To keep this business going in times of prolonged peace is to produce eventual bankruptcy."

When it is considered that many great private concerns, in peace and in war, are engaged in the business of furnishing armaments for other countries than their own, as well as the multitude engaged in supplying material for their own Governments, it will be seen that an attempt to arrest the whole business might cause some economic dislocation and for a time at least more or less unemployment. But as against this the lessening of the oppressive burden of taxation will stimulate enterprise almost beyond measure. Restriction and steady deflection into other forms of production are the only feasible steps. This can only be brought about under pressure of public opinion. The extent of the evil and the reality of the danger must be recognized by the man in the street.

Major-Gen. F. B. Maurice, of the British General Staff, says: "I went into the army believing that if you want peace you must prepare for war. I believe now that if you prepare thoroughly and efficiently for war you get war." Major-General Tasker H. Bliss, of the United States Army, says: "Those of you are mistaken who may think that there can be an effective and enduring association of the nations for the maintenance of peace so long as those nations are armed to the teeth."

With this, as with other great moral and economic reforms, it is idle to wait for general agreement. External pressure would be futile. Even if treaties were written in its interest they would become "mere scraps of paper," when found in the way of self-interest. Dependence must be upon a growing sentiment of better feeling, upon the spread of knowledge, and then upon the convincing power of individual national example.

King George V., in visiting the war graves on the Continent, describes them as "visible memorials which will eventually serve to draw all people together in sanity and self-control." As in many lands such graves exist of men who gave their lives in defense of a cause which to them was dear, it may be expected that under the mellowing influence of time, and the rapidly advancing better knowledge of other peoples, these memorials will exert their influence.

The continued uncertainty in Europe, political and financial, which is the chief factor in keeping up armaments and fostering suspicion and enmity, must soon give way to effective readjustment. Peace will be recognized as being ultimately dependent upon good-will; and that this in turn requires both right thinking and right feeling.

Their example, like that of the long-established unarmed peace between the United States and Canada, will be found convincing; and the quiet, but widespread and steady pressure of right-minded men in all lands will in God's good time bring to pass the promised peace of which the angels sang at the opening of the first Christian New Year. The summons to men of affairs to make their influence count in public matters was never more urgent.

†To make comparative tables, as the nations make very diverse summaries, our author has had to equalize them. Our Government gives the figures for 1920-21 as $1,212,435,145, and for the current fiscal year $646,057,940.

The New Capital Flotations in November and the Eleven Months Since January 1

In more recent months, and particularly since the recovery in values on the Stock Exchange, conditions have been quite propitious for the bringing out of new loans, and as a consequence new capital flotations have again been proceeding on a large scale. Our compilations this time cover the month of November, and the aggregate of the new issues for that month constitutes the largest November total on record. The amount for that month is also the largest of any month of 1923 excepting only January. The November total was swollen by the offering of $100,000,000 American Tel. & Tel. debentures, but the awards of State and municipal bonds were also on an unusual scale, the total of these reaching $95,450,088. State bonds figured very prominently in the month's offerings, North Carolina coming on the market with $15,649,000, California with $6,000,000, Missouri with $5,000,000, Minnesota with $5,000,000 and Michigan with $3,000,000.

Our tabulations, as always, include the stock, bond and note issues by corporations and by States and municipalities, foreign and domestic, and also Farm Loan issues. The grand aggregate of the offerings of new securities under these various heads during November 1923 was no less than $539,740,990. This compares with $390,106,577 for October, with $249,734,549 for September, with $224,867,650 for August, and with $197,467,011 for July, when the new offerings were the lightest of any month of any year since March 1919, but with $536,577,225 for June, $312,635,831 for May, $458,133,469 for April, $392,262,540 for March, and $380,187,119 for February. In January, however, the new issues were of prodigious extent, aggregating $879,238,265. This latter, though, as explained by us on previous occasions, stands in a class all by itself, the total having been swollen to exceptional proportions by the bringing out of several issues of unusual size—the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. alone by its financing having then added $150,000,000 to the total and Armour & Co. $110,000,000, with the result that January broke all records for new capital flotations in the United States, the highest previous amount for any month of any year having been $655,817,946 for April 1922.

The size of this year's November aggregate becomes particularly apparent when contrasted with the November figures of other years. As against a total of new issues for November 1923 of $539,740,900 the amount last year was only $207,225,424, in November 1921 $365,182,697, in November 1920 $222,478,911 and in November 1919 $379,733,015. The bulk of the increase was in the offerings by corporations, which foot up $387,040,902 for November this year, as against $132,720,940 in 1922, $207,804,080 in 1921, $147,976,794 in 1920 and $249,536,175 in 1919.

Going into detail with reference to the corporate flotations during November, we find that the issues brought out by public utility companies exceeded those of the other corporate subdivisions with a total of $191,770,552, which compares with $70,634,500 in October and $40,715,120 in September. Industrial issues ranged next, with a total of $107,177,900, as against $81,006,400 in October and $75,755,040 in September. Railroad offerings aggregated $88,092,450, as compared with $78,785,000 in October and $24,810,000 in September.

As stated above, the total of all corporate offerings in November was $387,040,902, and of this amount $290,373,000, or 75%, comprised long-term issues, $95,402,902 consisted of stock issues, while short-term offerings made up the remaining $1,265,000. A relatively large proportion of the new corporateissues was for refunding purposes, the amount being $65,126,000 ,or almot 17% of the month's total output. Of the amount for refunding $22,126,000 consisted of long-term issues to take up existing long-term issues; $40,000,000 was long-term issues to refund existing short-term obligations, while a new preferred stock issue was sold which provided for the refunding of a $3,000,000 outstanding preferred stock issue.

The largest corporate issue of the month was the $100,000,000 American Telephone & Telegraph Co. 20-year debenture 5½s, 1943, offered at 98½, yielding about 5⅝%. This issue and the $100,000,000 Anaconda Copper Mining Co. 1st consolidated mtge. 6s, 1953, offered in January, share the distinction of being the largest single offerings made during the current year. Other public utility offerings of importance during November were: $20,000,000 Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania 6½% cum. pref. stock, taken by employees and customers at par, $100; $10,300,000 Penn Central Light & Power Co. 1st & ref. mtge. 6s, 1953, at 98, to yield about 6.15%; $10,000,000 Northern States Power Co. (Minn.) conv. 6½s, 1933, at 98½, yielding about 6.70%; $8,300,000 Minnesota Power & Light Co. 1st & ref. mtge. 6s, 1950, at 97¾, yielding about 6.15%.

The more important industrial issues included: 2,000,000 shares of no par value common stock of Shell Union Oil Corporation, which were taken by stockholders at $10 per share; $12,000,000 Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co.—California Division 1st mtge. conv. 6½s, 1935, offered at 96, yielding about 7.00%; 300,000 shares of no par value capital stock of Wm. Wrigley, Jr., & Co. (Chicago), at $40 per share and $7,700,000 General Cigar Co., Inc. (N. Y.) serial 6% notes, 1925-35, at prices yielding from 6.00% to 6.59%. Railroad issues worthy of special mention comprised the following: $23,100,000 Southern Pacific Co. equip. trust 5s "F," 1928-38, offered on a 5.35% basis; $20,000,000 Southern Ry. Co. dev. & gen. mtge. bonds, bearing 6% interest, due 1956, offered at 96½, to yield about 6.25%; $15,250,000 Chicago & North Western Ry. Co. 1st & ref. mtge. 5s, 2037, offered at 93½, yielding about 5.35%; $12,022,450 Illinois Central RR. 6% conv. pref., series A, offered to stockholders at par, $100, and $7,000,000 Baltimore & Ohio RR. equip. trust 5s "A," 1925-38, offered on a 5.40% basis.

Farm loan bonds sold during the month totaled $23,250,000, such offerings being made at prices yielding from 4.50% to 4.93%. The principal issue of this character was $10,000,000 Federal Intermediate Credit Banks 6 months 4½% debenture, due May 14 1924, which were offered at par, yielding, therefore, 4½%. This was the third offering of Federal Intermediate Credit Bank bonds made this year, the earlier offerings having been for $10,000,000 each in August and October.

Only one foreign Government loan was brought out during November. An additional offering of Dutch East Indies 30-year sinking fund 5½% bonds, due 1953, amounting to $25,000,000, was made. The price was 90, making the yield about 6.24%.

The following is a complete summary of the new financing—corporate, State and city, foreign Government, as well as Farm Loan issues—for November and the eleven months ending with November of the current calendar year. It will be observed that in the case of the corporate offerings we subdivide the figures so as to show the long term and the short term issues separately and we also separate common stock from preferred stock.

Indications of Business Activity

THE STATE OF TRADE—COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, Dec. 28 1923.

Mild weather still hurts trade in general, despite the fact that in many lines the retail holiday business has eclipsed anything ever known in the past. After the holiday outburst, however, the sales rapidly fell off. Retail clothing dealers have had to cut prices in various parts of the country, some 15 to 35%, owing to the prolonged and unseasonable mildness of the weather. Up to this time there has been practically no snow in New York or adjacent parts of the country. The winter wheat belt for the most part is without a protecting blanket of much desired snow, which is also "the poor man's fertilizer." The weather at the West has been too wet and mild. The rains tend to lower the grade of the grain in the corn belt; there is too great a moisture content. Also, the rains at the Southwest interfere with trade because of bad roads. Building continues active. The mild weather naturally favors it. It is expected to be unusually large, especially if it should continue to be an open winter. For a year or two ahead, indeed, it is likely to be heavy. There is still a regrettable shortage of housing here and in other parts of the country. The deficit caused by the war and the diverting of labor to war uses and by the natural increase in population must be made up. Meanwhile builders are large buyers of steel, vieing with automobile manufacturers in active purchases even at a time of the year when it is an almost immemorial custom, in ordinary times at least, to slow down for the holidays if for no other reason. Usually the rigors of winter interpose an effectual bar to outdoor work and thus checks building. Meanwhile there is an advance in crude petroleum despite some slight increase of late in the production.

While railroads are buying steel on a fair scale and builders and auto makers are taking it on something like an extraordinary scale, there is a good business reported in tin plate, and the production of this item exceeds anything in previous records. Automobile concerns are also buying cotton goods on a considerable scale. The grain markets have not greatly changed during the week. Prices in the main are steady, though the demand is nothing like what could be desired. Wheat is ending the year 7 to 26 cents a bushel lower than a year ago, while corn, though 4 cents lower on December delivery is some 2 to 3 cents higher than a year ago for May and July deliveries. Oats are slightly lower for December but somewhat higher than a year ago for later deliveries. Cotton is some $50 a bale higher than at this time last year. Sugar is nearly 2 cents a pound higher for refined than then. Coffee is not quite 1 cent per pound lower than at the ending of last year. Flour is about $1 50 per barrel cheaper than then. Pig iron is $2 75 lower. Steel billets are $6 a ton higher than a year ago, as a partial reflex of the extraordinary activity in building throughout the United States. During the week cotton has advanced owing to its growing scarcity and an insistent demand from mills at home and abroad. England continues to use foreign and competing growths of cotton, but it cannot wholly dispense with American. Besides, the supplies of foreign growths have been greatly depleted. The extensive use of East Indian, South American and other growths enabled consumers last year to make out in spite of the deficit in American supplies, but it is said to have resulted in depleting reserves of foreign cotton something over 1,000,000 bales.. The world's production in recent years has been running noticeably behind the world's consumption so that there has been a very noticeable falling off in the world's reserves of cotton. How it all will turn out remains to be seen. The crying need of the time is an effective remedy for the boll weevil in the cotton fields of this country. Sugar in the latter part of the week has shown a downward tendency, owing to reports that the railroad strike in Cuba has been broken. Coffee has advanced with the marketing of the crop still artificially restricted by the Brazilian Government. No doubt, in part at least, because of unseasonable weather and the diminution of trade, there is some unemployment in parts of the country, including even such centres as Chicago, and as far West as Los Angeles, as well as in parts of Alabama and Oklahoma. But Michigan has a high record of employment because of the extraordinary activity in the automobile industry.

Various projects are under way to help the farmer, especially the wheat farmer, whose prices are noticeably below those of a year ago. That the sluggishness of trade in some lines is partly or largely due to the diminishing purchasing power of the wheat farmer there can be no doubt, although his condition is better than it was at one time. It is pointed out by the Department of Agriculture that the cultivated crops his year are worth, however, some $880,000,000 more than those of last year and nearly $2,700,000,000 more than in 1921. That is to say, the value of the crops this year has increased nearly 12% over that of last year and some 50% as compared with two years ago. The improvement has been gradual but on the whole continuous, whatever may be said about the admitted distress of the wheat farmer. The corn farmer fares much better than his brother who raises wheat. It is estimated that the purchasing power of corn may be put as compared with 100 in 1913 at the index figure of 92, as against 79 for wheat, with potatoes at 84, hogs 63 and cattle 61. The cotton warmer towers above them all, with a high figure of 152. He is at the peak of prosperity. As regards the wheat farmer there is just one thing for him to do and that is to cut down his acreage. Undue paternalism for his benefit would simply mean that he would keep up his acreage or increase it and in the end have to grapple with the difficulty in accordance with economic law and regulations of supply and demand. Wool has been quiet but firm. Some of the Carolina cotton mills have been curtailing for the time being. But it is noticeable that some of the Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island mills have arranged to close only for one day for each of the Christmas and New Year holidays. It was said to-day that some of the Georgia cotton mills contemplate reducing their output in the near future because of the high cost of the raw material. It is hardly necessary to say that with the supply of cotton so short there must sooner or later be a drastic curtailment of consumption at home and abroad. There is no doubt that the next acreage will be greatly increased.

The stock market has been active and strong and certainly this is a cheering circumstance as the year draws to a close. For many months trade has been proceeding on a conservative scale, but even as it was the car loadings have made an exhibit which has been an outstanding feature of the business year. It is not surprising to find that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon takes a hopeful view of the business prospects for 1924. He is not alone in that opinion. The foundation for increased trade in 1924 has been laid in the prudent manner with which business has been conducted since early in the present year. There are no burdensome supplies in any line of trade. And the prospects point to a decrease in taxation. One of the remarkable signs of the times is what looks like a widespread suspension of partisanship as regards this particular matter of taxation in many parts of the country. In other words, regardless of political affiliations, merchants naturally want to see a curtailment of the oppressive burdens still being imposed upon the citizen five years after the armistice. It is to be hoped that the advice of not a few merchants sent out to their correspondents to make it plain to Congressmen that the people insist upon a mitigation of this intolerable evil will be carried out on such a scale as to make it effective. It is plain that the people are in no mood to be trifled with and that the political future of representatives in Washington depends upon an obedience to the will of the great mass of the population as regards this crying evil of the times.

The new building wage scale for 100,000 workers here would increase wages by 50 cents a day and would add about $12,000,000 a year to the cost of building in New York. The present scale is $9 a day for journeymen, but the employers have been paying a bonus of $1 a day additional. Several weeks ago the Building Trades Council presented a demand for a flat rate of $11. This was rejected by the Building Trades Employers' Association on the ground that it would make the cost of building prohibitive. Many employers insisted on retention of the $10 scale. In view, however, of prospects of a peak year for building in New York in 1924 steps were taken by some interests looking to a compromise scale of $10 50. Counting the time lost for holidays, b d weather and other hazards the employers base their estimate of the added cost on 240 days a year.

A preliminary report on housing has been submitted to Governor Smith of this State by the State Commission on Housing and Regional Planning. It sets forth that rents have increased from 40% to 93% in four years. Though rents have risen, some factory wages have decreased in the same period. Families with an income of $2,000 pay 21.3% for rent, as against 14.4% in 1919. New tenants pay from 50% to 300% more rent than old tenants. Houses are sold frequently and each change in ownership brings an increase in rents. Repairs always bring increased rents; in one instance, after installing electric fixtures the landlord raised the rent 200%. Sanitary conditions are worse than in 1920. Gas bills run to $8 a month because the dark inside rooms make lighting necessary. It costs as much as $19 a month to heat many of these rooms. Overcrowding is evident everywhere.

At New Bedford, Mass., the cotton mills closed only one day for Christmas and will close only one day next week for New Year's. The same program at Lowell, Mass., Manchester, N. H., and in Rhode Island mills. At Manchester, N. H., still further departments of the Amoskeag mills were opened, it having been announced recently that the upper weaving section of the northern half of the Amory mill and the Draper looms in the south lower canal mill would be started the day after Christmas. Thus the mill continues to add to the number of operatives employed and steadily the mills are nearing the capacity production mark. Fitchburg, Mass., wired Dec. 27 that for the first time in over 30 years the Star Worsted Co. had been obliged to close for lack of orders. It is expected to resume operations Jan. 3. At Lawrence, Mass., the Pacific mills now with a total spindleage of 150,000 will reopen Jan. 7. It is supposed that it will be on full time. At Charlotte, N. C., and in that district, a number of textile mills closed down last Saturday for one to t o weeks. At Akron, Ohio, tire mills report a larger output, most of them adding to their working force and will require some 275,000 bales of cotton in 1924. The Ford Motor Co., it is said, bought 1,000,000 yards of drills, sheeting and duck in New York on Wednesday. Motor works are buying steel freely. Retail clothiers in many cities have reduced prices 15 to 35% owing to mild weather. The National Association of Retail Clothiers attributes the decrease in the buying of men's clothing to the fact that the average man is buying autos instead. Yet December department store sales rose 6% in the New York district. Big buying in the West includes all lines. Holiday purchases have been eclipsing previous high records. Continued activity in manufacturing and merchandising is forecast for 1924 in the Chicago district. Automobile sales are helped by the open winter. The seasonal decrease is smaller than was expected. The year's output is estimated at 4,000,000.

Car loadings for the week ended Dec. 15 were 899,552, a decrease of 14,000 from the previous week, but an increase of over 20,000 compared with the same week last year.

The cost of living fell 20.5% in September from the peak of June 1920, but was 72.1% above 1913, according to statistics issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics covering 32 cities. Savannah showed the greatest decrease since 1920, with reduction of 25.5%, while Los Angeles reduced he cost of living only 12.2% in the period. New York reduced it 20%.

Winnipeg wired: "Navigation closed Dec. 25, a steamer leaving Fort William that night with a cargo of grain for Tiffin, Ont.

The weather here has been in the main unseasonably mild. There was a light snow storm on Thursday night, which turned to rain. The United States has been unusually warm for this time of the year. To-day it is much colder at the Northwest, but mild and rainy at the South. Here cleared this morning. To-night it is cooler and fair.

Department Store Sales in New York Federal Reserve District in December This Year Six Per Cent. Higher Than Last Year.

According to an item on department store trade which will appear in the Jan. 1 issue of the Monthly Review of Credit and Business Conditions by the Federal Reserve Agent at New York "December sales by department stores in the Second District estimated on a basis of the business done prior to Dec. 20, by 17 of the largest stores of New York and adjacent cities were about 6% larger than those of December of last year. This," says the item, "is a smaller increase than was shown by October and November sales." The item continues:

Merchants reported particularly heavy sales of toys, radio equipment, jewelry, talking machines and holiday gift articles, while sales of pianos and household furnishings were also large. Sales of apparel, furs and shoes, however, were retarded by unusually mild weather.

Total sales for the year 1923, with December sales partly estimated, exceeded those of 1922 by 7.8%, or not far fro mthe normal rate of growth from year to year, which is computed to be about 8%. The sales were 10.3% larger than in 1921 and 5.7% above those of 1920, a year of exceptionally high prices and heretofore the year of largest department store sales.

During the early part of 1923 sales increased somewhat more rapidly than stocks of goods on hand, whereas during the latter part of the year the reverse was true. The average increase in stocks for the entire year was about 7%, due in part to higher prices and in part to extensive additions to some of the stores. In 1923 stocks turned 3.9 times, as compared with 3.8 times in 1922, the same rate in 1921, and 3.3 times in 1920.

Final reports on department store sales for November indicated an increase of 8% over the previous November, as compared with a gain of 10% shown in October. The following table shows the percentage change in the major departments:

Men's and boy's wear	+15.2

Increase in Christmas Savings Deposits in the Federal Reserve District of Philadelphia.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia forwarded questionnaires early in December to all banks in the Third Federal Reserve District with the purpose of ascertaining the trend of Christmas savings and other savings deposits in comparison with last year. Complete reports on Christmas savings were received from three-fourths of the banks, and on other savings deposits from three-fifths. The following tabulation made public by the Reserve Bank Dec. 22 gives the results of this investigation:

Cost of Living Now Highest Since 1921, According to National Industrial Conference Board—Rent and Food Rise—Employment Increases.

Detailed figures on the cost of living, the trend of the nation's employment, and of general wage changes, made public on Dec. 24 by the National Industrial Conference Board of 10 East 39th Street, show that while household expenses of the nation for the period ended Nov. 15 last were the highest since 1921, general business is slowly improving after the mid-year recession. The Board says:

For the month ending Nov. 15 the cost of living throughout the United States had increased seven-tenths of 1% over the previous month, bringing the people to the threshold of the New Year with a family budget requirement greater than at any time since May 1921. The principal increases were in food prices and rents. The increase in all items since last July was 2.1%, and this was a decrease from the high figures of July 1920 of 19.2%, but an increase over the pre-war level of 65.3%.

The Conference Board's survey of industrial conditions in nearly 1,700 establishments for October, the last month available, disclose an increase in the average work week and a substantial advance in weekly earnings. For the first time since last April the trend in hours worked was upward and, while the gain was not a large one, the Board says, it is pronounced "encouraging in that it indicates a lessening of the curtailment of manufacturing activity."

In the month ending Dec. 14, there were 34 major wage changes noted in American industry by the Board, of which only one was a decrease. This occurred in the western Kentucky coal mines, where the miners accepted lower wages to accomplish a lower production cost of coal. There were 20 increases in the printing industry due to the termination of yearly contracts and the drawing of new agreements. Two classes of railway labor—maintenance of way men and the telegraphers and station agents—received increases.

Detailed data regarding the changes in the cost of living are furnished as follows by the Board:

Changes in Cost of Living Between July 1914—November 1923.

The cost of living in the United States on Nov. 15 1923 had increased seven-tenths of 1% over the level of Oct. 15 1923 as shown by figures just collected by the National Industrial Conference Board in a comprehensive survey of conditions the country over. The increase since last July was 2.1%. In the month Oct. 15 1923 to Nov. 15 1923, there were increases in the average cost of food and sundries. Average rents advanced, but the cost of clothing, coal, gas and electricity was lower. Between July 1920, when the peak of the rise in the cost of living since 1914 was reached, and November 1923, the cost of living decreased 19.2%. The increase since July 1914 was 65.3%.

The following table shows in detail the changes in the cost of living noted above:

Federal Reserve Board's Summary of Business Conditions in the United States—Decrease in Production and Factory Employment in November.

Production of basic commodities and factory employment decreased in November. According to the Federal Reserve Board's summary of business conditions in the United States made public Dec. 27, which continues as follows:

Distribution of merchandise by wholesalers and retailers was somewhat ess active and wholesale prices showed a slight further recession.

Production.

Production in basic industries decreased about 2% in November. The decline was due chiefly to reduced production of iron and steel and smaller sugar meltings. The Federal Reserve Board's new index of factory employment, which is shown by the accompanying chart, also declined due to lessened activity at iron and steel plants and large seasonal reductions at clothing establishments. The volume of employment is now 2% smaller than in the spring but 3% larger than a year ago. Contract awards for new building were smaller in November than in October in all reporting districts except New York but were 20% larger than a year ago.

Final estimates by the Department of Agriculture show larger yields of corn, oats, tobacco, and cotton than in 1922, and smaller yields of wheat, hay, and potatoes. The total value of agricultural production at Dec. 1 prices was 12% larger than in 1922. Each of the ten principal crops except wheat showed an increase in value.

Trade.

Railroad freight shipments in November showed about the usual seasonal decline from October but were in heavier volume as compared with previous years. Wholesale trade was 13% less in November than in October, which is more than the usual decrease at this season, but sales continued to be slightly larger than a year ago. Sales of hardware, drugs, and meat were larger than in November 1922, while sales of shoes were smaller. Retail business was smaller than in October in most lines. Sales of mail order houses declined more than sales of department stores but were 11% larger than a year ago.

Prices.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics index of wholesale prices declined in November to a point 4% lower than last spring and about 3% lower than a year ago. The chief reductions occurred in prices of animal products, fuel, and house furnishings. Prices of clothing and crops, on the other hand, increased and the latter group averaged higher than in any month since 1920. During the first half of December, prices of sheep, beef, sugar, cotton, silk, and rubber declined while quotations on crude oil, wheat, and wool were slightly higher.

Bank Credit.

The total volume of credit extended by member banks in leading cities showed but little change between the middle of November and the middle of December. A seasonal reduction in commercial and agricultural loans in most districts was accompanied by increased loans on securities with the result that total loans remained practically constant.

During the same period borrowings at the Federal Reserve Banks were also practically unchanged. Holdings of acceptances increased somewhat partly in connection with the financing of cotton exports. The increased demand for currency for holiday trade was reflected in both a moderate expansion in Federal Reserve note circulation and a reduction in gold certificates held by the Reserve banks.

Rates of commercial paper sold in the open market continued to show an easier tendency as indicated by increased sales at 4¾% particularly in interior districts. The December issues of one year 4¼% and six months 4% Treasury Certificates compared with 4¼% on a six months issue sold in September were largely oversubscribed.

Further Advances Take Place in Crude Petroleum and in Gasoline Prices.

A number of advances in the price of crude petroleum were posted during the week just passed, among the earlier changes being one by the Eastern refiners, who raised the price of Cabell, Somerset medium and light crude oils 15c. a barrel to $1 35, $1 30 and $1 45 per barrel, respectively. Press reports on Dec. 22 also stated that the price of Canadian crude oil had been advanced from $1 83 to $1 93 per barrel, or an advance of 10c. per barrel.

A further advance of 25c. per barrel in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil was posted when on Dec. 26 the Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency announced the following:

The Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency of South Penn Oil Co. will pay the following prices for producers' credit balances:

Pennsylvania grade oil in New York Transit Co. lines	$3 10
Bradford district oil in National Transit Co. lines	3 10
Pennsylvania grade oil in National Transit Co. lines	2 85
Pennsylvania grade oil in Southwest Penn lines	2 85
Pennsylvania grade oil in Eureka Pipe Line	2 85
Pennsylvania grade oil in Buckeye Pipe Line	2 85

These prices compare with the list given in our columns in the Dec. 15 issue, page 2592.

Additional reports on Dec. 26 stated that the independent buyers of the Pennsylvania grades of crude oil had followed the advance announced by the Seep Agency and in addition were paying a premium of 10c. a barrel on all oil offered them.

On Dec. 27 increases of from 10c. to 25c. per barrel were made for Oklahoma, Texas, Gulf Coast, Louisiana and Arkansas crude oils. The new schedule of prices as it appeared in the "Wall Street Journal" of Dec. 27 is as follows:

Texas Company advanced crude oil in four different districts 10c. to 15c. a barrel in Oklahoma and north and north central Texas, 25c. a barrel in central Texas and Gulf Coast districts, and 15c. in north Louisiana and Arkansas.

With the new price schedule in Oklahoma and north and central Texas, Texas Company also revised the gravity basis under which it purchases crude oil, making gravities in Oklahoma to correspond with those of north and north central Texas. New prices and bases are: Under 33 gravity, 90c. a barrel, advance of 15c.; 33 to 35.9 gravity, $1 15, advance of 15c.; 36 to 38.9 gravity, $1 30, advance of 15c., and 39 and above, $1 40, advance of 10c.

Company's previous schedule in Oklahoma was 75c. for under 33 gravity; $1 for 33 to 39.9, and $1 25 a barrel for 40 and above.

In Gulf Coast district, Texas Company raised the price 25c. a barrel to $1 25. Crude in Powell, Mexia and Currie pools was also raised 25c. to $1 25 a barrel, while north Louisiana grades, including Caddo, De Soto, Bull Bayou, Criton and Smackover (Ark.), were raised 15c. a barrel.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. on the same day advanced the price of crude oil from 10c. to 25c. a barrel. The new price for Corsicana light and Mexia crude is $1 25 and for Corsicana heavy 50c.

The Humble Oil & Refining Co. on Dec. 28 followed the advances announced by the Texas Company in all fields except Currie, where it advanced 35c. above the previous price. The new price for Currie is $1 35 per barrel.

Similar advances were made by the Gulf Oil Co., which posted new prices as follows: "A" grade, $1 25 per barrel, an advance of 25c., and "B" grade, $1 per barrel. These are the same as the prices posted by the Humble Oil & Refining Co. A flat price for Blue Ridge and Pierce Junction was made at $1 a barrel, against the former price of 65c.

Also on Dec. 28 the Seep Agency announced an advance of 10c. as follows: Cabell grade, now $1 45; Somerset medium, $1 40; Somerset light, $1 55, and Ragland, 85c.

Additional advances were posted by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. for crude oil in Texas as follows:

Grade—	New Prices.	Old Prices.
Under 28 gravity	50c.	40c.
28 to 30.9 gravity	75c.	60c.
31 to 32.9 gravity	90c.	75c.
33 to 35.9 gravity	$1 15	$1 00
39 gravity and above	$1 40	$1 25

Changes in the price of gasoline during the past week have not been as numerous as the crude oil changes but nevertheless they cover a wide territory. On Dec. 24 advices were received to the effect that the price had been advanced 1c. to 14.9c. per gallon in Kansas City and the surrounding territory. This price includes a city tax of 1c. per gallon. Late on Friday (Dec. 28) it was announced that the White Eagle Oil & Refining Co. at Kansas City had advanced the tank wagon price of gasoline 2c. per gallon through its territory, comprising ten States.

In addition, a dispatch from Chicago on Dec. 28 stated that effective Dec. 29 the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana will advance its price for gasoline 2c. per gallon throughout its entire territory. The tank wagon price will be 14c. and the retail price 16c. per gallon.

Crude Petroleum Production Remains at About the Same Level.

The statement issued Dec. 27 by the American Petroleum Institute shows that the production of crude oil in the week ended Dec. 22 was little changed from that for the previous week. The Institute estimates that the daily average gross crude oil production in the United States for the week ended

Dec. 22 was 1,944,250 barrels, as compared with 1,943,300 barrels for the preceding week, an increase of 950 barrels. In the corresponding week of 1922, 1,691,750 barrels were produced. A decrease from the previous week of 14,000 barrels in the daily average production of the Powell field in Texas was offset by an increase of 18,000 barrels in California. The daily average production east of the Rocky Mountains was 1,217,900 barrels, as compared with 1,234,950 barrels the previous week, a decrease of 17,050 barrels. California production was 726,350 barrels, as compared with 708,350 barrels; Santa Fe Springs is reported at 181,000 barrels, against 185,000 barrels; Long Beach, 230,000 barrels, against 225,000 barrels; Huntington Beach, 69,000 barrels, against 71,000 barrels; and Torrance, 42,000 barrels, against 33,000 barrels. The following are estimates of daily average gross production for the weeks indicated:

New Model by Packard Motor Car Co. at Advanced Price.

A news dispatch from Detroit on Saturday, Dec. 22, stated that the Packard Motor Car Co. will soon announce a new improved single six. The price will be advanced about $100. The new car will be identical in appearance with the present car. However, it will have four-wheel brakes, heavier transmission and more standard equipment. This is in line with the policy of a number of automobile manufacturers who have announced slight advances in prices, noted in our issues of Dec. 8, p. 2480, and Dec. 15, p. 2591.

Copper Export Association—Reports of Proposed Segregation.

Supplementing the item appearing in these columns last week (page 2701) regarding the Copper Export Association, we quote the following from the New York "Times" of yesterday (Dec. 28):

The breaking up of the Copper Export Association will be completed in January, when the companies now forming that association will go into the marketing end of the copper business independent of one another, according to information obtained yesterday. Some of the larger interests announced some time ago their plans to withdraw. The remaining companies decided to follow the lead of the larger companies, saying they were afraid they might run counter to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law if they continued.

The Copper Export Association was organized in 1918 to meet the after-war unsettlement in the copper industry. The industry has since then been placed on a more normal footing and producers say that the extraordinary conditions then existing have been weathered.

The main part of the selling organization was the United Metals Selling Co. This organization, it is understood, will continue to distribute abroad the metal produced by the Chile, Inspiration, Greene-Cananea and other copper companies classed as friendly to the Anaconda company. The Guggenheim organization, known as Guggenheim Brothers, which is a selling agency for the Guggehneim mines, will, it is understood, operate entirely independently of the United Metals Selling Co., and smaller units will withdraw from the Copper Export Association, following original action to that end by the American Smelting & Refining Co.

Buying of Steel Is on the Increase—Pig Iron Market Is Quiet.

Further buying, broad in scope if not great in quantity, marked the week. Sales usually were not at expense of prices, but indications still are that buyers see no protection in contracts and cover only for closely estimated requirements, declares "The Iron Age" in its weekly review of conditions affecting the markets for iron and steel which was issued Dec. 27 and is quoted below:

Steel making output may taper off in the remainder of the year, as numbers of rolling mills, taking advantage of the satisfied demand for immediate deliveries, are employing a part or all of the holiday period to make repairs. At that, the production of steel ingots for 1923 seems likely to exceed 43 million tons, and the pig iron make will be a record at over 40 million tons.

The idea of price firmness has spread to semi-finished steel, first quarter contracts in rerolling billets at the $40, Pittsburgh, price being reported. One Middle Western sheet bar producer has so heavily booked for the quarter that it has withdrawn from the market. Some of the sheet bar business provides for prices obtaining at the time of shipment. Forging billets alone seem not definitely strong at $45, because obtainable from more mills than usual.

Sheet buying has been notably heavy. December orders of independent makers are estimated in excess of 300,000 tons, but it is not yet clear that price shading has disappeared.

In tin plate, following a record output of 40,000,000 boxes for 1923, the leading producer is solidly committed against its maximum production for the first half of next year and the position of the independents is almost as favorable.

The outstanding structural steel activity is shown by awards of 26,000 tons, including 8,650 tons for bridge work. Fresh inquiries amount to 37,000 tons, including 11,000 tons for the Chicago Tribune tower and 6,050 tons for assembling plants for the Ford Motor Co. November bookings of fabricated steel, according to Census Bureau statistics, amounted to 135,000 tons, better than the average for the six months preceding and 10% more than November of last year.

Railroad equipment business was lean, 1,225 cars being the total of purchases, an equal number the total of inquiries and none taking much steel. Bids are now all in on the Southern Pacific cars, requiring some 100,000 tons of plates, shapes and bars. The New York Central has distributed 30,000 tons of tie plates and 25,000 kegs of track bolts.

The appearance of inquiries for a considerable tonnage of pig iron from speculative sources, including 10,000 tons understood to come from New York banking interests, is accepted as evidence of belief that prices have touched bottom. Some pig iron bought recently by brokers is being sold at concessions and a sale of 10,000 tons of basic by a steel company in western Pennsylvania was made below recent Valley quotations, but for the most part prices are firm and deliveries are going forward satisfactorily. A St. Louis buyer has asked for earlier shipment of 5,000 tons bought for first quarter delivery. A Canton, Ohio, company has purchased 5,000 tons of basic.

German No. 1 foundry pig iron, now at 116 gold marks per metric ton, is in American currency $28.05 per gross ton, comparing with $23.30 for British iron and $22.75, the foundry component for "The Iron Age" pig iron composite price.

Eastern plate makers are confronted by European competition. An Atlantic Coast ship and car builder finds a 2c., Pittsburgh, price necessary to meet a foreign mill quotation on 2,700 tons of car plates. This is a big gap from the $2 a ton concession occasionally met from the 2.50c. price.

Hot-rolled flats and cold-rolled strips are well sold into the first quarter, and the steel bar market has been enlivened by a number of first quarter sales to makers of shafting and cold-finished bars.

Bolts, nuts and rivets give a sign of the changing price sentiment, Pittsburgh reporting more freedom of movement than when prices were lower.

Current demand in nails is sufficiently heavy to make it difficult to build up stocks for spring demand.

A Welsh £1,000,000 tin plate selling corporation has been formed, absorbing eight tin plate merchants, with the idea of wiping out the middlemen. It will handle the output of three or more of the large works.

For the South Manchuria Railroad 200,000 tie plates have been placed in the United States.

No change has occurred for several weeks in either of "The Iron Age" composite prices, the pig iron composite standing at $21.88, while finished steel is 2.775c. per lb. One year ago pig iron was $25.79 and finished steel 2.439c.; two years ago, $18.68 and 2.062c.

The composite price table compiled by the "Age" follows:

Composite Price, Dec. 24 1923, Finished Steel, 2.775*c. per Pound.*

The prospects for the new year appear to be favorable to the "Iron Trade Review" of Cleveland, which reviews market conditions in its weekly summary of Dec. 27, appended hereto:

The year of 1923 is ending in the iron and steel business not unlike that of 1922. Buying is on the upgrade and prospects are favorable. The outlook for the new year has been improving steadily from week to week, dating back to mid-November and sentiment has become increasingly confident. The result is an expanding market, based on the covering for future requirements and this is expected to broaden still further with the completion of inventory taking and the usual details incident to the balancing up of the year's business. Consumption apparently is running high and according to present indications is more likely to increase than to shrink during the coming months.

If the parallel of a year ago is borne out, operations in the first half should show progressive enlargement. During the past seven months they have gradually settled until they have reached a point about 22% below the high level of last April and May. At present production is at 70 to 71% for the whole country. A year ago they were about 80%. The Steel Corporation plants are slightly higher, showing 84½% of ingot capacity engaged the past week while the independents have not done quite so well, averaging 63½% compared with 65% one week ago.

"Iron Trade Review" composite of 14 leading iron and steel products ends the year at $43 02, a slight advance over last week. One year ago it was $40 65.

Contracts for first quarter requirements of steel by consumers has been active and has embraced a widened circle of buyers in diversified lines. Further heavy tonnages for 1924 delivery have been placed by some of the larger consumers, notably in the automotive group. The General Motors Corp. has distributed its first quarter needs with a number of the mills. The normal requirements of this buyer for a single quarter are not less than 100,000 tons. The Willys-Overland Co. also has closed for first quarter with an estimated total of 25,000 to 30,000 tons. One automotive contract placed this week with a Chicago mill calls for 12,000 tons. Nut and bolt manufacturers in the Cleveland district have been heavy buyers. Jobbers as well as manufacturing consumers have been entering the market and some contracts closed of this character have called for 10,000 tons individually.

Railroad orders the past week have not been numerous though inquiries from this source are heavy. The New York Central has been a heavy buyer of track fastenings for 1924, the total, it is reported, exceeding its recent large inquiries. It placed 20,000 tons of tie plates with several producers and 75,000 or more kegs of spikes. About 130,000 tons of rails for foreign countries is being inquired for here.

The rising line of building continues to be reflected by structural steel activity. This week has brought forth a total of 47,400 tons of new awards, including 18,000 tons for the New York Telephone Bldg., New York, and 14,000 tons for the Pictorial Review Bldg., New York. Another section of the Newark Bridge, 8,000 tons, is out, and it is estimated the total for this job eventually will reach 50,000 tons.

The week in pig iron has been quiet, the effect both of the holiday period and of the heavy buying of a few weeks back. Steelmaking grades continue to develop some broadening of interest among consumers. A Canton, Ohio, plant bought 5,000 tons of basic from a nearby furnace. Two St. Louis interests want 5,000 tons each.

Operations in the Ruhr are reviving under the agreement reached between the forces of occupation and the Stinnes, Thyssen and Kloeckner groups. A dozen furnaces have resumed, according to cable advices to "Iron Trade Review," and German offerings of steel are increasing. While the details of the agreement have not been made public officially, it is understood the main points are that the German producers have agreed to pay $15,000,000 representing taxes due for June 1 to Nov. 1, will deliver 18% of production to the Allies without cost and will pay 10 francs ($0 55) for each ton of material sold. Stocks of iron and steel and related products on hand Oct. 1 will remain the property of the Allied authorities.

Production of Bituminous Coal Remains at the Same Level but Anthracite Output Gains.

During the week ended Dec. 15 the production of bituminous coal was almost exactly the same as in the preceding week, namely 9,828,000 tons. On the other hand, the output of anthracite increased 114,000 tons, according to the weekly statistics issued Dec. 22 by the United States Geological Survey. Extracts from the Survey's report follow:

Production of soft coal remained unchanged in the week ended Dec. 15. The total output, including mine fuel, coal coked at the mines and local sales, is estimated at 9,828,000 net tons, a figure almost identical with that of the week before. In comparison with the corresponding week a year ago there was a decrease of 839,000 tons, or 8%.

Shipments the present week (Dec. 17-22) increased slightly, but it does not appear likely that production will greatly exceed 9,900,000 tons.

Production of Soft Coal in November.

Final estimates of soft coal production in November place the total output at 42,946,000 net tons. This decrease of 6,225,000 tons from the figure for October was partly due to the smaller number of working days in November and the occurrence of widely observed holidays. In comparison with preceding years the November 1923 production was the lowest on record for such month, except in 1921, 1919 and 1913, but was 5% larger than the average for the nine years 1913-1922. Excluding November 1919, when production was abnormally low owing to the miners' strike, records show that November 1923 was 1.6% less.

Cumulative production from Jan. 1 to Nov. 30 stood at 505,593,000 tons. This was an increase of nearly 40% over the corresponding period of 1922 and but 6% behind 1918, when the record output was mined. Production in the first 11 months of 1923 has been exceeded but three times in the past 11 years—in 1920, 1918 and 1917.

ANTHRACITE.

There was appreciable improvement in the production of anthracite in the second week of December. The total output, including mine fuel, local sales and the product of dredges and washeries, is estimated at 2,013,000 net tons, against 1,899,000 tons in the preceding week. In the corresponding week of 1922 production totaled 2,237,000 tons.

Loadings on the first three days of the present week (Dec. 17-22) were practically the same as in the week before. It therefore seems probable that the total output for the week will not exceed 1,900,000 tons.

BEEHIVE COKE.

Production of beehive coke continues to decline steadily. It is now estimated that the total output in the week ended Dec. 15 was 242,000 net tons, against 265,000 tons in the week preceding. The chief factor in the decline was a decrease of 19,000 tons in Pennsylvania and Ohio. Production in the Connellsville region, reported by the Connellsville "Courier," increased from 181,020 to 183,060 tons.

The cumulative production of beehive coke during 1923 to Dec. 8 stood at 17,443,000 net tons. Figures for similar periods in earlier years are as follows:

Coal Trade Continues Dull, Owing to Inventory, Weather Conditions and Holiday Season.

The slowness in the anthracite and bituminous coal market during the week just past is attributed to the mild weather, the taking of inventory in industrial centres with its consequent slacking up and in addition the holiday season, by the "Coal Trade Journal" of New York and Chicago, which published on Dec. 26 its regular weekly review as follows:

Coal buying ran a poor second to gift purchase last week in both the anthracite and the bituminous markets. Unseasonably mild weather has kept domestic coal consumption down to a minimum, while the inventory season has slowed up industrial purchasing. Many of the larger users of coal for industrial purposes have their own mines and no longer enter the commercial market except in those intervals when they find it cheaper to buy than to mine their own coal. 25% of the current output in one large field at the present time is credited to captive mines. This situation goes far to explain the apparent, but not actual, contradiction between production totals and the slow demand reported in most coal trade centers.

Price changes last week show little variation as compared with those prevailing during the past few weeks. Comparing quotations listed below with those for the week ended Dec. 15, changes are shown in 36% of the figures. Of these changes 40% represented advances ranging from 5 to 50 and averaged 16. The reductions ranged from 5 to 75 and averaged 29. The straight average minimum for the week was $1.91, an increase of 2c. as compared with the previous week. The straight average maximum was $2.24, a decrease of 7c. as compared with the previous week.

With one or two exceptions, the greatest strength in prices is in slack coal. This is true not only of the East, where the end of navigation wiped out the surplus fine coal production, but also in the West. In the latter section of the country the explanation of the reversal of normal conditions is to be found in the mild temperatures which have so cut down the demand for the larger sizes going into the domestic trade, that the output of fine coal is reduced to the summer time basis. Fear of a strike next April has so far had no appreciable effect upon price levels, although more inquiries for possible contract tonnages are filtering through the non-union fields; actual closings, however, do not seem to be heavy.

The anthracite end of the industry is feeling the weather conditions keenly. The decline in independent quotations continues. The fact that operations at company mines are still hampered by intermittent strikes does not check the slump in high dollar individual prices. Movement from retail yards to consumer is below the seasonal average. The steam sizes are featureless.

The same general characteristics of the coal markets are noted in the weekly summary of trading conditions issued Dec. 27 by the "Coal Age" of New York and quoted in part below:

The end of the calendar year has no especial significance to the coal trade save that as the miners will take several days for the holiday there will be a cleaning up of "no bills" at the mines, to be followed by brisker trading after the new year begins. The only feature of the past week has been the pick-up in screenings, not due to any increase in demand but to scarcity of fine coal. The operators, rebelling at the absurdly low quotations on screenings in the Middle West, shifted to mine-run, the demand for lump being at low ebb. A period of severe weather will call forth in quantity and screenings will again be plentiful, and cheaper than ever.

There is no change in the steam coal market in the Eastern section of the country. New England is flat as far as all-rail Pennsylvania soft coal is concerned; the smokeless coals coming in by water have driven them off the spot market. Stocks of soft coal are so generally satisfactory that no strong currents in on price are looked for, even should there be definite indications of a strike next April.

"Coal Age" Index of spot prices of bituminous coal at the mines declined three points last week to 178. The corresponding average price was $2.16. Increases were recorded byCentral Illinois, Indiana Smokeless. Southern and Eastern coals all recorded slight declines in price.

Quotations on independent anthracite are slowly receding. The market stands at $11 for stove and chestnut. The steam sizes are weak, except No. 3 buckwheat which has largely been tied up on contracts. Nothing but a spell of real cold weather can save the premium prices from a new year slump.

Lake movement of soft coal during the week ended Dec. 16 amounted to 48,567 net tons, of which 46,204 tons was cargo coal. In the corresponding week of last year 53,086 tons was dumped. Cumulative shipments of cargo coal during this season to Dec. 16 were 29,724,320 net tons, an increase of more than 41% over the average of the three preceding years.

Dumpings at Hampton Roads for all accounts during the week ended Dec. 20 were 355,927 net tons, as compared with 283,168 tons the previous week.

Wage of Printers in Canada Maintains Advance—Declines in Majority of Industries Since 1920.

Canadian press advices from Ottawa Dec. 19 appeared as follows in the "Montreal Gazette":

Declining wages in a majority of the industries throughout the Dominion are recorded by the Department of Labor during the past two years. An exception is shown in the printing trades, where an advance is registered; and wages of coal miners showed no change. The greatest decline was in the wages paid to lumbermen.

Taking an index number of 100 for the average wage paid in each of a number of industries during the year 1913, the Department of Labor has shown average rates for the years 1901 to 1922, inclusive. The high peak was reached in most cases in 1920, and 1921 saw a decline, which continued in many cases until 1922.

The average wage rate in the building trades was 60.3 in 1901, as compared with 100 in 1913. During all the years since 1901 there was a steady increase, until in 1920 the figure of 180.9 was reached. In 1922 it had fallen to 162.5. In the metal trades wages rose steadily from 68.6 in 1901 to 209.4 in 1920, and fell to 173.7 in 1922. The printing trades, standing at 60 in 1901, advanced continuously to 193.3 in 1921; in 1922 the rate was 192.3. Wages of employees on steam railways averaged 70.8 in 1901, rose to 186.6 in 1920, and stood at 155.1 in 1922. On electric railways the wage rate was 64 in 1901, rising to 101 in 1914. The rate fell to 92.8 in 1915, and then advanced steadily to 194.2 in 1920. In 1922 the rate was 184.4. Coal miners earned 82.8 in 1901, and in 1921 the rate had risen to 208.3, falling last year to 197.8. Drawing an average wage rate for these various classes of workers, in 1901 it stood at 67.8, and was 176.8 in 1922. In the lumbering business employees are shown to have earned 93.3 in 1911; 202.7 in 1920, and 146.7 in 1922.

Activity in the Cotton Spinning Industry for October 1923.

The Department of Commerce announced on Dec. 21 that, according to preliminary figures compiled by the Bureau of the Census, there were 37,585,049 cotton spinning spindles in place in the United States on Nov. 30 1923, of which 34,101,452 were operated at some time during the month, compared with 34,378,662 for October, 33,929,885 for September, 33,708,667 for August, 34,237,887 for July, 34,843,421 for June, 35,390,137 for May 1923, and 34,658,096 for November 1922. The aggregate number of active spindle hours reported for the month was 8,014,579,167. During November the normal time of operation was 25¼ days (allowance being made for observance of Thanksgiving Day in some localities), compared with 26¾ days for October, 24½ days for September, 27 for August, 25 for July and 26 for June. Based on an activity of 8.74 hours per day, the average number of spindles operated during November was 36,316,828, or at 96.6% capacity on a single shift basis. This number compared with an average of 35,851,435 for October, 34,941,676 for September, 32,075,013 for August, 32,657,966 for July, 36,897,371 for June, 40,192,970 for May, and 39,551,753 for November 1922. The average number of active spindle hours per spindle in place for the month was 213. The total number of cotton spinning spindles in place, the number active, the number of active spindle hours and the average spindle hours per spindle in place by States, are shown in the following statement:

Domestic Exports of Cotton, Cotton Cloths, Yarn, Thread and Hosiery—High Prices Swell Values.

On Dec. 24 the Department of Commerce at Washington gave out its report for the month of November and the eleven months ending with November, of the exports of cotton, cotton cloths, yarn, thread and hosiery. It will be noticed that values have in many cases increased in face of a reduction in the quantity exported. This follows from the higher prices prevailing. Below is the report in full.

Domestic Exports of Food Products—Large Falling Off in Grain Shipments.

The Department of Commerce at Washington on Dec. 21 issued its monthly report showing the domestic exports of principal food products for November and the eleven months to Nov. 30. The total value of meats exported in November was $13,304,234, compared with $11,204,731 in the corresponding month last year, and for the eleven months to Nov. 30, $136,111,253 as against $121,673,607 last year. The exports of dairy products totaled $2,941,976 in November 1923, against $1,715,149 in November 1922, and for the eleven months $23,943,030, against $23,429,416. Animal oils and fats to the amount of $12,768,699 went out in November 1923, against $9,806,889 in November 1922, while for the eleven months the comparison on this item is $142,592,958, against $106,996,190. On the other hand, the value of the exports of grain and preparations of the same in November 1923 was only $18,101,739, compared with $38,279,282 in the same month last year, and for the eleven months to Nov. 30 in 1923 no more than $290,924,108, against $484,141,530 in the eleven months of 1922.

The United States shipped to foreign countries only 4,148,025 bushels of wheat in November 1923 against 10,577,172 bushels in November 1922 and for the eleven months only 93,583,305 bushels, against 155,015,271 bushels. The falling off here was to a small extent offset by a slightly larger outgo of flour, the shipments of which in November were 1,777,586 barrels, against 1,555,851 barrels, and for the eleven months 14,520,952 barrels, against 13,524,273 barrels. The exports of corn in November 1923 were only 955,327 bushels, against 7,521,067 bushels in November 1922, and for the eleven months 40,143,394 bushels, against 158,850,964 bushels. Similarly we shipped only 87,000 bushels of oats abroad in November 1923, against 2,613,759 bushels in November 1922, and but 3,170,700 bushels for the eleven months, against 29,679,488 bushels; only 264,072 bushels of barley, against 1,562,486 bushels, for December, and 11,602,108 bushels, against 17,687,738 bushels for the eleven months; and only 755,104 bushels of rye, against 5,431,298 bushels for the month, and 30,328,614 bushels against 43,497,014 bushels for the eleven months. In these diminished foreign takings of our grain, we see the unfortunate position of the farmer at the present time. The report, complete, follows:

Proposed Boxboard Association to Succeed Paper Industries Exchange of Chicago and New York.

Plans for the creation of a new organization to be known as the Boxboard Association, to take the place of the Paper Industries' Exchange, which operated in Chicago and New York, were discussed at a meeting in Chicago on Dec. 10 of the paper board group. The Paper Industries Exchange ceased to function on Dec. 1; its decision to discontinue was announced on Nov. 27 by George W. Gair, of Robert Gair & Co., of this city, who stated that the executive committee had decided to close the exchange here, but to retain the Chicago headquarters for the collection and distribution of statistical data. On Nov. 28 Mr. Gair was quoted in the New York "Journal of Commerce" as saying:

The exchange did not get the necessary support. It was not merely a question of financial support. Those of us who believed in the idea were willing to furnish that, but the Board men have not yet been brought to see the advantages of this opportunity for open trading. The waste paper packers did much better. The trade in the West also gave good support. However, the project was launched at a bad time. Business has fallen off sharply in the last six weeks or so. In my opinion the idea will come to the front again when the men in the trade have had time to study the proposition and see the advantages to be derived from it, as we who started the project see them.

Operation of the exchange with the majority of the trade represented would afford a means of stabilization and elimination of the wide fluctuations noticeable in the board industry especially. We had a little over 50% representation; we should have 80%. One thing that has already been accomplished is the standardization of packs. The East and West are now on the same basis in this respect. Business on the Chicago exchange will be suspended on Dec. 1 and the new organization will take hold on the following day.

With regard to the movement looking toward the formation of the new organization on Dec. 10 we quote the following from the Chicago "Journal of Commerce" Dec. 11:

Forty, or more, members representing the paper board group were in attendance, including George W. Gair, of the Robert Gair Co., New York,

President of the Exchange, and George M. Seaman, of the Seaman Paper Co., Chairman of the committee on organization of the paper board interests.

John R. Mauff, Executive Vice-President of the Paper Industries Exchange, has issued a statement in which he said it was the plan of the paper board group to carry on and function under the new organization in the same quarters in the Wrigley Building under the same executive management. Under the new plan the activities of the Paper Industries Exchange have been discontinued and a committee appointed to bring about the change with the amicable resignation of the paper stock, wire cloth, felt and waxed paper groups.

The intention to resume open trading through the medium of the Waste Materials Exchange, Inc., was announced in the Chicago "Journal of Commerce" Dec. 6, which stated that it was a corporation not for profit, organized through the efforts of some of those who were active in the waste paper group of the Paper Industries Exchange. The item continued:

Francis Hughes, of the Francis Hughes Co., announced that a charter has been received from the Secretary of State and plans are now being completed to resume operations, possibly within a week.

It is planned to have open trading, not only in waste paper, but also in all the other staple items waste materials, including scrap iron, rubber, metals and rags. The membership of the new exchange is to be divided into groups of divisions, each division trading in some particular commodity. The headquarters of the new exhcange have not as yet been selected, but it is announced that the plan is for the divisions to get together, possibly three times each week. The first meeting will be held for the purpose of organization. Officers will be elected and all other necessary plans completed.

The waste paper division intends to invite paper stock men from the different cities to become affiliated with the exchange, and those behind the project argue that it is only through open trading that the markets may be stabilized and conditions in the industry generally improved. A majority of the local waste paper packers were not in favor of the recent action taken by directors in abolishing the open trading feature of the Paper Industries Exchange.

The establishment of the Paper Industries Exchange in Chicago was announced in these columns Sept. 8, page 1086, and in our issue of Oct. 27, page 1831, we referred to the inauguration of the Paper Industries Exchange in New York.

Two-Year Agreement Granting Fifty-Cent Daily Wage Increase to Be Signed in New York Building Trades.

Negotiations which have been in progress since the recent demand of $1 a day increase in wages in the New York building trades have practically been concluded on the basis of a compromise providing for a daily increase of 50 cents, and an agreement lasting for two years, affecting approximately 100,000 union men, is expected to be signed next week, according to current information. The negotiations between employers and union officials have been conducted by groups in the various branches of the building trades. The year of 1924, free from prospect of strike or lock-out, is expected to be the biggest building year in the city's history. The New York "Times" of Dec. 24 said:

This Christmas gift [the new agreement] of employers and workers appeared to be assured last night by an announcement from both sides that all wage difficulties had been ironed out in a new agreement likely to be adopted Jan. 1, and effective for two years. The signatories would be the Building Trades Employers' Association groups and the 100,000 members of the old Building Trades Council. The price of the peace was given as a 50-cent daily wage increase. The men had demanded $1 in November.

The pact itself is not as yet actually signed, it was said. But John Halkett, leader of the carpenters' union, whose strength of 26,000 makes it the largest single labor factor in the city, and also President of the old Building Trades Council itself, gave assurance last night that "it was sure to go over." He said he had called a special meeting of the council for Thursday at the headquarters, 12 St. Mark's Place, and was optimistic that the delegates would go solidly for ratification.

Christian G. Norman, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Building Trades Employers' Association, concurred in Mr. Halkett's cheerful prediction. He disclosed that as result of group negotiations between employers and men in the various trades since the council first moved for a wage rise, complete agreement had been reached by some of the most important branches. He named the carpenters, tile layers, sheet metal workers, glaziers and others constituting a majority of the industry. He said that a minority of the conferences still were pending, but that in his belief they were on the high road to accord. He saw no prospect of "die hards" altering the gratifying outlook.

At Least Eighteen Months of Peace.

All concerned in the building industry last night showed marked relief over the developments. It was pointed out that the wage treaty would insure peace in building construction for at least 18 months, even though the new contract itself would have another six months to run. This conservation limitation was adopted in view of the fact that the present two-year contract, which the bricklayers won after their strike, was dated to expire 18 months hence. With the masons the "key" industry, the future of building in the city was regarded as hinging upon this trade.

The present wage drive, which is expected to end with acceptance of the half-dollar increase, got under way in November with formal announcement that $1 a day more was desired, the announcement coming from the Secretary of the Council, Roswell D. Tompkins. The men were getting a $9 a day scale with an added bonus of $1 a day, making the actual earnings a day, $10. The object of the wage demand was to boost this rate another dollar, making a base pay of $11, to last for two years.

With this announcement, which originated in formal action to that effect, taken by the Executive Committee of the Council, all the affiliated trade unions were authorized to begin negotiations with their respective employer groups at once. Negotiations followed forthwith, some promtply, some belatedly. The tardiness was traced to a group among the employers who stated flatly that a $1 a day more for the 100,000 men would be ruinous, adding, they said, a full $25,000,000 to the annual building bill of New York City.

Break in Employers' Ranks Mended.

The employers, it was understood, were favorably inclined toward incorporating the existing $1 bonus into a permanent contract—that is, extending the prevailing scale of $10 on a contractural basis for the period the men demanded. The employers broke ranks at this point when contractors gave in to striking marble workers and granted them 50 cents a day in excess of the so-called maximum figure.

At this a certain group in the Building Trades Employers' Association was thought to have put its foot down. Rumors were current that they had served notice on their associates in the other trades that they would go not a dollar beyond the $10 mark. At the same time powers in the organization intimated that there was a majority sufficient to win them over to whatever action was taken by the body as a whole.

No comment was forthcoming last night as to details of the apparent "winning over." The disposition was to admit a "concession" had been made and let it go at that. Spokesmen preferred to stand on the fact that the scale would be $10.50 a day for two years. They said if any "explaining" must be done one could say it "was not $10" or "was not $11," according to the necessity.

Neither employers nor officers of the trade council had any figures available to show dimensions of the "biggest year" expected in 1924. They said that with surveys about to be announced by engineers it would only be speculation at best. Suffice it to say, they concluded, that the year would be "tremendous."

The Building Trades Council on Dec. 27 authorized its unions, representing 112,000 building mechanics to accept a 50-cent-a-day increase from the employers on a two-year agreement. Seven of the 36 local unions have already, it is stated, entered into contracts with their employers on that basis. Twenty-nine other unions report progress in their negotiations while the steam fitters industry with 4,000 workers are deadlocked. There are provisions however, to break the deadlock through mediation and arbitration, if necessary, under an existing agreement between the Council and the Building Trades Employes' Association. The unions which have contracted on the now authorized basis are the Carpenters District Council, hoisting engineers, Machinists' District Lodge No. 15, Sheet Metal Workers, Local 28; Tile Layers' Union No. 52, art glass workers, plate and sheet glass glaziers. The other unions will report to the council as to their status on Jan. 8.

Master Builders Association of St. Louis Asks Co-operation of Banks and Trust Companies in Opposing Wage Increases.

Recent demands for wage increases in the building trades of St. Louis have met with considerable opposition among the employers; and the Master Builders' Association, representing the builders, has asked the assistance of banks and trust companies which make loans for the erection of buildings, in their efforts to combat wage advances, according to W. C. Mieher, President of the association. In discussing the building trades situation as it had developed since the demands for wage increases presented by the unions, the St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" on Dec. 21 had the following to say:

Mieher said last night that the trust companies and banks had quietly been asked to help in opposing the wage increases, and he made it clear that the help desired is the withholding of loans on new structures to keep these projected buildings out of the market. The difficulty encountered, he said, is the amount of building which is financed in Chicago and in Eastern cities.

Asked as to the response of St. Louis financial institutions, Mieher said he knows the general sentiment locally, but he preferred that the banking institutions speak for themselves. The insurance companies which invest their funds in mortgages on real estate were also appealed to.

Increases Sought.

The members of the building crafts asking increased wages will be successful in their demands unless the contractors receive the aid of the public and those who supply the money, Mieher said.

A partial list of those unions in the building trades asking for increases, as given by Mieher, follows:

Painters, now receiving $1.10 an hour, are asking $1.50 an hour and a five-day week.

Iron workers, now receiving $1.25, want $1.50 an hour.

Hoisting engineers, who are paid $1.25, are demanding $1.50.

Lathers, receiving $11 and $12 a day, are asking a new scale of $15 a day, the peak scale in St. Louis.

Building laborers, who receive from 67½ cents an hour, are asking a 20 cent increase, and those receiving $1 are asking $1.25.

Hodcarriers, paid $1.08, are demanding $1.25 an hour.

These wage scales will go into effect in the spring at the expiration of present contracts if the unions are successful.

In addition, the contractors are now paying plasterers and bricklayers $1.75 an hour, and carpenters $1.50, but under protest.

Inquiry as to the organization of all contractors to oppose these wage scales and to negotiate in regard to working rules was made as the result of reports that the organization had been effected. R. L. Murphy, executive secretary of the Master Builders' Association, when asked whether such an organization had been or is being formed, declared that any announcement now would be premature, and said his organization may have an important statement to make at a later date.

Mieher, president of the organization, denied that such an organization had got beyond the discussion stage. He also denied the statement of one general contractor that about one-third of the number of subcontractors' organizations had signified their willingness to co-operate.

Other general contractors and subcontractors who were asked for statements declined to affirm or deny the existence of an organization or plans for one. It was frequently pointed out by these men that anything they might know in this connection would be in the nature of a confidence.

At one trust company, where inquiry was made regarding plans for ceasing the making of loans, it was said that no such request had been made, but that the institution had curtailed its building loans because it considered the present price level too high to make the general run of loans as safe as desired.

Announcement of the plans of the buildings trades to increase the minimum wage from $1.25 to $1.50 an hour was made six weeks ago by Maurice J. Cassidy, secretary of the Building Trades Council. The building industry in St. Louis includes about 15,000 workmen, of which about 9,000 are directly affiliated with the Building Trades Council. According to Cassidy plans for buildings to be erected in 1924 insure continuous employment for the men during the coming year.

Up to November 30, the estimated value of buildings for which permits had been issued since the first of the year was $37,979,185, as compared with a total of $25,210,503 for the entire year of 1922. Estimated value of buildings for which permits were issued in November showed a gain of 100% over October and a substantial gain over November, 1922. The large volume in November was attributed partly to the result of the nullification of the zoning ordinance.

In the first seventeen days of this month new buildings, for which permits were issued, were of a total estimated value of $824,300, as against $1,226,540 for the corresponding period of last year.

Increase in November Sales of Life Insurance in the United States—Canadian Figures.

November sales of ordinary life insurance in the United States amounted to approximately the same figure as October sales, according to figures just published by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau of New York. The sales by companies doing approximately 80% of the ordinary legal reserve business amounted during November of this year to $480,227,000 of insurance, as compared to $403,682,000 of insurance in November of last year, an increase of 19%. The Bureau further says:

This increase or a greater one was shown by all sections of the country except the western, southwestern and Pacific sections. The southwestern section was the only one to show an actual decrease during November of this year from November of last.

Sales during the 11 months ending Nov. 30 amounted to $5,242,950,000 of insurance as compared to $4,402,085,000 during the same period last year. The increase of the 11 months of this year over last is 19%, the same as the increase of November of this year over November of last. The ordinary life insurance business in the country as a whole is running close to the records established early in the year.

During November, of the eight sections into which the country has been divided by the Research Bureau, three showed a greater increase than the average for the country as a whole over last year. These sections were New England, the central, and west central States. The middle Atlantic States showed the same increase. Three others, the southern, western, and Pacific sections all showed a less increase, and the southwestern section showed an actual decrease of 8% in November although for the first 11 months it is still 18% above the 11 months of last year.

The November sales of ordinary life insurance in Canada during November of this year were 26% greater than in November of last year according to figures just published by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau of New York which issues its reports on the basis of figures from companies doing about 85% of the ordinary legal reserve business in Canada. The actual amount of sales of these companies in November was $34,165,000 of insurance. This is 16% greater than the average volume of sales during the first 11 months of the year.

The increase in life insurance sold this year over last was most marked in the central portion of the Dominion. Sales in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, and Saskatchewan amounted in each case to about one-third more than last year. British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland were the only provinces that did not show some increase over last year. Sales for the first 11 months of this year averaged for all of Canada 15% greater than in the corresponding period last year.

Current Events and Discussions

Federal Reserve Banking During 1923.

The condition of the Federal Reserve banks at the end of the year 1923 shows relatively little change from that prevailing at the end of the preceding year, says the Federal Reserve Board, in its weekly report issued after the close of business Dec. 27 and which deals with the results for the 12 Federal Reserve banks combined. Loan liquidation and the reduction in Federal Reserve note circulation, both of which began at the end of 1920, had practically ceased by the middle of 1922, says the Board, and since then changes in condition of Federal Reserve banks have not been very wide, in fact the past two years have been characterized, it is observed, by a condition of relative stability in Federal Reserve banking. The Federal Reserve Board then proceeds as follows:

Demand for credit accommodation during 1923, represented by the total of bills discounted, bills bought, and Government securities, averaged about $1,150,000,000, though there has been considerable change in the composition of the total; Federal Reserve note circulation, except for the seasonal reduction in January, has fluctuated around $2,250,000,000 throughout the year; cash reserves at the end of 1923 were $3,138,000,000, differing little from the total reported a year earlier; while the reserve ratio during the greater part of the year stood at around 76%, though on the last report date of the year it dropped to 73.3%, mainly because of the increased demand for currency that manifests itself at the holiday season.

Considerable change has taken place in the composition of the earning assets of the Federal Reserve banks. On Dec. 27 of last year the banks held $630,000,000 of bills discounted, $246,000,000 of bills bought in open market, and $458,000,000 of U. S. Government securities. At the end of the present year, U. S. security holdings stood at $104,000,000, the Federal Reserve banks having permitted their security holdings to run off at maturity, or when called for redemption by the Treasury Department, without replacing them by additional purchases in the open market. The failure of the Federal Reserve banks to replace their holdings of maturing securities made it necessary for member banks to increase their borrowings on discounted paper in order to retain the amount of Reserve bank credit required to meet the demands of commerce and business. Holdings of bills bought in open market declined during the early part of the year, reaching $182,000,000 on Feb. 21. This was followed by a steady rise to $282,000,000 on May 16, after which there was again a gradual reduction to $171,000,000 on Sept. 19. Additional purchases since then have brought the total holdings up to $336,000,000 on Dec. 26, the largest amount held during the year.

Holdings of bills discounted increased from $630,000,000 on Dec. 27 of last year to $857,000,000 at the end of the present year. The increase in discounts was almost continuous up to October. Since then, increased open market purchases of acceptances by the Federal Reserve banks have been accompanied with a decline in discount accommodation. The largest relative increases in discount accommodation for the year are shown by those Reserve banks that serve districts in which agriculture, particularly cotton growing, is of major importance. Discount holdings of the Atlanta Bank, for example, increased from $30,000,000 to $69,000,000 between Dec. 27 1922 and Dec. 26 1923, those of St. Louis from $30,000,000 to $62,000,000, and of Kansas City from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. Net imports of gold during the 11 months ending Nov. 30, amounting to approximately $262,000,000, enabled the banks of the country as a whole to finance the larger loan requirements of their customers without an increase in the total volume of Reserve bank credit in use.

Federal Reserve note circulation, after the seasonal decline in January amounting to about $200,000,000, remained at a fairly stable level the balance of the year until December, when the usual holiday demands brought the total up to $2,340,000,000. The low point in Federal Reserve note circulation was reached this year on Aug. 1, a week later than the low point of total earning assets, the circulation of Federal Reserve notes on the date mentioned being $2,188,000,000. An increase of over $300,000,000 in the amount of gold and silver certificates in circulation between Jan. 1 and Dec. 1 was more than sufficient to meet the additional currency requirements of the country, with the result that the amount of Federa Reserve notes in circulation is now somewhat less than it was a year ago. Some of the Federal Reserve banks, however, show relatively large changes in their note circulation during the year, notably Atlanta and Dallas with increases of $19,000,000 and $16,000,000, respectively, and New York with a reduction of $170,000,000.

While there has been little change in cash reserves of the System as a whole, considerable inter-district shifting of reserves has taken place, the largest relative reductions being shown for Atlanta, whose total reserves at the end of thhis year were $121,000,000 as compared with $141,000,000 a year earlier, and New York with a decline from $1,056,000,000 to $885,000,000.

The statement in full, in comparison with the preceding week and with the corresponding date last year, will be found on subsequent pages, namely pages 2867 and 2868.

The Week With the Member Banks of the Federal Reserve System.

Aggregate increases of $99,000,000 in loans and investments and of $162,000,000 in Government deposits, as against reductions of $149,000,000 in net demand deposits and of $69,000,000 in reserve balances with the Federal Reserve banks, are shown in the weekly consolidated statement of condition on Dec. 19 of 764 member banks in leading cities. It should be noted that the figures for these member banks are always a week behind those for the Reserve banks themselves. Loans and discounts increased by $38,000,000, increases of $62,000,000 in loans on corporate stocks and bonds and of $1,000,000 in loans on U. S. Government securities, being offset in part by a reduction of $25,000,000 in all other, largely commercial, loans and discounts. Investments of all reporting members increased by $61,000,000, certificates of indebtedness showing an increase of $48,000,000 and corporate bonds, stocks and securities an increase of $17,000,000, while holdings of U. S. bonds and Treasury notes show a reduction of $4,000,000. Further comment regarding the changes shown by these member banks is as follows:

Loans and discounts of reporting banks in New York City show an increase of $38,000,000, loans secured by corporate stocks and bonds an increase of $56,000,000, loans secured by U. S. Government obligations an increase of $2,000,000, and all other, largely commercial, loans and discounts a decrease of $20,000,000. Investments of the New York City banks increased by $15,000,000, U. S. Government securities by $3,000,000 and other bonds, stocks and securities by $12,000,000.

Net demand deposits of all reporting institutions show a reduction of $149,000,000, of which $35,000,000 is shown for the New York district, $29,000,000 for the Chicago district, $21,000,000 for the Cleveland district and $16,000,000 for the Philadelphia district. Time deposits of all reporting banks decreased by $1,000,000. Government deposits, on account of Treasury operations, including the payment of income and profits taxes and the issue and redemption of Treasury certificates show a net increase of $162,000,000 for all reporting banks, the New York City banks reporting an increase of $47,000,000.

Reserve balances of all reporting banks at the Federal Reserve banks declined by $69,000,000, while cash in vault increased $14,000,000. Member banks in New York City report reductions of $46,000,000 in reserve balances and of $4,000,000 in cash.

Borrowings of all reporting institutions from the Federal Reserve banks declined from $488,000,000 to $470,000,000, or from 3 to 2.9% of their total loans and investments. Borrowings of the New York City members decreased from $74,000,000 to $54,000,000, or from 1.5 to 1.1% of their total loans and investments.

On a subsequent page—that is, on page 2868—we give the figures in full contained in this latest weekly return of the member banks of the Reserve System. In the following is furnished a summary of the changes in the principal items of assets and liabilities as compared with a week and a year ago.

American and British Chosen to Serve With Committees Inquiry into Germany's Financial Affairs —C. G. Dawes, Chairman.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, formerly Director of the U. S. Budget, and Owen D. Young, a New York lawyer and banker, who were chosen by the Allied Reparations Commission to be the unofficial representatives of the United States on the committee which is to inquire into Germany's financial position, were in conference with President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes on Dec. 27. Messrs. Dawes and Young are to sail for Paris from New York on the steamer America to-day (Dec. 29). They will be accompanied by Rufus C. Dawes of Chicago, who will serve as Secretary to his brother, Gen. Dawes, and Stuart M. Crocker, who will serve as Mr. Young's assistant. The Philadelphia "Ledger" of yesterday (Dec. 28) said:

Mr. Hughes placed at the disposal of General Dawes and Mr. Young all the data possessed by the State Department relating to the reparations question. He defined this Government's attitude toward that problem and placed himself at the service of the American experts. The Government's help will be available to them at every point of the investigation.

The action and judgment of the experts, however, will be wholly free, and they will find their conclusions from the facts they discover. They do not officially represent the American Government and will pay their own expenses. The Reparations Committee may defray the expenses of the technical and clerical assistance.

The fact, however, that the American experts were appointed with the approval of this Government is taken as an assurance that Washington's hopes in regard to the results of the inquiries are the aims of the experts. It is the wish of the Government that the inquiries may lead to a settlement of the reparations question, which is held here to be the root-cause of the postponement of Europe's economic rehabilitation.

All Governments concerned are expected to "keep hands off" and let the experts accomplish their tasks without interference, but it is recognized that the experts of each country will necessarily have to drawn upon their own Governments for information.

The report of the principal committee to examine Germany's budgetary and currency conditions will constitute the basis of consideration by the principal allied Governments, and possibly by the American Government, of the entire reparations problem. The committee itself will consider the capacity of Germany to pay, as this is necessarily involved in the problem of Germany's budget, which cannot be balanced except by a settlement of that question.

The decision of the Reparations Commission to invite General Dawes and Mr. Young to serve as unofficial observers with the expert committee which is to investigate Germany's capacity to pay was made known on Dec. 15, a communique issued by the Commission on that day stating:

After taking cognizance of various information received from the United States all the delegates of the Powers represented on the Reparations Commission individually advised Col. James A. Logan (American unofficial observer with the Commission) that it is their intention to invite, in the course of the next plenary session, Brig.-Gen. Charles G. Dawes and Owen D. Young to participate as experts in the work of the committees entrusted with the task of studying the German budget and stabilization of currency in Germany.

On Dec. 21 cablegrams from Paris announced that the Commission had decided to offer to General Dawes the Chairmanship of the committee which is to examine into Germany's finances. As we indicated in our issue of Dec. 15, page 2601, in reporting that the United States had signified its willingness to participate in the Allies' inquiry into Germany's affairs, a double inquiry is proposed—one committee investigating Germany's financial situation, while the second is to report on German capital invested abroad. On Dec. 24 the Reparations Commission selected Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles as the American who is to serve on the expert committee which is to estimate the amount of German capital abroad. Mr. Robinson, who is President of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and prominently identified with other financial institutions, was a member of the Supreme Economic Council at the Paris Peace Conference in 1919. He also represented the United States at the first International Labor Conference. He was created a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor in 1920. Paris Associated Press cablegrams Dec. 26 said:

The first committee, that on budget, will meet here on Jan. 14, and the second, which will consider German capital abroad, on Jan. 21, so as to give Mr. Robinson time to get here.

It was stated on Dec. 27 that Mr. Robinson will pursue the same course as General Dawes and Mr. Young in the matter of conferring with Secretary Hughes before leaving for France. On Dec. 20 it was stated in Associated Press cablegrams from Paris that the British members would be Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England; Sir Josiah Stamp, economic and statistical authority, and Reginald McKenna, formerly Chancellor of the Exchequer. A change in the British nominations was announced on Dec. 26—Sir Robert Kindersley, a director of the Bank of England, replacing Mr. Norman. Sir Robert and Sir Josiah, it is understood, will serve on the committee on stabilization of the German budget, while Mr. McKenna will be one of the experts to investigate the extent of German capital abroad.

Announcement was made on the 18th inst. that it was understood that the French members of the expert committee inquiring into Germany's resources will be Jean V. Parmentier, formerly an official of the Ministry of Finance and now one of the managers of the Credit Foncier de France; M. Atthalin, director of the Banque Paris et Pays Bas, and M. Alix, professor of law, on the faculty of the University of Paris.

A copyright cablegram from Paris to the New York "Times" Dec. 26 said:

When Sir John Bradbury compiled his list in consultation with Premier Baldwin and with the assent of the other British political leaders he obtained the consent of Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, to approval by the Bank. The Bank has not seen its way to give this consent, the reason, it is stated, being that Mr. Norman's services cannot just now be spared in London. Sir John Bradbury, with the approval of the commission, has therefore asked Sir Robert Kindersley, a director of the Bank, to serve. Sir Robert was the first British representative on the Bankers' Commission on which the United States was represented by J. P. Morgan.

Though the first meeting of the two committees will be held in Paris, it is expected that later they will find it convenient to work in Berlin. Sir John Bradbury and Louis Barthou are in agreement that the fullest liberty shall be granted them to meet where they wish and when they wish, to discuss the situation from every angle with complete freedom and to report their findings irrespective of any political considerations.

Among the members of the Reparation Commission responsible for the creation of these two committees and the nomination of their members there is a fairly optimistic spirit, for it is realized that under the chairmanship of Colonel Charles G. Dawes and with such members as Reginald McKenna the two committees will prove themselves "strong." It is no secret that much is hoped from the driving force of the American delegation and from its detachment from the circumstances which have recently so much hindered the work of the Reparation Commission and caused a practical deadlock.

Berlin Government to Co-operate.

There is ground for hope, too, in the fact that the German Government appears to consider very favorably the work of the committees and is ready to give all the help it can both in supplying full information on the actual and potential situation of German finance and in helping Committee No. 2 to estimate and identify exported capital.

The Belgian and Italian representatives who were nominated to-day have been like the American, British and French, selected because of their technical knowledge of the questions to be examined and not because of political prominence.

According to the New York "Times" of Dec. 23, the exact wording of the resolution of the Reparation Commission regarding the committee to investigate Germany's capacity is as follows:

In order to consider, in accordance with the provisions of Article 234 of the Treaty of Versailles, the resources and capacity of Germany and, after giving her representatives a just opportunity to be heard, the Reparation Commission decided to create two committees of experts belonging to the allied and associated countries. One of these committees would be entrusted with considering the means of balancing the budget and the measures to be taken to stabilize the currency. The other would consider the means of estimating the amount of exported capital and of bringing it back to Germany.

Allied Reparations Commission Refers to Committees Germany's Request for Food Loan of $70,000,000.

A request by the German Government for authority to pledge the resources of the Reich as a guarantee for a loan of from $50,000,000 to $70,000,000 with which to buy grain and fats abroad, was formally presented to the Allied Reparations Commission on Dec. 17. The request was taken up on Dec. 21 by the Commission, which, says a copyright cablegram to the New York "Times" from Paris, somewhat sidetracked it by referring one part of the request to the Allied Governments and the second part to the Committee on Guarantees. These copyright advices state:

The original German request was made under Article 251 of the Treaty of Versailles. As the point was made in Paris that this article refers to exceptions to the reparations rules which may be made by the Allied and Associated Governments, Berlin sent yesterday a supplementary note asking that action be taken under Article 248, which says about the same think as Article 251, but refers to exceptions which may be made by the Reparations Commission.

The Commission decided as follows:

"First. To refer the German Government's request to the Allied Governments in conformity with Article 251 of the Treaty of Versailles.

"Second. To request the Committee on Guarantees, with a view to facilitating the decision to be taken either by the Governments or by the Reparations Commission, to draw up with as little delay as possible a report on the situation in Germany with regard to bread cereals and edible fats."

This means officially that what was apparent from the first, namely that the decision will be made by the Allied Governments and will have to be unanimous. The French and Belgians have firmly decided not to give Germany clear permission to float a loan which shall come ahead of reparations in repayment.

The French, of course, do not wish to take the stand that the Germans may starve for all they will do, but, as a portion of the treaty with Germany provides expressly for giving aid to Germany to enable her to meet her reparations obligations, the French would seek to get in return for food help German commitments on reparations.

The reparations collection effort of the French being centred in the Ruhr, that means that the French will try to make food credits the price for German assistance in exploiting the Ruhr. This will be the Paris program if the issue goes that far. Before it does the French will try to show first that Germany's need for cereals is not as great as Berlin makes out, because Germany has excellent crops this year, and, secondly, that the Germans possess sufficient wealth abroad to pay for the food they need, as they paid in America for copper and cotton bought this year to the extent of $50,000,000.

Reference to the fact that the German Government was planning to seek permission from the Reparations Commission to float a loan of approximately $70,000,000 for the purchase of foodstuffs was made in our issue of Dec. 15 page 2602.

New German Discount Rate Ten Per Cent.

The following cablegram from Berlin Dec. 22 to the New York News Bureau from the "Central News," was announced by "Daily Financial America":

With the stabilization of the currency by the issuance of the rentenmark, the new discount rate established is 10%.

The previous discount rate of the Bank of Germany was 108% discount on paper mark loans to which figure it was raised from 90% established on Sept. 15.

Referring to the adoption of the new rate the New York "Times" Dec. 23 said:

Germany has undertaken to re-establish some sort of currency by means of the new rentenmark, and this experiment is being watched closely by bankers and others who regard the entire thing as an interesting innovation. Whether the method will prove satisfactory is difficult of judging, reports of large issuance of new rentenmarks and a growing demand for more causing concern as to the new currency's future. The fact, however, that the Government banking institution has established a 10% discount rate is generally accepted as an indication of some optimism on the part of German authorities at least, this new rate contrasting with the Reichsbank rate of 90% on better-class transactions and of 108% on paper mark loans.

Berlin Bourse Resumes Gold Quotations.

Associated Press advices from Berlin Dec. 17 stated:

To-day marked the official birth of gold mark figures on the Bourse quotations list, but it made little practical difference so far as the previous quotations have been understood in the trillions. The tradesmen for some days have been eliminating the cumbersome rows of ciphers from the price lists and the sight of the old-fashioned marks and pfennigs has stimulated a more cheerful feeling. It came as a sort of revelation, however, to find that under the new dispensation certain of the smaller fry among the shares were quoted only in pfennigs instead of in billions of marks.

A law to compel the traders to keep their books and balance sheets in gold marks from January 1 will be enacted before the new year under the Government's emergency powers. Private companies henceforth must have capital of not less than 5,000 gold marks and shares not below 500, while the minimum for limited liability companies are 500 and 10 respectively.

Renten Bank Attempts to Protect New Money.

From the Brooklyn "Eagle" we take the following from Berlin Dec. 21:

The first attack on the stability of the rentenmark, which, since its appearance not long ago, has considerably improved general economic conditions throughout Germany, was made yesterday by Minister of Finance Ruther, who requested the board of directors of the Rentenbank to grant the Govrenment a credit in addition to that of 1,200,000,000 rentenmarks already at its disposal.

Although Dr. Luther said it was only a question of a short-term credit which would have no effect of inflation, the board rejected the request, making its decision after it has heard several speakers who expressed fear that the Minister's proposed credits to the Government would undermine faith in the rentenmark.

In the face of this refusal Dr. Luther is resorting to another method of obtaining money, and will issue exchequer bills in rentenmarks to banks and agricultural concerns. These bills will be in amounts of from 5,000 to 10,000 rentenmarks each and will become due in terms ranging between two weeks and three months.

Germany Planning to Restore a Rent Tax—"Gold Rents" to be Re-established, Then to be Taxed at Fifty Per Cent.

A cablegram from Berlin Dec. 16 (copyrighted by the New York "Times") stated:

In the interest exclusively of the State, the "free rents system" is to be abandoned. The plan now is to restore practically the whole of the pre-war rate in gold for rents, thus vastly increasing the present payments. The Government will take 50% of the new gross rents as a tax, which is expected ultimately to yield 3,000,000,000 gold marks. To the landlord 50% would be left for administration, taxes and repairs of apartment houses.

This rent tax is made possible by the fact that virtually all mortgages on such properties have already been paid off in the old currency for an infinitesimal fraction of their original value. On the other hand, owing to the ruinous state of repair which prevails among the houses, landlords under the new system will be no better off than under the old. For that reason, prices of houses have not risen. The average price of a five-story apartment house, containing sixty or seventy rooms, is in gold value $5,000.

The Government has refused to restore mortgages in the interest of mortgagees, but has proposed to tax away gains made through repayment of gold mark mortgages and gold mark industrial bonds in paper marks.

Acceptance of Ten-Hour Day by Ruhr Workers.

According to a cablegram from Duesseldorf Dec. 21 a referendum among the trade union members in the Ruhr on Dec. 20 resulted in 42,900 votes in favor of accepting the ten-hour day recently arranged between the Government and the unions at Berlin and 539 against the proposition, while 69,000 members abstained from voting. It is stated that the heavy abstention is interpreted by the French authorities here as supporting their information that many workers are seeking jobs regardless of the usual union regulation of hours.

Allies Get Ruhr Products—4,470 Cars of Coal, Coke and Steel and Iron Articles Shipped Out.

A Duesseldorf (Germany) cablegram Dec. 22 appeared as follows in the New York "Times":

It was announced to-day that 9,807 loaded ten-ton freight cars were shipped from the occupied Ruhr territory on Thursday, of which 3,848 contained coal and coke for the reparation account; 622 crried steel and iron articles for the devastated regions, and 5,437 had loads for other destinations and local needs.

On the same date 13,178 tons of coal, 8,480 tons of lignite, 2,470 briquettes and 5,928 tons of coke were turned out by the mines and coke plants working under the direct management of the occupation authorities.

The following from Duesseldorf, Germany, Dec. 27 appeared in the New York "Evening Post":

The coal production of the Ruhr for the week of Dec. 10-15 reached 966,000 tons, or 56% of the output for the same period in 1922, according to French official sources. The coke production was 125,000 tons, or 30% of normal.

It was further declared that 55,394 German railroad workers had returned to their duties permanently.

Italy Warns France on Occupied Areas—Would Not Recognize an Independent Rhineland Nor Any Annexation Agreement.

Under date of Dec. 18 a wireless message from Rome (copyright) to the New York "Times" said:

It is understood that the Foreign Ministry has taken steps in Paris to let the Quai d'Orsay know that Italy will not recognize any agreement which may result from the negotiations between France the Germany wnich in any matter will change the present political status of the Ruhr and Rhineland. This means that Italy would look with ill favor upon the establishment of an independent Rhineland republic or upon annexaiton to France of the occupied territories, either of which steps, it is feared here, may be the outcome of the negotiations.

The Italian view is that, neither of these two eventualities being contemplated by the Treaty of Versailles, France would be violating the treaty if she attempted to bring them about. In that case, it is intimated, Italy probably would complete revision of the Treaty of Versailles.

This step is indicative of the apprehensions which are assailing Italian politicians. They fear that France may permanently settle down in the rich coal producing Ruhr district and that such action coupled with the reserves of iron actually in her possession would place her in the position to become a dangerous rival of all other European industrial nations and especially of Italy, which possesses neither iron nor coal. Italy will therefore strenuously resist any settlement which would place France in permanent possession of the Ruhr coal mines.

The promises with which Premier Poincare has answered Germany's proposal to negotiate is here ascribed entirely to the result of the British election. As Italy sees the situation France wishes to come to a definite settlement of the Ruhr problem with Germany before a Labor or Liberal Government is established in England, either of which, it is believed, would be likely to be less favorable to France than the Baldwin Cabinet has been.

Another section of public opinion, however, considers that a great step toward a definite solution has been taken by inducing France and Germany to enter upon negotiations, whatever chance these may have of being successful. These hopeful ones, however, see a long and rocky road before France and Germany can come to a durable agreement and think that even the two chiefly interested powers will soon come to the conclusion that revision of the Treaty of Versailles by all the signatories is the only way out of the impulse.

Extension of Agreement by Bankers' Committee Formed to Protect Holders of Russian Government Credit of $50,000,000.

The bankers' committee formed to protect the interests of participants in the $50,000,000 Imperial Russian Government 6½% three-year credit of 1916, which has long been in default, announced on Dec. 17 its intention of extending the protective agreement for another period of eighteen months from Jan. 1 1924. The committee, of which Charles E. Mitchell, President of the National City Bank of New York, is Chairman, consists of the following other bankers: Thomas Cochran, of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Harold Stanley, of the Guaranty Company of New York; Lloyd W. Smith, of Harris, Forbes & Co.; Charles S. Sargent, Jr., of Kidder, Peabody & Co.; Frederic W. Allen, of Lee, Higginson & Co.; and Albert H. Wiggin, of the Chase National Bank an-

Vice-Chairman of the Foreign Securities Committee of the Investmen Bankers Association of America.

The statement of the committee, issued to holders of participation certificates and holders of certificates of deposit for participation certificates in the Russian credit, says:

This committe filed with the Department of State at Washington on June 26 1922 information regarding the holdins of depositor. Under the protective agreement dated July 1 1919 for use when an opportunity occurs for the Government of the Uinted States to lend its assistance.

It is, therefore, essential that the protective agreement be extended for another period of 18 months from Jan. 1 1924 in order that the committe may have full authority to continue to act through the Department, and to take such steps as may be necessary for the protection of the certificate holders and the promotion of their interests, as it is believed that any adjustment of this debt can probably be made to the best advantage through the department and the committee.

It is probable that our Government in formally recognizing a Government in Russia will insist that provision be made for the payment of American claims which are on file with the State Department. The President, in his message to Congress, Dec. 6 1923, said: "Our Government does not propose, however, to enter into relations with another regime which refuses to recognize the sanctity of international obligations.

This committee already represents $39,898,000 of the above $50,000,000 but the committee has no authority to act on behalf of holders who do not deposit. Therefore, it has been decided to extend the opportunity to those who have not deposited their participation certificates to make such deposit now under the terms of the original agreement.

The holders of participation certificates who do not file information with the State Department at Washington may be seriously prejudiced by their failure to do so. To file proofs separately will subject the holders to needless expense and inconvenience, and it is obviously to their interest to avail themselves of the opportunity to co-operate with the other certificate holders under the protective agreement.

Deposits may be made by sending certificates to one of the depositaries., either the National City Bank of New York, 55 Wall St., New York City or the Old Colony Trust Co., 17 Court St., Boston, Mass. Certificates must be endorsed in blank by the registered holders and the signature guaranteed by a bank with a correspondent in New York City, or by a member of the New York or Boston Stock Exchange, or acknowledged before a Notary Public with a County Clerk's certificate attached, showing the authority of the Notary.

As the committee has heretofore announced, the members are serving without compensation and the total expenses of the committee to date are nominal. The formal consent to the extension of the agreement will be mailed to all depositors who are requested to sign and return it without delay to the secretary of the committee.

Wants Russian Bonds Paid—Deputy Asks France to Reimburse Her Own Nationals Holding Them.

A copyright cablegram as follows from Paris, Dec. 8, appeared in the New York "Times":

In view of the French Government's failure to obtain recognition by the Soviet Government of its debts to this country, three Deputies have just presented a bill to the Chamber asking aid for the small holders of Russian bonds.

The bill invites the Government to study the situation and project a law tending to put to the account of the French State the payment of Russian coupons to all holders of Russian bonds over 60 years of age and whose general income does not exceed 10,000 francs.

Russia Announces Big Sales of Oil.

The New York "Journal of Commerce" announced the following from Moscow, Dec. 19:

The Russian Oil Syndicate announces the completion of one deal for its products and the negotiation of a number of others by foreign firms. An Italian syndicate, it says, has contracted for a total of 85,000 tons of oil, while two offers have been received from France and one offer from a Bosphorus company for 90,000 tons. A French and Belgian syndicate offered to purchase 145,000 tons if given a three years' monopoly for the sale of the syndicate's oil in England.

Honduras to Pay Twenty Cents on Dollar.

From Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Dec. 26, the New York "Journal of Commerce" reported the following:

The Honduran Government has signed an agreement for the payment of the Honduran debt. The agreement provides that for each £100,000 face value it shall pay only £20,000 to holders of bonds issued in 1868 and 1870.

Commenting on the above, the paper quoted said:

In 1867, 1869, and 1870 Honduras borrowed £5,398,570 in Great Britain to build a transoceanic railway. The scheme ended in a complete failure. No interest has been paid on the debt since 1872. The arrears of interest to Jan. 1 1921, amounted to £22,326,112.

Albania Is Facing Financial Disaster.

A Paris cablegram, Dec. 18, appearing in the New York "Journal of Commerce," says:

Albania is heading directly for financial disaster, according to J. D. Hunger, financial adviser to the Albanian Government, who reported to the Council of the League of Nations to-night that he estimates the deficit in the country's 1924 budget at 7,000,000 gold francs, or 30% of the budget. Mr. Hunger recommends the abolition of the Albanian army, the discharge of one-fifth of the State officials and ruthless economies everywhere.

The league's financial committee, commenting on the report, says it has followed the economic and financial disorganization in various parts of Europe and fears that the causes of the chaos elsewhere are producing the same results in Albania.

Republic of Cuba Bonds in Definitive Form Ready January 2.

J. P. Morgan & Co. announce that they will be prepared on and after Jan. 2 1924 to deliver Republic of Cuba external loan thirty-year sinking fund 5½% gold bonds, dated Jan. 15 1923, in definitive form against delivery of interim receipts now outstanding.

Finland Borrows Again.

According to information received by the foreign department of Moody's Investors Service, and made public by it Dec. 14, the Republic of Finland has practically concluded negotiations with a Swedish banking syndicate for a loan of 15,850,000 Kronor, equivalent to $4,247,800 at par of exchange. The loan is to carry interest at the rate of 6% per annum and will mature in forty years. It is stated that, unlike the recently floated American issue of $10,000,000 and the British issue of £1,000,000, the Swedish issue is to be secured on "Finnish Government obligations which are held on deposit in Sweden."

Payment of Hu-Kuang Railways Bond Interest—Bonds Called.

From the New York "Times" of Dec. 15 we take the following:

Chinese bonds yesterday partly recovered from the Thursday's break on the New York Stock Exchange. The drop was caused by the belated appearance of money for payment of the semiannual interest coupon due today on the Imperial Chinese Government 5% Hu-Kuang Railway's loan of 1911. Notice of deposit of funds in Peking to cover this interest disbursement—which affects bondholders of four countries—should, under terms of the loan contract, be given on or before Dec. 3 of each year. Such notice was not given until one o'clock yesterday afternoon and with the approach of the Dec. 15 interest date, without word as to whether the money had been deposited, bondholders became nervous.

This nervousness was reflected in a 5-point break in the bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange on Thursday. Yesterday the same bonds opened fractionally below yesterday's close, then ran up to 43¼, or 4¼ points above yesterday's closing price, and closed the day at 42½. The advance was the result of definite announcement that J. P. Morgan & Co. had received the American share of the interest amount. Similar announcement was made in London and Paris. The Chinese railway loan was floated in 1911 and amounted to £6,000,000, or about $30,000,000.

It was announced yesterday (Dec. 28) that J. P. Morgan & Co. had sent out a notice of drawings of £99,580 5% Hu-Kuang Railways sinking fund gold loan of 1911 of the Imperial Chinese Government. The bonds called are redeemable on June 15, with the exception of those of the German issue, which are regarded by the Chinese Government as invalid.

The issue amounts to £6,000,000, and after redemption of bonds set forth the amount of the loan outstanding will be $5,715,340.

Rumania to Pay Interest—1924 Budget First Since War to Provide for Foreign Debt.

The following from Bucharest, Dec. 17, appeared in the New York "Times":

The Rumanian budget for 1924, announced by the Minister of Finance, will include for the first time since the war some provision for interest on the foreign debt. A total of one and one-third billion lei is estimated for interest on internal and external loans, the latter including Treasury bonds, of which about $10,000,000 are payable in dollars, being held in the United States.

The budget, which is the largest in the history of the country, about 24,000,000,000 lei, provides for an increase of about 500,000,000 lei in military appropriations. It is expected to show a surplus.

Persian Minister to United States Hussein Alai, on Recently, Authorized Loans of $40,000,000—Proposed New Government Bank.

The Persian Minister to the United States, Hussein Alai, in an address, Dec. 8, before the Bankers' Forum, New York Chapter of the American Institute of Banking, in undertaking to present a sketch of the present situation in Persia, stated that since 1921 Persia's political horizon has become brighter. Reference to the fact that the Persian Parliament has recently sanctioned negotiations for loans not exceeding $40,000,000, and to the stipulation in the law "that the loan must be placed with American bankers" was made by Mr. Alai, who likewise alluded to the proposed organization of the Banke Iran—the new Government bank of Persia, and the purpose of the Government to employ an American in the position of Director of the bank. Mr. Alai, following his address, indicated, it is said, that Romaine A. Philpot, of Philpot & Cannon, Inc., had been suggested for the post. In part Mr. Alai's remarks were as follows:

Since 1921 Persia's political horizon has become brighter. Direct foreign interference, as a result of a new spirit in international relations introduced by the United States, and of the awakening of the East, has ceased, and I may here say that the East is wide awake but not in hostility toward the West, rather in resentment against certain Powers of Europe, and in the full determination to insist upon respect of the independence and sovereignty of its component parts. Being at last, after centuries of coercion, given a chance to put our house in order, we lost no time in organizing a small but efficient homogeneous military force in place of the heterogeneous forces imposed upon us. This army, under the leadership of a strong and patriotic Minister of War—Reza Khan—has re-established order throughout the land, repressing agitation and unrest largely encouraged by foreign interference and intrigue, and restoring in the province the authority of the central Government which had been impaired by the presence of foreign troops. The Persian Parliament, or Madjless, as we call it, met again in June 1921. Its first care was to vote measures tending toward the rehabilitation of the country after its terrible experiences and sufferings during the war. America's helpful policy towards China, her advocacy of the open door and equality of opportunity, her great achievement at the Washington Conference for the Limitation of Armament inspired Persia with such confidence in her altruistic motives that we naturally turned to you for the technical and financial assistance required to upbuild Persia after her terrible sufferings. Among other steps was the employment by Persia of a group of American financial advisers under the able leadership of Dr. A. C. Millspaugh, formerly Economic Adviser to the Department of State. For nearly a year now the finances of the Persian Government have been under the control of these American administrators. The powers of the American group are derived ultimately from the Persian Parliament, whose comprehensive grants of authority give the American Administrator and his assistants adequate powers and immunity from political vicissitudes. The efforts of Dr. Millspaugh have already borne fruit in a steady improvement of the nation's financial condition, and, in his opinion, the Persian Government is now in a position to contract one or more foreign loans. Accordingly, the Parliament has recently sanctioned negotiations for loans not exceeding $40,000,000 in the aggregate, destined in large part for public utilities and industrial development to be carried out by American firms. Evidence of the confidence of the Persian people in the American mission and in the United States in general was furnished by a stipulation in the law that the loan must be placed with American bankers.

Since the change of regime in Russia, the Banque D'Escompte—a Russian institution to which I referred earlier in my remarks—has been transferred to the Persian Government and a national bank, the Banke Iran, is being organized in its place. Dr. E. L. Bogart, Professor of Economics at the University of Illinois, accompanied Dr. Millspaugh to Persia as adviser on banking and currency on a one-year contract. He studied the banking situation and has now returned to this country. When a number of friends and myself had the pleasure of entertaining him at dinner last October in this city he gave a very interesting and favorable account of his experiences in Persia and expressed the conviction that real progress was being made. It is the purpose of the Government to employ an American in the position of Director of the Banke Iran; just as soon as a loan for productive works is floated in this country a considerable sum will be earmarked for the setting up of this national institution on a firm basis.

With the exception of the southern oil fields, one of the world's richest producing areas, the great natural resources of Persia have scarcely been touched. Under the general direction of the American advisers later to be appointed for the Ministry of Public Works, it is expected that American capital will find lucrative employment in road, railway and bridge building; irrigation construction; mineral and oil exploitation, and other means of developing Persia industrially and ecenomically. The budget for the fiscal year 1923-1924 has, under the supervision of the American advisers, been balanced. As compared with almost any other country, the debt of Persia, both gross and per capita is practically negligible. The result is a national burden phenomenally small as compared with the potential and even the present wealth of the nation. There is and there has been no inflation whatever in Persian currency. Persia is one of the few countries to-day whose currency is not debased nor depreciated. I repeat that Persia is in a state of domestic peace. Her roads were never more safe for commerce. Her provinces are loyal to the central Government. Tranquillity throughout the country is assured by a strong, regularly paid gendarmerie, which is entirely free from foreign intrigue or influence. This force acts as a national constabulary and gives its constant support to the work of the American financial administrators. I have already said that the political situation has completely changed. Soviet influences do not touch the masses of the people, who are economically, religiously and temperamentally unfitted for Communist propaganda. The dominance of Moscow is in no way likely to be felt in Persia. On the other hand, Great Britain has withdrawn all of her forces from the country and definitely abandoned any attempt to control Persia politically. In short, Persia is ready to take the place to which her brilliant history entitles her among enlightened and progressive nations.

Forthcoming Offering of Argentine Bonds.

Indications that there would shortly be offered in this city a large issue of Argentine bonds have figured in news items from Buenos Aires. Yesterday (Dec. 28) the New York "Journal of Commerce" printed the following from the Argentine city:

The uncertainty which appears to prevail in New York as to the nature of the forthcoming Argentine bond issue is not shared here, as it is declared in financial quarters the securities must be the $60,000,000 33-year 6% bonds which the Kuhn, Loeb & Co.-Chase Securities Corporation-Blair & Co. syndicate agreed last September to take from the Argentine Government at any time prior to March 1 1924.

According to the contract, which was described here in the official decree, the proceeds of these bonds will be applied to pay off the $55,000,000 six months' loan dated Sept. 1, which the same bankers advanced to the Government to meet an equal amount of Argentine obligations which fell due in New York on Oct. 1. The contract stipulated that the bankers take the $60,000,000 in bonds at 92 and that the first six months' interest coupon would be payable March 1. The bonds bear amortization of 1% annually.

Co-operative Bank Legislation Drafted—Senator Brookhart's Proposal.

The national committee for co-operative banks, recently formed in New York, has sent to members of the Progressive groups in both houses of Congress, for their consideration the draft of an amendment to the National Banking Act to authorize the establishment of co-operative banks of a commercial type, according to a Washington dispatch to the New York "Journal of Commerce" Dec. 16, which added:

In our issue of Nov. 24, page 2280, we referred to Senator Brookhart's proposal for the establishment of the Farmers and Laborers' Co-operative National Reserve Bank and Marketing System. In a statement issued on Dec. 9 relative to his measure, Senator Brookhart said:

The proposed amendment is based in part upon principles laid down by Richard Boeckel in his new book, "Labor's Money," which has created some interest in banking circles.

The proposed amendment would decline co-operative banks as follows:

A co-operative bank within the meaning of this act shall be a bank in which the following principles are adopted and used:

1. Each shareholder only one vote.
2. Proxy voting prohibited.
3. Annual rate of dividends on stock not to exceed 8%.
4. Profits in excess of one-fourth of net earnings distributable to depositors in proportion to their patronage, after surplus and dividend requirements are met.

"The co-operative idea has grown so rapidly in the United States that it now attracts universal attention. No one is more alert about this progress than the big financial interests, especially the big banking interests. Alarmed at its world-wide power, they have decided to check its growth in the United States by joining it and directing its activities in lines which they control. Knowing that the control of credit is the foundation of successful co-operative marketing, or any—ther co-operative enterprise, they have decided to organize farmers' 'producers' ' co-operatives without any co-operative credit support.

"They shrewdly argue that Rochdale Co-operation is 'consumers' co-operation, and therefore different from the needs of the farmers of the United States, who are producers. They always neglect to recite the facts of the great industrial and also agricultural production of the Rochdale Societies. They mention commodity co-operatives in Denmark, and then neglect to say that they are sustained by the finest co-operative banking system in the world. They tell the farmers of the United States that all they need for a credit system is a warehouse receipt. The present banking system will take care of them.

"The principal agents of this Wall Street philosophy are Eugene Meyer, Bernard Baruch and Aaron Sapiro. They have succeeded in organizing many co-operatives upon this plan, and they hope to organize so many more that they can prevent the farmers from organizing a co-operative banking system. This puts the farmers in a double danger. If this Wall Street credit support is withdrawn they must fail, and if not they must become slaves to it. It is of the greatest importance to the farmers of the United States that each one and both of these purposes be defeated.

"The government wheat corporation now has in the treasury of the United States a profit of $58,000,000 which rightfully belongs to the farmers. The Federal Reserve system has a surplus of $218,000,000, a large part of which also rightfully belongs to the farmers. There is, perhaps, a large profit in the War Finance Corporation charged to interest which should also belong to the farmers. These sums amount to probably over $200,000,000, which would be more than enough to start a co-operative credit system that would insure the success not only of the Sapiro co-operatives but of all the other co-operatives. But Sapiro himself has always opposed such a plan because it would end the power of Wall Street in the co-operative field.

"The farmers of the country must be aroused to this situation and organized for the support of a co-operative banking system of their own and under their own control. In this city they can count upon the loyal assistance of labor, which is already wide awake to the importance of co-operative banking. In fact, if the farmers become a little more deeply enmeshed in the nets of Wall Street finance they will have to call upon labor for their reserve. This is true notwithstanding the fact that, as a whole, the farmers deposit far more money in the banks than they borrow back for use in agriculture.

The New York Journal of Commerce in an editorial article in its issue of Dec. 15, discusses the movement as follows:

Co-operative banking is apparently becoming somewhat of an obsession with Senator Brookhart, for he now plainly asserts that those who have been counted as among the best friends of the farmer and of the co-operative banking idea are trying to "smother" the movement. Among those who are thus guilty, according to this Senator, are Messrs. Baruch, Eugene Meyer and several others who have been well known for the sympathetic attitude they have taken toward farm problems.

Mr. Brookhart lets the cat out of the bag when he admits that what he wants is not a co-operative banking system but such a system "backed by the Government," or, in other words, not a co-operative system at all. Co-operation is in its nature and purpose the antithesis of Government operation and ownership, the very idea which underlies it precluding the notion of public assistance or support. In fact, what the extremists of the farm bloc always have wanted, if they would only admit it, has been Government participation and aid in their various undertakings. They now come forward with a franker demand for this kind of public subsidies than has ever before been offered.

The question how far they will get what they seek depends entirely upon the way in which the matter is made to appear to the public. It is an old legislative trick to charge conspiracy and allege that Wall Street interests are endeavoring to smother or destroy some project which otherwise would make its way with success.

Oklahoma Bankers Concerned Over Fate of Securities Placed with State Banking Board During Period of Guaranty System.

Discussion of the banking situation in Oklahoma figured in the deliberations of the Oklahoma State Bankers Association in convention at Oklahoma City, Dec. 10-12. Preliminary to the convention the Executive Council of the association at a meeting on the 10th inst., at which M. J. Shannon, a member of the State Banking Board, was present, considered plans whereby the assets of failed banks in which depositors have been paid in full, can be liquidated. The discussion hinged on the fate of $1,000,000 worth of securities placed with the Banking Board before the State guaranty law ceased to operate. President J. P. Gibson of the Association is quoted in the "Oklahoman" as saying:

It has been reported that we are inclined to criticize or to investigate conditions. Such a move is farthest from our minds. We do not intend to serve as a disturbing element. We are only seeking to find an equitable solution to an unprecedented situation in the State.

It is learned from the same paper that little hope that money and securities deposited with the State Banking Board when the guaranty law was in effect could be returned in the near future was held out by Mr. Shannon in addresssing the convention on the 11th inst. In stating this the "Oklahoman" added:

Federal injunctions against paying out any of the money because of Indian funds involved make it impossible for a return without some legal authority, Shannon declared.

A friendly suit to test the question and establish a precedent will be instituted soon by bankers, they intimated after Shannon's address. They will discuss the matter further Wednesday morning.

Changes in Law Sought.

Governor Trapp, addressing the bankers, declared that an attempt to make drastic changes in the State banking laws providing for the depositors of failed banks to be their own liquidating agents to cut the high fees paid liquidators will be made at an early date. The Governor cited several instances where liquidators were paid exorbitant fees, and characterized the liquidating system as "diabolical."

Another change in the laws to provide for the appointment of a Bank Commissioner who is interested in some bank will be attempted, he declared. William Mee, President of the Security National Bank of Oklahoma City, is slated for the position, Trapp said.

Scrambled and Mixed.

The State banking system, like other State departments, is so scrambled and mixed that none of the officers know their duties or assume responsibilities, the Governor said. He will have a thorough check made of the Department and also make public soon the actual amount of the assets and liabilities of failed State banks, he said.

Failures of the majority of the defunct State banks were due to almost "criminal negligence of the men at the head," Trapp declared.

Because the United States has produced more and spent less, financial conditions have changed from the depression of 1920 and 1921 to a normal basis and the outlook for the future is bright, Clarence Ousley, former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, told the bankers Wednesday afternoon.

No Frozen Loans Now.

"Three years ago we were in the depths of deflation, congealed with frozen loans and apparently drifting into a sea of insolvence, and the granting of a loan was not a question or security or profit upon the transaction, but of throwing out a life belt to save a customer from drowning and carrying the creditor down with him," Ousley said. "To-day liquidation is complete, money is abundant, credit is easy for every legitimate enterprise and we are in the enjoyment of comparative prosperity."

"We have recovered because we have produced more or we have consumed or spent less than we produced or earned. We have simply worked and saved. That is the one unfailing and inviolable law of prosperity and they who despise or forget it or try to substitute any other process for it are economic fools."

President Gibson, speaking at the session on the 11th, stated that the repeal of the State guaranty law with its known defects and dangers, has given State bankers the same relation with depositors and stockholders as in national banks." He added:

Our contention is that our liabilities were to the guaranty fund and not to depositors and amounted to one-fifth of 1% average daily deposits and no more, and when the 1923 assessment is paid we have met every legal and moral obligation that can be made upon us and are therefore entitled to our securities held by the Banking Department.

Oklahoma Bankers Association Opposed to Branch Banking.

The movement looking to the establishment of branch banks in Oklahoma is disapproved in a resolution adopted by the Oklahoma State Bankers Association on Dec. 12. According to the "Oklahoman," the bankers oppose the movement on the grounds that it removes all profit from the locality where it is made and destroys the "personality" of the small bank. A copy of the resolution will be mailed to the Comptroller of the Currency in Washington.

Creditors of M. S. Wolfe & Co. Receive an Initial Payment of 75% of Their Claims.

The New York "Times," in its issue of Dec. 23, stated that the receiver for the brokerage firm of M. S. Wolfe & Co. of this city, which failed last June, was mailing checks to creditors covering 75% of their claims against the firm. This is the first payment made by the receiver, and it is expected that all claims will be paid in full in the new year. The failure of the firm, which was a member of the New York Curb Market Association, was noted in the "Chronicle" of June 16, pages 2716 and 2717.

Brokerage Firm of Richards, Hutchinson & Co., New York, Suspended by Curb Exchange.

On Wednesday of this week (Dec. 26) the brokerage house of Richards, Hutchinson & Co. at 42 Broadway, this city, members of the New York Curb Market Association, was suspended by that Exchange because of their failure to meet obligations. The firm, it is understood, refused payment for about 50,000 shares of Southern States Oil Corporation stock which they had bought on Dec. 24 for the account of former Governor C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, Chairman of the board of the Middle States Oil Corporation, and other clients. On the same day (Dec. 26) the Governors of the New York Curb Market suspended from trading the shares of the Southern States Oil Corporation, following which both the Curb and the New York Stock Exchange began an inquiry, it is said, into the recent heavy buying of this stock and the failure to pay for 78,000 shares on Monday. The suspension caused a drop in the price from 33⅝, reached on Monday, to an offering price, it is said, of 11 and a bid price of 5 on the afternoon of Wednesday on over-the-counter transactions.

Following the suspension of the stock, ex-Governor Haskell, intimating that certain brokers had used unfair tactics, authorized the issuance of the following statement:

Southern States Oil has nothing whatever to do with the trading of stock of its issue on the New York Curb or elsewhere. It is in first-class condition, and, as shown by recent appraisal by disinterested experts, shows a book value of about $40 a share, as I am shown the report with which I had nothing whatever to do—but is the appraisement of disinterested experts. The trading in stock has been purely personal by myself and many other people in no way connected with Southern States company, and who trade in Southern States stock as the multitudes do in other stocks for their own account.

For some days past the trading has been aggressively carried on by both bulls and bears. If intrinsic value prevails, the bears will get the worst of it; if desperate tactics prevail, intrinsic values might temporarily be lost sight of. With a little more record information, which I am endeavoring to obtain, I may be able to show desperate methods of the opposition which honest public opinion will not approve. Temporary suspension in trading, however, of this stock I believe was wise and proper on the part of the Curb management, to the end that a brief time absolutely necessary to gauge the condition could be had.

The New York Stock Exchange made this announcement:

The Committee on Business Conduct of the New York Stock Exchange is investigating transactions of Stock Exchange houses in stock of the Southern States Oil Corporation, trading in which was suspended to-day Dec. 26 by the Curb market.

A report that the firm of Richards, Hutchinson & Co. could not meet its obligations was declared by members of the firm, it is said, to be without foundation.

Redraft of Revenue Act Under Consideration by House Committee—Income Tax Features—Board of Tax Appeal.

The sub-committee of the House Ways and Means Committee to which has been turned over the task of reviewing the redraft of the Revenue Act submitted on Dec. 16 to Chairman Green of the House Committee by Secretary Mellon, suspended its sessions on Dec. 27 until Jan. 3, its action, it is stated, being due to the agitation over secrecy which has been maintained with respect to the text of the bill. An account of the criticism which this has prompted appeared as follows in the Philadelphia "Record" of yesterday (Dec. 28):

A meeting of the subcommittee to-day was enlivened by charges from Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee, and other minority members, that the Republicans were deliberately keeping details of the bill from the public so as to promote "the propaganda that is being carried on in its favor."

Mr. Garner declared that inasmuch as the essential features of the measure had been made public by Secretary Mellon in two communications to Chairman Green and in a summary of the bill prepared by the Treasury, there was nothing to be gained by withholding the bill itself from the public.

The Republican members of the subcommittee, which include Mr. Green, declined, however, to release committee members from their pledge of keeping details of the bill a secret. They contended that such had been the practice in the past during committee consideration of a measure submitted by the Treasury.

Mr. Garner insisted that if the taxpayers were familiar with all details in the bill some of them would not be so active in the measure's behalf. He declared that it was for this reason that the Republicans on the committee were so persistent in maintaining the secrecy rule, although aware that copies of the bill had "leaked" into the possession of certain individuals interested in its provisions.

"I do not think it is fair to the people," said Mr. Garner, "to consider in secret provisions of the bill proposed by the Administration. The country is entitled to know what is under discussion, and to express its opinion before the stage of discussion has passed and the bill put into final shape for passage by the House."

Members of the committee have insited that in all its features the bill closely follows the summary made public by the Treasury. Democrats, admitting there are no "jokers" in the measure, however, criticize Mr. Mellon for not disclosing certain features.

Yesterday (Dec. 28) Chairman Green made public the full text of the bill as submitted by Secretary Mellon.

On Dec. 27 the provisions in the bill creating a Board of Tax Appeals to consist of 28 members whose terms would be for a ten-year period, at a salary of $10,000 a year each, were printed in the New York "Times", which said:

Secretary Mellon is in favor of the creation of such a board because he feels confident that an independent administrative tribunal should be organized by the Government to sit on appeals from decisions of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and whose decisions would be as binding on that bureau as on the Federal taxpayer. There would be recourse by the taxpayer to the courts against any decisions of the proposed new board.

Regarding this feature the New York "Journal of Commerce" had the following to say in Washington advices Dec. 27:

Members of Congress to-day poured cold water on the scheme outlined by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for establishing a board of tax appeals with twenty-eight members, employed at a salary of $10,000 a year each. Among these were Ways and Means committeemen, who pointed out that there could not be any such legislation when every move was for economy on the part of the Government and curtailment of all expenses.

Democrats claimed it to be a political move, with 28 plums being dangled before the eyes of adherents of the Administration just before election. If contained in the bill when reported to the House by the committee it will, above all else, give rise to considerable discussion from that angle.

Exception is being taken to the attitude of the Treasury in trying to force its views upon Congress. It is charged that Secretary Mellon has permitted statements to go out to the people that would have the effect of compelling Congress to accept the Mellon plan "as is."

These statements give the impression, it is claimed, that the bill is highly desirable from a business standpoint, while details that have a direct bearing on the tax provisions are not made known.

It is not charged specifically that there are jokers in the measure, but it is claimed that if given full publicity it would bring forth views from tax experts and others. It is this that the Republican members are desirous of preventing.

The Republican members of the committee do not take kindly to the coupling of administrative and tax reduction features in a single bill. In fact, they were not anxious to have an Administration measure sent them for consideration, preferring merely an outline of Treasury suggestions, leaving them free to draw up their own bill.

Chairman Green some weeks ago declared that it would be a committee bill that would come from the committee, but to date it is understood that the provisions have been adopted substantially as written in the department, with the exception of one change forced upon the committee by Representative Garner of Texas, dealing with capital assets.

When the sub-committee working on the revenue measure adjourned to-day it was working on matters pertaining to the taxing of stock dividends. The question as brought up by Mr. Garner was whether Congress shall again declare stock dividends subject to taxation and "let the Supreme Court guess once more." Discussion over the "leak" whereby portions of the bill were made public was responsible for failure to act on Mr. Garner's proposal.

The New York "Commercial" printed as follows yesterday (Dec. 28) the text of the income tax provisions of the newly drafted bill:

The text of the section proposing a special reduction of 25% on earned income reveals the exact manner in which the Treasury plans to limit this preference.

Status of Small Farmer.

The small farmer and the small store keeper who do not work on a salary basis will not receive any benefits from the section as it stands. An effort will be made, it is expected, to broaden its scope so as to tkae care of the farmer. Farmers or storekeepers operating on a large scale and crediting themselves with salaries for their personal services will be able to obtain the benefit of the provision.

Restrictions included in the earned income section are designed to prevent a person receiving compensation from a corporation from including as part of his salary a distribution of earnings or profits.

The earned income section is entirely new inasmuch as nothing of the sort is contained in the present Act. Under the Mellon plan it is proposed to give the special reduction of 25% on earned income in addition to the reduction proposed in all normal tax rates and surtaxes. . . .

Earned Income Section Now.

The entirely new section relating to earned income follows:

"Section 209 (a) For the purpose of this section—

"(1) The term 'earned income' means wages, salaries and professional fees, but does not include that part of the compensation derived by the taxpayer for personal services rednered by him to a corporation which represents a distribution of earnings or profits rather than reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services actually rendered.

"(2) The term 'earned income deductions' means such deductions as are allowed by Section 214 for the purpose of computing net income, and are properly allocable or chargeable against earned income.

"(3) The term 'earned net income' means the excess of the amount of the earned income over the sum of the earned income deductions.

"(b) In the case of an individual who is taxed under the provisions of Section 210 or 211, the tax shall, in addition to the credits provided in Section 222, be credited with 25 per centum of an amount which bears the same relation to the total amount of the tax as the amount of the earned net income bears to the total amount of the net income; but in no case shall the credit allowed under this subdivisions exceed 25 per centum of the amount of the tax.

"(c) In the case of an individual who is taxed under the provisions of Section 208, the tax shall, in addition to the credits provided in Section 222, be credited with 25% of an amount which bears the same relation to the amount of the tax on the ordinary net income, computed under Sections 210 and 211, as the amount of the earned net income bears to the total amount of the ordinary net income; but in no case shall the credit allowed under this subdivision exceed 25% of the amount of the tax on the ordinary net income, computed under Sections 210 and 211.

In Case of Partnerships.

"(d) In the case of a partnership the proper part of the share of the net income which consists of earned income shall be determined under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary and shall be separately shown in the return of the partnership and shall be taxed to the member as provided in Section 218."

The normal tax sections, which in the main follow the language of the present law except for the reductions in rates from 4 to 3% and from 8 to 6%, are as follows:

"Section 210. (a) In lieu of the tax imposed by Section 210 of the Revenue Act of 1921, there shall be levied, collected and paid for each taxable year upon the net income of every individual (except as provided in subdivision (b) of this section) a normal tax of 6% of the amount of the net income in excess of the credits provided in Section 216, except that in the case of a citizen or resident of the United States the rate upon the first $4,000 of such excess amount shall be 3%;

"(b) In lieu of the tax imposed by subdivision (a), there shall be levied, collected and paid for each year upon the net income of every non-resident alien individual, a resident of a contiguous country, a normal tax equal to the sum of the following:

"(1) Three per centum of the amount of the net income attributable to wages, salaries, or professional fees for labor or personal services performed in the United States in excess of the credits provided in subdivisions (d) and (e) of Section 216; but the amount taxable at such 3% shall not exceed $4,000; and

"(2) Six per centum of the amount of the net income in excess of the sum of (A) the amount taxed under paragraph (1) plus (B) the credits provided under Section 216."

Provision for Surtaxes.

The section of the bill containing the proposed new scale of surtaxes, extending to a maximum of 25% instead of 50% as at present, follows:

"Section 211 (a) In lieu of the tax imposed by Section 211 of the Revenue Act of 1921, but in addition to the normal tax imposed by Section 210 of this act, there shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year upon the net income of every individual a surtax equal to the sum of the following:

"1% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $10,000 and does not exceed $12,000;

"2% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $12,000 and does not exceed $14,000;

"3% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $14,000 and does not exceed $16,000;
"4% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $16,000 and does not exceed $18,000;
"5% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $18,000 and does not exceed $20,000;
"6% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $20,000 and does not exceed $22,000;
"7% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $22,000 and does not exceed $24,000;
"8% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $24,000 and does not exceed $26,000;
9% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $26,000 and does not exceed $28,000;
10% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $28,000 and does not exceed $30,000;

Incomes Over $30,000

11% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $30,000 and does not exceed $32,000;
12% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $32,000 ad does not exceed $34,000;
14% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $36,000 and does not exceed $40,000;
25% of the amount by which the net income exceeds $100,000;

Repeals Nuisance Taxes.

As already made known the bill repeals the taxes on telegraph, telephone and radio messages and the tax on admissions.

The 5% jewelry tax in the present law is amended in the Treasury Bill by adding the following paragraph:

"The tax imposed by subdivision (a) shall not apply to (1) surgical instruments, eyeglasses, spectacles, or silver-plated flat silverware; (2) pencils or fountain pens sold for an amount not in excess of $1; or (3) clocks or watches sold for an amount not in excess of $5."

Surgical instruments, eyeglasses and spectacles are exempted from the tax under the present law but the other items are not.

The community property clause, which will be one of the points of controversy because of laws in certain States, follows:

"Income received by any martial community shall be included in the gross income of the spouse having the management and control of the community property, and shall be taxed as the income of such spouse."

It is learned from a special dispatch from Washington to the New York "Herald" Dec. 27 that Joseph S. McCoy, the Government Actuary, has informed Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means Committee that surtax rates higher than those recommended by Secretary Mellon in the tax reduction bill now under consideration will not appreciably increase revenue from that source as compared with the Mellon proposal. The "Herald" disptach continues in part:

Mr. McCoy's letter is a reply on behalf of the Treasury Department to demands made on the Ways and Means Committee by the raidcal group in the House for higher surtaxes instead of the lower surtaxes recommended by Mr. Mellon.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee are considering concessions to the radical demands on surtax rates that either would compromise or largely surrender the recommendations of Secretary Mellon, which are supported by President Coolidge.

Under the present law surtaxes start at 1% on incomes above $6,000 and scale up to 50% on the higher incomes. Secretary Mellon purposes to start the surtaxes on incomes above $10,000 and scale them up to 25%. Members of the Ways and Means Committee are considering a plan by which surtaxes would start on incomes above $6,000 and scale up to 25% on the higher incomes.

Government Actuary's Reply.

Chairman Green asked Mr. McCoy for information on the effect of the compromise proposal on Government revenues. The reply of the Government Actuary is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Green'—In answer to your telephone inquiry of Saturday as to the effect of a scheme of surtax rates beginning by taxing net incomes in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $10,000 at a rate of 1% and increasing this rate 1% for each $2,000 additional income until incomes of $60,000 are reached, then increasing 1% for each $4,000 additional income until $80,000 net income is reached, then increasing 1% for each $5,000 additional income until $100,000 is reached, all incomes in excess of $100,000 being taxed at 35% upon the revenue from this source, I have to say as follows:

These rates as applied to the estimated net income for the present calendar year as compared with the revenue that would result from the application of the scales of the present law would show a loss of revenue due to the reduced surtax rates of about $89,160,000 as shown in the following table. Of course the stimulating effect upon business would be much less with this maximum surtax rate of 35% than it would be if the maximum was reduced to 25%.

"Loss in tax upon basis of estimated net income for the calendar year 1923.

"A surtax upon incomes in excess of $6,000 with rates from 1% to a maximum of 35 upon net incomes in excess of $100,000:

Income tax brackets.		Loss in revenue.	Income tax brackets.		Loss in revenue.
$6,000	$10,000	--------	$200,000	$300,000	$9,150,000
10,000	20,000	--------	300,000	500,000	8,850,000
20,000	50,000	$11,756,850	500,000	1,000,000	7,700,000
50,000	100,000	15,303,030	Over $1,000,000		9,000,000
150,000	200,000	8,550,000	Total		$89,159,880

Respectfully,
JOSEPH S. McCOY, Government Actuary."

These figures show that the proposal under consideration by the committee would make a net reduction in income from surtaxes of $89,160,000, as compared with the present law, while the full cut recommended by Mr. Mellon would mean a reduction of income of $100,000,000, or only 10% more.

Expects More from Surtaxes.

In addition Secretary Mellon, supported by the Government Actuary and other experts, believes that his proposal would result in an ultimate increase in the amount collected from surtaxes. For comparison, his recommendations to the committee, as given in his letter to Chairman Green, are as follows:

Reduce the surtax rates by commencing their application at $10,000, instead of $6,000, and scaling them progressively upward to 25% at $100,000. This will readjust the surtax rates all along the line, and the Treasury recommends the readjustment not in order to reduce the revenues but as a means of saving the productivity of the surtaxes. In the long run it will mean higher rather than lower revenues from the surtaxes. At the outset it may involve a temporary loss in revenue, but the Government Actuary estimates that even during the first year, if the revision is made early enough, the net loss in revenue from all the changes in the surtaxes would be only about $100,000,000, and that in all probability the revenue from the reduced rates will soon equal or exceed what would accrue at the present rates, because of the encouragement which the changes will give to productive business.

The readjustment of the surtaxes, moreover, is not in any sense a partisan measure. It has been recommended on substantially this basis by every Secretary of the Treasury since the end of the war irrespective of party. The present system is a failure. It was an emergency measure, adopted under the pressure of war necessity and not to be counted upon as a permanent part of our revenue structure. For a short period the surtaxes yielded much revenue, but their productivity has been constantly shrinking and the Treasury's experience shows that the high rates now in effect are progressively becoming less productive of revenue.

The high rates put pressure on taxpayers to reduce their taxable income, tend to destroy individual initiative and enterprise and seriously impede the development of productive business. Taxpayers subject to the higher rates cannot afford, for example, to invest in American railroads or industries or embark upon new enterprises in the face of taxes that will take 50% or more of any return that may be realized. These taxpayers are withdrawing their capital from productive business and investing it instead in tax-exempt securities and adopting other lawful methods of avoiding the realization of taxable income.

The result is to stop business transactions that would normally go through and to discourage men of wealth from taking the risks which are incidental to the development of new business. Ways will always be found to avoid taxes so destructive in their nature, and the only way to save the situation is to put the taxes on a reasonable basis that will permit business to go on and industry to develop. This, I believe, the readjustment herein recommended will accomplish, and it will not only produce larger revenues but at the same time establish industry and trade on a healthier basis throughout the country. The alternative is a gradual breakdown in the system and a perversion of industry that stifles our progress as a nation.

In its advices from Washington Dec. 27 the New York "Journal of Commerce" stated that Secretary Mellon in his draft revision of the revenue law has prepared a smashing blow to be dealt holding corporations formed to enable stockholders to evade the imposition of surtaxes. The paper quoted stated further:

The text of the Treasury draft is being held confidential by both the department and the House Ways and Means Committee to which it has been submitted, but it is understood that one of the most drastic changes in the present law suggested by Mr. Mellon is aimed at holding corporations.

The proposal of Mr. Mellon is understood to be designed to enable the collection of millions of dollars of taxable income which yearly escapes from the revenues of the Government. He proposes to tax the dividends received by holding corporations from constituent companies. As this suggestion comes under the administrative changes in the law proposed by the Treasury, it is believed that it will escape the opposition expected to be manifested against some of the recommendations for direct rate reduction.

Would Amend Section.

Mr. Mellon's proposals to make the income tax laws effective against holding corporations would provide for the amendment of Section 220 of the Revenue Act. This section provides that if any corporation is availed of for the purpose of preventing the imposition of surtaxes upon its stockholders through the medium of permitting its gains and profits to accumulate, instead of being distributed, there shall be a penalty of 25% of the yearly income imposed in addition to the normal tax of 12½%.

However, in the calculation of net income for the purpoes of taxation the law permits corporations to deduct the amount received as dividends from domestic corporations. It is the proposal of the Treasury to include in corporation net income such dividends of domestic corporations received by holding corporations when such net income is subject to the 25% penalty provided by Section 220.

Adoption of the proposed amendment, it is believed, would not only close the door to one of the avenues of vanishing Federal revenue, but would provide in collections an appreciable offset to some of the suggested reductions in rates. Experience has shown the Government that under Section 220 as it now stands there is no recourse against the organization of corporations frankly and openly for the purpose of permitting their stockholders to evade the imposition of surtaxes. A penalty for such a practice is provided, but the deductions from net income permitted by the Act nullify the application of the penalty to the corporations the law seeks to penalize.

Working of Law.

What has occurred under the present law works out something after this fashion. A corporation is organized to receive the dividends of a number of domestic corporations. The charge is made by the revenue authorities that the corporation has been fraudulently organized to allow its stockholders to avoid the imposition of surtaxes. The charge is admitted by the holding corporation and the Government is challenged to assess the 25% penalty.

But when the Government attempts to compute the net income of the holding corporation for the purpose of imposing the penalty it is found that the bulk if not all of the corporation's income is in the form of dividends from other domestic corporations, which is deductable under the law. In other words, 25% of the holding corporation's net income for the purpose of surtaxes is 25% of nothing.

The numbers of these holding corporations formed for the single purpose of escaping the surtaxes are said to be almost countless. As the law now stands there is nothing illegal in their organization. But if Congress adopts the Treasury's proposal it is believed that their ranks will be considerably thinned as the Government would collect its taxes just as though the dividends of the other domestic corporations were paid directly to the stockholders.

As we indicate in another item it was decided on Dec. 21 by Republican members of the House to confer on Jan. 10 to consider the question of reporting a soldier bonus bill out of Committee. This week Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, in a letter to constituents indicated himself in agreement with the contention that "reduction of taxes is a matter of great importance to the country," and added:

I trust that some measure will be presented to Congress which will meet with sufficient favor to insure its passage.

I have carefully studied Secretary Mellon's proposals and believe it possible to carry out every detail in his plan and yet pass a reasonable bonus, which I also heartily favor.

Secretary Mellon's Letter to A. Piatt Andrew Showing Cost of Soldier Bonus.

It was announced on Dec. 21 that Republican members of the House of Representatives have decided to consider, at a conference on Jan. 10, the question of reporting out of Committee a soldier bonus bill. As we noted a week ago (page 2715), the cost to the Government of a bonus bill was the subject of a letter addressed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to Representative A. Piatt Andrew, and in part we gave the communication in our issue of last week. Since then the letter in full, as well as a table in which it is shown that the total direct cost of the bonus to the Government would be $5,085,833,687, has been made available. We give the letter in full herewith:

Dec. 18 1923.

My dear Congressman:—I have your letter of Dec. 10 1923, in which you submit as the cost of a bonus three tables which appeared in the report of April 20 1922, from Senator McCumber, of the Committee on Finance of the Senate. A fair representation should, of course, include the fourth year, when the Government is required to take over its burden which under the bill is placed for three years upon the banks of the country. These figures are not estimates of the Treasury Department. The Government actuary, at the request of Senator McCumber, did the mechanical work of calculating the cost based upon the assumptions given him for that purpose by Senator McCumber. The bill in the form submitted never passed the Congress, and, therefore, no necessity for correction of or comment upon the tables arose. The figures you quote from the veto message of President Harding were made by the Government actuary based upon the same assumptions as those given him by Senator McCumber applied to the bill in the form it was submitted to the President. In his message President Harding said:

"The Treasury estimates, based on what seems the most likely exercise of the options, figures the direct cost at approximately $145,000,000 for 1923; $225,000,000 for 1924; $114,000,000 for 1925 and $312,000,000 for 1926, making a total of $795,000,000 for the first four years of its operation and a total cost in excess of $4,000,000,000. No estimate of the large indirect cost ever has been made. The certificate plan sets up no reserve against the ultimate liability. The plan avoids any considerable direct outlay by the Government during the earlier years of the bill's proposed operations, but the loans on the certificates would be floated on the credit of the nation. This is borrowing on the nation's credit just as truly as though the loans were made by direct Government borrowing, and involves a dangerous abuse of public credit. Moreover, the certificate plan of payment is little less than certified inability of the Government to pay, and invites a practice in sacrificial barter which I cannot sanction.

It is worth remembering that the public credit is founded on the popular belief in the defensibility of public expenditure as well as the Government's ability to pay. Loans come from every rank in life and our heavy tax burdens reach, directly or indirectly, every element in our citizenship. To add one-sixth of the total sum of our public debt for distribution among less than 5,000,000 out of 110,000,000 whether inspired by grateful sentiment or political expediency, would undermine the confidence on which our credit builded and establish the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposal and the numbers affected make it seem politically appealing to do so."

In order that I may answer your question, the Treasury Department has considered the soldiers' bonus bill in the form in which it was vetoed by President Harding. Taking up each of the three options, the total direct cost, if 100% of those entitled to the benefits of the bonus accept farm and home aid, would be $2,068,662,903, and the average cost for the first four years would be $475,000,000 a year. If 100% should take the vocational training aid the total cost would be $2,318,022,451, of which $1,300,000,000 would be in the first year and $1,000,000,000 in the second year. If 100% should choose the certificate plan the total direct cost (including an estimate of $23,000,000 a year for the first twenty years for administration) would be $5,400,526,444, and the average for the first four years would be about $225,000,000 a year. Senator McCumber assumed that 75% would take the certificate plan, 22½% the farm loan and home aid plan and 2½% the vocational training plan. He also assumed that a certain amount would be borrowed on the certificates. With the passage of almost two years since the original assumptions were made, it is believed that a more probable estimate now is that there would be 90% who should choose the certificate plan, 9% the farm loan and home aid plan and 1% vocational training. Since the obvious purpose of the bill is to permit borrowing, it is clear that greater recourse would be had by the certificate holders to this privilege. Account has also been taken of the savings to the Government by probable failure on the part of at least 100,000 men to receive or redeem their certificates. Based on these estimates the total direct cost of the bonus would be $5,085,833,687 and an average for the first four years of over $250,000,000 a year. A table is attached showing the amounts to be paid each year.

It has been the policy of the United States to make preparation to meet large principal payments coming due at a period in the future by use of a sinking fund, and no other policy is sound. The twentieth year of the bonus would see requirements of nearly $3,000,000,000. If this sound policy be continued, it is estimated that with some borrowing by the Government during the fourth and fifth years, twenty-one payments of $211,476,357 each from 1924 to 1944, both inclusive, if paid annually, would meet the cost of the bonus up to 1944, leaving a balance of about $650,000,000 coming due in the later years to be met by new legislation.

Your letter of Dec. 10 1923 calls attention to a statement appearing in my letter of Nov. 10 to Mr. Green to the effect that 'a soldiers' bonus would postpone tax reduction, not for one, but for many years to come. It would mean an increase rather than a decrease in taxes.' This is well justified. You must add to the direct cost of $250,000,000 a year for the first four years of the bonus and the average of $211,000,000 per year for the first twenty years the enormous indirect cost to the Government. The bill gives the right in the first three years to borrow from the banks of the country and that this right would be exercised by the great majority of the certificate holders none denies. The consequent demand for credit would raise the interest rates which the Government as well as the general public will have to pay on borrowed money. At the same time the mere passage of the bill would depress the price of Government bonds and increase their basis of return. In such a money market the Government would have to take care of the $8,000,000,000 of its securities which mature within the next five years, and to do so would, of course, have to meet the higher rate of interest. The continuing cost of an increase in interest rates on such a volume of refunding would be very large. The Government, like every other person in the United States, would also have to conduct its business at greatly increased expense, due to the higher price level generally which would inevitably follow the credit expansion and decreased production brought on by the bonus law. Soon the disturbance to business by this and other factors would reduce the income of the people and thus the Government's revenue, so that any estimated surplus would no longer exist and recourse would have to be had to additional taxes.

It must be obvious to any impartial mind that a new obligation of the United States made in time of peace to pay over $5,000,000,000, of which $1,000,000,000 comes in the first four years, and an average drain on the Treasury for twenty years of $211,000,000 a year, which is one-fifth of the total pre-war cost of Government, cannot be undertaken without serious economic consequences. If such a commitment is made, any reduction of Federal taxes upon a comprehensive plan will probably not been seen in this generation.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) A. W. MELLON, Secretary of the Treasury.

President Coolidge Directs That Federal Aid in Highway Building in Arkansas Be Suspended—Statement by Secretary Wallace.

A statement was made by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace on Dec. 22 to the effect that "neither the Federal-Aid Road Act nor its administration is responiible for the troubles of the Arkansas people in their road-building. On the contrary, the administration of the Federal Aid Act has been helpful and has resulted in bringing about many much-needed reforms in that State."

The statement of Secretary Wallace followed an announcement on Dec. 18 that President Coolidge had directed the Secretary to withhold Federal aid in the building of Arkansas roads pending an investigation into the Arkansas road tax law to determine whether the carrying out of the project would work a hardship upon property owners along the highway. According to advices from Washington, Dec. 18, appearing in the New York "Times," President Coolidge acted upon complaint of the National Farmers' Union. The "Times" said:

The memorandum submitted to him by C. H. Barrett, President of the union, alleged that thousands of farmers in Arkansas are threatened with confiscation of their homes as the result of the mountain-high road taxes levied in that State. The principal of that debt, which draws interest at the average rate of 5%, already is in excess of $63,000,000. In scores of instances farms are now in the hands of Federal receivers because of inability of their owners to meet the road taxes.

The speed with which President Coolidge acts in matters such as this Arkansas road business is illustrated in this instance. The memorandum of the National Farmers' Union was placed before him early in the afternoon of Dec. 11. Two hours later the President had acted and the Secretary of Agriculture had been ordered to stop all Federal aid payments until the charges made by the National Union were cleared up.

The letter to Secretary Wallace read:

The White House, Washington, Dec. 11 1923.

My dear Mr. Secretary:—Enclosed is a communication about Federal roads in Arkansas. The situation is such that I consider it unwise to allot any more money to the State of Arkansas until these charges are cleared up. I do not understand how any land there could be in the hands of Federal receivers, except through voluntary bankruptcy, but, in so far as I have authority to give you any directions, they are to the effect that no money be allotted to Arkansas until these charges are cleared up.

Very truly yours,
CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Hon. Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture.

Mr. Barrett acted in response to a resolution passed by the recent National Convention of the Farmers' Union, held at Omaha. The memorandum which he presented to the President said:

"First—Investigation will disclose the fact that hundreds, if not thousands, of farms, in most instances the lands of poor people, are now in the hands of Federal receivers as a result of the inability of those farmers to meet the highway taxes.

"Second—Right or wrong, the opinion is general in the farming communities that the Bureau of Highways of the Department of Agriculture in giving its approval to the so-called Harrelson law, recently enacted and which perpetuates the existing Arkansas road district system for years to come, has by this approval made it possible for the Arkansas road machine to add additional millions in taxes to the staggering burden of these farmers, thousands of whom are facing the confiscation of their properties.

Highway Commissioner Accused.

"Third—The Chairman of the new State Highway Commission authorized by the Harrelson law is Herbert R. Wilson, the State Highway Commissioner, against whom serious charges involving the sale of Federal-aid money on a 10% basis are now on file in the Bureau of Highways. Robert Lee Wilson of Wilson, Ark., ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois and L. C. Yingling, the District Attorney at Helena, Ark., I am informed, are familiar with the facts in certain of these alleged Federal-aid sale propositions.

"Fourth—The Little Rock Gazette, the principal paper of Arkansas, has stated within the last week that Federal Bureau officials have been in conference with Wilson and are understood to be ready to restore Federal aid to the State in a total sum, I am informed, in excess of $2,000,000.

"Fifth—The evidence is conclusive that the only thing that has operated to relieve, in a very small way, the overburdened farmer taxpayers was the withdrawal in January of this year of Federal aid, its restoration, it was stated by the Secretary of Agriculture, depending on a reform of the law and a lessening of the tax load on the land owners.

"Sixth—Under the new law the people were promised State relief in the amount of $3,000,000 annually. Already the relief, which, according to well-informed citizens, is largely 'mythical' and intended solely to perpetuate the regime now in power, has been reduced to $2,000,000. Even the road administration makes no claim that the relief will be substantial, as the cold facts are that in no instance will the relief, if it is realized, touch the principal of the road bond debt, every cent of which is levied against the land, in most instances farm lands. As a matter of fact, which the facts in the case will disclose, in no instance does the promised relief care for as much as 50% of the interest charge in 85% of the counties.

"Seventh—Federal aid in Arkansas has been used as a bait in saddling this outrageous burden on the farmers of the State. Its restoration now means the endorsement by this Government of a situation with few parallels in the history of this country, a situation as cruel as it is indefensible."

On Dec. 21 it was stated that President Coolidge had indicated it as his belief that each project to be undertaken in Arkansas should be decided upon its merits in order that the Federal Government through its financial aid can work in co-operation with those living along the proposed highways and also in order that Arkansas may receive the full share of the Federal appropriations. Charges that the Department of Agriculture was responsible for the chaotic highway situation in Arkansas were made on Dec. 19 in the United States Senate by Senators Robinson and Caraway of Arkansas. From a Washington dispatch to the New York "Times" we quote the following:

Mr. Caraway, who frankly admitted that many Arkansas land owners have been ruined by the road taxes, declared that he had "every reason to believe that any crooked deal that ever was started in Arkansas had sympathetic co-operation here in Washington."

Senator Caraway said that he personally made the above charge to Secretary Wallace, and that at his instance evidence had been placed at the disposal of the Department involving one of the Federal road engineers in Arkansas, it being alleged that this engineer had given certain road officials in Arkansas to understand that the Federal engineers "were not working for the salaries the Government paid."

Congressional Inquiry May Result.

For some weeks certain Senators have been quietly looking into this Federal highway business. One of these Senators, a friend and supporter of the President, is a member of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads and when the time comes he is going to ask some very pointed questions on the administrztion of the whole road program. The investigation now about to start will, in the opinion of some Senators, be extended to include other States besides Arkansas. It is possible that a Congressional inquiry, which would be independent of the President's inquiry, may be proposed in a joint resolution.

Senator Caraway took the floor as soon as the Senate convened to-day. He declared he had enver approved the Atkansas highway laws passed in the Brough Administration, laws which levied the entire road cost against the land, as a result of which, he declared, "many injustices were perpetrated and many people were practically ruined by these taxes."

"I have protested as vigorously as I could," he continued. "I have known of injustices. I might say, although I am not complaining of my own particular situation, I have suffered myself. I know that the present way of building highways in Arkansas, with the demands of the Federal Government, makes it absolutely impossible to continue a system that will result in very many miles of highways being built. It makes the cost prohibitory, lends itself to inefficiency, and certainly, in many cases, to dishonesty."

Secretary Wallace's statement of Dec. 22, in which he said that "neither the Federal-aid Road Act nor its administration is responsible for the troubles of the Arkansas people in their road building," also had the following to say:

It is estimated that road improvement districts in Arkansas have issued bonds to the amount of about $63,000,000. Of this only $11,000,000, about 17% in round numbers, has been used in connection with Federal aid. The remainder has been used altogether on district projects with which Federal aid has had nothing to do. The total expenditure from local funds for roads built in connection with Federal aid and completed and paid for is $6,120,553. Federal aid paid in connection with these roads amounts to $3,957,307. There are in process of construction roads for which the Arkansas district funds are obligated to the amount of $4,780,560, and these call for Federal aid to the amount of $2,317,141.

Most of the Arkansas road districts in connection with which there have been serious abuses and gross unfairness to the land-owning farmers were created before Federal aid amounted to anything. Many of them had practically exhausted local funds before Federal aid was called for.

Because of the peculiar road district system adopted in Arkansas Federal aid administration has been exceedingly difficult. In April 1921 it was discovered that great injustices were practiced in these road districts, of which at that time there were more than 500, but in only 110 of which Federal aid had been granted. An engineer of the Department of Agriculture was sent into the State to make a careful investigation to secure information needed to administer Federal aid funds. He found many cases of bad management, careless handling and improper payments of local funds, excessive assessments on land owners, unbalanced and discriminatory assessments, uneconomic laying out of districts, and a general laxity in the organization to maintain the roads once they were built. None of these conditions affected Federal funds, nor could they be remedied by Federal authority. This investigation was made for the information and guidance of the Department of Agriculture in administering the Federal aid and for no other purpose, but a report was made to the Governor calling attention to these conditions.

Many complaints were received from taxpayers in different parts of the State. Some of these came from districts in which Federal aid was being used. Most of them came from districts in which no Federal funds were being used and which, therefore, could not receive attention at the hands of the department. The conditions revealed, however, were such as to lead me to notify the Governor in January 1923 that no further Federal aid allotments would be made to Arkansas until these conditions were corrected.

In the spring and summer of 1923 representatives of the Department of Agriculture held many conferences with the Governor of Arkansas, members of the Legislature and others in positions of responsibility in the effort to help them reorganize their State Highway Department and their methods of administration and draft a new bill which would remove cause for criticism.

The Governor called a special session of the Legislature to convene Sept. 24. I received many letters from members of the Legislature and others, among them one from Senator P. R. Barnes, Chairman of the Federal Relations Committee of the Arkansas Senate, in which he said that "the same interests that plunged our State into this trouble are now moving heaven and earth to fasten this district system on our farmers for a long period of years," and asking me to make a statement. In reply I wrote Mr. Barnes on Sept. 26 and said that while under the law I had no authority to prescribe the manner in which the States should raise revenue for road purposes, nevertheless I regarded the district system adopted and then in force in that State as an "unjust, inequitable and wrong system, throwing a grossly unfair burden upon the farm property adjacent to the highway. In so far as I may have the power to withhold Federal funds for the constructionof roads under this system I shall exercise that power without hesitation."

The Legislature passed an Act known as the Harrelson Law. It is better than the old law. Under it no new improvement district can be created except by a majority vote of the people within the district, and the assessment which may be levied on adjacent land is limited.

President Coolidge is in thorough sympathy with the course the Department of Agriculture has followed in withholding Federal funds as is shown by his letter to me under date of Dec. 11. He is determined that every power of the Federal Government be used to correct abuses and injustices under which Arkansas farmers have suffered.

All roads on which Federal aid has been used must be properly maintained by the State. Old road projects which can not be completed without Federal aid must be cleaned up before Federal aid will be granted to new projects. New projects under the new law must be established by a majority vote of the property owners in the district before they will receive consideration. Old projects not included under the new law will be considered on their individual merits. Methods of financing will be thoroughly investigated and if unjust or discriminatory assessments are being made on farm property such projects will not be approved until these are corrected. Every evidence of graft, unfair practices, or mismanagement will be fully investigated in so far as it comes within the jurisdiction of this Department, and such action as may be necessary will be taken under the law.

The Department has no intention of making any further investigation in Arkansas except as it may be necessary to administer Federal aid funds justly and efficiently. Abuses due to State laws or State administration should be corrected by State authorities. To secure Federal aid the law makes certain requirements, and it remains for the State to meet these.

It is the purpose of the Department to be helpful in administering Federal aid. Under no circumstances will Federal aid be permitted to be used to work injustice. It has not in the past, and it will not in the future.

If there are any who think they have reason to believe any member of the staff of this Department has been guilty of negligence or improper actions they should make their reasons known to me.

Proposal to Increase Cotton Crop Reports to Two A Month—Other Recommendations.

A recommendation that the present cotton reports be increased to two a month was made at a two-day conference in Washington last week between Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the Advisory Committee on Cotton Crop Reports, representing planters, cotton exchanges, associations of producers, spinners and the farm press of the cotton States. Various other important recommendations were made at the conference, which was concluded on Dec. 22; the recommendations propose that the mid month report cover cotton conditions as of about the tenth of each month from July to November, inclusive. It is further recommended that the date of reports and the time of issuance be arranged to coincide with the dates of the ginners' reports and with the time ginners' reports are issued after ginners' reports commence, and that they be issued as a combined report, if that be found practicable. It is likewise proposed that the present practice of issuing reports before the close of the American exchanges be continued, but that the reports be issued later than at present so that adequate time may be given to consideration of the additional crop data by the Crop Reporting Service. Because of the increasing importance to American cotton producers of the competition of foreign production it was recommended that the Department of Agriculture make provision to collect information which will permit the making of regular reports on production of cotton in foreign countries. The recommendations were prepared by a committee composed of the following:

J. D. Eldridge, Little Rock, Ark.; W. A. Pierce, Welden, N. C.; John D. Rogers, Navasota, Tex.; George Gilmore, Sandersville, Ga.; B. L. Moss, Soso, Miss., and Walter Colbert, Ardmore, Okla., all cotton planters; C. A. Cobb, Atlanta, Ga., the "Southern Ruralist"; F. M. Inman, Atlanta, Ga., president of the Atlantic Cotton Association; R. C. Dickerson, Waco, Tex., of the Texas Cotton Association; Thomas Hale, New York City, of the New York Cotton Exchange; Dr. Tait Butler, Memphis, Tenn., the "Progressive Farmer", and N. F. Ayer, Boston, Mass., ofthe National Association Cotton Manufacturers.

The recommendations of the committee are as follows:

Number and Frequency of Reports.

The committee recommends that the present cotton reports be increased to two per month; that the mid-month reports cover cotton conditions as of about the tenth of each month from July to November, inclusive. These reports shall cover such factors of crop growth and condition as shall be found necessary and practicable by the Crop Reporting Service.

Increase in Field Force.

In order that the recommendation to increase the number of reports may be carried out, it is recommended that the field forces of the cotton States be sufficiently increased so as to carry out the work as provided, and that such appointees shall have had experience in cotton farming as one of the prerequisites for appointment. It is the sense of the committee that the work of estimating cotton and all other crops in Texas is too great a task for the force allotted to that State.

Separate Lists of Cotton Reporters.

The committee further recommends that the division of crop and live stock estimates and field statisticians maintain separate lists of cotton reporters.

Three Regional Statisticians.

That three regional or supervisory statisticians be appointed, one for the southeast, one for the south central and one for the southwest; that each be made a member of the Crop Reporting board and that such supervisors shall have had as one of the prerequisites for appointment at least five years experience in growing cotton and in addition thereto shall have been adequately trained in statistical methods.

Further Use of Rural Mail Carriers.

It is recommended that the department further develop its use of the reports of rural mail carriers in the work.

Field Statisticians Centrally Located.

It is recommended that the field statistician in each State have his headquarters as near the centre of agricultural production as practicable.

Date of Reports and Time of Issuance.

It is recommended that the date of report and time of issuance be arranged to coincide with the dates of the ginners' reports and with the time ginners' reports are issued after ginners' reports commence, and that they be issued as a combined report, if this be found practicable.

The Hour of Release.

In order that the confusion arising from the issuance of two government reports on cotton within short intervals of one another may be avoided, the committee recommends that the present practice of issuing the report before the close of American exchanges be continued, but that the report be issued later than at present so that adequate time may be given to consideration of the additional crop data by the Crop Reporting Board.

Intention to Plant.

The committee favorably recommends the intention to plant schedule with the further recommendation that if issued it be made public not later than about March 15.

That this report should show the per cent of intended change in acreage from the preceding year as stated by reporters on the basis of their actual acreage for the preceding year and their intended acreage for the present year, subject to the uncertainties of the planting season, supply of labor and other affecting elements. Coupled with this report should be published available supplemental information concerning probable supplies of labor, fertilizer, arsenate and other matters having a bearing on the problem not only of acreage but of yield.

That other available basic data necessary for understanding the national and world cotton situation be included in the same report.

That additional intermediate information be secured between the time of issuing of the intention report and the regular July crop schedule as to the readjustment of intentions which has taken place.

Schedule of Reports.

That a schedule of the season's crop reports be issued in advance with a fixed summary of procedure and that no variations be made from the schedule of procedure announced, except in case of extreme emergency and after ample notice.

Price Reporting Service on Cotton Seed.

The committee further recommends that the department take such steps as may be found necessary looking to the establishment of a more frequent and complete price reporting service on cottonseed.

More Foreign Cotton Production Statistics.

Because of the increasing importance to American cotton producers of the competition of foreign production, it is recommended that the Department of Agriculture, through its Bureau of Agricultural Economics, provide adequate representation in other countries, whose duty it will be to collect information that will permit the Bureau to make regular reports on production of cotton in foreign countries.

Advisory Board.

The committee recommends that the Secretary of Agriculture appoint a committee to be known as an Advisory Board composed of producers, manufacturers and representatives of the cotton trade, said committee or board to advise with the Crop Reporting Board as to scope and method of the crop reporting work at such times as it may be called upon by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Reports Safeguarded.

The committee is thoroughly convinced that there is no possibility of a leak in cotton estimates, that it is a physical impossibility for any information to get out of the crop reporting room until it is officially released by the Secretary of Agriculture or Acting Secretary. Not only are the windows and shades sealed, telephones disconnected and United States marshals stationed outside the locked doors, but the Board itself cannot know what the report will be until a few minutes before it is scheduled for release.

Crop Reporting Service Commended.

In view of the fact that there has been considerable criticism of the cotton reports of the Crop Reporting Board, which tend to destroy the confidence in these reports, made by those unfamiliar with the magnitude and difficulties of the work and its highly technical nature, or by those having a selfish interest to serve, this committee feels that a word of appreciation of the work now being done is due.

It is the sense of the committee that the Department of Agriculture be commended for the manner in which its crop reporting work has been developed and is now being done. The committee feels that the production forecasts have been as accurate as could have been expected in view of the rapidly changing and unfavorable conditions that have prevailed since the extension of boll-weevil infestation over practically the entire cotton belt.

Adequate Support Recommended.

Needed increases in the number of reports and improvements in equipment and methods which will insure fuller information and greater accuracy in these reports can only come with more adequate funds for doing the work expected. It is felt that fuller co-operation from the manufacturers and producers and from the public generally should be given the crop reporting service.

In a Washington dispatch on Dec. 21 referring to the opening of the conference, the New York "Journal of Commerce" stated:

New legislation affecting the Government's crop reporting methods is expected to be an outgrowth of the conference. Members of Congress from cotton-producing States took part in the proceedings to-day and it is anticipated that several bills will be introduced to revise the law to make whatever changes the Committee may find necessary. Secretary Wallace and Agriculture Department officials are said to be ready to adopt any constructive suggestions which the committee may put forward in so far as the latitude allowed the Department by law will permit, and it is understood that the Department looks for recommendations which will permit a number of changes in the present sustem and which will not require new legislation.

Discuss Government Methods.

The conference was called by Mr. Wallace to discuss the scope and methods of collecting and distributing reports relating to cotton. There has been a pronounced sentiment growing, which has lately manifested itself among members of Congress, for a radical change in the present system. Efforts were made to-day to explain the present procedure throughly to the advisory committee and the members of Congress attending the conference, in order that they might be familiar with all the details of the present system before drafting recommendations for new methods.

Opinions differed, it is understood, as to the necessity for reports of intention to plant as well as the time when a report should be issued. There was also argument on both sides of the question of the advisability of acreage reports at an early date and differnet suggestions were made as to the proper time for the issuance of the first bale report on cotton.

Question of Time.

The question of the time when Government cotton reports should be made public is understood to have opened up a very wide field of debate. The argument is made that the Government reports should not be made public until after the exchanges have closed for the day, so that sudden fluctuations in the market as a result of the official forecasts may be eliminated and speculative activities lessened. On the other hand, it is contended that if the Government holds up its reports until after the markets in this country are closed the forecasts would be available to the British traders before the American cotton interests had an opportunity to adjust their operations to the official findings and the British interests would have a trading start of some six hours or so on this country, which might in the end react against the cotton growers.

The above conference was preceded by the discussion of the collection of information and compiling of estimates of the cotton crops by the Government, together with the question of their publication at a conference at the Capitol on Dec. 18, participated in by Dr. William A. Taylor, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture; members of the Crop Reporting Board, and the committee of the "cotton bloc" on the readjustment of crop estimates and crop reports, consisting of Representatives J. E. Rankin, of Mississippi, Chairman; William B. Oliver, of Alabama; F. B. Swank, of Oklahoma; Otis Wingo, of Arkansas, and A. L. Bulwinkle of North Carolina and Senator Harris of Georgia. This is learned from the New York "Journal of Commerce," which stated:

It was agreed by all present that the reports of condition of the cotton crop should be made at more frequent intervals during the critical time of crop development and while the crop is being gathered and put on the market.

Attention was called to the fact that the daily market reports made by the government cover almost every product of American industry except cotton seed, and it was declared that as a result the cotton growers of the South are losing hundreds of millions of dollars annually because of the instability of seed prices and the farmers' lack of information on their market value at all times. Dr. Taylor admitted this to be a very serious question and one which would have the department's immediate attention. He expressed the opinion that it would only be a matter of time before cotton seed would be quoted in daily market reports, together with the other agricultural products.

The same paper had the following to say in its accounts from Washington Dec. 25:

Members of the cotton bloc, it is understood, are preparing to press in Congress after the holiday recess measures to permit the Agriculture Department to carry out the recommendations of the advisory committee on cotton crop reports for the expansion of the government's system of cotton crop reporting.

Recommendations made by the committee calling for a greater frequency of reports and an enlargement in the personnel of the crop reporting service will necessitate additional appropriations before they can be adopted. Other of the committee's suggestions, however, are capable of adoption by the Agriculture Department without any further steps by Congress.

Calls Cotton Crop Figures Too High—J. S. Wannamaker Makes Total 9,650,000 Bales.

Actual yield of cotton this year, in the opinion of J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association, will be from 300,000 to 400,000 bales lower than was indicated in the final estimate of the Government crop reporting bureau.

"The Government estimates," said Mr. Wannamaker to-day, "have uniformly been far away from the actual crop. Last year it showed an excess of 200,000 bales; the year before of nearly 400,000. This year, as is now pretty generally admitted, the Government's acreage estimate was far larger than the area actually planted. In such circumstances, when other facts at my disposal are given due consideration, I have no hesitancy in saying that in my judgment the crop of 1923 will not exceed 9,650,000 bales.

"Information at my disposal shows that the average bale this year will scarcely weigh more than 482 pounds. This is owing to the rapidity with which gathering and ginning have been done, adverse seasonal conditions, premature opening and boll weevil conditions, which have caused cotton to lint out unusually light. A shortage in weight of 18 pounds per bale in a crop of 10,000,000 would mean a reduction of something over 300,000 bales on the usual 500 pound bale basis.

"I have in my possession letters that show the Department of Agriculture and the crop reporting board did not take into consideration the weight of bales in this year's final estimate. The harvesting and ginning of the present crop will be completed even at an earlier date than was the case with the crop last year. It will soon be evident to the trade at large that the Government has again overestimated the crop by from 300,000 to 400,000 bales.

At an outside figure, in my opinion, the present crop will be 9,650,000, and it may, when all things are considered, yet fall as low as 9,500,000, of actual 500-pound bales. Nor do I believe that the South can materially increase its acreage next year."

May Revise Cotton Crop Calculations—Census Bureau Investigating Light Weight Reports.

The following advices from St. Matthews, S. C., under date of Dec. 7, appeared in the New York "Journal of Commerce" of Dec. 8:

As a result of information collected by the American Cotton Association, indicating that this season's cotton crop is being put up in light-weight bales which may necessitate revision of crop estimates, it is stated that an investigation by the Department of Commerce is now in progress, the results of which will be made public early in January. Information received by J. S. Wannamaker, head of the association, is to the effect that owing to adverse weather conditions and boll-weevil infestation cotton is linting out extremely short of seed and many farmers are harvesting only enough to gin extremely small packages. Correspondence between Mr. Wannamaker and W. M. Steuart, Director of the Census Bureau, on this subject has brought the following reply from the latter:

"I am in receipt of your letter of the 26th ult. advising that this year's cotton is being put up in extra light bales and that the statistics in running bales would, therefore, be misleading as to the total amount of cotton available for spinning and suggesting that the actual gin weights be presented with the next report on cotton ginning.

"The reports secured by this office for bale weights are obtained in two installments, the first on Nov. 1 of cotton marketed prior to that date and the other on Jan. 1 of sales subsequent to Nov. 1, the purpose being to have the weights represent the varying conditions throughout the season, and thus make them of greater accuracy than would be the case if they covered only the first part of the season.

"The first installments of the weights have been received and are now being carefully examined. Those to be received in January will be given immediate attention so that a reliable average may be computed for the entire crop. It is, of course, important that this matter be given careful attention and in cases where the weights returned appear out of line correspondence is had in connection with them. The figures will be published as quickly as they can be assembled."

Arkansas Bankers, Business Men and Farmers Adopt "More Cotton and Less Acres Program"—Thirty-Cent Cotton Plan Opposed.

"More cotton and less acres" was adopted as the slogan of bankers, business men and farmers, who met at Little Rock, Ark., on Dec. 12 at the instance of the Agricultural Committee of the Arkansas Bankers' Association. The meeting, according to the "Arkansas Gazette," resulted in the adoption of a program "to intensify production of cotton, make every farm and plantation self-supporting and to build up poor acreage." The same paper states:

The keynote of the program is greater production of cotton per acre, through means of better seed, fertilization, use of weevil remedy and more care, supplemented by home production of food and feed stuff and advancement, according to training, in dairy and poultry.

* * * * * * *

The program was elaborated in the address of E. J. Bodman, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the bankers' association in which the main points, briefly stated were as follows:

More whole-hearted support from the business men;

Advoidance, commercially, of crops in which the grower is not experienced;

Curtailment of acreage to a ratio of 10-12 acres per mule;

Constant cultivation; well bred seed; fertilizing; use of calcium arsenate; avoidance of substitutes;

Cotton and corn only on acreage which will produce half a bale of cotton or 20 bushels of corn with good seed and substitution of cow peas, soy beans or legumes on poorer land:

Home grown seed, if possible, or choice seed from the outside, if necessary;

Furrowing early in the winter for drainage and early warming of the soil;

Thorough dissemination of reliable information on fertilization and use of poison:

Use of modern implements;

A flock of hens and a few good grade cows on each farm.

Explaining the suggestions Mr. Bodman said they embodied little that is new but are fundamental principles which are overlooked through the influence of rising price for cotton. He considers the bankers and business men mostly responsible for the present condition, affirming that the supply men and bankers indicate the policy in most instances. He deplored the fact that too few appreciate the need.

$100,000,000 to Buy Feed.

The total proceeds of the 1923 cotton crop of Arkansas are not sufficient to pay for the food and feed needed to raise the 1924 crop, he said. He estimates that more than $100,000,000, will go out of the State during the next year for feed alone.

Use of modern implements will be forced by the shortage of labor, according to Mr. Bodman. He advocated purchase of selected grade dairy cows raised in the State as a start for beginners, declaring high bred animals, under inexperienced care, deteriorated to poorer milkers.

George H. Bell, President of the Planters' Bank & Trust Co. of Nashville, Howard County, made one of the most pertinent talks and several of the ideas he had placed into practice in the last four years were adopted as part of the program. His latest innovation, which was looked upon with favor, is the extension of credit on crop contracts. It is an advancement of the credit statement which most bankers require from their farm patrons. In addition to rendering a statement of production and the future plans upon which the loan is to be based, he says an agreement to plant certain crops on specified acreage and through enforcement by the banker it will result in natural diversification, according to Mr. Bell. He said the patron who did not live up to his agreement would have to look elsewhere for credit the next year.

Harvey County, Mr. Bell said, is one of the five leaders in the State ginning report. He said this was partly responsible to fertilizer and poison use and partly to increased acreage. He pointed out the evil of the latter in the present situation in his county. Cotton has been increased 15 to 25% at the expense of corn acreage. So far this fall his car had purchased from Kansas six carloads of corn, as a result and more would be needed.

Suggests Spread of Labor.

Dean Dan Gray of the College of Agriculture University of Arkansas, in a letter to the chairman, advocated a diversification by which 60% of the income should be derived from crops and 40% from live stock. He advocates self-supporting farms and plantations, and suggests a rotation which will permit spread of labor nearly the year around. He considers expert supervision is vital to any gain.

Loy E. Rast, manager of the Wilson plantation, comprising 50,000 acres gave detailed figures of the results obtained on the plantation. Addition of fertilizer, costing $6 an acre to the production cost of $50, produced 1,700 pounds of seed cotton, compared with 900 pounds without fertilizer. Use of good seed raised production to 1,100 pounds an acre, compared with 500 pounds through use of ordinary seed, he said. Good seed, fertilizer, and use of poison, are investment features which the farmers cannot afford to overlook, he said.

J. E. Pridmore, agronomist of the Southern Soil Improvement Association, declared that 30% cotton is creating a tendency toward more extensive planting, which will result in a financial situation far worse than the present, if allowed to proceed unchecked. Cotton is the big crop of the State and should be, he said, but increased yield per acre is the important factor. The State has reached a point where production costs are equal to the returns.

Among other speakers were: T. Roy Reid of the Extension Division of the University of Arkansas; John Stinson, St. Louis, agricultural agent of the Missouri Pacific; Martin Nelson, director, University of Arkansas; E. H. Abbington, Beebe; Charles Metcalf, Batesville.

It is stated that suggestions at the meeting were received from many and the program was evolved from these suggestions by a special committee composed of the following:

George H. Bell, R. J. Dougan, C. W. Pellinger, John Stinson, Loy E. Rast, J. E. Pridmore, T. Roy Reid, H. M. Cottrell, Martin Nelson, V. C. Kays, J. F. Sumers and Fred Heiskell. The following were appointed as a committee to assist in the campaign in February planned by the Agricultural Extension Department: Mr. Pridmore, Mr. Rast, Mr. Bell, Conoway Scott, Mr. Stinson, Mr. Cottrell and Mr. Heiskell. Visitors were guests at a luncheon given by the association.

Commenting on the meeting and its results, the "Gazette" says:

Crop Plans for 1924.

Arkansas bankers who met here last Wednesday to discuss the State's agricultural problems and next year's crops, very wisely decided to fight only for fundamentals. Those basic agricultural principles that have been proved sound by years of experience are incorporated into the farm plan urged by the bankers and they are not complicated by a multiplicity of innovations, suggestions and theories. Boiled down, the bankers of Arkansas advocate more cotton on fewer acres, with sufficient feedstuffs for every farm's need and those foodstuffs that may be grown easily and cheaply in Arkansas.

Many of the men who gathered here for the conference are farmers as well as bankers. All have an intimate knowledge of agriculture in Arkansas, for a majority of their customers are farmers. The bankers know the problems of these farmers and know their financial condition. The Bankers' Association of Arkansas is one of the most progressive and virile organizations in the State. Its agricultural committee is carefully selected and works with energy and intelligence. When an agricultural emergency arises farmers come to the bankers for advice as well as for financial help.

More cotton on fewer acres is easily possible in this State and the plan includes the only safe method of cotton farming. To beat the boll weevil, a crop must be set early and this can be done only by proper fertilization, intensive cultivation and the prompt use of poisons when poisons are necessary. The farmer who holds his acreage to a point where he will be able, with the labor on hand, to meet any emergency is the farmer who will make money next year. The farmer who overcrops himself will take a desperate gamble, with every chance against his winning.

The bankers made it very plain that they consider cotton the chief money crop of Arkansas. They want Arkansas farmers to raise as much cotton as possible, but they do not want Arkansas to overplant and to lose money through overplanting. They want Arkansas to pick every acre of cottor it plants and they want every acre planted to be a paying acre. For this reason they urge fertilization. Farmers should remember that as the per acre production increases the cost of production decreases.

In order to give the cotton crop the intensive cultivation it requires under present conditions acreage must be reduced. The surplus acres should be planted to feedstuffs, but the bankers warn against planting corn on poor or worn-out land. They urge the planting of cowpeas, soy beans or legumes on land that will not produce a half bale of cotton or 20 bushels of corn to the acre.

The plan outlined by the bankers is one that will appeal to every careful farmer in the State, and it is one that should be followed. The first big thing in the plan is good seed. Arkansas will need every pound of cotton it can make next year and not a pound of bad seed or untested seed should be planted. The farmer who plants poor seed has saddled himself with failure before his crop sprouts.

Wheat Subsidy Through Tax on Wheat Exports Proposed by Oregon Farmers—Opposition by Merchants Exchange of Portland.

Opposition has been expressed by the Merchants Exchange of Portland Oregon, to a plan for the marketing and control of the United States wheat crop, proposed at a meeting in Portland, Oregon, Dec. 7, participated in by the Wheat Committee of the Oregon Bankers Association and representatives of State, co-operative and agricultural organizations. On Dec. 19 a resolution was adopted by the Exchange seeking delay on the plan, the resolution stating that "we expect to be able to present facts that will be convincing that the plan proposed would be detrimental not only to the business interests of the country but to the farmer as well." On the following day the Exchange made known in detail its arguments against the plan, and these we give further below. In reporting the resolution of the Exchange the Portland "Oregonian" of Dec. 20 said:

The grain dealers and exporters of Portland, through the Merchants' Exchange association, have asked the Chamber of Commerce to take no action in approval of the proposed export wheat subsidy plan until they have had an opportunity to present their views on the subject.

At a special meeting of the association at noon yesterday the following petition to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce was approved:

Resolution Is Adopted.

"We, the undersigned Merchants' Exchange of Portland, individual grain merchants and exporters, respectfully petition your honorable body not to take any action in indorsement of the plan submitted by the special committee of the Oregon State Bankers for the marketing and control of the entire wheat crop of the United States until we have had the opportunity of appearing before your body and presenting to your agricultural committee a brief on the subject.

"The plan has for its purpose the handling of export and domestic grain through a governmental agency. This is so foreign to the present world methods of marketing wheat that action should not be taken without a thorough understanding of its far-reaching effects. We do not believe that up to this time the plan has been given sufficient consideration to enable the Chamber of Commerce to act intelligently on the subject. It is our desire to present certain facts to your agricultural committee that we believe will have a vital bearing upon your decision.

Plan Is Opposed.

"We expect to be able to present facts that will be convincing that the plan proposed would be detrimental not only to the business interests of the country, but to the farmer as well."

The views of the grain trade on the subject are being drawn up in a brief which they expect to present to the chamber to-day.

In its issue of Dec. 8 the "Oregonian" stated:

The plan embraces the taxation of all wheat which leaves the farms in order to raise a premium which would be applied to the exported surplus of this commodity. Domestic prices are at present controlled by the price which is received for the exported wheat in the world market. Through the subsidy the price of export wheat would be raised and would in turn raise the price of the domestic commodity and give the farmer the desired return.

The plan is virtually that of the American Wheat Growers' Association, Inc., which was formulated at their meeting in Denver about a month ago. It was unanimously approved by the group representing banks, co-operatives, farm organizations and business interests.

The arguments of the grain trade in opposition to the proposal are furnished in the "Oregonian" of Dec. 21, and we quote therefrom as follows:

The brief of the grain trade of Portland against the so-called American Wheat Growers' associated plan for an export subsidy to relieve the grain situation was presented yesterday to the agricultural and legislative committees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

The committees, which are considering indorsement of the plan, will take a full week to make a study of the objections. The program was originally presented to them by a special committee of the Oregon Bankers' Association.

Briefly, what the plan proposes is the creation of a Government export corporation, empowered to tax all wheat in order to create a fund to be applied as a bonus upon that portion of the wheat which, as a surplus, is exported. This, with adequate tariff protection, would raise the price of domestic wheat sufficiently to provide the farmer with an adequate return for his grain, it is contended.

Representing the grain trade, through the Merchants' Exchange, the brief was presented over the signatures of Frank Shull, W. H. Wilson, I. C. Stanford, A. M. Choystale and N. A. Leach.

Arguments Are Given.

The arguments against the export subsidy program are discussed under two headings. They are:

"First. Under this plan is it possible to guarantee the producer of wheat a price for his goods which will assure a profit?

"Second. Can marketing through co-operative associations be more beneficial to the farmer than the present competitive system, and should co-operative marketing be extended?"

Discussing the first question, the brief declares that "this proposal is nothing more nor less than price-fixing. This statement has been, and will be, most strenuously denied by the advocates of the plan. The sixth section of the proposed plan reads as follows: 'The tax and the premium to be subject to revision by the commission from year to year, depending upon the probable amount of the surplus, always so fixed that the price of wheat to the farmer will be maintained at a point equal in purchasing power to the pre-war value of the commodity.'

Price to Be Regulated.

"The purchasing power of the pre-war value of the commodity is presumably a known, fixed quantity. The price is to be regulated from year to year to equal this known, fixed quantity. The American Wheat Growers' Associated, Inc., state that this is not price-fixing. They call it 'the reverse application of the tariff principle.' But the effect is the same. They propose to maintain the price at a fixed value, call it by any name that is desired.

"It is hardly necessary here to repeat the well-known arguments against price-fixing. Such must have been obvious to the advocates of the plan, for indirectly they admit such arguments and the impossibility of securing sufficient support to pass this measure if recognized as price-fixing. This they have done by their unwillingness to permit the proposal to be known under that name."

The argument continues to point out that even if the plan could be made to operate, it would be "objectionable for the following reasons:

Unsound, It Is Said.

"The plan is economically unsound. It is an artificial means of stimulating an industry in which there is already overproduction.

"The effect of such a measure would be cumulative. The burden to be artificially borne due to over-production would become greater and greater each year, and unless this plan was permanently adopted, all would end in economic disaster.

"The plan proposes class legislation. It contemplates an indirect tax upon the public at large of 23 cents per bushel upon each bushel of wheat produced through an increase in price to the domestic consumer. This amounts to a subsidy for the benefit of the people producing less than 12% of the total value of the country's principal farm crops (from the final estimates of the United States department of agriculture, Dec. 17 1923).

Grain Dealers Would Go.

"The plan will result in the practical confiscation of private property. It has been proven in the past few years that the co-operative marketing associations cannot hope to displace the private exporter or grain dealer in fair and open competition. However, this plan proposes to legislate the private exporter and grain merchant out of business. It is stated in support of the proposed plan that 'it will greatly assist the growth of co-operative marketing associations.' It is also stated 'it will leave to the co-operative marketing associations the problem of controlling orderly distribution of the domestic consumption.'

"It is a further entry of the federal government into private business. The present administration is pledged to stand aloof from the conduct of private business enterprises except for the correction of abusive tactics and illegal practices. There has been no claim made that such conditions exist in private and competitive handling of grain."

Discussing the second question relative to co-operative marketing, the brief says: "Co-operative marketing has never been able to displace the private and competitive system of grain handling in open competition.

Legislation Would Be Unfair.

"To force the extension of co-operative marketing through legislation is not only eminently unfair, but should certainly not be accomplished until the co-operative associations assume the burden of proof and show beyond a reasonable doubt that they can operate for as low a cost per bushel handled as the private dealer who handles an equal quantity of grain. The human race is so constituted that men have always worked and accomplished more for their own private gain than in the service of the public.

"Since the days of the corn laws in England, there have been many periodic attempts by legislation and otherwise to eliminate the private and competitive system of handling agricultural products. Such attempts have always been ended in expense, inefficient handling, and graft; and eventually the field has been opened once more to private and competitive handling. This is at least some evidence that in the long course of human affairs the problem can better be handled for the producer by private and competitive individuals under a small margin of profit.

Overhead Is Small.

"There is little or no room for the reduction of expense in the handling of grain. It is handled at present by private dealers at so low an overhead cost that even were all this overhead eliminated it would not appreciably help the farmer.

"Co-operative marketing, if extended, would open the door to still further class legislation and class evasion of monopolistic combinatinos prohibited by the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The proposed plan deals exclusively with wheat. Many farmers grow other crops such as corn, oats, rye, barley, flax and fruit. One farmer may raise but one crop and this of some commodity other than wheat. Every cereal mentioned is selling at a low price. It would not be long before we would be requested to fix the price for rye, corn, barley, oats, fruit and other commodities. When we have done this there are many branches of the milling business whose mills, idle since the war, may want a living price fixed for that commodity."

Included in the argument are a number of references to the part of the exporters in building up the port and the regulations which insure their efficient operation and prevent them from making exorbitant profits.

At a convention, in Eugene, Oregon, on December 20 of the Educational and Co-operative Farmers Union of Oregon the proposal to impose a tax on wheat in order to create a subsidy for the exported surplus was endorsed in a resolution introduced by the Committee on Marketing, headed by A. R. Shumway, ex-State President of the Union. It is stated that the Committee also urged grading and standardization of all products, and supported co-operative marketing associations of all kinds. The Union went on record as favoring a national co-operative marketing Act by Congress which would create crop pools and make warehouse receipts legal tender. Lower freight rates on farm products and machinery, as advocated by President Coolidge, were incorporated in the resolutions adopted.

In detailing the wheat subsidy plans approved at the Portland meeting Dec. 7, the "Oregonian" said:

As outlined by A. R. Shumway, President of the Oregon Grain Growers Co-operative Association, the Federal Government would assess a tax of 7 cents a bushel on all American-grown wheat which leaves the farms. This fund, which on approximately 700,000,000 bushels would amount to $49,000,000, would be applied as a premium to the exportable wheat surplus, which is approximately 170,000,000 bushels, when billed for export. This would add approximately 30 cents a bushel to the price received for export wheat, the amount thus added to the export price acting so as to place the domestic price 30 cents above the world price. The enhanced world price would be met by those desiring to purchase domestic wheat.

Creation of a United States export commission to handle the fund collected through railway and mail certified channels, would be created, together with the adjustment of the tariff wall to fit the new conditions This would result in virtual application of the tariff principle to the product after the farmer sells as well as that which he buys, it is pointed out.

Tax Subject to Adjustment.

The amount of the tax would be subject to adjustment by the export commission, having the effect of reacting automatically toward the adjustment of the wheat acreage, because the larger the surplus the heavier the tax per bushel would necessarily become.

A proposal to set up a Government export commission, charged with the duty of disposing of the wheat or flour surplus was one of the proposals advanced n the annual report of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace; reference thereto was made in our issue of Dec. 15, page 2612.

American Wheat Growers Association Advocates Tax on Wheat.

Legislation designed to raise the price of American wheat 22½ cents a bushel by taxing domestic wheat 7½ cents a bushel and granting 30 cents a bushel premium on all wheat exported was proposed by the American Wheat Growers' Association in a letter addressed on Dec. 5 to Minnesota Congressmen by G. C. Jewett, General Manager. The press dispatches from Minneapolis said:

Under the plan proposed by Jewett, the wheat producers would pay a tax of 7½ cents on each bushel produced, creating a fund of $52,500,000 on the present production of approximately 700,000,000 bushels.

This fund would be used by a Government commission to be created to pay the agency shipping wheat abroad a premium of 30 cents for each bushel exported, thus giving the farmer a net increase over the world price of 22½ cents a bushel.

It is Jewett's theory that this would tend to encourage exportation of wheat, as against domestic sale. and ultimately would force domestic consumers to meet the 30 dents export premium, thus giving wheat producers of this country a net price of 22½ cents over the Liverpool or world price.

Under Jewett's proposal the present tariff must be increased from 30 cents to 60 cents a bushel.

Bill Creating Wheat Stabilization Corporation With Capital of $300,000,000 Introduced in Congress.

The creation of a wheat stabilization corporation with a capital stock of $300,000,000 is proposed in a bill introduced on Dec. 6 by Senator Gooding (Republican) of Idaho. The corporation would be empowered to establish a minimum basic price of $1 50 a bushel for No. 1 Northern spring wheat, which, it is figured, would stabilize the price of other wheat. For the purposes of the corporation there would be authorized expenditures out of the Federal Treasury not to exceed $5,000,000 annually.

$50,000,000 Live Stock Loan in Behalf of Wheat Farmers to be Sought in Congressional Legislation.

A Congressional appropriation of $50,000,000 to be loaned to wheat growers of the Northwest to be used in the purchase of live stock will be advocated in the Senate and House as a result of a series of conferences participated in by the North and South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming Congressional delegations with agriculturists and business men from those States. According to Washington advices to the New York "Journal of Commerce" Dec. 19, the item says:

The general situation in the wheat country was discussed. It was declared that the generally adverse conditions are due in large part to the stimulation in wheat production fostered during the war by the Government. This is one of the grounds on which a claim for Government aid will be made, it is understood.

A committee consisting of one Representative and one Senator from each of these States was appointed to draft suitable legislation for presentation to Congress. The plan is to encourage diversification on the farms of the Northwest, substituting cattle, hogs and sheep in part for wheat.

Organization of Co-Operative Wheat Marketing Association in Kansas Approved.

Plans for the merger of the Farmers' Union Wheat Marketing Association and the Kansas Wheat Growers' Association, the two largest wheat co-operative marketing associations in Kansas, into a new organization to be known as the Kansas Co-operative Wheat Marketing Association were brought under way at a meeting in Topeka on Dec. 12, when plans for the formation of the new association were ratified by the organization committee. The Topeka "Capital" says:

Executives of the Farmers' Union and the Kansas Wheat Growers' co-operative associations have agreed to liquidate and merge with the new organization by May 24—if the new organization can sign up 32 million bushels of wheat by that time. That amount, added to what now is controlled by the two big co-operatives, would make 44 million bushels under the control of the new organization.

Aaron Sapiro of Chicago addressed the meeting, and is quoted in the "Capital" as saying:

The wheat problem of America depends on Kansas. Kansas is the key State. With Kansas unorganized nothing can be accomplished in the other States. With Kansas organized the fight is half won.

Upon your attitude here to-day depends to a larger degree the future of the wheat grower in America.

Through co-operative marketing you endeavor to raise the general price level of wheat. The merchant will tell you the price of any commodity is determined by supply and demand. If you press him further he will add the two factors: time and place. In other words the price of a given commodity is determined by the supply and demand of that commodity plus the place the specific article is located and the time it is disposed of.

Commodity Basis Needed.

Co-operative wheat marketing will not succeed except upon the commodity basis. We must think in terms of the State's and the nation's supply.

That supply must be released systematically so the market will not be flooded. There must not be a surplus on the market, because a surplus beats down the price. The present method permits the surplus to be held in the hands of grain manipulators. Under the commodity system of co-operative marketing an even flow of the grain is maintained. There is no surplus for the grain dealers, for the farmer holds the surplus: the association will not sell enough at any one time to create a surplus. Orderly marketing solves the problem.

This has been the case in the fruit and tobacco industries. It will work in wheat.

Each State must organize itself, and we are starting in Kansas. When each State has organized then it will be possible to co-ordinate with the national organization and thus control the marketing of the entire crop in the United States.

If Kansas cannot sign 44 million bushels by May 24 1924, it means the project will not go over this year. But Kansas can sign one-third of its production in that time, Alberta, a province in Canada, signed up 25,000 growers, representing 45% of the entire crop, in only three weeks this fall. They were not so well prepared for co-operative marketing as Kansas.

Harmony, Not Leaders, Lacking.

Kansas never has lacked leaders. It has lacked harmony. This is critical day. If Kansas does not want to market its wheat co-operatively, then the matter will be dropped. If it takes more raps than the Kansas farmers have got the past two years to make them want a change, they probably can have more of it.

The same paper says:

At the conclusion of Sapiro's address Andrew Shearer, of Marshall County formerly a member of the State legislature, moved the adoption of Sapiro's plan. This carried unanimously.

Officers were elected and the executive committee then adopted the form of contract presented by Sapiro.

Sapiro's plan was submitted to the organization committee of the tentative association in Memorial hall yesterday morning. It includes all the main factors of the co-operative wheat contracts now in use by the two leading organizations in Kansas.

These five main points in the new contract were agreed to, outside of which it follows closely the well known forms:

(1) Wichita will be the headquarters of the new association.

(2) Membership is $10 a person.

(3) It will be necessary to sign up 44 millions bushels of wheat before the contracts are binding.

(4) That amount of wheat must be secured by May 24 1924.

(5) The association will have 21 directors, 20 of whom will be elected by members of the association which will be divided into 20 districts, and one appointed by the governor of Kansas.

Lansdon Elected Chairman.

W. C. Lansdon of Saline County was elected chairman of the executive committee. Sen. E. E. Frizell of Pawnee County is vice chairman, and B. E. Corporon of Sedgwick County is secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee of five includes: Forrest Luther of Gray County, Walter H. Cappell of Neosho County, Simon Fishman of Greeley County, W. P. Lambertson of Brown County and C. J. Cox of Sedgwick County.

The factional fight existing among the various farm organizations of the State did not make its appearance at the meeting yesterday. Practically every farm organization in Kansas is represented on the executive committee. Every farm organization in Kansas is represented on the organization committee.

Diversification and Co-Operative Marketing Only Sound Basis for Agricultural Prosperity, According to Commissioner Cooper of Federal Farm Loan Board.

The belief that "diversification and co-operative marketing furnish the only sound basis for agricultural prosperity" is expressed by the Federal Farm Loan Board in a statement issued on Dec. 19 in behalf of the Board by Federal Farm Loan Commissioner Cooper. The views of the Board were based on data supplied by the twelve Federal Land Bank Presidents, following the conclusion of their winter conference in Washington. The statement of Commissioner Cooper said:

Agricultural conditions on the whole continue to improve, although there are sections which, on account of partial crop failure, the low price of the principal crop or scarcity of labor, are not prosperous. These, of course, include only a fractional part of the total farming area. The fruit growers and cattle raisers appear to be the most unfortunate. The wheat farmer, on the whole, has not had a prosperous year. Federal Intermediate Credit banks have been able to help many co-operative associations, and are taking on a considerable volume of discounts for agricultural credit corporations as well as banking institutions. Farm Loan Board is gratified at the showing which the different banks have made. Reports, on the whole, indicate steady improvement in agricultural conditions. There is every reason to believe that this improvement will continue. The most encouraging part of the report to the Board is the tendency throughout the United States to diversified farming. It is our belief that diversification and co-operative marketing furnish the only sound basis for agricultural prosperity.

Collections, it is stated, were described as most satisfactory in almost all sections, and this was accepted as indicating that the farmers are getting on their feet financially.

Conditions outlook by districts are summarized as follows, according to the "Wall Street Journal":

New England, New York and New Jersey: General improvement, but high wages in industries cause shortage of farm labor. Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania: General conditions favorable, farm products have advanced. Growers Co-operative Association has been granted loans of $5,500,000.

North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida: Agricultural conditions better than for three years. Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee: Conditions have materially improved, though cost of farm labor in industrial sections still present a program. Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama: Conditions better than a year ago, though cotton has suffered severely from boll weevil and unfavorable weather. Sugar and rice situation more favorable. No serious shortage of farm labor, with diversification noticeable.

Diversification Encouraging.

Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas: General conditions slightly improved over last year. Tendency toward diversification every encouraging.

Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin: Agricultural and economic conditions satisfactory except in northwest Minnesota, and in North Dakota, where wheat, the principal crop, was seriouisy injured by black rust. In North Dakota diversification and good prices indicate improved conditions.

Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming: Conditions generally satisfactory except in northern South Dakota, where the wheat crop is of poor quality. Prices for livestock, poultry and dairy products satisfactory. Cattle ranchmen are slowly recovering from losses sustained from 1919 to 1922. Collections good.

Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma: Agricultural conditions have materially improved over last year. Texas: General conditions better than a year ago. Arizona, California, Nevada and Utah: Conditions, as a whole, not so good as last year. Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington: Agricultural conditions better than last year.

National Farm Labor Union Would Have Congress Inquire into Loans of Intermediate Credit Banks—Favors Crop Insurance Legislation.

At a meeting in Texarkana (Texas), Dec. 19, the National Farm Labor Union adopted resolutions requesting the House Committee on Banking and Currency to investigate rates of interest charged for short term loans and the extent to which the Intermediate Credit banks are meeting the needs of farmers for this kind of credit. Other resolutions adopted at the convention are indicated as follows in the "Arkansas Gazette" of Little Rock:

The resolutions also endorse the Norris-Sinclair Federal market bi now pending in Congress, a system of crop insurance against crop los causes not within control of the farmer, to be provided and operated a cost through the Federal Government; opposing official or unofficial participation by the Government of the United States in the internal affairs of any foreign country, or any alliance by which the nation might be required to furnish troops, naval aid or financial credits in any way, but favoring co-operation with other Governments to secure the free interchange of agricultural and manufactured products; demanding the repeal of the Esch-Cummins Transportation Act and operation of the railroads "for unified public service instead of private and speculative profit," demanding the removal of administration of the Packer and Stock Yards Act of 1920 from the Department of Agriculture and its future administration by the Federal Trade Commission; demanding "the early exemption from taxes for State and local purposes of improvements in and on farm lands, such as houses, buildings, silos, crops, &c., and taxing unused lands at the same rate as used land of the same sort to prevent land speculation and to facilitate and encourage farm home ownership.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis Acquires Ownership of New York "Evening Post."

Announcement that negotiations had been concluded whereby the ownership of the New York "Evening Post" is acquired by Cyrus H. K. Curtis of Philadelphia was made on Dec. 21 by E. F. Gay, President of the New York Evening Post, Inc., in the following statement:

Edwin F. Gay, President of the New York Evening Post, Inc., announced that at a meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, held this afternoon, the offer of Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis of Philadelphia to purchase the New York "Evening Post" was accepted. A statement by Mr. Curtis will be published on the editorial page of the "Evening Post" to-morrow, Saturday, Dec. 22.

Mr. Curtis, who is the owner of the Philadelphia "Public Ledger," the "Saturday Evening Post," the "Ladies Home Journal" and other publications, announced as follows in the New York "Evening Post" of Dec. 22 his acquisition of ownership of that paper:

NOTICE TO READERS.

By arrangement just completed with the present owners, I shall assume the sole ownership and direction of the New York "Evening Post" on and after Jan. 1 1924.

I know and respect the great traditions of the "Post" reaching back nearly a century and a quarter, and I wish to preserve and if possible strengthen them. I believe that there is room in this community for an evening newspaper which will devote itself exclusively to the business of telling the daily news promptly, accurately, intelligently, and readably without prejudice and without fear of the truth.

To accomplish this purpose the "Post" will have the ablest obtainable local, domestic, and foreign news and editorial staffs, with staff cable and wireless correspondents in all the principal news centres of the world.

CYRUS H. K. CURTIS.

New York, Dec. 22 1923.

It was just about two years ago—in January 1922—that a change in the ownership of the "New York Evening Post" occurred, Thomas W. Lamont (as reported in our issue of Jan. 14 1922, page 162) having then disposed of his stock interests in the paper (acquired in 1918), to a group of citizens. The management at the time Mr. Lamont relinquished his interest was continued unchanged under Mr. Gay. In its account of Mr. Curtis' purchase, the New York "Times" of Dec. 22, said:

The purchase price was not made public. A report was current that Mr. Curtis would pay $600,000 cash and $1,000,000 in notes to Thomas W. Lamont, but no confirmation of this could be obtained from any source. A little less than two years ago Mr. Lamont, who is a partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., sold "The Evening Post" to a syndicate, disposing of the stock but retaining bonds of the corporation. So far as could be learned, the members of the syndicate will receive little return in the present sale for money which they invested to carry on the newspaper.

Mr. Lamont declined to discuss the sale of the newspaper. Mr. Gay also declined to discuss the sale outside of his formal statement. Mr. Curtis, who was in the city earlier in the day, was said to have returned to Philadelphia. It was said at "The Evening Post" office that he would take over the paper just as soon as the necessary papers could be executed.

Mr. Lamont purchased "The Evening Post" from Oswald Garrison Villard and other stockholders on Aug. 1 1918, for $1,000,000. He is understood to have spent a great deal of money in developing the property.

On Dec. 26, incorporation papers of "The New York Evening Post" were filed with County Clerk James A. Donegan. The company will have 20,000 shares of preferred stock at $100 a share and 10,000 shares of common stock without par value. The incorporators are Cyrus H. K. Curtis, John C. Martin, both of 600 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, who subscribed for ten shares, and Hugh Burke of 266 Madison Avenue, who subscribed for the same amount. In addition to Mr. Curtis, Mr. Martin and Mr. Burke, the names of the directors until the first annual meeting are David L. Smiley and Charles A. Tyler, whose addresses are also given as 600 Chestnut, Philadelphia.

The history of the paper is outlined as follows in the Philadelphia "Public Ledger" of Dec. 22.

The "Evening Post" was founded in November 1801 by Alexander Hamilton, John Jay and other leaders of the Federalist Party to counteract the political disasters which their party had suffered the previous year. It is the oldest newspaper in New York City. Originally conceived as a party organ, it gradually underwent the changes of time and expansion until it became one of the most independent papers in the United States.

Its first Editor was William Coleman, a native of Massachusetts and prominent New York attorney. He created a standard of literary excellence that was strengthened in successive years by the efforts of William Cullen Bryant, John Bigelow, Carl Schurz, George P. Morris, Fitz-Greene Halleck, Joseph Rodman Drake, Edwin Lawrence Godkin, Henry Villard and his son, Oswald Garrison Villard. It was the "Post" that served in 1809 as the medium of Washington Irving's ingenious advertisements of his forthcoming "History by Diedrich Knickerbocker." And it was the same paper that first published Drake's patriotic poem, "The American Flag," ten years later.

Hamilton's Early Work.

Although Coleman, who was a personal friend and political adherent of Hamilton, was Editor, Hamilton not only controlled the policy of the paper on all political matters, but was the author of many of its most notable editorials. Some of these were written by his own hand, and whatever time he could spare from his professional duties was given over to the newspaper.

He had daily councils with Coleman, generally at his own home, but sometimes in the "Evening Post" office. After Hamilton's untimely death in July 1804 at the hands of Aaron Burr, Coleman continued to edit the paper. His ability was literary rather than political, and the paper reflected his tastes. Many contributors were attracted during these years and questions of national and State interest were discussed in the columns. Gradually the paper became the favorite journal of the literary classes.

History Under Bryant.

In 1826 William Cullen Bryant became one of its editors, and in the following year a proprietor with Coleman and Michael Burnham, who had been the publisher from the beginning.

Soon afterward the paper began to agitate the question of free trade. It was at that time the only journal north of the Potomac that opposed a protective tariff. In contending against the policy of protection, it gradually fell into a position of hostility to the Administration of John Quincy Adams, and in the election of 1828 it supported Andrew Jackson, who had declared himself in favor of a "judicious" tariff, by which his friends understood him to mean a mitigation of the existing duties.

Bryant became editor-in-chief in 1829, following the death of Coleman. William Liggett, who had earned a wide reputation as a writer through his weekly journal, the "Critic," was engaged as assistant editor. He retired in 1836, and Parke Godwin, who later became Bryant's son-in-law, began his long association with the paper.

When the anti-Abolition riots occurred in 1834, the "Post" advocated free speech and the right of assembling, and, as the lawlessness increased, took bolder ground and insisted that the evils of slavery were so great that the Abolitionists were worthy of praise in striving tor its extinction. It was quite natural, therefore, that the "Post" should support the Republican Party when it was organized in 1856.

The "Post" vigorously defended the war for the Union, and incidentally regained thereby much of the advertising it had lost by its stand on the question of slavery, a loss directly traceable to the fear entertained by many New York merchants that they would offend their Southern customers if they advertised their goods in a paper opposed to slavery.

Early in the war John Bigelow, an associate editor and part proprietor since 1849, sold his interest to Godwin, who retired from active connection with the paper in 1865. Upon the death of Bryant, in 1878, the poet's son-in-law returned as editor.

After the war the paper supported a policy of reconciliation as essential to a stable reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion, and it severely condemned some high-handed acts of the Grant Administration, such as the use of Federal troops to suppress political troubles in Louisiana. It also advocated the resumption of specie payments.

In 1881 the "Post" was reorganized by the late Henry Villard, who purchased the paper from Godwin (then controlling the Bryant interest as well as his own) and Isaac Henderson, for many years the publisher. In accordance with Villard's plan from his conception of the project, Carl Schurz became editor, with E. L. Godkin and Horace White as assistants.

At the same time the "Nation," of which Godkin had been the editor was consolidated with the Post, as its weekly edition.

In the autumn of 1883 Schurz retired from the editorship and was succeeded by Godkin, whose failing health compelled him to sever hisconnection with the "Post" in 1899. Godkin was succeeded by White, who resigned on Jan. 1 1903, and was succeeded by Rollo Ogden.

One of the most notable events in the history of the "Evening Post" under the new management was its opposition to the candidacy of James G. Blaine for the Presidency. It opened the anti-Blaine campaign by an editorial article as early as April 1884, and it contributed largely to the election in the following autumn of Grover Cleveland, whom it supported also in 1888 and 1892. On the financial issue raised by the nomination of Bryan for the Presidency, in 1896, it supported McKinley. It had opposed the McKinley Tariff and the Sherman Silver Bill.

On Aug. 2 1918 it was announced that Oswald Garrison Villard, son of the former publisher, who had inherited the "Evening Post" on his father's death, had sold the paper to Thomas W. Lamont, of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., whose brother, Hammond Lamont, had been its managing editor. The control of the stock Mr. Lamont placed in the hands of a board of three trustees, Theodore N. Vail, President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.; Henry S. Pritchett, President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching; and Ellery Sedgwick, editor of the "Atlantic Monthly."

On Jan. 13 1922 Mr. Lamont announced that he had sold the paper to a group of thirty-four persons. Edwin F. Gay was head of the syndicate, which included Harold Phelps Stokes, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Marshall Field, Finley J. Shepard, George W. Wickersham and Paul M. Warburg.

The "Evening Post" has occupied its present home at 20 Vesey Street opposite old St. Paul's Church in lower Broadway since 1907, when it was moved from the corner of Fulton and Broadway, half a block away.

Death of Frank I. Cobb, Editor of the New York "World."

Frank Irving Cobb, Editor of the New York "World" for the past 12 years, died at his home in this city on Dec. 21 following a long illness. A paragraph in the notice regarding Mr. Cobb's death, appearing in the "World" last Saturday, said:

A leading spirit in the "World's" editorial council for nearly 20 years, Mr. Cobb became editor of this newspaper about 12 years ago, succeeding to the position following the death of its founder, Joseph Pulitzer. Described by the late Henry Watterson as the "strongest writer of the New York press since Horace Greeley," Mr. Cobb came to the "World" when a very young man, quickly attaining distinction.

In addition to the article, Ralph Pulitzer paid the following tribute to his late associate:

In Frank I. Cobb I have lost a tender and devoted friend. Journalism has lost an editor of sheer genius and the nation an American who will leave an emptiness where he stood.

He gave the "World" his love and his life. He gave it his work in a spirit of worship. In the days of his health he spent his magnificent strength without stint in its service. In later days of tired suffering, as long as his ebbing strength could still carry him to his desk, it was his work alone that he found forgetfulness of his pain.

He had a giant body and a giant brain, and the simple directness of a little child. He spent his life fighting wrong and he fought it simply and fiercely, but all the wounds he left healed clean. Everything he handled became simple in his handling of it. Sometimes he would simplify a bewildering situation or a tangled thought with one easy touch of intuitive analysis. Sometimes he would labor with his might on some cunningly elusive subtlety, and in the end his directness would simplify it into surrender.

He thought simply and hated sophistry. He wrote simply and hated florid phrases. He lived simply and hated fuss and feathers. He succeeded simply and became a power and a personality in the United States, writing editorials he did not sign in a paper he did not own.

The simplicity of his mind, the modesty of his heart, the integrity of his spirit lived with him. But they will not die with him. They are already preserved as a bright tradition among those of us who had the honor of working with him and for those who will come after us.

RALPH PULITZER.

Messages, not alone from newspaper men, but from President Coolidge and others prominent in various walks of life, were received by Mrs. Cobb deploring the death of her husband; that of President Coolidge said:

The White House, Washington.

Mrs. Frank Irving Cobb:—

The news of your distinguished husband's death has just reached me. I want you to know of the high esteem in which I have long held him and his work. His death removes one of the great journalists of his time and one of the real powers in shaping American public opinion. My condolences and profoundest sympathy go out to you in your time of great sorrow.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Former President Wilson sent the following message:

It gives me the deepest grief to learn of the death of your gifted husband. I had learned both to admire and to love him. Pray accept my heartfelt sympathy.

WOODROW WILSON.

Governor Alfred E. Smith and former Governor Nathan L. Miller were among the honorary pallbearers. Mr. Cobb was born in Shawnee County, Kansas, Aug. 6 1869.

Inter-State Commerce Commission's Order Authorizing Extension of Virginian Railway—Former Order Reversed.

The recent action of the Inter-State Commerce Commission reversing a former ruling of a committee of the Commission under which the Virginian Railway had been denied permission to construct an extension of its line in Wyoming County, West Virginia, is commented upon at length in the "Manufacturers Record," which has the following to say in the matter:

The full Board of the Inter-State Commerce Commission has reversed the former ruling made by a committee of that Board which forbade the building by the Virginian Railway of a short spur track to a coal property which the owners proposed to develop. When the ruling was announced last spring, based on the alleged fact that there were already too many coal mines in operation in this country with inadequate car equipment for handling the coal of existing mines, the "Manufacturers Record" took the ground very emphatically that this decision undertook to make null and void the Constitution of the United States in that it sought by its power to prevent the development of a coal property and thus practically for the time being destroyed its value.

We said then that notwithstanding the technicality of the law under which the committee acted, the broad principles which should guide the Inter-State Commerce Commission should not permit them to refuse a railroad authority to build a short line in order to reach property to be developed, and that it was not the province of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to decide whether there were too many coal mines in operation or not.

The excuse has been made that the committee in reaching its decision took the ground that the Virginian Railway had made merely a formal request and had presented no argument to show why the privilege of this extension should be granted. In reply to that the "Manufacturers Record" said that as the Virginian Railway had spent $40,000 several years ago and only desired to spend $20,000 more to complete this short track, no one for a moment could imagine that any argument was necessary to secure the approval of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and the application was regarded purely, we presume, as a formal matter merely because the law so required.

At that time we urged the Virginian Railway in the interest of the country as well as for its individual interest to protest against the ruling, and to apply to the full Board of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. This was done, and the full Board has now reversed the decision of last spring and granted that road permission to complete the short spur track.

It is stated that in reaching this decision the Commission declared that evidence had been produced showing conclusively that the railroad would be able to increase its coal tonnage extensively by reason of additional facilities acquired and anticipated, and that present and future public convenience and necessity required the new construction involved, and the railroad was authorized to proceed.

While having the highest opinion for the good judgment in most cases, and the unquestionable integrity of the members of the committee that decided adversely last spring, we have never been able to see any fundamental reason whatever in behalf of the position then taken. The arguments which they have advanced are not to our mind correct in any particular. We do not believe that the law ever intended or that the law as it exists gives any right to the Commission to say that a railroad shall not make an extension of this kind, when in the judgment of its officers a new field for traffic can thereby be developed and an enlarged coal output secured at a lower cost.

If there are too many coal mines in existence as members of the committee have claimed, many of them being unable to mine coal except at a high price, then the economic way in which to change this situation is to permit low cost mines to be opened and in this way gradually eliminate the high cost mines. Any arbitrary attempt to do this by the regulation of railroad building is, we believe, contrary to good judgment, if not contrary to the Constitution itself.

In the detailed report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission explaining the reason for reversing its decision information is given as submitted by the railway company as to the reasons why the road had been hampered in the handling of coal by the railroad strike and the conditions arising therefrom. It is also shown that the company is now building a new coal pier at Sewall's Point, Norfolk, at a cost of $3,250,000, which will more than double the railroad's coal handling capacity at deep water, and that a contract has been made to electrify the line from Mullins, W. Va., to Roanoke, a distance of 134 miles, at a cost of $13,000,000. These are given as the reasons for reversing the decision. There is not a single fact, however, in this statement by the Inter-State Commerce Commission which that Commission could not have learned at the time of the former application if it had been seeking reasons for granting this permission instead of seeking reasons to prevent giving the railroad the authority to build.

The plea of the Inter-State Commerce Commission committee that none of these facts wese presented to it at that time but that merely a formal application was presented without any argument in favor thereof, it seems to us, is a plea of extreme weakness.

If this committee had been eager to get at all facts it could have easily asked the railroad for all of the information that it now quotes as reason for its reversed decision. Or if it had read the "Manufacturers Record" it would have found al lof this information as to electrification of the Virginian's linese and the enlargement of its coal shipping facilities at Norfolk, and of its own knowledge it should have fully appreciated the difficulties under which the road had operated during the railroad strikes. Instead of doing this, however, the committee without investigation, without seeking any argument from the Virginian Railway, without using any of the facts in regard to the conditions which it now mentions and which existed then just as they do now, acted upon preconceived notions that there were too many coal mines in operation and that it had the power to prevent the building of new railroads for the opening of new coal mines.

That position we regarded as extremely inimical to the welfare of the country, and esteeming as personal friends members of the committee who rendered that decision, we regret the necessity of saying that in our opinion they acted without due judgment or consideration for the welfare of the public.

Brief reference to the action of the Commission in authorizing on Dec. 10 "an extension of its Guyandot River branch from its present terminus, 1.25 miles from Elmore, in a westerly direction down Guyandot River, a distance of 1.19 miles, all in Wyoming County, W. Va.," appeared in our issue of Saturday last, page 2772. Noting that the order denying the application had been issued June 25 1923, the Commission in its report of the 10th inst. says:

The applicant filed a petition for rehearing and asked that the case be reopened for the introduction of evidence. The Pocahontas Fuel Co., Inc., asked leave to intervene and for a rehearing. The proceeding was reopened, the Pocahontas Fuel Co. was given leave to intervene, and a further hearing was held. The former record, supplemented by additional evidence introduced at the further hearing, is now before us for consideration. In our previous report we said:

"The applicant is not now, nor has it in the past been, able to furnish the number of cars ordered by the mines already opened and dependent upon it in whole or in part for car supply. During the weekly periods from July 22 1922 to June 9 1923 it in no instance furnished cars in excess of 74% of those required, and during only six weeks was the average percentage in excess of 70%. For 28 weeks of the above period the cars furnished the mines were less than 50% of the requirements. The opening of new mines would not, therefore, increase the coal supply; in fact, it would reduce it unless the applicant's car supply were greatly increased. There are at present more mines in the country than are consistent with the most efficient use of carriers' equipment, and their aggregate capacity exceeds greatly the country's demand. With the applicant not now in a position to adequately serve the mines already dependent upon it for cars, the opening of new mines would necessarily mean that the already inadequate car supply would be made more inadequate because of the necessity of placing cars at the new mines. This makes more difficult the process of distribution, as the cars in service can not be handled as efficiently, not can as much coal be transported in the aggregate, as if fewer mines were demanding service."

The applicant admits that it was unable to furnish an adequate car supply during the period covered by our former report. It claims that this inability was due to abnormal conditions; that the deficiency in its service was less than indicated; and that under normal conditions it would have been able to furnish an adequate car supply. The evidence shows that from early in April to Sept. 1 1922 the strike of bituminous coal miners in union fields caused an extraordinary demand for coal from mines on the applicant's line, which were generally worked by non-union labor. This not only increased the demand for cars, but resulted in sending an unusually large percentage of the applicant's cars to foreign lines for movement over exceptionally long distances, thus slowing down the return of the empties. About 86% of the coal hauled by the applicant is usually moved to tidewater over its own line. It appears that normally the applicant should have about 700 coal cars off its line, but that this number was largely exceeded during the period under consideration. From August 1922 to February 1923, inclusive, the average number of the applicant's coal cars off its line was 1,842, and the average number of foreign coal cars on its rails was 154. From March to June 1923, inclusive, the figures were, respectively, 1,294 and 134.

On July 1 1922 the strike of the federated shop crafts began, and 96% of the applicant's forces employed in maintaining equipment quit work. It is represented that normal working conditions in the shops were not restored until March 25 1923 and that during the strike it was impossible to maintain equipment properly. Just east of the coal fields there is a 2.07% grade 14 miles long ascending east. Freight trains are operated over this grade with the help of heavy locomotives, whose maintenance requires great mechanical skill. The applicant owns 10 such locomotives. While the strike was in progress it directed its best efforts toward keeping them in serviceable condition, but found it impossible to do so, and its ability to furnish cars to the mines was limited by its ability to move the loaded cars.

In 1922-1923 the applicant owned 1,000 coal cars of 120 tons capacity, designed and used solely to transport coal to tidewater. During this period it became necessary to withdraw from service 490 of these cars for heavy repairs. The repairs proved insufficient and the cars were again withdrawn long enough to mark them with a line limiting loading to 80 tons. For some time these cars were operated at two-thirds of original capacity, but they were later restored to full capacity by fitting them with new trucks. The withdrawal of these cars from service and their operation at reduced capacity is estimated to have cost 123,767 car days between April 1922 and September 1923. It appears that the applicant owned 3,500 drop-bottom cars, of which 2,134 required extraordinary repairs in the year ending June 30 1923. The applicant estimates that these two classes of extraordinary car repairs diminished the annual carrying capacity of its coal cars 20.4%.

It is contended that until Mar. 19 1923 the demands for coal cars were based on inflated mine ratings made under the car service rules contained in C. S. 31, Revised, being the rules adopted under the United States Railroad Administration, and that consequently the percentage of car supply was shown much lower than it should have been. The applicant claims that the total daily rating of mines on its line, under this system of mine ratings was sometimes as high as 1,820 cars, while the greatest number of cars ever loaded in one day did not exceed 1,050. The normal daily loading, with good conditions as to markets and car supply on both the applicant's line and the Cheasapeake & Ohio Railway, is about 750 cars. The record apparently warrants the conclusion that the demand for cars generally exceeds the needs of shippers. More than one-half of the mines on the applicant's line, with much more than one-half of the total output, are served by more than one railroad. The other railroad, except in the case of one mine, is the Chesapeake & Ohio. The joint mines are rated at full capacity by each railroad, but their tonnage is normally divided about equally between the two. The probable requirement of cars from the applicant at any time is therefore less than 75% of its total mine ratings. The applicant claims that its car supply has been reasonably adequate except for the period covered by our former report.

The amount of coal loaded at West Virginia mines on the applicant's lines increased from 2,598,338 tons in 1911 to 7,612,309 tons in 1920. The tonnage for 1923 is estimated at 8,500,000 tons. The tractive power of locomotives owned on Jan. 1 1922 has been increased 16.4% by the purchase of 15 Mallet locomotives, which were delivered between July 1 and Sept. 1 1923. On April 13 1923 the applicant ordered 1,000 steel coal cars of 120 tons capacity and 500 of 70 tons capacity, and it is represented that these cars will add 30% to its coal car capcity. A new coal pier is under construction at Sewall's Point, which will more than double the applicant's dumping capacity at deep water. This pier will cost $3,250,000 and is expected to be ready for operation by June 1 1924. A contract has been made to electrify the line from Mullens, W. Va., to Roanoke, Va., a distance of 134 miles, which includes the 14 miles of 2.07% adverse grade. This project will cost approximately $13,000,000. The electrification will probably be completed early in 1925, and it is predicted that it will immediately increase the carrying capacity about 60%. The record contains further testimony tending to show a progressive policy in providing facilities for a large increase in coal traffic.

The applicant represents that its railroad was designed primarily to transport coal, and was constructed at heavy cost across a territory affording but a light general traffic; that coal constitutes about 90% of its traffic, and much of the rest is dependent upon the coal mining industry. In its opinion the future prosperity of its property requires it to develop the resources of the coal fields.

The line which the applicant desires to complete is a part of its Guyandot River branch, which was planned to extend from Elmore, a point on its main line, down Guyandot River to Gilbert, W. Va., a distance of 42.6 miles. This line was located in 1902-1903. About 90% of the right-of-way has been acquired, the deeds thereto bearing dates from June 1903 to June 1908. On May 11 1917 the applicant made a contract with the Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries Co., Inc., now known as the Pocahontas Fuel Co., Inc., hereinafter called the coal company, by which it agreed to build an extension or branch from its main line at or near Elmore down Guyandot River to the coal operations of the coal company. The applicant undertook to begin construction about June 1 1917 and to complete it as soon as practicable. The purpose of the proposed construction was to exploit the coal underlying about 6,000 acres of land leased to the coal company. Under this contract the applicant constructed the roadbed of its Guyandot River branch for a distance of 2.55 miles from Elmore, but laid the main track a distance of 1.26 miles only. This, with the necessary sidings, was found sufficient to serve the development of the coal company as then carried out under temporary plans designed to speed production. The present application is for authority to extend this track 1.19 miles along the roadbed heretofore constructed. It is shown that the economical exploitation of the coal company's property requires that about one-half of it shall be mined from a new tipple; and that the coal company, in the early development of its property, built two villages and made other expenditures in accordance with a plan for the development of its whole property, with two or more tipples. It appears that the coal company cannot continue economically its present method of developing its properties, and it desires to erect a new tipple at a site fixed in its original plans, to be served by the proposed extension. It did considerable grading at this site in 1917, and in February 1923 let a contract for the construction of a bridge across Guyandot River to carry mine cars from one of its tracts to the proposed tipple. Apparently the coal company, if deprived of the opportunity to work its properties from the proposed new tipple, would lose the value of large expenditures it has made, and would probably lose the value of some of its leases.

The coal company mines only what is known as Pocahontas smokeless coal, which has certain special properties. Many of the mines in the Pocahontas field were opened before 1900. It is stated that their production is declining and that new mines are not being opened rapidly enough to supply the deficiency. The coal company represents that it has expended large sums in building up a market for its coal, including a very considerable foreign demand, and that it can hold the position it has acquired only by having the capacity to supply the demands of its markets. It leases about 30,000 acres of coal-bearing lands and operates 15 mines. From 1913 to 1922, inclusive, the average annual output of all of its mines was 2,947,645 tons. It asserts that it is necessary to open new mines to maintain its normal tonnage and to permit a reasonable increase, or at least some elasticity of production, to care for varying market demands. The company's producing mines reached comparatively full development in 1917, and it is not expected that their output will be materially increased.

The construction cost is estimated by the applicant at $63,012, of which $40,312 has been expended for work done in 1917 and 1918. Gross system revenues to be derived from traffic created by the proposed construction are estimated by the applicant at $226,000 for the first year, increasing to $1,130,000 the fifth year. After the first five years the minimum annual revenues are expected to equal those of the fifth year. The increase in system net railway operating income is estimated at $77,309 the first year, and $393,234 the fifth year. The construction cost will be financed temporarily with treasury funds, but it is contemplated that the treasury will be reimbursed later by the issue of bonds under the applicant's first mortgage to an amount equal to the construction cost, but not exceeding $50,000 a mile. It is proposed to begin construction as soon as authority therefor is received, and to complete the line within one month thereafter.

Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity require the construction by the applicant of the extension of its line of railroad described in the application. A certificate to that effect will be issued.

Train Service Men to Continue Efforts for Wage Increase.

The brotherhoods of locomotive engineers, firemen and trainmen, which recently presented demands to the railroads for a wage increase of 12%, announced on Dec. 26 that negotiations begun several weeks ago will be carried to a conclusion. This announcement was said to have been occasioned by reports that the settlement reached by engineres on the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific with that carrier, on the basis of last year's pay, might be misconstrued as indicating the attitude or probable course of negotiations by the brotherhoods with other roads. The brotherhoods also declared emphatically that there was no foundation for widely circulated reports that the train service men were preparing to strike. In confirming the announcement of the Rock Island management several days ago that its engineers had signed a contract for another year at last year's wages, Warren S. Stone, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, explained that no increase had been asked for by the engineers on that system. The settlement applied only to the engineers, he said. "That will have no bearing on our negotiations with the New York Central Lines or any other road," Mr. Stone said, "but the railroad managements are trying to use it. We will return to New York Jan. 3 to resume conferences with the New York Central Lines for wage increases where they were adjourned for the Christmas holidays. "The Engineers' Brotherhood this year made no concerted wage demands and allowed the organization of each road to handle their wage question."

D. B. Robertson, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who is handling the wage demands of his men jointly with Mr. Stone and the engineers, said, according to the daily papers, that the firemen on the Rock Island had not agreed on a settlement. Demands for increases on that line have been filed, he continued, and "the Rock Island firemen do not intend to settle for the old wage." The trainmen and conductors, who are handling their wage negotiations with the various railroads together, will go back into conference with the New York Central system in New York shortly after the first of the year, according to W. G. Lee, President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The attitude of the railroads on the wage situation was indicated in the following from the New York "Times" on Dec. 28:

The opinion among railway officials here yesterday as to the possibility of a general wage settlement with the Big Four Brotherhoods on the basis of that made by the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific was in direct contrast to that expressed by Warren S. Stone, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Cleveland, Wednesday. Mr. Stone declared that he did not consider that the settlement with the Rock Island on a basis of last year's wages would have any effect on the rest of the roads. The executives, however, pointed out that the New York Central had practically effected a settlement along lines very much similar to those of the Rock Island contract. This will be based on the old wage scale, with either side permitted to call for a cancellation of the contract on thirty days' notice.

Four or five other railroads, one executive in close touch with the labor matters reported yesterday, have practically reached similar settlements with their men. In each case the men said that last year's wage scale was satisfactory provided it was approved by the national officers.

Railroad Brotherhood's Suit Seeking Recognition from Pennsylvania RR. Dismissed by the United States District Court—No Authority to Enforce Labor Board's Orders, Says Judge Dickinson—Decision Appealed.

The suit of the Brotherhood of Clerks, Freight Handlers and Station Employees of the Pennsylvania RR. to compel the road officials to recognize their delegates in conferences on wages and conditions was dismissed by the Federal Court at Philadelphia on Dec. 21. The Brotherhood charges the railroad and its officials were participants in an unlawful conspiracy to obstruct the orders of the United States Railroad Labor Board, which called upon the company to recognize the Brotherhood in disputes over wages and conditions. In dismissing the suit Judge Dickinson declared the Federal Court had no authority to enforce the Board's orders. The decision of Judge Dickinson upholds the company in its refusal to recognize the Brotherhood as a union of the men. With regard to the decision of the Court Associated Press dispatches had the following to say:

In dismissing the action of the Railroad Brotherhood against the Pennsylvania RR. to-day Federal Judge Dickinson held that the courts had no authority to enforce the Labor Board's orders and that the only way the Board's mandates could be carried out was in the "court of public opinion." The Board itself, Judge Dickinson declared, had no power to execute its own orders, "and no power has been delegated to the courts to have the decrees carried out."

In conclusion the opinion said: "The judgment it (the Labor Board) may render may be acceptable to neither party, but each has the legal right to accept it or refuse to follow it. If the parties refuse acquiescence all that the Board can then do is to give publicity to its ruling, leaving the parties to to their willingess to adjust the dispute under the guidance and perhaps the stress of public opinion, influenced, or it may be aroused, by the opinion of the Board."

The Brotherhood of Clerks, Freight Handlers and Station Employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad filed notice on Dec. 22 of an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals from the decision of Federal District Judge Dickinson dismissing the brotherhood's suit to compel the railroad and its officials to recognize the organization as the qualified representative of the men in negotiating wages and working conditions.

Call for National Conference on Transportation.

A call for a national conference on transportation, to be held in Washington, January 9, 10 and 11, was issued on December 25, by Julius H. Barnes, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It is announced that 200 leaders in agricultural, commercial, educational, financial and industrial fields have been invited to take part in its deliberations and in the discussion of problems involved in the development of an adequate national transportation system. It is expected that every state will be represented at the conference. The personnel will include spokesmen for national farm and labor organizations, public officials, editors and publishers, heads of large commercial and industrial corporations, bankers and insurance company officials, and executives of railway systems, steamship and motor transport companies. In calling the conference Mr. Barnes said:

Congress embarked upon a constructive policy for the development of transportation by the enactment of the Transportation Act of 1920 but there is much more to be done if this policy is to be made effective.

The expanding transportation needs of America can be easily visualized and must be resolved so that national wealth and individual production may be marketed into consumption. All production, agricultural and industrial, is dependent on adequate and ready distribution.

National income, earned only through transportation and distribution, rises thus:

1890	$12,000,000,000	1920	$60,000,000,000
1900	18,000,000,000	1930	What?
1910	32,000,000,000	1940	What?

Representative of all sections of our people are asked to this conference to express their sober judgment on questions raised by the past eight months' preliminary studies of the Special Committees working under the auspices of the National Chamber of Commerce.

What is the probable future of transportation growth?

What principles of regulation, federal and State, protect the public interest and yet encourage expansion?

What policies promise to attract the necessary capital and credit?

What principles of rate-making hold most fairly the scale of relative rates?

Where does highway and motor transport promise its highest service?

How can water highways contribute their fullest service?

Within what formula can all transportation develop best the stimulant of private initiative and enterprise in the very interest of expanding service and the utmost economy of operation?

The idea of a conference which would consider the problem of transportation from the national viewpoint was first suggested at an informal meeting, last January, of representatives of various transportation and business interests, attended also in an unofficial capacity by Secretary Hoover. In accordance with a resolution adopted at this meeting the President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States appointed six composite committees to undertake the study of as many phases of the transportation problem with the aid, so far as available, of the agencies of the Government and of private organizations. The reports of these committees have been completed and made public. They deal with:

(1) Government Relations to Railroad Transportation;
(2) Railroad Consolidation;
(3) Readjustment of Relative Freight Rates;
(4) Relation of Highway and Motor Transport to Other Transportation Agencies;
(5) Development of Waterways and Co-ordination of Rail and Waterway Service;
(6) Taxation of Transportation Agencies.

Each committee submitted a number of findings and recommendations which will serve as the basis of discussion at the forthcoming conference from the point of view of the various sections represented and of the various interests directly concerned in transportation.

New Issue of Stock of The Finance Co. of America.

The unsold portion of an issue of $500,000 8% cumulative convertible sinking fund preferred stock of The Finance Company of America at Baltimore is offered by Westheimer & Co. of Baltimore at $26 50, with adjustment of dividend, yielding over 7.50%. The stock, par value $25, is redeemable at $27 50. The dividends, which are payable quarterly, Jan. 15, April 15, July 15 and Oct. 15, are exempt from normal Federal income tax. The following is the capitalization of The Finance Company:

	Authorized.	To Be Presently Outstanding.
7% Cumulative Sinking Fund Preferred Stock	$250,000	$250,000
8% Cumulative Sinking Fund Convertible Preferred Stock (this issue)	500,000	500,000
Common Stock, Class "A" (held for conversion of 8% Convertible Preferred Stock)	250,000
Common Stock, Class "B"	250,000	250,000

The following information is credit to Louis Eliasberg, President of the Company:

Convertible Preferred.—This stock, which is subject only to the 7% preferred stock, has preference both as to assets and dividends over the common stock. The holders of this stock are entitled to a fixed cumulative dividend at the rate of 8% per annum.

Convertibility.—Convertible any time before redemption at the holder's option into one share of Class "A" common stock for each two shares of 8% convertible preferred surrendered, with appropriate changes in the conversion basis in the event of the increase of the Class "B" common stock, to insure the maintenance of the proper ratio.

Earnings.—The company's net earnings for the eleven months ending Nov. 30 1923, after deduction of preferred dividend, were at the rate of more than twice the dividend requirements of the convertible preferred stock to be outstanding. However, after giving effect to the sale of the convertible preferred stock, the company should immediately save in interest, approximately $35,000 a year plus present earnings, which should equal more than 24% on the entire amount of 8% convertible preferred stock to be outstanding, and does not take into consideration any additional earnings by reason of the introduction of increased working capital and normal growth of the company's business.

Issuance of New Stock of Commercial Credit Co. of Baltimore.

Announcement was made on Dec. 20 by A. E. Duncan, Chairman of the Board, that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Commercial Credit Co. of Baltimore has been called for Jan. 3 1924 to pass upon certain resolutions of the board of directors at a special meeting on Dec. 19 respecting the issuance of new stock. Stockholders have been requested to endorse an amendment of the charter of the company whereby the present authorized common capital stock of 160,000 shares, par value $25 ($4,000,000 present par value) shall be increased to 480,000 shares of no par value, providing, however, that at all times the book value of said common shares shall continue as at present in being equal to at least the aggregate par value of either issue of preferred stock then outstanding, and that dividends in excess of 80 cents per share in any year may not be paid on the new no par value common stock unless after the payment thereof the book value of the no par value common stock be at least 150% of the par value of the Class "B" preferred stock then outstanding. The announcement of Mr. Duncan also says:

Subject to such approval and ratification, the board of directors have sold to Robert Garrett & Sons, Baltimore; Spencer Trask & Co., New York and Boston, and Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co., Chicago and New York 40,000 shares ($1,000,000 par value) preferred 7%; and to Robert Garrett & Sons 40,000 shares ($1,000,000 par value) Class B preferred 8%; and 42,000 shares of new no par value common stock, upon 14,000 shares of which the company retains a limited option for future corporate use. The company is withholding and will offer the remaining 6,000 shares of no par value common stock to its employees and to those of its affiliations at $22 50 flat per share.

To properly protect the present equity of common stock now outsanding in adjustment with the additional no par value common stock about to be sold, the directors, at a special meeting on Dec. 19 1923 declared a 20% dividend in common stock, payable on or before Jan. 21 1924, to common stockholders of record Dec. 21 1923.

Should stockholders approve the plan, each share of common stock of the present par value of $25 will be exchanged by the company for three shares of the new no par value common stock, and from Jan. 1 1924 the present dividend of 16% per annum on the common stock, par value $25, will be changed to $1 50 per share per annum on the new no par value stock.

Subject to approval by stockholders, the new stock will shortly be offered to stockholders with the right to take one share of preferred 7% stock at $25 per share plus accrued dividend, and one share of Class B 8% preferred stock at $26 per share plus accrued dividend, for each nine shares of all issues of stock of record Dec. 21 1923.

Stockholders shall also have the option to take one share of no par value common stock at $22 50 flat per share for each three shares taken of preferred and Class "B" preferred combined. The terms and conditions upon which the stock will be offered to the public will be announced later.

In announcing on Dec. 27 the offering of the new stock on Dec. 28, Robert Garrett & Sons said:

We have purchased, with Spencer Trask & Co., New York, and Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co., New York and Chicago, $1,000,000 (40,000 shares, $25 par value) Commercial Credit Co. 7% cumulative preferred stock, and independent of these two associates we have purchased $1,000,000 (40,000 shares, $25 par value) 8% class "B" preferred stock and 48,000 shares no-par-value common stock of this company.

We and our associates in the first-mentioned issue have to-day syndicated the $1,000,000 7% preferred with dealers in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and independent of that syndicate we have syndicated with dealers in Baltimore and other cities the $1,000,000 8% preferred. These issues will be publicly offered on Friday the 28th inst. for subscription, subject to allotment, and to the prior rights of stockholders, the price on the 7% preferred being $25 and accrued dividend per share, and on the 8% preferred $26 and accrued dividend per share. Subscribers to either or both of these issues are offered the opportunity to purchase common stock at $22 50 per share in the ratio of one share of Common for each three shares of either preferred allotted against their subscription.

Renewed Purchase of United States Securities by Federal Reserve Banks Expected.

Renewed purchasing of Government securities in the open market by the Federal Reserve banks on a considerable scale was expected on Dec. 3 to result from the meeting of the Federal Reserve Board with its special committee on open market operations, said special advices from Washington to the "Journal of Commerce" that day, which added:

The Reserve system's holdings of Government securities were found to be almost at a minimum.

The open market committee, which includes in its membership Governor Strong of the New York Reserve Bank and Governor Harding, of the Boston Reserve Bank, the former Governor of the Board, met today with the Board and was understood to have gone over the Government security holdings of the various Reserve banks in the light of the probable extent of future purchases under the system's uniform open market policy.

May Obviate Rate Change.

Open market operations of the Reserve system are particularly important in that their effect holds the possibility of producing results which obviate a necessity for a change in rediscount rates.

According to the Board's latest reports, as of Nov. 30, the entire holdings of Government securities of the twelve Reserve banks is only about $84,000,000, which is very near the low point for these assets, as compared with about $300,000,000 on approximately the same date last year. Moreover, probably as much as $50,000,000 of the present holdings of Government securities represent bonds which the banks would be virtually unable to sell except at a loss, as bonds taken to secure circulation are included in the total holdings.

Hence the shelves of the Reserve banks are getting bars of marketable Government securities and it is expected that the banks will shortly resume purchasing to replenish their stocks. Purchases probably will be devoted in the main to Treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Holdings of Acceptances.

Holdings of bankers' acceptances by the Reserve banks aggregate the respectable figure of $289,000,000, as compared with $259,000,000 a year ago, but sales of these bills on any appreciable scale would probably involve a change in the rate, so that if the Reserve banks are to continue the free use of the uniform market policy it will be necessary to stock up on open Government securities.

Despite the failure of the Federal Reserve Council at its recent conference with the Reserve Board to discuss the rediscount rate levels, there is a feeling in some quarters that a reduction of rates is in order. However, a resumption of purchasing in the open market by the Reserve banks would result in more money being put out on the market, or, in other words, the extension of credit facilities by the Reserve banks in the nature of an equivalent to a reduction in rates.

Commenting on the expected resumption of purchases of Government securities by the Federal Reserve banks, the "Journal of Commerce" had the following to say editorially in its issue of Dec. 5:

Reserve Bank Policies.

Unofficial announcement is now made that our Federal Reserve system will resume the purchasing of Government securities in the open market. Its holdings of this class of investments have been considerably reduced within recent months, during the so-called crop moving period. Now that period is drawing to a close, and it is evidently intended to use the funds which are released through the payment of paper in buying Government bonds and Treasury notes. This is the same plan that has been followed in former years, and there is no difference in principle between what is now said to be planned and what has been done at other times.

The question whether the policy so continued is or is not wise still remains open for decision, perhaps more subject to doubt than ever before. Open market operations are usually undertaken by foreign central banks for the purpose of affecting or controlling discount and interest rates. They are, as a rule, made to bear upon the commercial paper current in the market, including bankers' acceptances and other forms of quick and unmistakably liquid obligations. Thus the central bank enters the discount market and becomes a factor therein, either pushing funds into current use by buying paper or withdrawing them by selling such paper or refusing to renew it when it reaches maturity. The method has been found in normal times effective and satisfactory for its purpose.

The apparent plan of the Federal Reserve system is that of letting its open market operations deal chiefly with Government securities, which it buys from holders or sells to them as circumstances and its own necessities require. It wants, among other motives, to earn enough to pay the heavy overhead charges which were developed through the salary and building program of the war and post-war years. According to some careful observers this means that about $1,000,000,000 per annum must be kept steadily at work in order to provide the necessary income. Last spring the system was fairly well burdened with Government bonds and notes, whereupon the Federal Reserve Board announced an open market policy. Circumstances have apparently shown that this policy consisted in getting rid of the bonds and notes referred to, just as the reported plan at the present time is to take them back again. Obviously this is a very different proceeding, and one which is actuated by a theory of banking quite different, from that of the foreign central institutions.

When the Reserve banks buy or sell Government bonds they do in a certain sense take funds out of, or put them into, immediate use. Their effect, however, is quite different from that produced by the foreign banks, because they carry on these operations with bond holders rather than with makers or owners of commercial obligations. They furnish money for speculation or investment, or they withdraw it from those objects, but they do not supply it to or withdraw it from those who are using it in actual business, except, of course, indirectly. Such an open market policy, whether it be undertaken in order to earn expenses or simply to keep current funds actively at work, may produce business results quite different from those contemplated by bankers who in the past have developed the open the past have developed the open market system of operation. They are far more likely to be influential in advancing or depressing securities than in enlarging or reducing the funds at the service of business. To be sure, many foreign banks have fallen into the practice of using their spare cash in thus operating in the bonds and notes of their respective governments. But the practice is recognized as a bad result of the war, rather than as a method to be maintained or even defended.

Unquestionably the time is not far distant when we shall have to decide whether the Reserve banks are authorized, or can be so managed, as to engage in real open market transactions with the design of facilitating actual commercial business. As things stand the typical Reserve bank is—so far as its larger members permit—being more and more operated like any ordinary bank, with a view to making money and to keeping its funds "safe." Both are worthy and desirable objects, but they are not those for which a Reserve or central bank exists, nor is it true that in the effort to cover expenses the Reserve banks do wisely in simply going into and out of the bond market. How unfortunate is such an attitude as that which is to be adopted may be inferred from the suggestion that the so-called open market policy now in view is to be a sufficient cause for avoiding any changes in rates. If it be true that this policy will, in fact, avoid proposed reductions in rates at this moment the outcome may well give ground for satisfaction just now. The general objection to the use of this Government bond plan to avoid those changes in rates which ought to be made remains as positive as ever.

Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Co-operative Trust Company to Begin Business in New York To-day.

Announcement that a new labor banking institution, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Co-operative Trust Co., will begin business to-day (Dec. 29), was made on Dec. 16 by Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The new institution will be located in a new building at Seventh Ave. and 33d St. In announcing its forthcoming opening Mr. Stone said:

The opening of the bank will be of especial interest to the small depositor, because it is a step in profit sharing that it destined to work a considerable change in the savings habits of the people.

We will distribute the bank's profits among the depositors after operating expenses, a limited dividend and a substantial surplus are laid aside.

The new institution is the first trust company to be established by organized labor in New York. Its creation it is stated, will not affect the affiliation which has existed for some time between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Empire Trust Co. Mr. Stone is President of the new trust company, which has a capital of $500,000 and surplus of $250,000.

Another labor bank—the Bank of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union will open for business, on Jan. 5 at Fifth Ave. and 21st St.

H. J. Haas Made Chairman of Legislative Committee, National Bank Division, A. B. A.

Harry J. Haas, Vice-President of the First National Bank, Philadelphia, has been appointed Chairman of the Federal Legislation Committee of the National Bank Division of the American Bankers Association. Mr. Haas succeeds Waldo Newcomer, who resigned, owing to the National Exchange Bank of Baltimore having merged with the Atlantic Trust Co. under the title of Atlantic Exchange Bank & Trust Co., and thus having gone out of the National bank system. This, it is pointed out, is one more defection from the National bank system, evidencing the need of legislation which will permit a national bank to continue its national charter and be in a position to compete with State banks.

Rumania Restores Limited Freedom of Petroleum Trade.

Paris Fixes Steamer Rates in Dollars—French Lines Make This Exclusive Standard—British Companies Follow.

The New York "Evening Post" announced the following from Paris, Dec. 3:

The American dollar has been established as the exclusive standard for fixing steamship rates from French ports to the United States by all the trans-Atlantic liners having offices in Paris, including the Government-subsidized French line, the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, which refuses to quote passenger tariffs in francs even to French nationals. The British companies with offices here are also quoting rates in dollars, to the exclusion of sterling. The arrangement came into effect December 1.

The New York Stock Exchange membership of Charles A. Owens was reported sold this week to Charles Everett Tandy for a consideration stated as $82,000 and that of Emanuel J. Heilner to Herman S. Schwabacher also for $82,000, and unchanged figure from the last preceding transaction.

Charles Cason, Assistant Vice-President of the Chemical National Bank of New York, and Senator Selden P. John Moody, President of Moody's Investors Service, addressed the Foreign Trade Forum of the National Association of Credit Men at its meeting on Dec. 21 on the subject of the "Adjustment of Government Debts." Mr. Moody referred to the subject as one of the most important, if not the most important, factor in the economic situation of European nations. In 1921 he published an authoritative book on "The Remaking of Europe." The National Foreign Trade Council, the Export Managers' Club of New York, International Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. A. and the Merchants' Association of New York were invited to participate in the meeting, which was held at the Aldine Club, 200 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Plans to increase the capital of the Ironbound Trust Co. of Newark, N. J., from $300,000 to $500,000 will be acted upon by the stockholders of the institution at a special meeting to be held Jan. 8. It is proposed to offer the $200,000 of new stock to existing holders at par, $100. Besides the present capital of $300,000 the institution has $300,000 surplus and $725,000 undivided profits. With its increased the capital the company will have a surplus of $500,000, making the combined capital and surplus $1,000,000. We are advised that it has not been decided definitely when subscription rights will be sent to the stockholders but it will presumably be within a few days after the special meeting of the stockholders, provided, of course, that favorable action is taken at that meeting.

The controlling stock interest in the Red Bank Trust Co. of Red Bank, N. J., has been purchased by Charles Allen Jr., George Hance Patterson, Frank McMahon, Benjamin J. Parker, Sigmund Eisner and John Enright, directors of the Second National Bank of Red Bank. It is announced that there will be no material change in policy or personnel.

Announcement was made in Buffalo on Wednesday, Dec. 26, by officials of the Lafayette National Bank and the Buffalo Trust Co. of a proposed union of the institutions. Jules DeWaele, Jr., was appointed a director of the Drovers & Merchants National Bank of Philadelphia on Dec. 18, succeeding Fred Hasenfus, Jr., who resigned. On Dec. 11 C. Albert Kuehnle was appointed a director of the bank, succeeding Jacob Rollick, resigned.

Resolutions recording their sense of loss suffered in the death of Edward R. McKee, Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank of Chillicothe, Ohio, were adopted by the directors of the bank on Dec. 19. Mr. McKee, whose death occurred on Dec. 14, had been in the service of the bank for more than 60 years. He was appointed to his first official post in the institution on Jan. 1 1878, when he was elected Assistant Cashier; on May 21 1883 he was promoted to the Cashiership; on Aug. 1 1905 he was chosen a director and made Vice-President; he held the latter position until Mar. 6 1923, when he was selected Chairman of the Board, in which position he served at the time of his death.

A special press dispatch from Barnesville, Ohio, on Dec. 13 to the Pittsburgh "Gazette" reported that the shortage in the accounts of the defunct National Bank of Barnesville was swelled to $850,000 on that day (Dec. 13) when it was revealed that more than $100,000 in bonds were missing from the safety deposit boxes. The boxes were opened and examined, it was said, by W. T. Hastings of Toledo, Assistant State Comptroller. Mention of the bank's failure following the death of O. P. Norris, its Cashier, was made in these columns in our issues of Nov. 17 and Dec. 1.

Special meetings of the shareholders of the National City Bank of Chicago and the National Bank of the Republic of that city will be held on Jan. 22 1924 to ratify the proposed amalgamation of the institutions under the title of the latter. The First National Bank of Fergus County at Lewistown, Mont., on Dec. 10 failed to open. The following special press dispatch from Lewistown on that date to the Helena, Mont., "Record-Herald" reported the failure as follows:

The First National Bank of Fergus County failed to open its doors for business this morning. Over-extension of credits and a decrease in deposits are said to be the immediate causes of the closing. The institution's liabilities are approximately $4,600,000.

The First National of Fergus was formed last spring by the consolidation of the First National Bank of Lewistown and the Bank of Fergus County. Its capital was $300,000 and its last statement showed a surplus of $100,000. W. J. Johnson is President of the closed institution, and Oliver W. Belden, Chairman of the board of directors.

No official statement regarding the closing has been issued. At the time of the merger it was announced that both banks were in a healthy financial condition and the move was made for reasons of economy only.

The First State Bank of Shelby, Mont., one of the institutions which closed their doors in July last following the Dempsey-Gibbons fight, will re-open to-day (Dec. 29) according to recent newspaper advices from that place. The failure of the bank was noted in these columns in our issue of July 21.

Louis E. Dehlendorf, Cashier of the Cass Avenue Bank and formerly President of the Associated Bankers, will be President of the new Twelfth Street National Bank, which has been formed in St. Louis with a capital of $300,000 (instead of $250,000, as originally planned) and a surplus of $60,000. The organization of the bank has been undertaken by interests identified with the Lafayette South Side Bank. The new institution expects to begin business about Jan. 15, in temporary quarters adjoining the site of its permanent location at the northwest corner of Twelfth Street and Chouteau Avenue. The directors of the Twelfth Street National will be: Richard H. Blanke, Secretary and Treasurer of the C. F. Blanke Tea & Coffee Co. and the St. Louis Tin & Sheet Metal Working Co.; C. C. F. Meyer, President of the Lafayette-South Side Bank; P. J. Pauley, President of the Pauley Jail Building Co., and Hugo F. Dehlendorf, President; A. C. F. Meyer, 1st Vice-President; H. W. Krieger, Cashier.

Discovery of alleged irregularities of Joseph S. Carr, Cashier of the Chippewa Bank of St. Louis, caused the closing of the institution by State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh on Dec. 21. In a statement issued at that time Gottlieb Eyermann, Jr., the President of the bank, stated that the accused Cashier had admitted he was short in his accounts and had returned $34,000, but that the exact shortage had not been ascertained. According to the St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" of Dec. 22, the Cashier's irregularities probably amount to more than $200,000. It was stated in that issue that Mr. Carr denies a shortage exists in fact, and on the night of Dec. 21 "pledged assets val ed by him at more than $1,000,000 to protect the depositors." Thomas R. Harlan, attorney for the accused Cashier, was reported by the "Globe-Democrat" as saying:

Carr is admitting no shortage exists. There may have been some irregularities which attracted the attention of the bank examiners and resulted in an order for a closing down of business, but so far as I know there has been no wilful manipulation of funds by Carr to the detriment of the bank. It is quite natural, of course, that suspicion is directed his way, and for that reason he has dumped everythi g ihe has into the hopper in an effort to afford every protection possible. He proposes to give full assurance to the authorities that he will be available at any time they wish to question him, and for that reason I am willing to surrender him to-day on a common law bond if Mr. Sidener (Circuit Attorney) so directs. Carr is accepting the full responsibility and is taking it standing up.

The Chippewa Bank has a combined capital and surplus of $300,000. And, it is said, according to a statement issued Sept. 14 under the call of the St. Louis Clearing House, of which it was an associate member, its deposits were $2,483,-132.

A small Missouri institution, the Park Bank of Parkville, with total resources of about $447,711, has been closed by its board of directors on account of "frozen loans."

The Washington County National Bank of Johnson City, Tenn., for which a charter was recently issued by the Comptroller of the Currency, began business on Dec. 7. The new bank, which has a capital of $100,000, is a conversion of the City Savings & Trust Co. W. F. Carter is President and F. L. Wallace, Cashier.

In addition to paying its employees the regular quarter bonus dividend on their annual salaries, the board of directors of the Hibernia Bank & Trust Co. of New Orleans surprised four of its officers and employees by announcing their promotions. Benjamin Roach, heretofore head Discount Teller, and Irving S. Edell, heretofore Chief Clerk of the bank, were both elected Assistant Cashiers. Robert F. Schwaner, former Manager of the Transit Department, was made Chief Clerk to fill the vacancy created by the promotion of Mr. Edell, and W. Wilbur Pope was appointed Manager of the Credit Department. Each of these changes represents, it is stated, a distinct promotion given in recognition of long service and good work faithfully and consistently performed.

The 1924 annual meeting of the California Bankers Association will be held in the Yosemite Valley. The dates are June 4, 5, 6 and 7 and the headquarters will be Yosemite Lodge. This was decided at the mid-year meeting of the Association's Executive Council, which met in San Francisco Dec. 15. For many years it has been the expressed desire of numbers of delegates to hold a convention in the Yosemite some year. The Yosemite National Park, while open all winter, does not get into full swing as regards summer accommodations for its huge rush of visitors until about June 1. Then the valley is at its best, with everything green and the mountain streams and waterfalls at flood from the Sierra snows. Hence, the convention next year comes one week later than usual—the Association for several years past having met the last week in May. The first day of the convention, June 4, will be devoted to the annual meeting of the Trust Company Section of the C. B. A. and a meeting of the Executive Council. The regular business sessions of the convention begin on Thursday, June 5. In the report of Secretary F. H. Colburn to the Council the present membership of the Association was shown as 1,046.

The Bank of Italy at San Francisco announces the receipt by it of telegraphic advices from the Federal Reserve Board at Washington authorizing the establishment of additional branch offices. The specific permits include, it is stated, the conversion of the Bank of Watsonville and the Watsonville Savings Bank at Watsonville, the Golden State Bank and the American Savings Bank at Long Beach. Steps will be taken to incorporate these new units in the Bank of Italy's organization immediately, it was announced by A. P. Giannini. The addition of these banks will give the Bank of Italy, we are informed, 73 banking offices in 50 cities throughout the State.

The Standard Bank (head office Toronto) announces a year-end distribution to officers and employees based upon the length of service commencing with 2% of the annual salary at the close of the year, and adding 1% for each year of service.

The 59th annual statement of the Union Bank of Canada (head office Toronto) for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 1923 showed net profits for the period, after deducting expenses of management, interest due depositors, reserving for interest and exchange, and making full rovision for all bad and doubtful debts, of $1,033,432. To this amount the sum of $151,265 was added (representing balance to credit of profit and loss after the transfer on June 19 last of $331,911 to the contingent reserve fund of the bank, making $1,184,697 available for appropriation, which was distributed as follows: $720,00 0to pay four quarterly dividends at the rate of 9% per annum; $10,000 contributed t oofficers' pension fund and $137,622 to pay Dominion Government and other taxes, leaving $317,075 to be carried forward to next year's profit and loss account. Total assets as of Nov. 30, the report showed, were $128,299,679, of which $57,877,689 were liqui dresources, while total deposits stood at $95,621,251. The bank is capitalized at $8,000,000 with a rest account of $1,750,000. W. R. Allan is President of the institution and J. W. Hamilton, General Manager.

Commencing Dec. 22, a dividend of 25% is being paid to depositors of the defunct Home Bank of Canada through the chartered banks of Toronto, according to the Toronto "Globe" of Dec. 19. Announcement of the completion of arrangements for the payment was made at a general meeting of the creditors of the institution held at Massey Hall, Toronto, on the night of Dec. 18. The dividend, it was stated, would be paid to all who had proved their claims with the permanent liquidators of the institution, G. T. Clarkson and I. E. Weldon. According to a press dispatch from Toronto on Dec. 20, which appeared in the "Evening Post" of this city of that date, trial before a court without a jury was granted on that day to the ten officers and directors of the Home Bank of Canada. Justice Middleton, it was stated, ordered the transfer to a county court from the Assizes on petition of the prisoners, who await trial on charges of filing false reports of the bank's condition.

We are in receipt of the annual statement of the Commercial Bank of Scotland, Ltd. (head office Edinburgh) covering the twelve months ended Oct. 31 1923. The report, which was presented to the proprietors of the bank at their annual general meeting on Dec. 17, shows net profits, after the usual deductions, of £347,217. To this sum is added £55,132, representing the balance to profit and loss brought forward from the preceding year, making together £402,349. Out of this amount, the report shows, there was applied in July in payment of the half year's dividend on the "A" and "B" shares at the rate of 16% and 10%, respectively, £94,254 (under deduction of income tax £30,746), leaving a balance of £308,-095, which the directors recommended be appropriated as follows: £96,875 to pay the 2d semi-annual dividends on the "A" and "B" shares at the rate of 16% and 10% per annum, respectively (under deduction of income tax £28,125); £100,000 to be added to reserve fund; £25,000 to be credited to officers' retiring fund, and £30,000 to be applied in reduction of the cost of bank's properties, leaving a balance of £56,220 to be carried forward to next year's profit and loss

The 4th annual report of the British Overseas Bank, Ltd. (head office London), covering the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 1923 was presented to the shareholders at their annual general meeting on Dec. 14. The statement shows net profits for the period, after allowing for rebate of interest and providing for all bad and doubtful debts, income tax and other taxation for the year, of £100,968, which when added to £57,814, representing balance available from last account, made together £158,782. From this amount £30,000 was deducted to pay an interim dividend on the "A" ordinary shares at the rate of 6% per annum for the half year ending April 30 1923, together with income tax thereon, leaving the sum of £128,782 available for distribution, which was appropriated as follows: £30,000 to pay the 2d semi-annual dividend at the rate of 6% per annum, together with income tax thereon; £15,000 to reserve fund against shareholding interests in foreign banks; £10,000 to reduction of premises account and £5,000 to furniture account, leaving a net balance of £68,782 to be carried forward to next year's profit and loss account. Total assets were shown in the report as £5,907,805, of which £339,326 represented cash in hand and t bankers. The bank has a paid-in capital of £2,000,000. The Right Hon. Viscount Churchill, G.C.V.O., is Governor of the bank and A. C. D. Gairdner, Esq., Chairman of the board of directors.

Three Years of Progress in City Government in New York State.

The following statement regarding the three years of progress in city government in New York State is a very encouraging survey of the situation, and it points the way for further improvement in many lines, financial and otherwise, to the cities of the State. It is taken in abridged form from the Fourth Report of the Special Tax Committee, Frederick M. Davenport, Chairman, which was dated Feb. 1 1923. (See "Chronicle" of Dec. 22, pages 2731 to 2735.

In 1919-1920 this Committee made an extensive study of governmental organization and of business methods in the cities of the State. (Legislative Document of 1920 No. 80). All of the major bills which we have submitted to carry our recommendations into effect have already been enacted into law, with the exception of a single constitutional amendment. In addition to these recommendations for legislation, we offered many suggestions which can be put into operation only by the cities themselves.

The present summary of three years' progress in city government is based on the hearings held by the committee in various central cities to which representatives of the surrounding cities were invited and upon information gathered at the request of the committee by the Bureau of Municipal Information of the State Conference of Mayors and Other City Officials.

A —Governmental Organization

Progress of Sound Ideas—Three Charters Completely Revised.

The most important advance that has been made in the last two years in the cities has been the development of sound ideas with regard to the question of governmental organization. As a result of this change, those cities which have approached the problem of remodeling their governments during the last three years have worked out highly commendable charters.

The suggestions of the committee that charters should set up more simplified governments with concentration of power and responsibility have been followed. Notable examples are the complete revision of the charters of Rome, Mount Vernno and Hudson, all of which used the committee's report as a basis for their study. Several other cities have amended their charters so as to eliminate boards and commissions and to combine bureaus, offices and functions.

Unpaid Boards of Health Superseded by Health Departments in Seven Cities.

The abolition of unpaid administrative boards was recommended by the committee. The following cities have abolished their boards of health under the law drafted by this committee and established departments of health with a single appointive head: Amsterdam, Cohoes, Mount Vernon, Olean, Salamanca, Syracuse and Yonkers.

Greatly Improved Methods for Assessment of Property in Ten Cities.

As a result of the law suggested by the committee authorizing municipalities to abolish their elective boards of assessors and to establish a department of assessment and taxation with a single appointed head, the following cities have adopted such a system in the last two years: Binghamton, Gloversville, Jamestown, Little Falls, Rensselaer, Rome, Salamanca, Mount Vernon, Watertown and Yonkers. Several other cities contemplate making similar changes within the next year.

Relation of Education to City Government in Unsatisfactory State.

This committee has consistently urged that educational administration should be intimately correlated with city administration. If this is not done the proper balance between community expenditures for education and for other municipal services cannot be maintained. Great economies are also to be effected by combining education and other city administration under a single directing authority. We feel sure that this can be done without sacrificing educational standards.

The extremely unsatisfactory condition which we pointed out in 1920 has not been altered substantially. The Court of Appeals handed down a decision to the effect that appropriations for education are municipal funds and must be included within the 2% constitutional taxing limit.

The only change in the relation of boards of education to city administrations has been the adoption by a few cities of the plan of segregating the tax levy for education purposes and collecting the school tax separately from the general city tax.

In the city of Buffalo a referendum was held on the question "Shall the Buffalo Board of Edcuation be permitted to determine the amount of school tax which shall be levied, and the amount of school bonds which shall be issued, without limitation or adoption by the city government?" The vote on this referendum stood 12,355 for independence of the board of education in financial matters and 70,174 against it.

B —Better Business Methods

Central Purchasing in 22 Cities—Pensions, &c.

In many directions the cities have improved their business methods since 1920. This is evident not only in the facts and figures which they are able to present, but also in their method of presenting information to the Committee. The cities make a more businesslike impression than they did three years ago.

Twenty-two cities now have central purchasing, the following since the Committee's report: Albany, Amsterdam, Hornell, Mount Vernon, Rome, Salamanca, Schenectady, Troy, Watervliet and Yonkers.

Marked economy in the cost of elections in cities has been effected under the revised Election Law of 1921.

The State in 1921 provided a way for cities to adopt a sound pension system for municipal employees other than those who at that time were being pensioned under systems created by special law. So far the following cities have elected to come under the State system: Newburgh, New Rochelle, Rochester, Schenectady, Syracuse, Watervliet and Yonkers.

Tax Collections Now Made in Advance by 26 Cities.

Twenty-six cities now collect their taxes in advance and thirty others have to borrow money in anticipation of their tax collection to run their government. The remaining three have to borrow "occasionally." There has been only slight improvement in this municipal activity in the last two years. Several cities, however, have under advisement proposed charter changes which will enable them eventually to collect their taxes in advance.

Thirty-one cities were borrowing money in anticipation of tax collection in 1920 and twenty-eight cities were collecting in advance or borrowing only occasionally.

Sound Bonding Policies Practiced by Most of the Cities.

Sound bonding policies are being practiced by most of the cities in the State, although there is nothing to prevent any one of them from returning to the extravagant and vicious practices of the past. Cities are generally issuing bonds for a period not longer than the usefulness of the improvements to be financed and all bonds are being issued serially. There is need of a revision of the laws dealing with the subject of municipal indebtedness.

Interest Payments and Receipts on Balances More Satisfactory in Several Cities.

A study of the rates of interest received by cities on their daily, monthly and quarterly bank balances and their inactive accounts, also of the protection cities require from depositories, shows that improvement has been made by several cities within the last two years.

Since 1920, 30% of the cities of the State have slightly increased the rate of interest they received on their daily bank balances. Two cities which in 1920 were drawing nothing on their bank balances are now receiving interest. There are seven cities in the State which are still receiving nothing. Nine cities have reduced the rate of interest they are paying on temporary loans.

These conditions have been due in part to the general fluctuations of interest rates.

C —Financial Administration

Increasing Municipal Tax Levies Checked—Levies Reduced in 30% of Cities.

An analysis of the net budgets of the cities for 1916, 1921 and 1922 shows that the increasing municipal tax levies have been checked and that approximately 30% of the cities have actually reduced their levies for 1922.

The increase in the total tax levies for city purposes in 1922 was very much less than it has been in any year since 1915. The total tax levy for municipal purposes in all cities was only 6% greater in 1922 than that of 1921. The average annual increase for the five years previous was 12%. The 59 cities in 1922 levied a tax of $332,822,764 for municipal purposes. In 1921 the total levy was $315,415,893, and in 1916 it amounted to $194,877,396.

From 1916 to and including 1921 the net budget or municipal tax levy of every city in the State, with the exception of Hornell, was increased. The smallest increase was 8% and the largest 157%.

Fourteen cities last year decreased their net budget or tax levy over that for 1921. These decreases range from 1% to 22%. Forty-five cities increased their tax levy anywhere from 1% to 45%. The levies of the remaining four were about the same for both years.

The tax levy for all municipal departments and activities excepting schools in New York State cities is on the decline. The total tax levy, exclusive of public schools and the payment of debt, decreased during 1922 for the first time in several years and was 3% less than in 1921. We eliminate from the tax levy the appropriations for education and debt service as present administrations have practically no control over these outlays. The tax levy for all city purposes, except schools and debt service, was less in 18 cities last year than it was in 1921. In seven others the levies for both years were practically the same.

Reports from all cities show that the total tax levy for municipal purpose. was $114,054,866 in 1922 after deducting the levy for schools and debts In 1921 it was $117,742,271 and in 1916 the amount was $66,511,970, an increase for those earlier years of 77%.

Levies for Debt Service and Education Practically Outside of City Control.

There was a small increase of 1.47% in the levy for debt service in 1922. The levy for education, however, in 36 cities increased 28%. In the other cities the cost of education is not included in the city tax levy.

Twenty-three cities levied less last year for debt service than they did in 1921. Only 7 of the 36 cities reporting education appropriations reduced their levy for public schools.

Increased Cost of Police Service in 1922 Due to Automobile.

The 1922 increase in appropriations for all city police departments in New York State was less than that for any year since 1916. The average yearly increase from 1916 to 1921, inclusive, was 12%, while the total appropriations for the police department in all cities were only 7% greater in 1922 than that in 1921.

A total of $37,148,844 was appropriated by the 59 cities for police protection in 1922; in 1921 it was $2,356,518 less. In 1916 the cities appropriated $21,464,617.

An analysis of the causes for the 1922 increase shows that it can be directly chargeable to the automobile.

Thirteen cities reduced the cost of their police departments last year. These decreases ranged from 1% to 23%. In 8 other cities the appropriations for 1922 and the year previous were practically the same. The increases in the other cities ranged from 1% to 134%. Sixteen cities increased the number of their patrolmen last year. Most of these report increased traffic work as the reason. Practically all of the other cities will be forced to make increases within the next two years for the same reason.

Cost of Fire Departments Practically the Same in 1922 as 1921.

The cost of fire fighting in New York State cities is practically the same in 1922 as in 1921, being the first time in many years that there was not a substantial increase. In 1916 the 59 cities appropriated $13,100,983 for fire fighting purposes. This increased 83% during the next 5 years, so that in 1921 the total appropriation amounted to $24,010,109.

Analysis of the reports received from all cities shows very conclusively the cost of fire fighting has reached its peak in New York State and that we are beginning to go the other way. Twenty-nine cities report that their fire department appropriations were less for 1922 than for the previous year. The purchase of motor apparatus to replace horse-drawn apparatus, which will eventually reduce expenses, was responsible in 1922 for increases in 6 of the 17 cities whose fire appropriations were larger than in 1921.

Public Health Expenditures Decreased 3%, Against Increase of 73% for Five-Year Period 1916-21.

The appropriations of public health work decreased 3% in 1922 over 1921. There, however, was an increase of 73% between 1916 and 1921, inclusive, in all the cities in the State. The total amount appropriated in 1922 by all cities for public health work was $7,041,840 85. In 1921 it was $7,271,021 37, and in 1916 $4,207,252 55. The death rate in all New York State cities decreased 14% from 1916 to and including 1921.

Funded Debt Increased But Little Compared With Borrowing Capacity.

The total funded debt chargeable against the 10% constitutional debt limit of all New York State cities increased 8% from 1916 to and including 1921. In 1922 there was an increase of 5% over 1921.

The total assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation in all New York State cities increased 14% between 1916 and 1921, inclusive. There was a further increase of 13.5% from 1921 to and including 1922.

The total borrowing capacity of all cities in New York State in excess of the net funded debt increased 90% between 1916 and 1921, inclusive, and 69% in 1922. It is significant that the funded debt of the cities increased very little in proportion to the increase in their borrowing capacity during these years.

The per capita funded debt of all cities was $110 47 in 1916, $107 11 in 1921 and $112 27 in 1922.

The per capita assessed valuation of all cities in New York State was $1,347 72 in 1916, $1,378 86 in 1921 and $1,565 60 in 1922.

Tax Limitations—Important Changes—Five Cities Have Had Limitations Removed.

A study of the appropriating and taxing powers of cities from Jan. 1 1912 to date shows that the State Legislature has been called upon to make very many changes during this ten-year period. Of the 36 cities whose taxing powers were limited in 1912, changes have been made in 26, either increasing or reducing the amount they could appropriate or raise by tax, or eliminating their restrictions. In all 82 cihanges have been made.

Five cities have removed their limitations entirely, these being North Tonawanda, Auburn, Norwich, Lockport and Mount Vernon. Three of these limitations have been made since 1920. No city whose taxing or appropriating powers were not limited in 1912 has since placed any restriction on its power.

The following cities have changed from a system of limiting departmental or total appropriations to specified sums to one of limiting the total appropriations to a percentage of assessed valuation of real estate: Corning, Elmira, Dunkirk and Hudson.

It is clear that constitutional or charter tax limitations do not stop an increase in the cost of city government. The total of the net budgets or tax levies of the 35 cities in New York State, whose taxing powers are limited either by the constitution or by charter provisions, was $26,299,317 in 1916, $41,567,510 in 1921, and $45,548,687 in 1922. The total net budget or tax levy of the cities in New York State whose taxing power is not limited was $14,695,425 in 1916, $23,604,267 in 1921, and $25,615,544 in 1922. The percentage of increase was as follows:

Total Tax Levy—	1921 over 1916.	1922 over 1921.
Cities whose taxing powers are limited	58%	10%
Cities whose taxing powers are not limited.	61%	8%

The above shows that from 1916 to 1921 the total tax levy of the cities whose taxing powers is not limited was only 3% greater than the increase in the tax levy of those cities whose taxing powers are limited. However, from 1921 to 1922, the total tax levy of the cities whose taxing powers are limited increased 2% more than the total levy of those cities whose taxing powers are not limited.

Budget Systems—Distinct Improvement Effected.

There has been a very distinct improvement in budget systems during the past two years. A number of cities have adopted budget systems and others have so improved their methods as to deserve comment. No city has made more progress in its budget methods than Syracuse.

D —New Municipal Laws

Since the last report of the Committee on Municipal Finance, a number of extremely important laws, based upno the committee's recommendations, have been enacted. These are:

1. A law permitting cities to abolish elective boards of assessors and to establish departments of assessment and taxation with a single appointive head. (1921 N. Y. LL. Ch. 300.)
2. A law permitting all cities to establish central purchasing agencies or departments. (1921 N. Y. LL. Ch. 230.)
3. A law permitting cities to abolish boards of health and to establish departments of health with a single appointive head. (1921 N. Y. LL. Ch. 299.)
4. A law permitting the State Comptroller to examine the accounts of school authorities. (1920 N. Y. LL. Ch. 838.)
5. A law permitting the cities to pension municipal employees under the State retirement system. (1922 N. Y. LL. Ch. 591.)

In addition to this group of laws, the constitutional home rule amendment should be mentioned, though it has passed but one legislature thus far.

E —Next Steps

On the strength of the advances made during the past three years, it is safe to say that the cities of New York State are on the right track. This is a vindication of the committee's conclusion arrived at in 1919, that our cities are qualified to exercise complete home rule in local matters.

The State Conference of Mayors and Other City Officials, with its Bureau of Information, is an organization supported and directed by the cities themselves. There is no single force for good city government in this State whose influence is to be compared with it.

The next step in municipal reform under present conditions is, therefore, the granting of full home rule to the cities. Following this, the next steps of reform will be primarily in the hands of the cities. Among these there is none of greater importance than the question of the selection, appointment, pay rates, promotion, and discharge of public employees. This is generally referred to as the employment or personnel problem (which the committee treats of in a special chapter).

THE CURB MARKET.

Oil stocks continue to absorb the attention in Curb Market trading and, except for some unsettlement caused by the suspension from trading of Southern States Oil shares, the market has been active and prices as a rule firm. As stated above, Southern States Oil was suspended from trading on Wednesday, thus causing a bad break in Gulf States Oil & Ref. from 8⅛ to 1 and in Turman Oil from 10½ to 7. The close to-day was at 2¾ for the former and 8¼ for the latter. United Oil Producing 8% bonds were also affected, these selling down from 85 to 60, with a final recovery to 76. Standard Oil issues show pronounced improvement. Eureka Pipe Line after loss of a point to 98 advanced to 100. Humble Oil & Ref. moved up from 36½ to 38¾ and closed yesterday at 38½. Magnolia Petroleum was conspicuous for a rise of 17 points, to 160, the final figure being 156. Ohio Oil advanced from 68½ to 70½ and finished at 70¼. Prairie Oil & Gas after early weakness from 225 to 222½ rose to 240 ex-dividend. Prairie Pipe Line gained 2½ points to 104½ and sold finally at 103, ex-dividend. South Penn Oil ran up from 143 to 158 and closed yesterday at 157. Standard Oil of Indiana from 63⅝ reached 66¼ and ends the week at 66⅛. Vacuum Oil improved from 54⅞ to 57⅞. Internat. Petroleum advanced from 18⅛ to 22⅛ and reacted to 21¼. Movements in Industrials were with few exceptions uninteresting. Stutz Motor was pressed for sale and broke from 9½ to 6½, recovering finally to 8½. Del. Lack. & West Coal sold up from 93½ to 97⅛, and at 97 finally. Durant Motors gained over 2 points to 30½, and ends the week at 30⅛. Gold Dust Corp. was strong, advancing from 28 to 31¼, the close to-day being at 31.

A complete record of Curb Market transactions for the week will be found on page 2881.

COURSE OF BANK CLEARINGS.

Returns of bank clearings the present week point to a small decrease in the grand aggregate as compared with a year ago. Preliminary figures compiled by us, based upon telegraphic advices from the chief cities of the country, indicate that for the week ending to-day (Saturday, Dec. 29) aggregate bank clearings for all the cities of the United States from which it is possible to obtain weekly returns will show a decrease of 0.9% as compared wtih the corresponding week last year. The total stands at $6,781,104,786, against $6,845,656,427 for the same week in 1922. At this centre there is a loss of 2.7%. Our comparative summary for the week is as follows:

a Will not report clearings.

Complete and exact details for the week covered by the foregoing will appear in our issue of next week. We cannot furnish them to-day, inasmuch as the week ends to-day (Saturday), and the Saturday figures will not be available until noon to-day. Accordingly, in the above the last day of the week has in all cases had to be estimated.

In the elaborate detailed statement, however, which we present further below, we are able to give final and complete results for the week previous—the week ended Dec. 22. For that week there is an increase of 8.9%, the 1923 aggregate of the clearings being $8,703,676,448 and the 1922 aggregate $7,995,941,393. Outside of this city, the increase is 9.1%; at this centre there is a gain of 8.7%. We group the cities now according to the Federal Reserve districts in which they are located, and from this it appears that in the Boston Reserve District there is an improvement of 26.1%, in the New York Reserve District (including this city) of 8.8%, but in the Philadelphia Reserve District of only 0.1%. In the Cleveland Reserve District the totals are larger by 4.6% in the Richmond Reserve District by 8.7% and in the Atlanta Reserve District by 20.1%. The Chicago Reserve District has a gain of 6.8%, the St. Louis Reserve District of 0.1% and the Dallas Reserve District of 17.3%. In the Minneapolis Reserve District there is a loss of 5.0% and in the Kansas City Reserve District of 2.2%. The San Francisco Reserve District enjoys a gain of 19.2%.

In the following we furnish a summary by Federal Reserve districts:

THE WEEK ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Except for one or two brief periods of irregularity the stock market has improved materially in tone during the present week. The usual pre-holiday conditions prevailed on Saturday and Monday and trading fell off somewhat in volume. Indeed, several times during the two days the tickers were almost at a standstill. While it was generally expected that Wednesday would also be a light day, quite the contrary proved to be the case, as the trading on that day was the heaviest in several weeks. Oil and steel shares continued to be the centre of interest, each of these groups showing substantial gains during the week's trading. In the abbreviated session on Saturday, price movements were irregular, the net changes at the close being largely fractional. The tone was strong as the session opened on Monday, but there was comparatively little activity during the greater part of the day. In the last hour many leading issues closed with substantial advances over the early quotations. This was particularly true of United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry shares which advanced 2⅝ to a new high for the year, and Continental Can which moved up 2½ points to 57¼. On Tuesday the New York Stock Exchange, and all other exchanges were closed in observance of Christmas. Renewed activity, accompanied by strong buying, was the unexpected feature of the market on Wednesday. Advances of from one to four points in a number of leading issues were registered during the day's trading. United States Steel common was the leader of the forward movement with an advance of three points and the oil shares led by Marland Oil recorded a general advance for the group. Many other stocks in the general list participated in the upward movement and closed the day with substantial advances to their credit. The final tone was particularly strong after one of the most active last hours in several weeks. The brisk upswing that developed on Wednesday was again in evidence on Thursday and carried some of the active issues to new high records for the year. Oil shares were again prominent in the day's trading. United States Steel common touched 98 in the early part of the session, but fell off to 97 in the closing hour. The movement of prices was somewhat irregular in the opening hour on Friday. Oil stocks were in strong demand and steadily advanced. United States Steel common was conspicuous in the afternoon trading, going over 99, its highest level in the present advance. In the general list recessions and advances were about evenly divided. The tone was strong, however, as the market closed.

THE ENGLISH GOLD AND SILVER MARKETS.

We reprint the following from the weekly circular of Samuel Montagu & Co. of London, written under date of Dec. 12 1923:

GOLD.

The Bank of England gold reserve against its note issue on the 5th inst. was £126,044,760, as compared with £125,943,270 on the previous Wednesday. Fairly substantial supplies of gold came on offer this week, the bulk of which will be absorbed by the United States of America, as Indian and Continental requirements were only moderate. Gold valued at $2,700,000 has arrived in New York from London. We hear from Bombay that the bullion market there was very excited over the announcement of the Government sales of gold, and that there was strong opposition on the part of the Indian Chamber and the Bullion Merchants' Associations to the conversion of gold to sterling securities, notwithstanding the cogent reasons which actuate the action of the Government. The Transvaal gold output for November 1923 amounted to 780,639 fine ounces, as compared with 793,842 fine ounces for October 1923 and 764,476 fine ounces for November 1922.

SILVER.

Again the market has remained fairly steady. The clearance of supplies involved by the large shipment last week to the East naturally rendered it rather difficult to cover "bear" transactions falling due, even though orders from India have not been much in evidence. Yesterday's sharp rise was an indication of a market depleted to a large extent of available stocks. Silver shipments are still being made on a large scale from San Francisco, whence consignments have left for China and are still on the way—amounting to 7,500,000 ounces—in addition to the very heavy shipments which have been dispatched to Shanghai during the last month or so. In present conditions any marked improvement in the value of the pound sterling is bound to be reflected in a lower London price for silver. The "Capital" of Calcutta thus refers to the proposed combination of silver mining interests in the Americas: "It is, perhaps, not generally known that the first move in this direction of controlling the price of silver was made in Mexico, now the largest silver producing country in the world. In view of the continued fall in the price of silver, the Government of that country wanted to help the producers by forming a silver commission, the aim of which was clearly expressed by the following terms: 'It will be the object of this commission to help the silver producers, freeing them from the control of New York buyers, who through loans, it is declared, are able to force them to sell their silver under its market value. Besides granting loans to producers, the commission, which will be capitalized at 5,000,000 pesos, will encourage silver producers and attempt to stabilize the market. It will be composed of two bankers, two miners, and two representatives of the Ministry of Finance.' Recently the Financial Department of the Mexican Government suggested also to the banks that their reserves should consist of coins, specially of silver. This attitude of the Mexican Government encouraged the United States producers, the second largest in the world, to develop the plan of a silver export association, and in conference at Reno, practically all the American producers combined to make a common cause."

The Cudahy Packing Company.

President E. A. Cudahy, Chicago, Dec. 20, reports in substance:

Results.—Profits from operations were $2,010,198. When compared with the results of the past few years this result is decidedly encouraging, and the fact that the Common stock has earned over 8% for the year indicates that the packing industry is at last headed in the right direction.

There has been reserved from surplus a sum sufficient to pay the dividends on Preferred stocks deferred in 1921. When this payment is made, back dividends on Preferred stocks will have been paid in full. [The directors have declared a dividend of 6% on the $2,000,000 6% Preferred stock and a dividend of 7% on the $6,550,500 7% Preferred stock, covering the cumulative unpaid dividends for the year 1921, both payable Dec. 31 to holders of record on that date. The directors have also declared a dividend of 1% on the outstanding $17,249,500 Common stock, par $100, payable Jan. 15 to holders of record Jan. 4. The last previous dividend paid on the Common stock was a quarterly dividend of 1¼%, paid on July 5 1920.]

Sales.—Every effort has been made by the company to maintain and, where possible, improve the high standard of its products and to increase the efficiency of its organization. This policy consistently followed has resulted in the expansion of our business so that the sales for the year exceeded in tonnage by more than 20% the sales of the previous year, and were the heaviest in the history of the company.

Expenditures.—To produce merchandise of the highest grade and distribute in increased quantity has necessitated heavy expenditures for plant improvements and up-to-date equipment. During the year we constructed 200 refrigerator cars of the latest type for our car line, remodeled many of the older packing house units and built a number of new branch houses, thus materially increasing the value of our fixed assets. Plants and branches are carried on our books at a figure very much below their present value and are in better condition to-day than they have been at any time.

Statement Regarding Demand of Secretary of Agriculture to Have Right to Examine Books.—It may be of interest to you to have a brief statement and explanation given of the position taken by this company in connection with the demand of the Secretary of Agriculture, dated Nov. 17 1923, for the right to have his duly authorized agents given constant access to, and the right to examine and copy, our books of accounts, records and memoranda, &c.

While we regret to have any controversy with the Government, and while we are fully satisfied that the business of the company has been conducted with entire legality, we have felt that the company has Constitutional rights as against an unreasonable search and undue Government intervention in its business, and have therefore felt that we should refuse to concede the demand. Therefore in due course, if the Secretary persists in the demand, there will undoubtedly be a legal proceeding in which the merits of the respective positions can be determined.

We certainly hope and feel quite confident that the decision of the Court will be (to quote the words of the Supreme Court of the United States) that "if real competition is to continue, the right of the individual to exercise reasonable discretion in respect of his own business method must be preserved."

Outlook.—We are entering the coming year under very favorable conditions, with modern plants, ample distributing facilities, a high quality of product, a competent organization, relatively small inventories and a comfortable margin of liquid assets. I feel confident, therefore, that with a continuation of the present prosperous industrial conditions—and the indications are for even further improvement in this direction—the year 1924 should be a remunerative one, not only to the company but to the stockholders.

Interborough Rapid Transit Co.

(Annual Report for Fiscal Year Ended June 30 1923.)

Frank Hedley, Pres. & Gen. Mgr., reports in substance:

Results.—Gross operating revenue for the year ended June 30 1923 was $55,559,436, as compared with $53,540,859 last year, a gain of $2,018,577, or 3.77%, the result of a gain on the Subway division of $1,701,418, or 4.91%, and a gain on the Manhattan Ry. division of $317,159, or 1.68%. The gain in the revenue from the transportation of passengers being $1,577,759, and the increase in the other street railway operating revenue (principally from the sale of power), $440,818.

Operating Expenses.—Operating expenses were $34,392,509 as compared with $32,272,509, an increase of $2,119,999, or 6.57%, of which $1,590,715, or 7.81%, was on the Subway division and $529,285, or 4.44%, on the Manhattan division, the increase being due substantially to cost of additional train service and an increase in the cost of coal, reduced by the savings in labor by use of multiple unit door control on Subway cars and of automatic turnstiles on stations.

Of the increase of $2,119,999 in operating expenses there was an increaes of $333,643 in maintenance of way, structures and equipment, $1,483,292 in traffic and transportation expenses, and $303,064 in general expenses. Of the increase in transportation and traffic expenses the sum of $1,343,622 was in the item of "fuel for power," reflecting the high cost of fuel during the year as well as the additional coal required to operate the increased car mileage and to supply an increased amount of power sold to outside companies and the variation in the quality of coal from the standard quality usually furnished to the company's power stations. Of the $303,064 increase in general expenses $38,873 was in store expenses, $220,330 was for accidents and damages and legal expenses in connection therewith, and $43,305 in general law expenses. The increase in general law expenses was due to the readjustment plan and the increase in cnonection with accidents was due to the liquidation last year of liability for previous years when the cash position of the company compelled postponement of liquidation.

Net Operating Revenue.—The net operating revenue was $21,166,927 as compared with $21,268,350 last year, a decrease of $101,423, or 0.47%, the result of a gain on the Subway division of $110,703, or 0.77%, and a loss on the Manhattan Ry. division of $212,126, or 3.03%.

Taxes.—The total amount of taxes was $2,662,310, as compared with $2,802,824 last year, a decrease of $140,513, or 5.01%; Subway division shows an increase of $3,716, or 0.83%, while the Manhattan Ry. division shows a decrease of $144,229, or 6.12%.

Income from Operation.—Income from operation was $18,504,617, as compared with $18,465,527 last year, or an increase of $39,090, or 0.21%, the result of a gain on the Subway division of $106,987, or 0.77%, and a loss on the Manhattan Ry. division of $67,897, or 1.46%.

Non-Operating Income.—Non-operating income was $573,850, as against $652,875 last year, a decrease of $79,025, or 12.10%, the result of a decrease on the Subway division of $88,708, or 15.25%, and an increase on the Manhattan Ry. division of $9,683, or 13.60%.

Gross Income.—Gross income was $19,078,467, as compared with $19,118,402 last year, a decrease of $39,935, or 0.21%, the result of a gain on the Subway division of $18,278, or 0.12%, and a loss on the Manhattan Ry. division of $58,213, or 1.24%.

Income Deductions.—Income deductions were $19,210,263 as compared $21,885,199 last year, a decrease of $2,674,938, or 12.22%.

Traffic.—The number of passengers carried was 1,025,175,131 compared with 993,492,690 last year, an increase of 31,682,441, or 3.19%, the result of a gain on the Subway division of 31,674,957, or 4.91%, and a gain on the Manhattan Ry. division of 7,484.

The traffic on the Subway division reflects the continued increase in the number of people occupying buildings and apartments contiguous to the new and old Subway lines. The Manhattan Ry. division shows a small increase compared with a very substantial decrease in the previous year and indicates that the falling off in the Elevated travel has terminated.

Maintenance—Additions and Betterments.—$9,305,846 was spent during the year for maintaining the structure, roadway, power houses, electrical equipment and rolling stock in good operating condition. This sum included the renewal of rails on 2.38 miles of single track and 18,035 ties on the Manhattan Division. Also 23.05 miles of single track and 14,602 ties on the Subway division. It also includes an expenditure for maintenance of cars and electrical equipment of cars to the amount of $841,030 over the amount spent for similar purposes during 1922.

$4,086,622 was spent during the past year for additions and betterments to the property. This sum includes the ocmpany's contribution toward new construction and equipment under Contract No. 3 and the related certificates and expenditures in the acquisition of 100 new Subway steel trailer cars under Equipment Trust Series "A." (See offering in V. 117, p. 1532.)

Expenditures for maintenance and improvements during the past year were unusually large. Considerable replacing and reinforcing work, together with other miscellaneous repairs and improvements, was performed on the Elevated structure, always keeping it up to the standard required for safe and economical operation. Temporary facilities at the 161st St. station of the Lexington Ave. line to accommodate traffic to and from the American League Baseball Park are being followed by permanent construction to increase the convenience to passengers and the capacity of that station. An extension of 15 ft. to both sides of the express platform at the northerly end of the Pennsylvania Station is being constructed, and the Jackson Ave. station of the Queensboro line is also being lengthened. An additional pipe line with fire hose attachments and city water main connections is being installed in the Clark St. tunnel from Wall St. to Borough Hall station, as an extra precaution against fire hazard. The 168th St. station of the Broadway-Seventh Ave. line is being equipped with additional elevators and new entrance on west side of Broadway as a means of increasing the convenience to passengers and its capacity, and escalators are being installed at Park Place and Borough Hall stations of the Broadway-Seventh Ave. line for the same purpose. Additional automatic signals and track circuits have been installed at the Grand Central station for the purpose of decreasing the headway of trains through that congested centre. Additional stairways and emergency exits are also being installed at various points for the accommodation and safety of passengers.

Other Additions, &c.—The increase in service which has been added to the company's schedule during the year made necessary large improvements and additions to our power house equipment. These have either been made or are under way, and will be completed in time for the heavy winter traffic. An additional 1,000 gallon per minute turbine driven boiler feed pump was installed in the 59th St. power house to take care of the increased load imposed upon that power station. An additional stack and two new 1,200 h. p. boilers together with the necessary stokers, superheaters, forced and induced draft fans, furnaces, ash hoppers, &c., are also being installed in this power station. This installation is necessary in order to provide additional boiler capacity to meet the additional load imposed as a result of placing 100 new Subway cars in operation during the coming winter.

Important improvements in the art of turbine design have shown that a much higher degree of safety of operation would be assured if certain of the wheels of the three 30,000 k. w. turbines at the 59th St. power station were replaced by wheels of improved design. These replacements are now being made to secure added safety of operation and the consequent greater assurance of continuous operation of the turbines. In addition the original diaphragms are being replaced by new and improved diaphragms for the purpose of securing a higher operating efficiency of the turbines; 635 ft. of 30-inch conveyor belting was renewed, one set of reduction gears on No. 3 turbine exciter was renewed, and the larger part of the work of replacing the worn reduction gears of the circulating water pumps for the 30,000 k. w. turbo-generator units and of repairing the turbines driving the pumps, has been completed. The rotor of one of the 30,000 k. w. generators was balanced and the end turns of the field coils were enclosed in aluminum saddles.

At the 74th St. power station an extensive overhauling of the 60,000 k. w. three element turbine unit is being undertaken to assure the continuity of the operation of this unit. Part of the blading in each of the low pressure elememts of this unit is being replaced to guard against possible breakdown of this blading as a result of the crystallization of the metal that was taking place.

The greater part of the work of dismantling, trucking and reinstalling six 1,500 k. w. and three 4,000 k. w. rotary converters and their complementary transformers from certain Manhattan and Subway substatinos to other Subway substations has been completed. This relocation of converters and transformers was made necessary as a result of the redistribution of load that will be brought about by the operation of 100 additional Subway cars.

New Cars.—The 100 new Subway trailer cars have been received; 18 have been equipped and placed in operation and the remainder will be placed in operation for the fall service.

Multiple Unit Car Door Control.—The installation of multiple unit car door control has been extended to include an additional 414 Subway cars, which work was completed June 30, thus making a total of 1,396 Subway cars operating with this new type of safety device. Improvements are being introduced which will further increase economies in operation. Contracts have been let for the manufacture of multiple unit car door control apparatus for 465 Elevated cars, which work should be completed early in 1924. Multiple unit car door control, while new and originating with this company, has now been in service a sufficient length of time to demonstrate the value of its economy and safe operation.

Coin-Operated Safety Gates.—The Subway and Elevated stations are now equipped with coin-operated safety gates, and this novel type of apparatus has exceeded expectations, for it has pleased the public from the very beginning, which is somewhat unusual in the operation of new devices. The installation of the slug-detecting device has been completed and has practically eliminated the small loss during initial operation. The original estimates of economy for the coin-operated safety gates are now more than realized.

Improved Elevated Service.—In the early part of the spring the matter of improving the service on the Manhattan Elevated lines was taken up with a view to making it more convenient and attractive as a means of securing increased traffic on these lines and relieving so far as possible the congestion in the subways. By reason of the financial condition of the company in the past we were unable to maintain an attractive general appearance of the Elevated stations and rolling stock, but after the adoption of the readjustment plan it was believed that the company was in a position to remedy these conditions. Funds were therefore appropriated for painting the rolling stock and stations, as a visible indication of the company's intention to furnish improved service. The exterior of the cars is being painted orange, the interior mahogany finish and the ceilings enameled white, and the station painting is being made to harmonize with the rolling stock.

As a further means of making this improved service attractive to the public new schedules were put into effect calling for an increase of 428 trains per day, distributed between local and express service, thus giving a more frequent service on all divisions and adding greatly to the convenience of the traveling public. These changes involved an expenditure of over $2,000,000 and added very considerable to the operating expenses, but the response was instantaneous and has encouraged the management to continue the service and to make additional improvements from time to time as opportunity offers.

Elimination of Outside Connections.—Chairman Grayson M.-P. Murphy, in detailing what was accomplished under the readjustment plan, stated that it was the aim of the new board of directors to give the best service it possibly could and to do all in its power to co-operate with and assist the authorities to provide adequate rapid transit facilities for New York City. The company's ability to render this assistance is strengthened by the elimination, through the recent readjustment, of all outside connections, such as the Interborough-Consolidated Corp. and the New York Railways system and by taking steps to liquidate, through a receivership, its investment in the surface railways in Queens, which lines have heretofore been a constant drain on its resources. The Manhattan guaranteed 7% rental has also been readjusted and reduced to a basis whereby it is only paid if earned and at rates ranging from 3 to 7% as warranted by the earnings. Through the same readjustment $10,500,000 was provided by the present security holders, part of which was used to pay off extended 7% notes and the balance reserved for other capital expenditures.

Growth of Traffic.—This is part of the preparation which the company is making to place its finances and organization in shape to take care of the regular increase in travel by reason of the growth in population. The total number of passengers carried by city lines in 1872 was 138,722,196, while in 1922 the number had increased to 2,596,100,410. As an illustration of the rapid growth of travel following the opening of new lines, the Queensboro Subway furnishes an excellent example. This Subway was opened in June 1915 and the travel for the first full fiscal year was 3,093,594, whereas for the fiscal year ended June 30 1923 the Interborough traffic had grown to 24,679,818, or an increase of 700%.

Officials Always Ready to Co-Operate with City Authorities.—The company appreciates keenly the discomforts of present traveling and is doing everything it can to overcome them. New equipment is being installed and large expenditures are being made for signals and other safeguards in an effort to shorten the headway of trains. Mechanical devices intended to accelerate the movement of trains and quicken their passage through the stations are being devised and installed and steps have been taken to equalize the traffic over the different lines so as to relieve some of the severely congested sections in the Subway, but in the end decided and permanent relief can only be obtained through the construction of additional subways.

Our contracts with the city establish a relation intended to create co-operation in the solution of rapid transit problems. There is a joint responsibility which can only be fulfilled to the best advantage by the active and friendly action of both parties. It is extremely difficult under the most favorable circumstances, with conditions as they exist to-day, to meet the demands of the service in an efficient manner, and the only way the situation can be improved is by all parties working together for the public good.

This company stands in the position of a trustee of the city's property, operating it in the interest of its citizens. As such trustee it is also charged with the duty of making such constructive suggestions as its experience leads it to believe will, in the most economical manner, add to the facilities at its command to handle the ever-increasing tide of travel. These suggestions are made with a sincere desire to be of service to the community and to supply the kind of transportation contemplated by our present contract. We have shown by the drastic steps recently taken in the readjustment of our affairs that we are anxious to render the full measure of service expected of us and for this purpose our experience and whatever ability we may possess is at the disposal of the public authorities.

a Several of the items included above in "Investments" and "Due from Associated Cos." are in course of liquidation and will probably realize a comparatively small sum. When their value shall be definitely ascertained and items of a similar character shall have been re-valued in accordance with existing conditions, the balance sheet will be re-cast and there will be entered upon the books the full asset value of Contract No. 3, the Subway lease, including the appraised present worth of the Subway preferentials when earned. This value has not been set forth heretofore in full, but it is now being appraised. It is believed that the additional value of the lease when finally determined will be in excess of the shrinkage in the other assets.

b Under the plan of readjustment of May 1 1922, payments of the sinking fund installment due from July 1 1921 to and including Jan. 1 1926, are postponed.—V. 117, p. 2769, 2765, 2652.

Canadian Car & Foundry Co., Ltd.

(14th Annual Report—Year ended Sept. 30 1923.)

President W. W. Butler reports in substance:

The report covers the operations of the company and its subsidiaries, the Canadian Steel Foundries, Ltd., and the Pratt & Letchworth Co., Ltd.

The total output of all plants for the year amounted to $20,689,639, being considerably in excess of the preceding year, and after charging against operations the cost of plant maintenance and depreciation, interest on outstanding bonds and negotiable scrip, and after providing for all contingencies, including Government income tax, the net profit amounted to $1,427,574, as compared with a loss for the preceding year of $586,632.

The directors consider this result satisfactory, more especially in view of the fact that the trade depression continued well into the fiscal period under review.

The balance sheet discloses an improved liquid condition, the surplus of current assets in excess of liabilities amounting to $6,834,261, after providing for dividends declared payable Oct. 10 1923 and Jan. 10 1924, and after making allowance for accrued interest on outstanding bonds and scrip.

Bond sinking funds to the amount of $377,503 have been provided for during the year and a redemption fund has been set up to take care of the outstanding negotiable scrip which matures Dec. 24 1927. There are no bank loans outstanding, the company having been able to finance its entire year's program without banking accommodation, while on the other hand, interest and discount earned amounted to $129,529.

Dividends in arrears at Sept. 30 1923 amounted to 8¼%, and directors hope that business conditions will continue favorable so that such arrears may be paid off in the near future, but in this connection due regard must be had for the maintenance of sufficient working capital to meet all ordinary needs of the company's business.

The value of unfilled business carried forward to the ensuing year amounted to approximately $7,500,000, which is reflected in the balance sheet as at Sept. 30 1923, where large inventories of materials and supplies, together with correspondingly heavy trade accounts payable, appear. The completion of this unfilled business will, however, reduce the inventories of materials and supplies to approximately $1,500,000.

The physical condition of all plants has been well maintained during the year. The head office has been moved to the company's own building, acquired in 1917, which now adequately provides for the company's requirements. The mortgage loan of $100,000 previously placed on this building has been paid in full.

American Ice Co.

(Report for Fiscal Year ended Oct. 31 1923.)

President Wesley M. Oler reports in substance:

The decrease in earnings as compared with last year is due to the unusual weather throughout the summer. The cool nights and lack of peaks in temperature were responsible for the falling off in earnings. While sales of ice were 47,400 tons larger than the year previous, under normal conditions the operations of new plants and additional facilities purchased or built would have shown a very much larger increase. This lack of demand not only curtailed sales but affected prices unfavorably and increased the cost of production while the increased investment added to depreciation, maintenance and taxes on property.

Though the company has spent in the last three years $7,011,137 in the acquisition of property and new construction, it has not been necessary to use the power granted at the last meeting of stockholders for the issuance of bonds and stock to replace the capital so spent and doing so is not contemplated unless some unexpected occasion should arise.

The usual comparative income account for the year ended Oct. 31 1923 was given in V. 117, p. 2773.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING ELECTRIC ROADS.

The following news in brief form touches the high points in the railroad and electric railway world during the week just past, together with a summary of the items of greatest interest which were published in full detail in last week's "Chronicle" either under "Editorial Comment" or "Current Events and Discussions."

I.-S. C. C. Rules That RRs. in Southwest Must Keep Rate of Fare at 3.6c. per Mile.—Railroads in Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico must reduce passenger rates by Feb. 25 to level of 3.6c. per mile. In Southeastern territory the Grand Canyon Ry. as a whole and the branch lines of the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Rock Island, Western Pacific, &c., will be permitted to charge present rates, which in some cases range as high as 9.6c. per mile. "New York Times" Dec. 28, p. 25.

Strike in Progress Since Feb. 1921 Called Off.—Missouri & North Arkansas RR. strike, in progress since Feb. 1921, called off by union representatives who get Circuit Court's dismissal of charges against 18 strikers who jumped bail, the $20,000 bail to be paid by the unions of which they were members, and pardon for two strikers serving penitentiary sentences. "Wall Street Journal" Dec. 22, p. 3.

Brotherhoods Announce That Wage Increase Demands Will Be Continued.—Negotiations for a 12% increase in wages for train service men will be continued despite the fact that the engineers settled with the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific RR. on the basis of last year's pay. This was announced at Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 26 by leaders of the engineers, firemen and trainmen, who also declared emphatically that there was no foundation for widely circulated reports that the train service men were preparing to strike. "New York Times" Dec. 27, p. 20.

Federal Court at Philadelphia Refuses Injunction to Clerks of Pennsylvania RR. to Enforce Decree of U. S. Labor Board Respecting Recognition of Delegates of the Brotherhoods.—Judge Dickinson held that the Federal Courts have no authority to compel compliance with Labor Board's orders. In conclusion the Judge said: "The judgment it (the Labor Board) may render may be acceptable to neither party, but each has the legal right to accept it or refuse to follow it. If the parties refuse acquiescence all that the Board can then do is to give publicity to its ruling, leaving the parties to their willingness to adjust the dispute under the guidance and perhaps the stress of public opinion, influenced, or it may be aroused by the opinion of the Board." "New York Times" Dec. 22, p. 20.

Appeal Will Be Taken from Decision of Judge Dickinson.—Hunt & Swiger, attorneys for Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, declare injunction was directed against Pennsylvania RR.'s "company union" rather than for enforcement of Labor Board's orders. "New York Times" Dec. 23, Sec. 2, p. 12.

Alamance Ry.—Petition for Receiver.—

A dispatch from Greensboro, So. Caro., states that a petition for a receiver for this company, which has a line between Burlington and Graham and a branch to Haw River, has been filed by the American Trust Co., Richmond, Va., trustee. The complaint alleges that the company has defaulted in the May 15 1918 and subsequent interest payments on $120,000 1st Mtge. 6% 20-Year Gold bonds dated Nov. 15 1917, and has permitted judgments against it in Alamance Superior Court to go unsatisfied, is not now operating and its property deteriorating. The company was organized in 1917, it is stated.

The Canadian-Pacific Ry. has leased the store in the new Straus building, southwest corner Jackson Blvd. and Michigan Ave., Chicago, and additional space in the interior, for a term of 10 years, at an annual rental of $40,000, or $400,000 for the term. The lease includes $1,500 square feet in the basement and 2,500 square feet on the 10th floor. The lessees will convert the room leased into an elaborate railway and steamship ticket office and will merge their present widely scattered offices in Chicago, Ill.—V. 117, p. 2651.

Central Indiana Ry.—Sale Postponed.—

The carrier proposes to sell $20,000,000 of bonds in the near future, whenever the bond market is favorable, in order that funds may be available for improvements, road extensions, new equipment, &c. The remaining $23,000,000 of bonds will be disposed of subject to the further order of the Commission.—V. 116, p. 2636, 2006, 2001.

Chicago Elevated Rys. Collateral Trust.—Hold Sale of Stock Legal.—

The Illinois Appellate Court has reversed the order recently entered by the Circuit Court enjoining the sale of the collateral pledged as security for $14,000,000 6% Gold notes which have been in default since 1919. The collateral consists primarily of stocks of the Northwestern, South Side and Metropolitan roads. The collateral was to have been sold publicly on Oct. 3 by the Illinois-Merchants Trust Co. of Chicago, trustee under the loan, but the sale was temporarily enjoined on the application of certain stockholders. The latest court order overcomes legal obstacles to the sale and paves the way for the reorganization as proposed.—V. 117, p. 2768, 1662.

Chicago & North Western Ry.—Equip. Trusts & Bonds.

The I. S. C. Commission on Dec. 17, authorizing the Company to assume obligation and liability in respect of $6,180,000 of Series "O" and $1,560,000 of Series "P" 5% Equipment Trusts of 1923, to be issued by the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. under a certain agreement and to be sold at not less than 97½ and int. in connection with the procurement of certain equipment.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry.—Lease of Keokuk & Des Moines Ry. Authorized—Other Acquisitions.—

The I.-S. C. Commission on Dec. 22, authorized the Company to acquire control of the railroad of the Keokuk & Des Moines Ry., by lease. The report of the Commission says in substance:

The Keokuk Company is controlled by the applicant through the ownership of a majority of its capital stock. Since May 14 1878, the railroad has been operated by the applicant and its predecessor under a lease expiring Dec. 31 1923. The applicant paid as rental 25% of the gross receipts of the line, plus the taxes, which amounted to approximately $103,000 a year. It also guaranteed payment of the interest, but not the principal, of $2,750,000 1st Mtge. bonds, the interest payment being deducted from the payment of 25% of the gross receipts. It is stated that the total rental aggregated from $250,000 to $260,000 a year. The bonds matured Oct. 1 1923. Default was made in the payment thereof and on Dec. 1 1923, the Keokuk Company was placed in the hands of receivers in foreclosure proceedings instituted by the trustee under the mortgage. The court has entered an order approving the form of the proposed lease, and directing the receivers to execute it prior to Dec. 26 1923.

By the terms of the proposed lease the receivers demise to the applicant the railroad of the Keokuk Company, together with all the rights, privileges, and francnises of which they are now possessed, or which may hereafter inure to them with respect to said railroad, but not including the franchise of the Keokuk Company to be a corporation, and excepting, also, cash on hand and any sums due or to become due from the applicant under the lease of May 14 1878. The term of the proposed lease is to commence on the expiration of the prior lease and is to continue during the pendency of the receivership unless sooner terminated by order of the court, effective in not less than 30 days, or by either party giving to the other party 60 days' notice, in writing, of its election so to do. The applicant agrees to continue the operation of the railroad as at present; to maintain the property in the same condition it shall be in on the termination of the prior lease; and to pay a rental of $10,000 a month, plus all taxes, assessments, and governmental charges, for the period during which it is in control of the property.

The I.-S. C. Commission has authorized the Company (1) to acquire a line of railroad in Tillman County, Okla., extending from Chattanooga to Granfield, Okla., a distance of approximately 14.95 miles; and (2) to issue in connection with such acquisition $452,000 1st & Ref. Mtge. gold bonds.

The line in question is owned by the Rock Island & Oklahoma Railway and forms an extension of the Company's branch line which terminates at Chattanooga. The entire capital stock of the Oklahoma Company, consisting of 150 shares of the par value of $100 each, is held by the Rock Island or by its nominees as directors.—V. 117, p. 2768, 2541.

Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry.—Bonds Authorized.—

The stockholders have approved the issue of $10,000,000 Ref. & Impt. Mtge. bonds, which are to be used for other than refunding purposes, raising the amount which may be issued for other than refunding purposes from $25,000,000 to $35,000,000. This action was necessary to enable the company to issue and sell $20,000,000 of these bonds, application covering which is pending before the I.-S. C. Commission.—V. 117, p. 2323, 1992.

Colorado Columbus & Mexican RR.—Denial.—

The I.-S. C. Commission has denied the application for authority to issue $4,976,000 and $20,000,000 1st Mtge. 5% the proceeds to be used in connection with the construction of a proposed line of railroad extending from Columbus to Farmington, N. Mex. Compare also V. 117, p. 2768.

Denver & Rio Grande Western RR.—Acquisition.—

The I.-S. C. Commission on Dec. 19 authorized the receiver to acquire in the name of the company the line of railroad extending from a connection with the Loma branch of the company's railroad at Kebler No. 2 station in a general southwesterly direction to Alamo, a distance of 4.18 miles. The line was built by the Alamo Coal Co. to provide transportation facilities for the output of its mine at Alamo. It is stated that it would be impractical for the coal company to operate the line, as such operation would place it at a competitive disadvantage with other coal mines in the same district, all of which have the same freight rates.

By a contract made Aug. 3 1923 the Denver company agrees to purchase the line for the cost of construction, estimated to be from $80,000 to $85,000. The consideration is to be paid in semi-annual installments, upon the rendition by the coal company of statements therefor in amount, equivalent to 15 cents per ton for each ton of coal originating on the line and moved in carload shipments over the lines of the Denver company to ultimate destination on said lines, or as near to ultimate destination on the lines of other carriers as may be practicable; and a like amount on each ton of inbound carload shipments moving altogether over the lines of the Denver company, when the shipments originate on such lines, or for the greatest pract cable d.stance over its lines where the sh pments or.ginate at points beyond the system lines. If the amounts so accruing, as above provided, shall not have been sufficient to pay the full purchase price within seven years from the completion of the line, then any balance shall be forfeited.—V. 117, p. 2768.

Detroit United Ry.—Award.—

The board of arbitration appointed about a year ago to determine what the company should pay the city for the privilege of operating its interurban and freight trains over the city tracks, reported Dec. 18 that the company owes $476,035 net to the city. The total bill of the company to the city is $549,963, but the city has used some of the company's tracks and for that privilege owes $56,620, and also $17,297 for power purchased from the company.

The board sets a sliding scale upon which the two systems will work in the future. The city will submit monthly bills to the D. U. R. and vice versa. The board was appointed under the terms of the contract entered into between the city and company when the former took over the latter's city system, May 15 1922. The sums above specified are for the 13½ months period ending June 30 1923.—V. 117, p. 2323, 1883.

Erie RR.—Reduces War Finance Corporation Note.—

Of the total $5,475,000 cash payment made recently to the company by the U. S. RR. Administration in final settlement for the operation of the property during Federal control, $5,000,000 was turned over by the company to the War Finance Corp. in half payment of the $10,000,000 demand note outstanding against it.—V. 117, p. 2769, 1883.

Grand Trunk Ry. of Canada.—Interest Payments.—

The estimated earnings of the Wellington Grey & Bruce Ry. for the half-year ending Dec. 31 1923, applicable to meet interest on the bonds, will admit of the payment of £3 17s. 10d. per £100 bond, and this payment will be applied as follows, viz.: £2 17s. 10d. in final discharge of coupon 79, due Jan. 1 1910, and £1 on account of coupon 83, due July 1 1910, and will be made on and after Jan. 1 next at the offices of the Canadian National Rys., Orient House, 42-45 New Broad St., London, England. See Union Power & Light Co. below.—V. 117, p. 2440.

Ithaca (N. Y.) Traction Corp.—Reorg. Plan.—

Mention was made in V. 117, p. 2769 of the reorganization plan for the properties of the company. The underlying bondholders protective committee in a letter to holders of certificates of deposit of bonds under the underlying bonds protective agreement says in substance:

Cornell University has agreed to purchase from the corporation the apartment house on Cornell Heights and the land and water rights in Fall Creek gorge adjoining, and to pay therefor the sum of $52,500 in cash. The University has also agreed to accept bonds under the new mortgage, par for par, in exchange for the $37,000 Ithaca Street Ry. 1st Mtge. bonds now held by it, and also to accept par for par new bonds for the Ithaca Street Ry. 2d Mtge. bonds held by it. $85,500 of new bonds are to be sold for cash at par. The proceeds together with the $52,500 to be paid for the apartment house and water rights will provide cash to pay and discharge in full all of the outstanding 1st Mtge. bonds except those now held by the University which will be exchanged for new bonds, and the 1st Mtge. will be thereby discharged. Holders of Ithaca Street Ry. 2d Mtge. bonds and holders of Cayuga Lake Electric Ry. bonds will be expected to receive in exchange for these bonds bonds to be issued under the new mortgage, par for par. This will discharge the 2d Mtge. and the Cayuga Lake Mtge. Holders of the $488,000 1st & Ref. Mtge. 5% bonds will accept some form of stock in exchange for those bonds and the mortgage will be discharged.

Ithaca Street Railway Co. 1st Mtge.—All holders of these bonds, except Cornell University, will receive payment in full in cash. The plan is clearly to their advantage.

Ithaca Street Railway 2d Mtge.—The holders of these bonds receive 30-year 6% 1st Mtge. bonds in lieu of their present 6% 2d mortgage bonds. The present mortgage is subject to the present 1st Mtge. of $175,000. Holders of 2d Mtge. bonds will, under the plan, obtain the security of a first mortgage with a present issue of $222,500, on all the property now owned or hereafter to be acquired by the Ithaca Traction Corp. except the property to be sold to the University, two bridges over Fall Creek, and a small interest in a lot near Fall Creek on which a small freight house of the Central New York Southern RR. now stands. If the Traction Corporation now owns either of the bridges, it is proposed to vest title therein in the City of Ithaca, reserving a right of way. This would be to the advantage of the corporation.

The Traction Corporation also claims that equipment, double tracking, and other property of value, purchased or installed by the Traction Corporation after the reorganization of 1914, is not subject to the lien of the underlying mortgages. While the committee by no means concedes this claim, if the foreclosure suit is prosecuted the question will probably have to be litigated.

The new mortgage will certainly cover all this property besides all property to be acquired in the future. On the other hand, second mortgage bondholders will lose the security afforded by the apartment house and water rights, the proceeds of the sale of which will go toward the discharge of the superior lien on all the property. If this plan be not accepted a foreclosure and sale in the pending action will be necessary and the junior bond holders will necessarily be required to protect their interests by providing protection for the existing first mortgage bonds.

Cayuga Lake Electric Railway Mtge.—This mortgage is a lien only on the land and tracks and superstructure from Percy Field to Stewart Park. It is a first lien on this property, but its value disconnected from the remainder of the system is problematical. It seems to the committee that a first mortgage bond, part of an issue of a reasonable amount, and secured by the entire operating property of the Company, is decidedly preferable to present bonds.

Further Issues.—Under the plan bonds may be issued under the new mortgage from time to time and until the limit of $500,000 is reached to provide extensions, additions, and improvements, not repairs or renewals, but the proceeds of bonds are to provide for such extensions, additions, and improvements only to the extent of 25% of the cost thereof. The remainder of the cost must be supplied from other sources. The Company states that it proposes as soon as possible to purchase additional equipment and make other improvements which are badly needed, and it is suggested that a further issue of $75,000 may be needed for this purpose. These improvements ought to enable the Company materially to improve its service and thereby increase its revenues and should add to the security behind all the bonds.

Committee.—Mynderse Van Cleff, Frederick J. Platt, Charles D. Bostwick, with Frank Irvine, Counsel.

Digest of Reorganization Plan Dated Nov. 1 1923.

The corporation offers the following plan, in its entirety only, for the payment and cancellation of the present underlying mortgages and of the 1st & Ref. Mtge. and its future recapitalization subject to the approval and orders of the New York P. S. Commission.

New First Mortgage Bonds Issued.—All of the operating property now or hereafter owned (with the exception of the Apartment House adjoining the campus of Cornell University and the Power House rights and abandoned pipe line, &c., lying in the gorge adjacent to the Apartment House, the Thurston Avenue bridge and the Stewart Avenue bridge and any interest of said Corporation in the Freight House lot) to be subjected to a new first mortgage of this Corporation, which would be a first lien also upon the power contract, substation machinery, car equipment, and second track, upon which the mortgage securing the present $488,000 1st & Ref. Bonds is now a lien.

Under this new first mortgage there would be authorized $500,000 of 1st Mortgage Bonds of which $222,500 is to be immediately issued, as follows: $85,500 for cash at par. $37,000 to Cornell University in exchange for a like amount of its Ithaca Street Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 6s par for par. $75,000 in exchange for like amount (the entire issue) of Ithaca Street Ry. 2d Mtge. 6s par for par. $25,000 in exchange for a like amount (the entire issue) of Cayuga Lake Electric Ry 6s par for par.

Particulars of the First Mortgage.—Dated Jan. 1 1924 due in 30 years, int. payable J. & J. at 6% per annum at the corporation's fiscal agency in N. Y. City, without deduction for any New York State or Federal income tax not in excess of 2%. Corporation will also agree to refund Penn. 4 mill tax Red. on any int. date on 60 days' at 105 and int., either in entirety or in part for the sinking fund. Sinking fund to begin July 1 1929, at 2% of greatest amount of bonds at any time issued, the cash provided by such sinking fund to retire bonds by tender, or otherwise by lot at 105 and int. and bonds to be cancelled. Denom. $1,000, $500 and $100. Ithaca Trust Co., N. Y., trustee.

Restrictions on the issue of additional bonds would provide: For their issue only for additions and betterments in amounts approved as capital expenditures by the P. S. Commission. Additional bonds in amounts required may be certified by the trustee and delivered to the corporation for sale on a simultaneous deposit with the trustee of the cash proceeds of their sale under restrictions providing for the payment out by the trustee of such cash proceeds to the extent of 75% of the cost of such additions and betterments. Additional bonds in excess of $300,000 shall not be issued unless for the preceding 12 months the corporation shall have earned net less than twice the interest on the then outstanding bonds plus those desired to be issued.

Capital Stock.—The capital stock shall be in such amount and shall be divided into preferred stock and common stock, as the corporation shall determine, subject to the approval of the P. S. Commission.

The company has applied to the I.-S. C. Commission for permission to abandon its entire line of road, which runs from Kalamazoo to Lawton, Mich., a distance of 16 miles. The road is now in the hands of receivers and, it is stated, has been operating at a loss for a number of years.—V. 117, p. 781.

Commission and has filed equity suits in the Southern District Court of California, at Los Angeles, in an equity proceeding of the Los Angeles & Salt Lake RR. Co. against the United States of America.—V. 115, p. 942.

Massachusetts Northeastern Street Ry.—To Discontinue Branch Line.—

The New Hampshire P. S. Commission has authorized the company to discontinue service between Salem, Pelham, Hudson and Taylor's Falls Bridge in Nashua, N. H. The award will permit the company to discontinue service between Nashua and Lowell and Nashua and Lawrence, N. H. 14 miles of track are affected by the decision.

The decision provides that the property shall be sold to the Nashua Street Ry. Co. or any other purchaser if they will pay as much for it as may be obtained by scrapping the road. The company maintained that the branch was not earning operating expenses as a result of the competition by automobile and bus line traffic.—V. 117, p. 2542.

Missouri & North Arkansas RR.—Strike Ended.—

The railroad strike in progress since Feb. 1921, and marked by rioting and widespread destruction of property, ended Dec. 21, as a result of an agreement reached in Circuit Court at Harrison, Ark., disposing of criminal charges pending against strikers accused of sabotage and the issuance of an order officially calling off the strike.

The agreement came after conferences conducted by Frank L. Mulholland, attorney for the striking employes, and representatives of the various labor unions and court officials.

Under the agreement prosecution of indicted strikers will be dropped, a pardon will be asked for Luther Wise and Vurlen "Red" Orr, now in the State Penitentiary for arson, and bondsmen for Albert Stevens, a striker, who failed to appear for trial, will be released from payment of $10,000 bond furnished to guarantee his appearance. The unions are to pay bonds aggregating $20,000 put up for the appearance in court of the eighteen strikers and since forfeited.

J. C. Murray, Gen. Mgr., said the road would retain its present working force intact and continue its open shop policy.—V. 115, p. 2047.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—Past Year Record—Outlook—To Pay Bonds.—Pres. E. J. Pearson, New Haven, Dec. 22, in a letter to all officers and employees says:

During the season just past the New Haven System has made a fine record. Since early spring a larger volume of freight has been haudled over a sustained period than in any similar period in the history of the system. This business has been well handled. Freight car movement has been more rapid than ever before. The financial results for the year will show an improvement over 1922, and the prospects for net income for 1924 are encouraging.

The New Haven is the largest transportation system serving Southern New England. Our success depends upon giving our friends, the public, the kind of service to which they are entitled. It is our duty as well as our privilege to do this. New England is a fine section of the country; compactly located, densely populated and rich in industry. Ours is a home controlled, well operated system. If we not only continue the good work we have been doing, but better it where we can, it will soon resume its rightful position as one of the strong financial systems; one of which the public, the security owners and the workers may well be proud.

[The $415,000 5% bonds of the Meriden Horse RR. due Jan. 1 1924 will be paid off Jan. 1 at office of Girard Trust Co., Phila., Pa.]—V. 117, p. 2770.

New York & Long Island Traction Co.—Receivership.—

An order appointing Charles L. Addison of Hempstead as receiver, was made in the Queens Supreme Court Dec. 21 by Justice Van Siclen on the contingency that operation of the line is to be kept up.

The appointment of Addison as a receiver followed the serving of a summons and complaint upon officials of the company in an action brought in the Nassau Supreme Court by Lincoln C. Andrews, receiver of the New York & Queens County Ry. to compel the appointment of a receiver for the line. Several weeks ago the receiver of the New York & Queens Company obtained an order directing the First National Bank of Hempstead, the depository of the funds of the New York & Long Island Traction Co., to pay to the Queens company receiver $29,107, money owed to the New York & Queens company for a number of years. An examination of the company's financial status in supplementary proceedings brought out the fact that the company is not financially sound and Receiver Andrews immediately began an action to have a receiver appointed.

Other reasons for the receivership are said to be that there are several large judgments out against the company. Among these is the recently obtained judgment for $50,000 which was secured by former Sheriff William George in the Supreme Court as the result of a collision between an automobile driven by George and a car of the company at Jamaica.—V. 117, p. 554.

New York Central RR.—Listing.—

The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the listing, on or after Jan. 3 1924, of $31,510,620 additional Capital stock on official notice of issuance, making a total amount applied for $300,000,000. The stock applied for has been offered to stockholders of record Jan. 2 for subscription at par to the extent of 10% of their respective holdings. Subscriptions will be received by the General Treasurer of the company in New York and by Morgan, Grenfell & Co. in London until Jan. 31 1924. Payment in full accompany subscriptions.

Niagara Lockport & Ontario Power Co.—Application.

The company has applied to the New York P. S. Commission for permission to acquire by condemnation certain additional water and riparian rights below its present developments.—V. 117, p. 2331.

Northern Pacific Ry.—Where the Money Goes.—The "Information Bulletin" issued by the company says:

What has happened in 5 years to the railroad business in the Northwest is strikingly shown in facts made public by the Company. The information follows:

Last year we paid our men $45,226,134; in 1917 the pay roll was $31,658,202—increase $13,567,932.

In 1922, the Northern Pacific's coal bill was $10,233,709; in 1917 it was $8,046,981—increase $2,186,728.

Material other than fuel cost $12,587,412 in 1922; in 1917, $8,022,047—increase $4,585,365.

During the same years, taxes jumped from $6,910,728 to $8,430,583—increase $1,519,855.

Gross earnings in 1917 were $88,216,588; in 1912, $96,651,083—increase $7,834,495.

In 1917, the 38,000 owners of $248,000,000 Northern Pacific stock were paid $17,360,000 as return on their investment; in 1922, only $12,400,000—decrease $4,960,000.

The Northern Pacific actually earned 5.94% return for its owners on their investment in 1917; in 1922, only 3.53%. Dividends have been decreased from 7% to 5%.

These figures show that in 5 years the increase of railroad earnings has been disproportionate to railroad operating costs and that investments in railroad property have not brought the return which was originally promised or the return of 5¾% which has been specifically authorized by the government as fair and reasonable.

The Northern Pacific's tax bill was $22,919 a day in 1922. In 1900, the railroad's taxes were $1,025,631—in 1922, $8,365,470. Northern Pacific taxes more than doubled between 1912 and 1922, increasing from $3,806,463 to $8,365,470.

Northern Pacific Tax Payments Since 1900.

Northern Pacific taxes for 1922 consumed 8.77 cents out of every dollar of gross-earnings, and 35.71 cents out of every dollar of net earnings.—V. 117, 2543.

Oakland-Hayward Ry.—Plan Approved.—

See San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Rys. below.

Pennsylvania RR.—Financing—No. of Stockholders.—

The Company, according to reports in the financial district, is considering the sale of $50,000,000 5% Ref. bonds early next year to bankers in an effort to dispose of part of the $70,000,000 which is owed the Government and on which 6% interest is being paid. The road has petitioned the Government for a reduction in the interest rate from 6% to 4¾%.

The number of stockholders on Dec. 1 totaled 143,406, an increase of 5,977 as compared with Jan. 1 1923. The average holdings Dec. 1 were 69.63 shares, a decrease of 3.42 shares compared with a year ago. Foreign stockholders totaled 2,868, an increase of 37 compared with last year.—V. 117, p. 2324.

Point Pleasant (N. J.) Traction Co.—Sale Approved.—

The New Jersey P. U. Commission has approved the sale of the property of the company and the surrender of its franchise. Operation ceased in 1919.—V. 111, p. 793.

Potomac Public Service Co.—Merger.—

See Potomac Edison Co. under "Railroads" below.—V. 116, p. 2007.

Public Service Corp., N. J.—Company Has Done Well in 1923.—Pres. Thomas N. McCarter, is quoted as follows:

We have done very well in 1923. Notwithstanding losses caused by the strike on our street railway properties we already show 11 months earnings after all charges and preferred dividends of over $3,000,000. Our ultimate showing for the year should be around $8,600,000. These figures are quite satisfactory when it is taken into consideration that they include the losses due to the strike causing cessation of operations by the Public Service Ry., and that there has been plowed back approximately $6,000,000 out of earnings into our physical properties. This latter has always been one of our definite policies.

Sales of electricity and gas have shown large increases. In the first 11 months of 1923 sales of electricity totaled 603,000,000 kw. h. against 478,000,000 over the same period last year, an increase of 26%. Gas sales show an increase of 11.35% over 1922. Public Service Gas Co. and Public Service Electric Co. together have passed the 1,000,000 mark in the number of meters now in use.

The first half of the new electric plant at Kearney, N. J., will be finished late in 1925. By the time this plant is completed we will need additional facilities if our territory continues to expand at its present rate of growth. Our section of New Jersey has grown at an amazing rate and we have been hard put at times to keep up with it. With the completion of the vehicular tunnel and the proposed bridge across the Hudson, the industrial and commercial expansion of this territory will be even more rapid.

The cost of the first half of our plant at Kearny, with an initial installed capacity of 187,000 KVA or 200,000 h.p., will approximate $20,000,000, all of which has been financed. These facilities at the command of New Jersey's industries will contribute greatly to the economic development and growth of the State.

I think the customer-ownership policy is one of the saving graces of the utility industry. Largely through customer-ownership, we have been able to increase our stockholders from 2,500 a little over a year ago to 30,000 to-day. Through new campaigns we will further increase the number of our stockholders and help our future financing materially.—V. 117, p. 2324, 2213.

Public Service Ry., N. J.—Would Sell Terminal.—

The company has filed an application with the New Jersey P. U. Commission asking authority to sell the company's Newark terminal to the Public Service Corp., the holding company. A purchase price of $2,500,000 and the assumption of a $5,000,000 mortgage has been fixed.—V. 117, p. 2433, 1557

Reading Co.—Segregation Approved —

The U. S. District Court at Phila. Dec. 28 approved what the company has done so far to bring about the segregation of the railway and coal companies.

The new features of the approval order are sanctioned by the Court of the appointment of officers and directors of the new coal company—the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Corp.

Officers.—President, W. J. Richards; V.-Pres., R. J. Montgomery; V.-Pres. & Sec., Wm. H. McEwan, Treas.; David Wilson, Asst. Sec.; Martin P. McDermott, Asst. Treas., Charles A. Hurss.

Directors.—Joseph M. McCall, N. H. Fairbanks, W. J. Richards, R. J. Montgomery, W. H. McEwan and George C. Coughlin.

Another feature approved was the naming of J. P. Morgan & Co. and Drexel & Co. as transfer agents for stock of the new coal company; and the Bankers Trust Co. of New York and Fidelity Trust Co. of Philadelphia, as registrars.

Approval was also given to the merger of the Reading Co. and the Philadelphia & Reading Ry. and to the issue of $63,084,666 of bonds, which was sanctioned by the I. S. C. Commission Dec. 27; also the right of the Reading Co. to operate its numerous subsidiary lines of railway, which matter was likewise approved by the Pennsylvania P..S. Commission Dec. 27

The Court directed the company to proceed forthwith to consummate the remaining details of the segregation plans, one of which is the surrender by the Reading Co. of its corporate franchises as a holding company and the acceptance by it of the State constitution making it an operating company. This latter proceeding is now pending in Common Pleas Court. —V. 117, p. 2654.

Rhode Island Suburban Ry.—Payment on Bonds.—

Pursuant to the terms and provisions of an order of the Rhode Island Superior Court approving the third report and petition of Arthur A. Thomas, Special Master in Chancery, entered Nov. 20 1923, notice is given that on and after Jan. 1 1924 holders of (a) 1st Mtge. bonds of the Pawtuxet Valley Electric Street Ry. and coupons appertaining thereto due July 1 1919, and (b) 1st Mtge. bonds of the Rhode Island Suburban Ry. and coupons appertaining thereto due July 1 1919 and Jan. 1 1920, may present the same to Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., Providence, R. I., and upon presentation and stamping thereof, as provided in the order, the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., as agent of the Master in Chancerry, will pay: (a) (1) upon each 1st Mtge. bond of the Pawtuxet Valley Electric Street Ry. of the denomination of $1,000 the sum of $243 90; (2) upon each coupon due July 1 1919 appertaining to a bond of the Pawtuxet Valley Electric Street Ry. of the denomination of $1,000 the sum of $6 10; (3) upon each 1st Mtge. bond of the Pawtuxet Valley Electric Street Ry. of the denomination of $200 the sum of $48 78; (4) upon each coupon due July 1 1919 appertaining to a bond of the Pawtuxet Valley Electric Street Ry. of the denomination of $200 the sum of $1 22; (b) (1) upon each 1st Mtge. bond of the Rhode Island Suburban Ry. the sum of $240 38; (2) upon each coupon due July 1 1919 and Jan. 1 1920 appertaining to each 1st Mtge. bond of the Rhode Island Suburban Ry. Co. the sum of $4 81.

The properties covered by the above mortgages are now consolidated into the United Electric Rys. per plan in V. 112, p. 564.—V. 113, p. 184.

St. Louis Rocky Mtn. & Pacific Co.—Omits Common.—

The directors have voted to omit the payment of the quarterly dividend of 1% usually paid Dec. 31 on the outstanding $10,000,000 Common stock, par $100. Quarterly dividends of 1% were paid on this issue from March 1919 to September 1923 inclusive.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1¼% has been declared on the 5% non-cumul. Preferred stock, payable Dec. 31 to holders of record Dec. 20.

President J. Van Houven says that earnings of the company in 1923 have been far below normal and the outlook for a return to normal conditions while giving promise of improvement, makes it advisable to conserve cash resources.—V. 116, p. 1771.

St. Louis-San Francisco Ry.—New Vice-Pres. &c.—

J. E. Hutchinson, Gen. Mgr., has been elected to the new office of Vice-Pres. in charge of operations, with offices in St. Louis. A. H. Jones has been appointed assistant to Mr. Hutchinson. J. H. Fraser, Asst. Gen. Mgr. in charge of the second district at Springfield, Mo., has been appointed Gen. Mgr. to succeed Mr. Hutchinson. These changes will become effective Jan. 1.—V. 117, p. 895.

Saginaw Transit Co.—Operations.—

Earnings of the company for November, the first month of operation, showed gross earnings of $29,646. After deduction of operating expenses and taxes of $23,601, balance available for bond interest was $6,044, as compared with monthly requirements of $2,475.

After being without street railway service for more than two years, operations in the Michigan city were partially resumed on Nov. 1 and additional equipment gradually was placed in operation until by Dec. 1 transportation was well organized and "jitney" competition eliminated. A total of approximately 465,000 passengers were carried during the month of which 393,334 were revenue passengers.—V. 117, p. 1993, 1778.

San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Rys.—Plan.—

The California Railroad Commission has approved the general reorganization plan of the "Key System," but with the stipulation that reorganization fees and expenses totaling about $500,000 must be paid out of net profits or surplus and not be made a charge against the public.

The Commission points out in its decision that the trustees, Hugh Goodfellow, Warren Olney and W. f. Brobeck, purchased the railways for $10,000,000 at the recent foreclosure sale, paying $338,165 in cash and $9,601,835 by credit, endorsed pro rata upon the bonds deposited under the reorganization plan.

The capitalization of the new corporations under the approved refinancing will be as follows: (a) Key System Transit Co., $17,750,000; (b) Key System Securities Co., $2,600,000; (c) East Oakland Ry., $10,000 (instead of $250,000 applied for); (d) Oakland & Hayward Ry., $10,000 (instead of $250,000 applied for).

The Key System Transit Co. will serve as the principal company and will own and operate the properties of the old San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Rys. It is authorized to own and hold all the stock except qualifying directors' shares of the three subsidiary companies and shall lease and operate the properties of the two subsidiaries, which are to acquire operating railroad properties—the East Oakland Ry. and the Oakland & Hayward Ry. The trustees are directed to convey to the Key System Transit Co. all properties acquired at the foreclosure sale except such as are to be transferred to subsidiary companies. (Compare reorganization plan, as amended, in V. 115, p. 544.) See also V. 117, p. 1348, 327.

Stewartstown RR.—Stock Application Dismissed.—

The I.-S. C. Commission on Dec. 17 dismissed the application of the company for authority to issue $100,000 capital stock. The report of the Commission says:

The company sought authority to issue $100,000 Common stock for the purpose of assuming and paying off the mortgage bonds of the New Park & Fawn Grove RR. in connection with the acquisition of control of that carrier and for other capital purposes. At the time this application was filed the applicant indicated that it proposed to file an application for authority to acquire control of the New Park company. To date no such application has been filed, and though the applicant indicates that it still proposes to file such an application, the date is indefinite and the applicant has further indicated that such control may be acquired, if permitted by us, in some manner other than by the issue of securities.

Tennessee Electric Power Co.—Pref. Stock for Customers.

The company is offering locally to its employees and patrons an issue of 7.20% First Pref. stock. In addition Company now purchases under contract the entire output of the International Paper Co.'s new 30,000 kw. hydro-electric plant located at Sherman Island.

The special meeting of stockholders has again been adjourned until Jan. 10. See V. 117, p. 2656, 2773.

Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co.—Unfilled Orders, &c.—

An authoritative statement says: Unfilled orders as of Nov. 1 aggregated $12,200,000, compared with $12,575,000 as of Oct. 1. Orders are approximately $1,000,000 below the high point reached on July 1, when the total was $13,140,000. New business is coming in at a fair rate, but billings have been increased for several months with the idea of working off an accumulation of old orders. The decline is due rather to increased shipments than smaller sales. The number of employees has also fallen off slightly, with 6,742 for Nov. 1 compared with 6,833 for the previous month and 6,904 for Sept. 1.

No large orders were received during November, but there has been a steady flow of small orders. In general, buying is somewhat hesitant as compared with the rapid purchasing movement during the spring, when order books were increased by $5,000,000. Net profits are expected to run at the recent high level for several months as heavy shipments continue, regardless of the smaller supply of new business.—V. 117, p. 1994.

Alms & Doepke Co., Cincinnati, O.—Pref. Stock Offered.—

The bankers named below are offering at 100 and div. $500,000 7% Cumulative Pref. (a. & d.) stock.

The shares offered have been acquired from private sources and their re-sale will not affect the capital of the company in any way; neither is the company considering nor does it need any new financing, having ample capital to enable it to accept all discounts on purchases made.

Common stock (Par $100)	1,200,000	1,200,000

The capital as given above, both preferred and common, has been built up entirely through earnings from an initial investment of $10,000 made in 1865. The capital stock issued at the time of incorporation in 1889 and the capital stock issued in the re-organization in March 1923, both represented actual book values resulting from earnings left in the business.

Property.—At the present time, the store and buildings of the company cover more than one entire city block containing 621,725 sq. ft., being approximately 15 acres of floor space. The real estate and buildings are all owned in fee and carried on the books at very conservative figures.

Armour & Co. (Illinois).—Extension Granted—Purchase.

Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., who agreed in a consent decree signed Feb. 27 1920 to dispose of all their holdings not related to the meat business within one year, are given until Jan. 12 1925 to sell their major holdings in stock yards, railroads, &c. Extensions have been granted from time to time because of alleged depressions in various financial centres.

The company, it is reported, has purchased the former New York soap plant of B. T. Babbitt Co. from J. Mendelsohn, who has operated it for several years. The new plant, it is stated, will afford Armour & Co. better facilities for Eastern and foreign distribution.

It is also reported that early in the new year the B. T. Babbitt Co. will dispose of its soap, cleanser and soap powder business, with its factories at Babbitt, N. J., to Armour & Co. The lye, caustic and chlorinated lime portions of the business will be continued by the present controlling interests, Mendelsohn & Sons, of Albany, under the well-known brand names.

Armour & Co., it is said, will take possession of the New Jersey plants and continue the sale of the leading lines, such as "Babbitt's Best" soap, "Babbitt's Cleanser," "1776 Soap Powder," &c., while the Mendelsohns, who have for several years past owned control of the Babbitt stock, will merge those brands with those made in their Albany plant for many years past.—V. 117, p. 2774, 2656.

Arundel Corp. (Baltimore).—To Purchase Pref. Stock.—

The directors on Dec. 20 decided to buy $250,000 of Preferred stock, this amount to be purchased out of surplus earned this year, at the lowest prices obtainable.

The regular quarterly dividend of 2% on the Common stock, par $50, and the regular semi-annual dividend of 3½% on the Preferred stock, have been declared, both payable Jan. 1 to holders of record Dec. 26.—V. 116, p. 1535.

Associated Dry Goods Corp.—Dividend Increased.—

The directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼% on the Common stock, payable Feb. 1 to holders of record Jan. 12. Since May 1 1920 quarterly dividends of 1% each have been paid on the Common stock.—V. 116, p. 1054.

Associated Oil Co.—Listing—Offer to Acquire Minority Stock of Amalgamated Oil Co., &c.—

The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the listing of $6,000,000 additional capital stock, par $25, on official note of issuance, making the total amount applied for $56,000,000.

The company is the owner of 50.01% of the outstanding $5,000,000 capital stock of the Amalgamated Oil Co. The operations of the latter company are entirely in Southern California. For several years its entire capital has been fully employed and to meet competition in securing and developing lands it has been obliged at times to borrow very large sums of money from Associated Oil Co. Notwithstanding this latter company has found it necessary to furnish its own facilities, involving expenditures of several million dollars in Southern California. Developing that section has reached the point where larger resources are necessary to satisfactorily carry on business. It has been suggested that the best method of accomplishing results is by a consolidation of the two companies, and in that event a saving will be accomplished through the elimination of duplication of expenses not avoidable in operating the two companies.

The directors of Associated Oil Co. have authorized an offer to be made to Amalgamated Oil Co. to purchase all of its propreties and assets and to pay therefor $6,000,000 stock of Associated Oil Co. As an additional consideration, Associated Oil Co. will assume all liabilities of Amalgamated Oil Co. This method will enable Amalgamated Oil Co. to liquidate and to distribute to its stockholders the shares of Associated Oil Co. received for its properties. There will be a meeting of the stockholders of Amalgamated Oil Co. to consider and act upon this proposition on Dec. 28 1923, and the offer is held open for acceptance on or before Dec. 31 1923.

The directors of the Amalgamated Oil Co. acted favorably upon the offer. Formal acceptance by the stockholders is assured, for the reason that 66.28% of Amalgamated Oil Co. stock is owned by the Associated Oil Co. and affiliated interests; and proxies, received and in hands of the proxy committee of the Amalgamated Oil Co., aggregate 10.84%, making shares already controlled and to be voted in favor of the offer 77.12% of the total.

Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Canada, Ltd.
In connection with the dividend of 6% declared last week (V. 117, p. 2775), the company says: "While the results of the year's operations might warrant a larger dividend, the directors think that it is in the best interests of the shareholders to strengthen the treasury rather than make too generous a distribution of profits. Moreover, increased production calls for additional working capital.
"The new mill at the Sullivan mine is working quite satisfactorily. Current smelter production of lead and zinc combined is exceeding 7,000 tons per month. Silver production is about 250,000 ounces per month. A start has been made on milling Rossland ores—some 400 tons being treated daily. It will be some months before anything really definite can be said as to the future of the Rossland properties. The plants and mines are in good condition. Company also purchases time sales lien notes for motor vehicles, upon which the customer has paid one-third or more cash, the balance being, in most cases, payable in monthly instalments. Company requires the guarantee of the dealer and retains a lien on the car itself, and also insures the car against fire and theft.
Convertibility.—Convertible any time before redemption at the holder's option into one share of Class "A" Common Stock for each two shares of 8% Convertible Preferred surrendered, with appropriate changes in the conversion basis in the event of the increase of the Class "B" Common Stock, to insure the maintenance of the proper ratio.

Fisher Body Corp.—Acquires Timber Properties.—
The corporation has acquired approximately 100,000 acres of standing timber properties located in Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. The properties will be operated by a subsidiary, Fisher-Hurd Lumber Co., of which O. P. Hurd of Memphis will be the President and General Mgr. Fisher Body conservatively estimates that the standing timber covering the acreage purchased will yield upward of 750,000,000 feet—95% of it suitable for the manufacture of automobile bodies. [Dispatches from Memphis, Tenn., intimate that the timber properties taken over by the Fisher Body Corp. include those of the Bennett & Witte Co. and the Pritchard-Wheeler Lumber Co.]
Charles T. Fisher, V.-Pres. of Fisher Body Corp., says: "Our manufacturing policy which is constantly directed at production on a large scale basis will be extended to our lumbering operations so as to effect the continuous use of the logging and saw-mill facilities and equipment which we believe can be made possible by reason of our being able to predetermine our lumber requirements at all times. By installing special machinery at the mill we shall be able to utilize a greater proportion of the logging than has heretofore been possible under ordinary conditions."
These lumber operations will enable the Fisher interests to log and mill their timber with the same purpose in view of producing a maximum of sizes and grades of lumber best suited for body-building requirements. This policy will be a distinct departure from the established saw-mill practice of cutting lumber for standard commercial sizes.
It will be the policy to store manufactured lumber at the mills in the South rather than to occupy costly ground space in the body-building centres for such purposes as has been the custom in the past. In addition to the economy to be effected by manufacturing of lumber of specification sizes at the sources there will be a considerable saving in the cost of transportation by reason of most of the moisture having been eliminated before shipment of the lumber. While the timber properties purchased include splendid logging and cutting facilities and equipment, these will be extended to meet all possible demands for lumber requirements by the numerous plants of the Fisher Body Corp. and its subsidiaries.—V. 117, p. 2658.

Fisher Body Ohio Co.—Stock Decreased.—

General Motors Corp.—Olds Motor Works—General Motors in Canada—Sub. Co. Officers.—
Owing to the exceptionally large demand, the Olds Motor Works has been forced to eliminate holiday layoffs with the exception of Christmas and New Year's days, and will not shut down for inventory this year. The factory is running close to the limit of its present capacity. The last quarter of 1923 was one of the best three-month periods in its history. Sales during the last quarter of 1922 totaled approximately 5,000, while during the same period of the year just ended sales figures mounted beyond the 11,000 mark. Monthly schedules for 1924 call for more than double the production reached in December, the highest month since the introduction of the new 6-cylinder model. Additional machinery equipment and the establishment of a Fisher Body Corp. plant in connection with the Olds factory will permit larger distribution.
The corporation is sending to all stockholders a booklet giving details of the company's operations in Canada. An introduction by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., President, states that 28% of all motor cars in Canada are General Motors products. He says also that "this Canadian industry is helping the overseas selling organizations of General Motors to displace obsolete methods of transportation in almost every country of the globe.

The company has $25,000,000 invested in Canada and its output is valued at more than $40,000,000 annually.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., President of General Motors announces that the following have been elected officers of the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Co.: Charles F. Kettering, Pres.; O. L. The directors passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, after careful investigation, approximately 52% of the property and equipment [of Island Oil & Transport Corp.] pledged to be delivered to Gulf States Oil & Refining Corp. in exchange for 1,600,000 shares of its capital stock, shows that slightly more than said 52% thereof should be accepted as fully meeting said requirements, both as to area, producing condition, general condition of development and equipment, and that final approval of engineers and attorneys on the remainder thereof is deferred, awaiting correction of titles, completion of drilling wells to establish the requisite volume of production, &c.

"Therefore be it resolved, that 52% of said stock of the corporation so to be given as full payment for said properties be delivered to the proper parties, or their order, and the remaining 48% be withheld in escrow, not delivered until the acceptance of the remainder of said property, or pro rata parts thereof, either the identical property contemplated, or acceptable substitutions for any thereof that may not by title or producing condition be equal to the conditions stipulated."—V. 117, p. 2218.

Jones Bros. Tea Co., Inc.—No Common Dividend.—
In connection with the passing of the dividend on the Common stock (see V. 117, p. 2777), Pres. Jones says:

"Such action was deemed advisable because aside from expenses incidental to the opening of new stores, the company, due to abnormal coffee conditions, suffered some heavy merchandise losses during the past few months. Pending the taking of the final inventory, there is no doubt that net profits for the current fiscal year will cover the Preferred dividend with a margin but we decided to adopt a conservative policy with respect to Common dividends.

"Sales for 1923, partly estimated, are $32,000,000, as compared with $24,203,540 in 1922. It is confidently expected that net earnings will be increased materially during 1924 and thereafter as the result of the policy adopted by the directors at this time, and that any temporary loss in dividends will be more than made up later by a resultant increase in the earning capacity of the company's assets."—V. 117, p. 2777.

Data from Letter of C. F. Huber, President of the Corporation.

Security.—The Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Corp. owns 149,788 shares, equivalent to 81.3% of the total outstanding capital stock (184,200 shares) of Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co.

These 149,788 Coal company shares are to be assigned to the trustee as collateral security for the payment of the principal and interest of the $10,000,000 5½% Serial Collateral Trust bonds under an indenture with the usual protective provisions and to contain rigid covenants protecting the holders of the bonds as to future additions to the funded indebtedness of the Coal company beyond the present amount of $5,550,000 now outstanding; as to the reduction of the Coal company's combined capital and surplus below $20,000,000 by cash distribution to its stockholders; as to the sale or other disposition of its coal lands; and as to stock dividends unless 81.3% of the resulting distribution be pledged with the trustee. The indenture will also contain suitable protective covenants to cover the possible merger of the Coal company or the corporation or either of them with other corporations or with each other.

Sale of Stock of Coal Company.—These 149,788 shares of stock of the Coal company were purchased by the corporation on Dec. 10 1923 at $150 per share, and shares are pledged under the indenture at only $66 76 per share. [The sale was made in conformity with the Reading dissolution decree whereby the Central RR. Co. of New Jersey was ordered to divorce itself of the stock of the Coal company.]

Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co.—The company's mining operations are mainly in the Wyoming, but partly in the Lehigh region of the Pennsylvania anthracite fields. It owns in fee 11,658 acres of coal lands and holds under lease 2,724 acres, or a total of 14,382 acres. It also owns in fee 26,105 acres of surface and has 11 collieries with modern breakers, washeries, and miscellaneous equipment for efficient and economical operation. A conservative estimate of the remaining marketable tonnage in its properties is 325,000,000 tons, and as its average annual production is approximately 5,000,000 tons the properties have a life of about 65 years.

Earnings.—For the five calendar years 1919 to 1923, both incl. (1923 partly estimated), the net earnings of the Coal company after all operating expenses, maintenance, interest charges, taxes (local, State, Federal and Income) and adequate allowances for depletion and depreciation, have averaged $5,450,000 per annum. In no year during this period have the earnings been less than $3,850,000.

Thus the proportion of the average annual net earnings indicated as applicable to the Coal company shares owned by the corporation and to be pledged as security for its bonds has been nearly three times the maximum amount necessary to meet the annual requirements for retiring the yearly maturities and for interest on the bonds outstanding from time to time; and eight times the maximum annual interest requirements of these bonds.

The company has decided not to declare an interim dividend on the 8% non-cumul. partic. preference shares or on the ordinary shares for the year ending Dec. 31 1923.

Middle States Oil Corp.—Review of 1923.—President P. D. Saklatvala Dec. 26 says in substance:

The year 1923 is just closing, and, happily, it is closing with a material improvement in the oil business. The last two-thirds of this year was, no doubt, a very trying year for crude oil producing companies. Up to the beginning of this month only a small percentage of the total production was accepted and paid for by the pipelines, and thus cash collections were very much curtailed.

The corporation in spite of these curtailed cash receipts was able not only to pay its expenses and preserve its assets, but also continue new essential developments, and has on its own account and that of its subsidiaries ample cash balances.

There is a larger amount of bills and accounts receivable, with less than $50,000 of bills payable. The corporation has therefore not only conserved, but added a great deal to its assets even in such abnormal, distressed condition of the oil business. The policy of freedom from debts during strenuous times is the best measure of security for the stockholders.

The railroad investments have more than fulfilled its prospects, for besides being serviceable in the transportation facilities, it has also proven of advantage as a revenue producer. The Louisiana & Northwest RR., in which the company owns over 99½% interest, has carried during the 10 months of the year to Nov. 1 1923, over 432,000 tons, and shows a net income of $363,128. This railroad property is valued at $5,000,000 and has only a bonded indebtedness of $2,184,000.

In Wyoming about 45 miles have been completed and in operation since Sept. 25 1923 and already shows very profitable results.

Since the beginning of this month our line of business has improved and in most cases greater percentage of production is being accepted and paid for; therefore, with our assets conserved and strong cash position, we are in a position to take advantage of the improved conditions which we soon hope will reach normal.

Southern States Oil Corp.—Removed from Curb.—
The Governors of the Curb Exchange on Dec. 26 suspended from trading the shares of the Southern States Oil Corp., after which both the Curb and the New York Stock Exchange, began an inquiry into the recent heavy buying of this stock and the failure to pay for 78,000 shares on Dec. 24. The effect of the suspension was a drop in the price from 33¾, reached on Dec. 24, to an offering price of 11 and a bid price of 5 Dec. 26 on over-the-counter transactions.

The New York Stock Exchange made this announcement:
The Committee on Business Conduct of the New York Stock Exchange is investigating transactions of Stock Exchange houses in stock of the Southern States Oil Corp., trading in which was suspended to-day by the Curb market.

Richards, Hutchinson & Co., curb brokers, who were understood to have been refused payment for about 50,000 shares, which they bought on Dec. 24, for the account of Gov. C. N. Haskell, Chairman of the board of the Middle States Oil Corp., and other clients, were automatically suspended from membership on the Curb Exchange. A report that the firm could not meet its obligations was declared by members of the firm to be without foundation. The Middle States Oil Corp. is affiliated with the Southern States Oil Corp. through their joint ownership and management of the Oil Lease Development Co.

A statement issued by Gov. C. N. Haskell says:
Southern States Oil has nothing whatever to do with the trading of stock of its issue on the New York Curb or elsewhere. It is in first class condition, and, as shown by recent appraisal by disinterested experts, shows a book value of above $40 per share, as I am shown the report with which I had nothing whatever to do—but is appraisement of disinterested experts. The trading in stock has been purely personal by myself and many other people in no way connected with Southern States Co., and who trade in Southern States stock as the multitudes do in other stocks for their own account. For some days past the trading has been aggressively carried on by both bulls and bears. If intrinsic value prevails, the bears will get the worst of it; if desperate tactics prevail, intrinsic values might temporarily be lost sight of. With a little more record information, which I am endeavoring to obtain, I may be able to show desperate methods of the opposition which honest public opinion will not approve. My observation so far are that most of the brokers are loyal and just in their methods of doing business; but there does seem, with the present information, to be an opportunity for some of the others to explain their conduct. Temporary suspension in trading, however, of this stock I believe was wise and proper on the part of the Curb management, to the end that a brief time absolutely necessary to gauge the condition could be had.

C. H. Rowan, Vice-President and director, says:
The corporation, as such, has never bought or sold a single share of its stock on the New York Curb Market or any other exchange. The corporation was never in a more prosperous condition, with the following assets: 389 producing oil wells with daily production of over 12,000 barrels; 12 subsidiary companies in which its ownership is from control to 100%; 14,000 acres of actually proven oil leases, and 192,950 acres of carefully selected and geologized undeveloped acreage.

A receat appraisal made by the highest class eagineers that could be employed developed that the value of the corporation's assets is $19,011,677 net, exclusive of all outstanding interests.

Southern States will not permit the trading or temporary lack of trading in its stock to interfere with the production and development of its properties and the protection of the interest of its stockholders.

At the meeting of Middle States Oil board of directors Dec. 27 the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, considering all of the brokers' accounts, trading in Southern States stock for account of either C. N. Haskell or Unity Securities Corp., received by us either in written stated accounts from brokers or in their advanced telephone reports which they are still promising to confirm in writing, show that the entire amount of Southern States stock was margined down to an average of $11¼ per share, and,

Whereas, both Unity Securities Corp. and C. N. Haskell are willing to waive their equity in the stock so that the payment of debit balances would acquire good and complete title to said stock.

Therefore, upon the written confirmation of said brokers' telephone reports, so that there be a certainty of the delivery of the stock of said shares at greater or less debit balances than $11¼ per share, but to meet the average computed at $11¼ per share from said brokers' reports, the executive committee of Middle States Oil Corp. is authorized, in its discretion, to acquire all said Southern States stock at the said average of not above $11¼ per share.—V. 117, p. 2782.

(C. G.) Spring Co.—Operations.—

Standard Milling Co.—Notes Sold.—Goldman, Sachs & Co. have purchased $1,500,000 3-Year 6% notes of the company to be dated Jan. 2 1924 and have placed them privately.—V. 117, p. 1661.

Sugar Products Co.—Distribution to Creditors Barred.—
Judge John C. Knox in the U. S. District Court at New York on Dec. 21 dismissed the application of Robert Szold, receiver, to grant a 10% dividend to the creditors of the company. The petition was opposed by Assistant U. S. Attorney William M. A. O'Neil, due to the non-payment of a claim of $215,132 which is said to be owed to the Government for taxes. The application of the receiver was to distribute $67,279 among the creditor with allowed claims of $672,792. The receiver has $496,734 in cash on hand. He contended that by setting aside $233,080 to pay all priority claims in full, he still has sufficient on hand to declare the 10% dividned.

Claims aggregating $12,000,000 have been filed against the company since the receiver was appointed Jan. 13 1922; claims of $1,211,546 have been settled. The company is a subsidiary of the U. S. Food Products Co.—V. 114, p. 206.

By this financing there will be a saving to the corporation of at least $110,000 per annum.

The Nebraska and South Dakota properties were transferred to the Northwestern Public Service Co. (see V. 117, p. 2780).—V. 115, p. 2058.

This compares with a quarterly dividend of 1¾% and an extra dividend of 1% for the year 1923, paid Oct. 15 last on the Common stock, which brought the total dividends paid this year to 8%.—V. 117, p. 1565.

United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co.—Underwrites $1,500,000 Notes of Hammon Consolidated Gold Fields, Getting Bonus of 50,000 Shares of Stock.—

The company has agreed to underwrite at par $1,500,000 7% Conv. notes, due Jan. 1 1934, of the Hammon Consolidated Gold Fields. These notes are convertible into stock at $10 per share and the Smelting company underwrites the whole issue at the same prices as the notes are to be offered to stockholders. For this the company gets a bonus of 50,000 shares of stock.

The notes are to be offered first to stocknolders of Hammon Consolidated Gold Fields on the basis of $1,000 of notes plus 100 shares of stock for $1,000. In the event all the notes are taken by the underwriter, the Smelting company will then have 200,000 shares of stock and on conversion of the notes it will have a total of 350,000 shares out of 800,000 shares that will be outstanding when all notes are converted.

Hammon Consolidated, organized by W. P. Hammon in 1922, owns over 5,000 acres of placer mining claims near Nome, Alaska, where operations are conducted by dredging. Hammon Consolidated now has two dredges in operation and to date the gravel handled by Dredge No. 1 has avergaed 74 cents a cubic yard. No. 2 dredge has only been recently installed.

The new financing will enable it to make payments due on account of properties purchased, pay for equipment and supplies and provide funds to carry out the operating program for 1924.

11 Mos. Net Earns., &c.—An official statement says:

The consolidated earnings for the 11 months of this year to Nov. 30 are estimated at $3,688,000. After providing all interest, there have been deducted from these earnings reserves amounting to $1,510,000 for depreciation, depletion and amortization, leaving estimated net earnings for 11 months of $2,178,000. In completing the profit and loss account for the year the December earnings, quotational gains on sales of metals during the year and annual adjustments will increase the profits now reported.

The net profits for the year after reserving for Federal taxes and after making additional reserves estimated at approximately $500,000 for further amortization of capital investments and other purposes will be sufficient to provide the dividends on the Pref. stock, $1,702,225, and leave a small addition to surplus.

Tne gross earnings from coal and railroad operations in Utah have been small, as the competition with oil and fuel purposes in the Western States has lessened the demand for coal, with the result that the output of coal this year will not be much in excess of 800,000 tons as compared with 1,166,000 tons last year.

It is estimated that the net current assets at the end of the year will be about $13,200,000, as compared with $11,700,000 a year ago.

C. F. Moore, V.-Pres. in charge of foreign operations, has been elected a director, succeeding Robert Treat Paine 2d, resigned.—V. 117, p. 1472, 1358.

Friday Night, Dec. 28 1923.

COFFEE.—Spot was quiet to-day and largely nominal. It has been irregular with the fluctuations in Brazilian exchange. Firm offers at times have been scarce. To-day here nominal prices were Rio No. 7, 10⅝ to 10¾c.; Victoria, 7-8, 10½c.; Santos No. 4, 15 to 15¾c. Fair to good Cucuta, 16 to 16½c.; Medellins, 20½ to 21½c. Futures showed a downward turn early in the week on scattered liquidation, with no bracing news from Brazil. Issuers of notices—importers in some cases—were buying December to a certain extent, while they sold March at a difference of 85 points. At times the trading was limited mostly to July and November. Stirring features were lacking. Futures have fluctuated within very narrow limits. Trading has been light. December notices amounted to 109 on the 26th, and for a time December was weak, but it rallied later. March and September touched a new high on this crop season. Brazilian money exchange advanced on Thursday. Rio exchange on London was 5 13-16d., an advance of 9-32d. over Wednesday's closing. The dollar rate fell 280 reis. The improvement was attributed to the suspension of martial law in Brazil. Covering here caused a rise. Some take the ground that while Santos coffee is well above the New York parity, Rio is about on a level with New York spot Rio prices. This is taken to mean in some quarters that a process of slow readjustment of prices is under way. Meanwhile, however, owing to the discounts on distant positions, selling is naturally rather cautious. To-day futures declined 12 to 13 points, closing, however, 6 to 8 points higher for the week. No. 7 Rio is ⅝c. lower than a year ago.

SUGAR.—The Cuban railroad strike has naturally been an outstanding factor. It was offset to all intents and purposes for a time by the quietness of trade and reports of an increased production. Besides, the strike was expected to be brief. Porto Rico for December shipment sold at one time at 7.28 c.i.f. delivered, and 20,000 bags Cuba also for December shipment at 5½s. c. & f., or 7.28c. duty paid. Messages from Havana last Saturday said that strike conditions were growing worse. The Northern Railway or Tarafa system, one account stated, would be tied up by a sympathetic strike and the trainmen on the Cuban Central road connecting with Santa Clara would also probably go out. Mills in the section most affected may have to shut down completely on account of lack of coal and oil if the strikes last long. The markets of the United Kingdom and France were closed from Friday night until Thursday morning.

Havana cabled Dec. 21: "The Cuba RR. announced that passenger trains were being operated by this road and that the sugar mills along the line were operating sugar trains with their own crews. The Government ordered all military commanders to furnish adequate protection." Havana, Cuba, cabled Dec. 23 that the Cuban Government had dispatched 300 soldiers from Camp Columbia to guard the property of the Cuba RR. on which a general strike is in progress. The mills were operating sugar trains with their own crews. The walkout of shopmen and wharf employees of the Northern Rys. of Cuba is declared to have caused comparatively little delay. Cables from Cuba on the 26th inst. reported no change in the strike conditions and no indications of any settlement. Forty-seven mills were grinding according to Guma. Raw here was quiet with small offerings of Cuban, first half January, at 5½c., and second half January at 5⅜c. Refiners held aloof. Refined was very quiet. Some look to see the new crop to be the controlling influence in the market shortly. It was said, too, later, that there were actually 54 centrals grinding, against 50 at this date last year. London on the 27th was 3d. lower to 3d. higher and quiet.

H. A. Himely of Havana cabled his estimate of the Cuban crop as 3,813,000 tons, with normal weather conditions. This is 63,000 tons larger than Guma Mejer's, ten days ago.

H. A. Himely's estimate of the Cuban crop, 3,813,000 tons, must be compared with Willett & Gray's, of 3,700,000 tons, Guma-Mejer's, of 3,750,285 tons, and last year's final outturn, of 3,602,910 tons.

Receipts of new sugar for the week at Cuban ports were 7,347 tons, against none last week, 29,676 in the same week last year and none two years ago; exports, none, against none last week, but 14,388 in the same week last year and none two years ago; stocks, 7,347 tons, against none last week, 28,919 in the same week last year, and none two years ago. Havana cabled: "Weather dry."

Cuban strike developments are being closely watched. It is conceded that the immediate future of the raw market depends upon the strike situation. Offerings of new crop are small, owing to the uncertainty as to getting the sugar to the ports for shipment. Receipts for the week at U. S. Atlantic ports were 13,504 tons, against 29,936 last week, 26,939 last year and 25,882 two years ago; meltings were 33,000 tons, against 32,000 last week, 33,000 last year and 41,000 two years ago; stock, 24,146 tons, against 43,642 last week, 28,836 last year and 35,131 two years ago. The number of centrals working in Cuba was stated at 52, against 47 a year ago.

It is said that Western beet refineries have sold 33 1-3% of their output and Eastern beet manufacturers 75%. If the output is 760,000 tons of beet it would appear that nearly half, or 300,000 tons, had been disposed of. If that is so it is reasoned that the offerings of beet sugar in the early part of 1924 can hardly be more than moderate if indeed they are not actually small, in the territory east of Chicago. The effect of the railroad strike in Cuba has been to cause a withdrawal of offerings of raw sugar for January shipment from Cuba. Yet the market was very quiet here. No advance occurred. Evidently buyers as well as holders were inclined to await events. Buyers of refined are purchasing only from hand to mouth, in spite of the recent decline in prices, due to the competition of domestic beet sugar in Eastern cane territory. It is said there has been less business in beet sug r east of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo line. This is only natural, however, towards the close of the year. A San Juan, Porto Rico, dispatch says the South Porto Rico Sugar Co.'s central Guanica, the largest on the island, began grinding new crop cane on Wednesday. A preliminary estimate for sugar outturn of the island is 360,000 long tons, against 338,456 tons last year. Havana cabled on the 27th inst. that the Cuban Secretary of Agriculture had been endeavoring throughout the day to bring about a settlement of the strike without success. Conferences with mill owners and labor leaders were fruitless. Mill owners rejected arbitration.

To-day it was said that 63 centrals were working, as against 50 a year ago. It was also said in some Cuban dispatches that the backbone of the railroad strike had been broken, that the men were returning to work and that some sugar was being shipped to the ports. Futures declined to-day with better strike news and the steady increase in the number of mills grinding. There were larger quantities for first half January shipments, including some early January at 5 5-16 to 5⅜c. Second half January, 5¼c., and February at 5c. These are nominal prices. Trade is dull. Refined quiet at 8.80 to 8.90c. The Department of Agriculture now estimates the Louisiana cane crop at 150,568 tons, compared with its previous estimate of 210,000 tons and the last crop of 263,478 tons. A cargo of Cubas was reported sold to Clyde refiners at 24s. 9d. c.i.f., or 4.50c. f.o.b. Cuba. Here prices ended 14 points lower on futures for the week. Granulated is 1.80c. higher than a year ago when it was 7c. The Coffee and Sugar Exchange will be open on Monday Dec. 31.

LARD on the spot was steady but quiet; prime Western, 13.40c.; refined Continent, 14.25c.; South American, 14.50c.; Brazilian, 15.50c. Hog receipts are large. Futures felt the effects of large hog receipts, lower hog prices, dulness of trade and selling by the smaller packers. The Illinois pig crop is said to be smaller than that of last fall. Liverpool early in the week was higher and hogs steady. The trouble was the menace of continued large receipts of hogs. That discouraged speculative buying. Exports, however, were large. Smaller packers have been steadily selling large and ribs. At this holiday season foreign demand is expected to be light. On Wednesday prices fell. Firm hog prices with lighter hog receipts and good weekly exports were counterbalanced by free offerings and dulness of speculation. Lard exports last week were 19,267,000, against 14,195,000 last year. Exports of bacon were 16,406,000 lbs., against 12,699,000. To-day Liverpool at noon was 3d. to 1s. lower. To-day prices advanced with corn higher. The closing is unchanged to 8 points higher since last Friday. They are 105 to 120 points higher than a year ago.

PETROLEUM.—Advices from Kansas City early in the week reported an advance of 1c. in the price of gasoline by all the leading refiners in that section. The Gulf market was firmer. Stocks are quite large, but export demand is better than expected. The demand for local consumption is also good, owing to the mild winter prevailing. The Texas Company on the 27th inst. advanced Oklahoma and Kansas crude oil prices 15 to 40c. a barrel. The same company advanced the price 15c. on many grades of crude oil in Arkansas and North Louisiana field. And Gulf Coast crude oil was advanced 25c. to $1 25 a barrel. There has been a good business in kerosene, both domestic and foreign. However, stocks are dwindling and the lack of offerings tends to restriction of business in some directions. Bunker oil has been quiet at $1 35 per barrel f. o. b. New York refinery. Six grades of Pennsylvania crude were advanced 25c. a barrel in the Pittsburgh district on Dec. 26. Pennsylvania grade in New York Transit Company lines and Bradford district oil in National Transit lines advanced to $3 10. The new price on Pennsylvania grade oil in National Transit, Southwest Penn lines, Eureka and Buckeye pipe lines was $2 85. Other grades remained unchanged. Later on the price of Pennsylvania crude was advanced 25c. a barrel by the Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency of Pittsburgh, Pa. This advance is said to have been met by some independent buyers of Pennsylvania crude oil.

Advices from Dallas, Texas, on the 27th inst. stated that increases of 10 to 25c. a barrel in the price of crude were announced by the Magnolia Co. to become effective to-day. New York prices: Gasoline, cases, cargo lots, 24.40.; U. S. Navy specifications, 10.50c.; naphtha, cargo lots, 12c.; 63-66 deg., 14c.; 66-68 deg., 15.50c.; kerosene in cargo lots, cases, 17.15c.; petroleum, refined, tank wagon to store, 15c.; motor gasoline, garages (steel barrels), 15½c. At Tulsa, Okla., the completion is reported of a 500-barrel well by the J. A. Hull Co. in 12-14-6, Lincoln County, the second oil well in that area, at 4,909 feet in the Wilcox sand, and the finding of a 300-barrel well in Montgomery County, Kan., in the first break under the Miss. lime. Refined oils were reported strong there. Manufacturers report an inquiry for 64-66, 375 end point gasoline for January and February delivery. Casper, Wyo., wired that the Union Oil Co. gasser at Wellington, Colo., was shut in on Dec. 21 and was then under control. The well appeared to be going to oil and it is expected that an oil field will develop there. The Producers & Refiners Co. is expected to develop into one of the largest oil firms in this region and is now drilling more wildcat wells in search for new fields than any other company. Total production for the week is 149,200 barrels from all the fields of the Rocky Mountain region. The Midwest Refining Co. has struck a 1,300-barrel well in New Mexico. Los Angeles wired Dec. 26: "Through bringing in of the high gravity well on Rideout Heights, two miles northwest of Whittier and four miles north of Santa Fe Springs, was established a new gusher oil field in that part of Los Angeles County. It is said that this well is good for 5,000 barrels daily. The oil paraffin base is 36 gravity. With the December crude oil production in California estimated at 22,900,000 barrels, the total of 1923 is placed at 265,684,000, or 90% larger than 1922. Consumption during 11 months this year was 214,000,000 barrels. Fully one-third was shipped to Atlantic and Gulf port refineries. The London "Daily Mail" says that the Sinclair group has been granted a 50-year concession to exploit oil lands in four provinces in northern Persia, the Anglo-Persian Oil Co. receiving concessions in the fifth province.

RUBBER quiet but steady. There was some inquiry from out-of-town manufacturers, but actual business was generally very small. There was a fair business in Para grades, and South American grades at one time advanced ¼c. per pound. Stocks of rubber in Colombo are reported to have decreased 1,000 tons during the period Nov. 1 1922 to Nov. 1 1923. Exports from British Malaya are stated at 186,000 tons, considered a small total as compared with the average before the restrictions were put into effect. London stocks dropped 126 tons last week, to 59,672 tons against 59,957 a month ago, and 71,852 a year ago. London advanced ¼d. on the 27th inst.; spot, 14⅜d.; Jan., 14½d. to 14⅝d.; Singapore steady but quiet; spot, 13¾d.

HIDES.—Common dry hides were steady but quiet. Bogota, 17 to 18c.; Orinoco, 15 to 16c. City packer hides steady. December salting native and branded steers sold, it is said, at one time at 13½c. for natives, 10½c. for Colorados and 11½c. for butt brands. Country hides were steady but quiet at 10 to 11c. for steers 60 or over and 8c. for cows 45 or over. River Plate frigorificos were firm. Sales to European tanners included 2,000 Swift Montevideo steers at $42 50 for 25 kilos average and 4,000 Armour La Plata steers at $41, or 14 9-16c. c.&f. A large percentage of the recent purchases in the River Plate section were for Russia. In Chicago last week packer hides were in moderate demand; 4,000 spready native steers sold at 17c., or ½c. advance. Colorado steers sold to the extent of a couple of thousand at 11c. Packers were closely sold up and the market was strong. Small packer hides were quiet with all sold. The bulk of the business was at 9½ to 10c. on all weight native cows and steers, but the market later was about 7c. River Plate reports state that a large European tanner has bought 1,000 Sansinena steers at $41, or 14¼c. c.&f. United States tanners have done little in frigorifico hides. Common dry hides in New York have latterly been dull and unchanged. City packer hides have been steady with New York packers asking ½ below the prices prevailing in Chicago. In Chicago on Dec. 26 big packer hides were quiet but firm, with sellers at 12½c. on heavy Texas and butt branded steers and 11½c. on light Texas and Colorado steers, or ½c. higher than recently. Packers report bids of 10¾c. on ght native cows with 11c. asked. Skins also were firm with one packer offering a few cars of calf at 18½c., or ½c. advance. City collectors quoted 17½c. on Chicago City calfskins, but buyers held off. Country hides were firm in Chicago with sales at 10½c. for free of grub extremes.

OCEAN FREIGHTS have been generally steady and unchanged. A good inquiry has been reported at times from grain and oil trades. Lumber has been quiet. Later on business was quiet with rates generally unchanged and steady. President Coolidge may, it is said, extend coastwise ship laws to Philippines by proclamation, which would mean only vessels of American registry could ply in trade between Philippines and the United States. The Merchant Marine Act of 1920 provides for such extension. Senator Jones, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee and author of the act will present to President Coolidge, a memorandum setting forth the reasons for this step.

CHARTERS included grain from North Pacific to United Kingdom-Bordeaux-Hamburg range, 36s.3d., option Antwerp or Rotterdam, 35s.; option Mediterranean and or Scandinavian, Feb. 10-Mar. 10 cancelling; lumber from North Pacific to Japan, $15 50, January-February; lumber from North Pacific to Japan (two ports), lump sum, or about $15, January-February; ore from Algiers to Philadelphia, 7s., December; oilcake from Black Sea to Denmark, 16s. 6d., one port, January-February; grain from Atlantic range to West Italy, 3s. 7½d., January; grain from Vancouver to Antwerp, 37s., January; grain from Atlantic range to Antwerp, 2s. 11¼d., January; sugar from Cuba to Hong Kong, 30s., January; lubricating oil from California to United Kingdom-Continent, 37s. 6d., December-January; clean products from U. COAL has been in only moderate demand as usual at the holidays. Soft coal No. 1, Navy standard, $3 to $3 25, mines, and $5 75 to $6, piers. Anthracite independent per gross ton early in the week: broken, $11 to $12; egg, $9 50 to $11; stove, $9 50 to $12; Chestnut, $9 50 to 12; pea, $6 to $6 75; 1 buck, $3 to $4; 2 rice, $2 25 to $3; 3 barley, $1 40 to $2; birdseye, $1 50 to $1 75. London cabled that the output of British collieries for the week ended Dec. 15 was 5,948,000 tons, according to provisional figures, against 5,729,000 tons in the week ended Dec. 8. This is the highest total on record. Independent anthracite prices are slowly declining.

TOBACCO.—Of late there has been the usual routine business characteristic of the closing days of the year. That is to say, there has been only a moderate trade. But prices have been in the main steady and there is a very general belief that trade conditions will show a noteworthy improvement during the coming year.

COPPER has been quiet at 13 to 13¼c. for electrolytic. Business was not expected to be very active this week, owing to the holidays, and the absence of a Liverpool market, where the Yuletide season was observed until Thursday. Moreover, the end of the month usually brings out some distress copper on which concessions are made as a rule. Casting copper is meeting with a fair demand from the Orient, with prices ranging from 12¾ to 12⅞c. refinery. Belgian Congo copper is now said by the Bank of Commerce here to be a potential factor in the business. The Katanga region, it appears, has a capacity of 150,000,000 lbs. a year.

TIN, early in the week was quiet with the exchanges at London and here closed. The local exchange re-opened on the 26th instant but very little business was done. Spot quoted at 47¼c.

LEAD during the week was the most active metal and prices were firmer; spot New York 7.40 @ 8.12½c.; East St. Louis 7.50 @ 7.75c.

ZINC has advanced slightly, but business is by no means active. There has been some export business, but this is not believed to have been large. Spot New York, 6.60 @ 6.65c.; East St. Louis, 6.25 @ 6.30c.

STEEL.—Builders and automobile makers are the principal buyers at the present time. Sheet business is said to be especially good. Prices are reported steady. Some even call them firm, not excepting those for semi-finished steel. It is said that $40 has been paid for the first quarter for re-rolling billets, Pittsburgh. But it is hinted that prices of sheets were reduced somewhat in the big December business amounting to some 300,000 tons. On the other hand, it is stated that one automobile concern has bought about 100,000 tons of steel for the first quarter of 1924, and another something over 25,000 tons. A bridge company has taken 17,000 tons of structural steel within a short time. Fabricated structural steel is said to have sold recently, however, at $85 to $86 to New York builders. Some scrap prices have advanced 25 to 50 cents per ton, following an advance last week on other items of the list. Youngstown reports a steadily improving outlook for building and a better market for reinforcing bar and fireproof; also larger sales of merchant steel bars to the automobile industry. Business in nails has improved there, with production at 60% and expected to be larger next month. Connellsville coke at Pittsburgh was quoted at $4 05 at ovens. Steel bars were 2.40c., Pittsburgh. Small billets at 1.90c., Pittsburgh or Youngstown, and black sheets, 3.75c. Taking the steel industry as a whole, the feeling is hopeful. Railroads are buying on a fair scale, and it is believed that 1924 may turn out to be a high record year not only as to building but in the matter of the automobile industry.

PIG IRON has been quiet as usual at this time of the year and rumors were afloat that Eastern seaboard iron was obtainable at as low as $22 25 at Buffalo and $21 50 at furnace. These reports are given for what they are worth. In the main prices are believed to be unchanged, whatever may have been the case in exceptional circumstances. Last week's sales, it is now said, amounted to 10,000 tons to consumers in New York and New Jersey. Shipments are said to be on a very fair scale. Some look forward to a better business early in 1924. New business in December, it is admitted, has not been large. There has been a steady trade but for the most part it has been in small lots for early shipment. But some maintain that prices are well sustained, whatever the reports now and then to the contrary. There were some rumors too of speculative inquiry for iron on the idea that prices are at about the bottom. Pittsburgh wired on Dec. 26 that No. 2 foundry pig iron in the Valley had advanced 25 cents, making it on the average $22 50 at furnace. At Birmingham, Ala., several iron melting plants resumed operations on the 26th inst., and the price was reported firm at $21 50 for No. 2 foundry.

WOOL has been quiet but firm here in response to the rising prices recently in foreign markets. Boston comment on recent events aside from the Australian and London firmness was that Montevideo cabled quotations of 51c. and 46c., respectively, for skirted and rewound 56s and 50s, the highest yet reported. At the sale in Dunedin, New Zealand, on Dec. 21 prices rose above those at the Christ Church sale. Good 50-56d cost around 90c. to 92c. clean basis, landed Boston in bond. Continental interests bought the most. The limits were generally above American bids. Shipments of wool from Australia to this country to date are 29,000 bales with an estimated shipment of 10,000 bales from New Zealand. In South American markets it is estimated that America this season has bought only about 10,000 bales to date. Sixty per cent of the Australian clip or 830,000 bales, has been sold. At Dundein, New Zealand, on Dec. 21 of 17,500 bales merinos and crossbreds offered 16,900 bales were sold. Selection representative. Demand good. Prices closed strong. Merinos were 28d. to 31¼d. and average merinos 23d. to 27½d. Crossbreds sold as follows: 56-58s, 25d. to 29½d.; 50-56s, 24d. to 27¼d.; 48-50s, 20½d. to 24½d.; 46-48s, 17d. to 19½d.; 44-46s, 14d. to 17½d., and 40-44s, 11¾d. to 15d.

NOTE.—Exports to Canada.—It has never been our practice to include in the above table exports of cotton to Canada, the reason being that virtually all the cotton destined to the Dominion comes overland and it is impossible to get returns concerning the same from week to week, while reports from the customs districts on the Canadian border are always very slow in coming to hand. In view, however, of the numerous inquiries we are receiving regarding the matter, we will say that for the month of November (no later returns are as yet available) the exports to the Dominion the present season have been 24,463 bales, of which 22,208 bales were to Quebec, and 2,255 bales to Maritime Provinces. In the corresponding month of the preceding season the exports were 25,288 bales.

For the four months ending Nov. 30 this year there were 54,339 bales exported as against 59,702 bales for the corresponding four months last year.

In addition to above exports, our telegrams to-night also give us the following amounts of cotton on shipboard, not cleared, at the ports named.

* Estimated.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has at times been active and on Wednesday there was a noticeable outburst of buying which sent prices upward some $5 a bale. That happened when it was found that January notices which were supposed to have reached 132,500 bales were promptly stopped. Nothing could have surprised cotton people more. They had, it is true, estimated that these notices would amount to something like 100,000 bales. The predictions were that they would have a depressing effect. But January hardly budged. At first it declined less than a dozen points, then it turned and ran up 102 points from the early "low." The idea was that cotton issued on notices was stopped by people other than the issuers. One story was that a very strong Southern syndicate had stopped most of them, and that the cotton was to be shipped to Europe. Those who lost their cotton bought January heavily. It would take a big sum to finance 132,500 bales if the price were figured even at 36c. a pound, or $180 a bale. But cotton is wanted now-a-days. It is badly wanted at home and abroad. Not only is the American cotton crop short and supplies are believed to be at about peak in this country, but it is said that stocks of foreign growths in the world are something like half a million bales smaller than a year ago. Certainly they are noticeably smaller at Alexandria and Bombay, to take no account of the supplies of foreign growths in Europe. And now comes the statement that the outlook for the East Indian crop is disappointing. The strange fact is that supplies are small all over the world, certainly a most regrettable coincidence. For many months England bought foreign growths on a larger scale than usual, to the partial exclusion of American cotton. But now it is confronted with small stocks, also, of cotton which has been competing with American. Spot markets have been strong. Buyers, according to some Texas accounts, will take almost anything in the way of cotton. Haggling about grades and prices is not so general as in normal times. Not only Texas, but Tennessee, especially in the big Memphis district, and also Georgia, North Carolina and other parts of the belt have sent reports of an insistent demand; a demand which has been met with small offerings. Many holders have the idea that cotton is going to 40c. or higher. They are encouraged by such sensational occurrences as the big rise in New York on Wednesday in the teeth of an issuance of notices rarely seen in the history of the cotton trade of New York. In July 1922 there was something approaching this. But with this exception the notice day for January on Dec. 26 1923 will have a striking pre-eminence in the records of this market. Liverpool the next day made an emphatic response. It had been closed on the 26th inst., but reopened the next day, and under the spur of New York's performance and the big demand in its own market from new speculative sources it closed at a rise for the day of 88 to 146 American points. There was general buying there. Contracts were scarce. Bullish feeling was dominant. Manchester reported a better demand for cloths, and yarns were firmer.

On this side of the water Worth Street was more active and stronger. The stock market advanced. And although French francs got below 5c. on Wednesday, they advanced the next day. London bought March and May here on Thursday. Liverpool and New Orleans were buyers. So were trade interests. But after all, the business on the 27th inst. was hardly more than a shadow of what it was on the previous day, when the trading in January alone was variously estimate dat anywhere from 100,000 to 130,000 bales. Also, the discount on January under March, which at one time on the 26th inst., was 40 to 50 points and even, it was said, at as high as 56 points, ended at 35, after having, it was understood, touched 32. It costs 60 points to carry cotton to March. But if the issuers lost most of the cotton they tendered they were, as we have seen, large buyers of January. At least this was the common report. The West was a large buyer after selling at first. And if Wall Street sold January it bought March and May. In fact, a good many people did that. Japanese interests were supposed to be buying on a large scale. And coincident with a rising stock market there were reports that the bonus bill could not be carried over the President's veto. Also, sentiment in favor of the Administration plan of reduced taxation in this country was said to be spreading through the South. This is not the place to discuss politics, but the feeling in business circles generally is in favor of a sharp reduction in the burdensome taxation under which the people are still staggering five years after the armistice. This is emphatically the sentiment, irrespective of political affiliations. That there seems to be a good prospect of such a program being carried out has a heartening effect in the business world generally. It is by no means confined to the cotton trade. Meanwhile many of the Carolina mills, especially in the Piedmont district are said to be running on full time. And that is the case in some parts of New England.

On the other hand, there was a decline on the 27th inst. of some 50 points from the early high, when it was found that the technical position had weakened. That was natural after the very heavy covering on the previous day, especially in January cotton, supposedly by large interests, some of which issued a good many of the notices. And the advance within a week had been some 140 points. A reaction was due. The rise during the month had been approximately 350 points. That emphasized the reasonableness of at least a temporary reaction. The stock market, moreover, declined. Chicago reported wheat prices lower. Wall Street and the West sold to some extent. So did local operators. And there was the usual incentive to sell on the approach of the New Year holiday. Prices therefore fell. Of course, too, it is recognized that sooner or later there must be a drastic reduction in the consumption by the mills. They have no other choice. Cotton will not be there. Furthermore, not a few houses recommended caution after so sharp an advance. Even some who are looking for higher prices advocated greater conservatism for the time being, following so great an advance.

To-day prices declined owing to further notices to the amount of 7,400 bales of January and reports of curtailment in Georgia. Also, there were rumors of further curtailment at New England mills, though they appear to have been without foundation. Vague reports were afloat to the effect that in North Carolina and Georgia some of the mills and banks were trying to resell. They are mentioned here merely for what they are worth. Most spot reports were cheerful. But large operators leaving for Florida were selling out long cotton. That counted for not a little. Also, there was a dribbling out of long cotton from scattered interests in a somewhat overbought market. Yet Liverpool acted well. So did New Orleans. And spot markets were generally reported brisk. In the afternoon a bullish statement on the stock market and general business situation by Jesse Livermore had some effect. A moderate rally occurred. The closing was easy. But compared with a week ago, prices are 33 to 54 points higher, January lagging behind the rest of the list. The increase in the world's visible supply was larger than was expected. In general the statistical position throughout the world is considered strong, however. Spot cotton here ended at 36.65c. for middling an advance for the week of 25 points. It is 10c. higher than a year ago.

The following averages of the differences between grades, as figured from the Dec. 27 quotations of the ten markets, designated by the Secretary of Agriculture, are the differences from middling established for deliveries in the New York market on Jan. 4 1924.

Friday Night, Dec. 28 1923.

Flour, following a recent decline of 2c. in wheat, showed a certain amount of depression early in the week. Prices were 10c. under recent figures. The demand was poor. Mills were naturally rather anxious. Trade at the West was also unsatisfactory. Minneapolis and Kansas both weakened. Export demand was light, as usual at the holidays. High prices for bread is causing discontent in France and there is said to be an agitation in progress there for a reduction in the wheat duty. According to mail advices from a large German house, France has sold approximately 200,000 bbls. of low grade flour to southern Germany within the past month, on which she gets some sort of drawback on imported wheat in France. Minneapolis last week was dull and depressed. Kansas City was quiet. First spring clears were more freely offered here. They are plentiful on account of the dulness of export trade in American flour. Canadian mills are said to be well sold ahead for export. A good business in Canadian flour is reported with the Orient in 100% straights for shipment from the Pacific Coast. Business is smaller than a year ago. It seems to matter little that supplies are also smaller, that in this respect the fundamental situation is obviously stronger. Late in 1922 big buying meant big stocks at New York. And they were a clog on prices for many months. Buyers smarting under this experience are more cautious now. "Far and softly goes far."

Wheat fell early to nearly the season's "low," partly owing to big deliveries last week and partly to liquidation of December. Reported large importations from Canada hit Chicago prices. Such importations are reported at various American markets. Not only the Northwest but the Southwest sold. Winnipeg had deliveries on December in a single day of 727,000 bushels. Expectations of increasing stocks this week also had their effect. To some it seemed futile to combat increasing stocks, big deliveries and rising importations of duty paid Canadian wheat, as well as reports that Argentina had just shipped a cargo of new wheat to Belgium. That the Argentina shipments were not large counted for little. The point was that they had begun. They might easily increase in the near future. Cash markets at Minneapolis and other milling points gave way. That naturally hurt. Paris is grumbling at the high price of bread and is said to be agitating for a lower wheat tariff, but politicians may think twice before offending the French wheat grower. In any case, this matter of the French tariff had no perceptible effect. And if Western banks are in some cases pressing corn farmers for the payment of notes may they not do the same with wheat debtors? Meanwhile from Chicago came dispatches saying that it was expected that Fort William and Port Arthur stocks would show an increase of around 10,000,000 bushels for the week with sufficient grain in sight to fill most of the available storage room. There was even talk at one time, it seems, of an embargo to prevent further shipments from the interior. True, the Department of Agriculture report on Kansas showed a widespread distribution of Hessian fly in that State, with much damage done during the fall. Also, there was covering of hedges by exporters on considerable Manitoba wheat—600,000 bushels in a single day—but these things mattered little as against the forces of depression. Yet there were rallies of 1c. when the price got down to within 1¾c. of the season's lowest price last Saturday. The entire wheat belt was reported without snow protection. The Chicago position for a time looked oversold. Liquidation had been drastic, especially in December, owing to the dulness of cash markets and the lack of export trade, not to mention the largeness of the supply. It is true that an unexpected decrease of 431,000 bushels in the domestic visible supply was offset by a gain of 7,382,000 bushels in the Canadian visible supply. Also, the American exports of wheat and flour as stated by the Department of Commerce attracted attention as peculiar and confirmed the general belief that domestic figures had included a large amount of bonded wheat and flour. At one time, with offerings smaller and with at least some decrease in the United States visible supply which had the element of unexpectedness in it, shorts became a little uneasy and covered. Broomhall says that belated advices from Argentina state that the recent wet weather lowered the quality of the new wheat and flax crops. Also, that the wheat situation in France was very firm, with prices advancing. The price of bread having been raised there is constant talk of the necessity of reducing the import duty, now 14 francs per 100 kilos. Chicago bears were recently afraid of possible Eastern buying, but they have latterly been less so. In Minneapolis at one time it was said weakness in our May wheat was not surprising. It had to come some time. The selling was by back-spreading hedging sales against cash wheat and stop-loss orders. The latter are pretty well cleaned up, but some believe there was more from $1 07 down. It turned out to be so. Later prices sagged. B. W. Snow, with Bartlett-Frazier Co., said: "Weekly flour export figures given by the Department of Commerce have been misleading because they included a material quantity of flour made from Canadian wheat, and I am told by New York that rye flour exports have also been entered as wheat flour. Beginning with the past week the Department has discontinued its weekly flour reports. To correct these figures there are available the monthly reports of the various ports and a revision to Nov. 30 indicates exports of wheat flour from July 1 to Nov. 30 are actually about 1,100,000 bbls. less than reports." On the 27th inst. 150,000 bushels of Manitoba were taken for export; 30 loads in freight room were reported taken for France. The Northwest sold in Chicago. Foreign markets were barely steady. A high record wheat crop in Alberta, Can., is reported. One estimate is as high as 200,000,000 bushels. The Dominion Government put the yield of Alberta at 157,467,000 bushels, as against 64,973,000 bushels last year. This is 26.50 bushels to the acreage, as against 11.25 last year. Since the publication of the Government's figures, estimates of Alberta's wheat crop have risen. George Lane, one of the most extensive farmers in the province, who gave a preliminary estimate of 150,000,000 bushels, has now increased his figures to 200,000,000. John I. McFarland, President and General Manager of the Alberta Pacific Grain Co., estimates the total at between 175,000,000 and 200,000,000 bushels. Italy will, it is believed, put back a smaller duty on wheat and flour. Bad weather has damaged the Italian crop. Argentine seaboard stocks are beginning to increase. The Russian new winter wheat acreage is stated by the Russian Statistical Committee as 6,600,000 acres against 62,800,000 a year ago. Conditions fully up to the average. Deliveries in Chicago to-day were 195,000 bushels. To-day prices advanced somewhat, with the cables stronger. Liverpool advanced ¼ to 1⅛d., the latter on December. World's shipments fell off except from North America. India shipped only 16,000 bushels, Argentina 478,000 and Russia and the Danube 1,480,000; from Australia 648,000 bushels. This makes a rather slim showing. Foreign exchange advanced. Last prices show a decline for the week, however, of ⅞c. on December, though May is ¼c. higher than last Friday and July ⅜c. higher. Compared with a year ago prices show a decline of 26c. on December, 16c. on May and 7c. on July.

Indian corn declined with wheat, despite wet weather at the West and moderate receipts. A Chicago dispatch asserted that bankers in parts of Illinois were becoming tired of carrying farmers, some of whom have notes long overdue. The banks, it seems, in some cases are beginning to press for payment. It was added that in consequence a large movement of corn is to be expected before long from parts of Illinois and Iowa, regardless of the price. That remains to be seen. Liquidation in December corn, however, was a feature. It sold down on stop orders. It is true May received good support and advanced with July while December fell. On Dec. 21 sales of 150,000 bushels were made to go to store, making 800,000 bushels so far this month and 215,000 bushels were delivered on Saturday at Chicago. Later prices advanced despite rather large receipts for the moment. The deliveries on the 26th inst. were 243,000 bushels on December contracts. Chicago reported farmers less inclined to sell and after a decline early on Wednesday there was a sharp rally from the "low" of the morning, ending unchanged to 1c. higher after a previous decline of ¼ to 1c. Some who look for lower wheat prices are not bearish on corn, as stocks are small and there may be, they think, no great accumulation at Chicago throughout the season. Of course, too, it is everywhere known that there is an enormous farm consumption. Nevertheless there was selling in Chicago at times in the belief that prices were tending downward. Receipts later on were small. Exporters took 40,000 bushels at Baltimore and received only 120,000 at the Gulf. Deliveries to-day were 325,000 bushels. Prices to-day were a small fraction higher. Offerings were small. Shorts covered despite the big December deliveries. Primary receipts were large, but the weather was mild and rainy at the South, though much colder at the Northwest. Prices ended ¼c. lower for the week on December and ¾ to 1⅛c. higher on other months. December closed 4¼c. lower than a year ago, with May 2c. higher than then and July 3¼c. higher.

Oats showed a certain steadiness early in the week, with cash houses selling May and buying December at 3½c. premium over May. Yet prices did ease somewhat in sympathy with a decline in corn and wheat. It would be too much to expect oats to be wholly unaffected by such things, even though the oats statistical position is undeniably strong on its face. It would look stronger, to be sure, were the demand better and were speculation larger. It is in the old rut. Later, following those for wheat and corn, as they rallied temporarily, prices for oats advanced a fraction. Deliveries on the 26th inst. were 238,000 bushels. Oats had no specific individual strength. The market was a mere echo of that for other grain. The Canadian Government estimate of the production of oats is 90,005,000 bushels, as against 35,519,000 in 1922, an average for the present year of 48.75 bushels to the acreage. The barley yield is estimated at 13,423,000 bushels, as against 6,238,000 bushels, an average this year of 35 bushels to the acreage. To-day prices were higher by a small fraction. They end unchanged to ⅝c. higher for the week. December is ¾c. lower than a year ago, May ⅛c. lower and July ⅝c. higher than then.

Rye developed greater steadiness on the 22d inst. on good buying by commission houses. In fact, prices on that day advanced ½c. after a decline on the previous day of ¾ to 1c. Some thought exporters were still in the market. Norway, it will be recalled, has recently bought to some extent in this country. Later in the week shorts covered with some freedom and prices advanced ¾ to 1⅜c., partly in response to other grain. The deliveries on the 26th inst. were 12,000 bushels. Later there was a larger local demand here. It suggested European demand behind it. To-day prices declined on December. Final prices show a rise, however, since last Friday of ¼ to ½c. Compared with a year ago, prices are 9c. lower on December and 7c. lower on May.

WEATHER BULLETIN FOR THE WEEK ENDING DEC. 25.—The general summary of the weather bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture, indicating the influence of the weather for the week ending Dec. 29, is as follows:

The outstanding feature of the weather during the week ending Dec. 25 was a continuation of unseasonably high temperatures in practically all sections east of the Rocky Mountains. The Central and Northern States have experienced almost continuously warm weather for the season since early in November. Temperatures were especially high during the week just closed from the Lake region westward to Montana, where the weekly means ranged mostly from 15 deg. to 25 deg. above normal. On the other hand, the weather was cold in limited areas of the far Southwest, especially in eastern New Mexico, and also in some western Plateau localities, at some points of which the temperatures averaged 10 deg. or more below normal.

While the latter part of the week was considerably cooler in the Southeast, freezing temperatures did not extend farther south than extreme northern South Carolina, while no readings as low as 32 deg. were reported from the lower Ohio Valley nor in the Mississippi Valley south of east-central Missouri. In the west Gulf area somewhat below freezing was reported from west-central Texas, but along the immediate Gulf coast the lowest readings were only slightly below 50 deg. The lowest temperature reported for the week was 2 deg. below zero at Winnemucca, Nev., on the 23d.

There was much cloudy and rainy weather throughout the Southern States and also in central and northern districts from the Mississippi Valley eastward. Rainfall was heavy to excessive in the lower Ohio Valley and in the central Gulf States, but it was rather light in the Southeast, though there was much cloudy and misty weather. In most districts from the Plains States westward there was very little precipitation, except that rainfall was rather heavy along the north Pacific coast. Sunshine was markedly deficient from the lower Ohio and middle Mississippi valleys southward, where the week was almost continuously cloudy, while some stations in the west Gulf section reported no sunshine during the entire week. There was much clear weather, however, in the extreme northern Great Plains and in south Pacific coast districts.

Cloudy, rainy weather and wet fields interfered with farm work throughout the Southern States, in some sections of which rain fell on as many as five days of the week. The mild, moist weather was generally favorable for growing crops, although truck and fruit needed more sunshine in the west Gulf section. There was sufficient rain in Florida to improve conditions, but more rainfall was generally needed in that State, and the continued mild weather was rather unfavorable for hardy truck. The week was unfavorable for outdoor work also in the Ohio Valley and much of the Atlantic coast areas, because of frequent rains and wet fields, but was mostly favorable in the Lake region and extreme upper Mississippi Valley. The ground remained unfrozen in the interior of the country as far north as northern Iowa, where some plowing was done during the week, while plowing continued in the lower Lake region.

Another ideal week for outdoor work was experienced in the northern Great Plains States, although much of it was too wet in the extreme southern Plains. The week, on the whole, was favorable in the Rocky Mountain States, especially in the northern sections and also in the north Pacific area. Light rain in southern California was beneficial, but more moisture is still badly needed in that State. Unimproved roads were in bad condition nearly everywhere from the Mississippi Valley eastward.

Corn harvest was further delayed by too much moisture in the Ohio Valley States, with some corn overflowed in the Wabash River bottoms. Considerable corn is still standing in the fields in northern Ohio. Husking made splendid progress in the central and northern Great Plains where this work was almost completed. Picking cotton continued in California and a small amount of cotton was still in the fields in southern New Mexico.

SMALL GRAINS.—Under the influence of mild, moist weather, winter wheat made good progress throughout the principal producing areas. The crop was benefitted by rain in Ohio and was still growing and showing some improvement in Kentucky. There was some injury by flooding, however, in portions of Indiana. The crop did well in the lower Missouri Valley, and continued in satisfactory condition, with ample soil moisture, in Kansas. Wheat made little growth in the extreme southern Great Plains where some sunshine was needed, but conditions were generally favorable for grains in the Rocky Mountain area.

Wheat, oats and barley show some improvement in California since the recent light rains, but growth is still backward and plowing hindered, with more rain needed. Winter oats and other cereals did well in most of the Southern States, though it was too wet in the extreme lower Mississippi Valley, and cooler weather would be beneficial in the Southeast. Threshing of grain sorghums was delayed by wet weather in southwestern Kansas.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE

Owing to the holidays, textile markets presented a very quiet appearance during the past week. Furthermore, merchants are spending much of their time these days in scanning the results of the year's business as inventories are beginning to show them, and in making preparations for new merchandising periods. Many merchants hold out little hope of any new trade worth mentioning during the remainder of the current year, and consequently are looking forward to what may come to hand in the first month or two of the new year. Prices generally are well maintained in sympathy with the strength of raw materials which continue to sell at high levels. Local jobbers and a number of representatives of out-of-town jobbing houses who have been in the markets during the past few days talked of the satisfactory results foreshadowed in inventories completed thus far. Although stocks are said to be more or less irregular, it is the general impression that stock conditions are satisfactory. Linen and burlap markets have ruled inactive in sympathy with the quietness abroad, where holidays extend over the year-end. The rise in cotton during the week had a tendency to cause a firmer undertone in prices for the manufactured products, but gave rise to no new business. While there appear to be many uncertainties for the longer future, the immediate situation is devoid of any trace of anxiety. Distributers have not covered as freely for late delivery as they did a year ago, and consequently are expected to enter the market on a more liberal scale after the turn of the new year. Raw silk markets are stiffening steadily. They have remained stable for some time past, and have resisted any pressure to lower them.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS: Markets for domestic cottons ruled quiet during the past week. A holiday spirit prevailed throughout, and traders attempted little, though scattered odd lots were offered and sold. Sheetings held steady despite limited demand, but some heavy goods were offered at slight concessions for the purpose of stimulating sales. There was little disposition, however, to take up new business. In the absence of firm orders for the moment for either cloths or yarns, the markets were more or less inclined to drift idly, though the general undertone was firm, owing to the decided strength of raw materials. Sellers as a rule, with one or two exceptions, were not inclined to offer concessions, and there was a marked absence of pressure to sell on the part of second hands. An encouraging feature in the situation has been the reports of large retail holiday trade. These are proving to be very gratifying. Although many of the piece goods are not moving freely at the moment, it is believed that finances of the stores will be in such clean shape at the year-end that encouragement will be given to early purchases for next year, and will encourage retailers to take in the goods due on advance orders. Salesmen on the road are already securing business in knit goods, certain lines of wash fabrics, and in some instances re-orders on dress ginghams. Prices hold steady, and constant advances are being named where merchandise is being valued on the basis of higher cotton when the time arrives for making provision against contract sales. So much merchandise has been sold at lower levels, however, that it is not surprising that jobbers in a number of directions are able to defer the placing of new business on a higher basis. Therefore the present dulness is not altogther due to the end of the year quiet. It is said to be owing in part to the steady rise in prices based upon the high cotton market, and to indecision on the part of buyers concerning normal contract commitments. Mills have been forced to curtail, and over the year-end many will shut down for a week or two, giving inventorying as a cause rather than an excuse. Print cloths, 28-inch, 64 x 64's construction, are quoted at 8½c., and 27-inch, 64 x 60's, at 8c. Gray goods in the 39-inch, 68 x 72's, are quoted at 12½c. and 39-inch, 80 x 80's, at 15¼c.

WOOLEN GOODS: Markets for woolens and worsteds developed a steadier undertone during the week. While business has not been active, improvement has been noted in the demand for odd lots throughout the markets. The men's wear division has shared best in the activity. For some time past this division of the market marked time, while the rest of the various departments moved ahead. Any indication of renewed interest in this division would no doubt be felt throughout the industry. Leading factors claim that if buyers show the least inclination to make purchases on a more liberal scale after the turn of the new year, it will help considerably to set the whole industry in motion. It has been noticed that there has been a satisfactory movement of overcoatings through the distributing channels of the market during the past two months, and that the supply now in the hands of manufacturers is very small. While new buying in the women's wear division is of light volume, most mills are said to have sufficient orders on hand to insure their running until the new lines are shown.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS: Markets for linens have displayed a firm tone during the week, although business has not been particularly active. Handkerchief departments, as was generally expected, are running short of various patterns, and merchandise managers are advising buyers to dispose of their remaining stocks rather than replenish. Household linens have been moving in a liberal way, and stocks are being depleted. As a result of the holidays abroad, markets for burlaps have been devoid of activity. Prices, however, in the absence of pressure, have held steady. Light weights are quoted at 5.65c., and heavies at 7.95c.

State and City Department

State and City Section.

A new number of our "State and City Section," revised to date, appears to-day, and all readers of the paper who are subscribers should receive a copy of it. As previously announced, this Supplement is now printed in two parts, Part One, containing the New England, the Middle and the Middle Western States, having been issued last June, while Part Two, embracing the rest of the country, appears to-day. The change is due to the fact that with the growth and multiplication of the municipalities of the United States the demand for additional space has become too heavy to satisfy within the limits of a single number.

ADDITIONAL BOND SALES FOR BACK MONTHS.

California (State of).—Irrigation District Tax for General Fund in Excess of 2% Invalid, Court Rules.—A tax rate of $5 levied by Imperial Irrigation District for 1923-24 was declared partially invalid by Superior Judge George R. Freeman of Riverside County on Dec. 17. The district, under authority of the Irrigation Act of 1915, had levied a tax of $2 22 for the bond-interest fund and a tax of $2 78 for the general fund. A land-owner attacked the validity of the general fund levy, contending that the amount for general purposes was limited by law to $2. The limit prior to 1915 was $2, but the 1915 enactment was construed to permit unlimited levies. In his decision Judge Freeman held that the $0.78 levy for general purposes over $2 was invalid. It is thought that the finding may mean that the 1915 Irrigation Act is unconstitutional. In its issue of Dec. 18 the Los Angeles "Times" published the following El Centro dispatch of Dec. 17:

Imperial Irrigation District's 1923-24 tax-levy rate of $5 is declared partially void in a decision announced to-day by Superior Judge George R. Freeman of Riverside County. The Court's decision carries with it an injunction preventing collection of taxes according to the levy after irrigation district officials shall have been served with copies of the injunction.

The decision was given by Judge Freeman in an action brought by Charles R. Wores, landowner of Brawley and Los Angeles, who asserted that the tax levy was illegal and that the Irrigation Act of 1915 under which the levy was made is unconstitutional. The Court held that the levy of taxes for general fund purposes in excess of 2% is void. The district's tax rate is 5%, but 2.22% goes to the bond interest fund and is not affected by the decision of the Court, which in fact nullifies only .78 of 1% of the levied rate.

District officials to-night asserted that the Court's decision will probably require all the district tax books to be revised to enable collection of only the amount of taxes coming within the limit set by the Court.

C. L. Childers, attorney for the irrigation district, said he had not yet seen the written decision of Judge Freeman, but had merely been shown a telegram from the Judge telling his findings in brief.

"The case will undoubtedly be appealed," asserted Attorney Childers. "The irrigation district cannot operate unless permitted to levy taxes in accordance with the Act of 1915, which apparently by this decision is held unconstitutional. The original Irrigation Act of California permitted only a 2% levy for general purposes.

"The 1915 Act permits the assessment of whatever taxes are necessary to run the irrigation district affairs. If Judge Freeman's decision should be upheld by the Appellate Courts it would mean ultimate bankruptcy for all irrigation districts that have been developed to the extent of the Imperial Irrigation District."

Assessment Cut.

Judge Freeman's decision also held that the cutting of the assessed valuations of the towns throughout the district 50% to relieve them from the effect of the $5 tax rate is void. Discrimination in favor of town property and against farm lands was alleged by Wores in his suit and the point was argued by his attorney, Harry Horton, at the trial of the action in November. The total assessed valuation of the town property before the reduction was $7,412,428.

The total district tax levy under the $5 rate is $27,51,363. Since Nov. 1 Collector C. W. Barry reports the collection of $166,358 in district taxes.

The district board of directors, in levying the $5 rate, provided for giving credit to taxpayers on their irrigation water bills of one-half the amount paid as taxes. As a result of the inauguration of the plan, real estate agencies report the leasing of many thousand acres of valley land by owners, who asserted that if it had not been for the tax levy they would have farmed the land themselves.

Connecticut.—List of Legal Investments for Savings Banks.—Complying with Section 3976, General Statutes, Revision of 1918, the Bank Commissioner on Nov. 1 1923 issued a list of bonds and obligations which he finds upon investigation are legal investments for savings banks. This list, as previously explained, is revised each six months; that is, during the first week of May and November. The Commissioner again calls attention to the wording of the law which discriminates against the "Special Assessment" or "Improvement" bonds, or other bonds or obligations which are not the direct obligation of the city issuing the same, and for which the faith and credit of the issuing city are not pledged. The list issued on May 1 1923 was printed in full in the "Chronicle" of June 2 1923, p. 2545. We print the Nov. 1923 list herewith in full, indicating by means of an asterisk (*) the securities added since May 1 1923, while those that have been dropped are placed in full-face brackets.

The following table shows the State and municipal bonds which are considered legal investments:

First.—Bonds of the United States, or those for which the faith of the United States is pledged, including the bonds of the District of Columbia.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Annandale Votes Annexation to City.—The district of Annandale, with a population of about 5,000, has voted, 450 to 81, for annexation to the city of Los Angeles. The district occupies four square miles between Eagle Rock City and Pasadena Ave. and is principally a residential section.

Massachusetts (State of).—New Attempt to Recodify State Constitution.—A petition has been filed in the State Senate requesting the Legislature to resubmit to the voters of the State the codification of the Constitution approved by the people in November 1919, but which the State Supreme Court declared void on the ground that the Constitutional Convention, in revising the code, used language changing the meaning of the Constitution, whereas, in the clause submitting the revised Constitution to the people, the Convention spoke of the recodification as a "rearrangement of the existing Constitution and the amendments thereto," and a "rearrangement of the existing Constitution," in the opinion of the Court, constituted a revision without change of meaning. See V. 113, p. 751.

The "Boston Transcript" of December 27, contained the following in reference to the petition:

A petition to resubmit to the people of Massachusetts the question whether they will ratify as the Constitution of the Commonwealth the codification of the Constitution adopted by the Constitutional Convention, and ratified by the people in November 1919, which was later nullified by a majority decision of the Supreme Court, was to-day filed in the State Senate by Seantors Charles P. Howard of Reading, William S. Youngman of Boston, and John W. McCormack of Boston.

No petition to the General Court in recent years has contained a more imposing list of signers than that attached to this petition, which includes former Governor John L. Bates, who was President of the Constitutional Convention; all the members of the convention who are now in Congres or the State Legislature, three judges of the United States Court, both United States Senators from Massachusetts, President Lowell of Harvard, the deans of the Harvard Law School and Boston University Law School and a number of leaders of the bar.

Former State Senator Augustus P. Loring, who has been instrumental in circulating the petition, has issued a statement explaining the purpose of the petitioners and setting forth the status of the codification of the Constitution as follows:

"It has long been recognized that the Constitution of 1780 with its 67 amendments has become so encumbered by obsolete and repealed provisions, which constitute more than half its text, that the ordinary man cannot make out what its provisions are, and it requires close study by a lawyer to find out what are the provisions of the fundamental law.

"The revision of the Constitution was the principal purpose, both of the Governor and the Legislature, in calling the convention in 1916, and the final session of the convention in 1918 was for that purpose only.

"The unanimos action of the convention was ratified by the people at the State election in 1919 by a vote of 263,359 in favor to 64,978 opposed; an unusual majority for a constitutional question.

"But a majority of the Court decided that the action of the convention and the vote of the people had no effect, because the clause which was in substance the enacting clause, or as it has been facetiously called, the 'suicide clause' adopted by the convention, following the precedent established in Maine, had called it a 'rearrangement' instead of a 'revision' of the Constitution.

"The word 'rearrangement' was used from a too great solicitude to preserve the construction and interpretations theretofore given various parts of the Constitution, and not to disturb them by their change of position or sequence in this codification.

"This decision of the Court was made at the time of the last codification of the General Laws in the case of Loring vs. Young, reported in Vol. 239 Mass., pp. 350 to 400. The decision of the Court and of the dissenting opinions are long, but the controlling paragraphs are as follows:

"Rugg, C. J., in giving the opinion of the majority of the Court, says:

" 'The first sentence of Article 157 is in these words:

" " 'Upon the ratification and adoption by the people of this rearrangement of the existing Constitution and the amendments thereto, the Constitution shall be deemed and taken to be so rearranged and shall appear in such rearranged form in all future publications thereof.'

" 'The words "rearrangement" and "rearranged" do not express revision, codification or the establishment of something new. They are inapt to describe a finality. Nevertheless, if the first clause of this sentence stood alone there would be strong implication as matter of construction that this rearrangement of the existing Constitution and the amendments thereto, when validly adopted by the people, would be the Constitution. The shadow thrown upon that construction by the words "rearrangement" and "rearranged" is deepened by the concluding clause, namely, "and shall appear in such rearranged form in all future publications thereof." This caluse would be wholly superfluous if "this arrangement" were itself to be the "Constitution." As a matter of interest it is to be observed that this latter clause was taken over from the old Constitution.'

"There were two dissenting opinions, from which we again quote only a few, but what seem to be the decisive words. De Courcy, J., says, at p. 386: 'Whatever doubt may be cast upon the rearranged Constitution by the language of Article 157, it should be resolved so as to carry into effect the will of the people. Every reasonable presumption should be made in their favor. Above all, we should not adopt an interpretation of this single clause which is wholly irreconcilable with the demonstrated purpose to revise the Constitution, and which leads to the unprecedenteq result of avoiding the whole instrument which the people have aodpted.' Crosby, J., at page 387, says: 'Because I believe the decision in this case to be an invasion of the rights of the voters of the Commonwealth as expressed by the State election held Nov. 4 1919, and therefore wrong, I feel constrained to express my dissent.'

"Without disputing the correctness of the decision of the majority of the Court, it is perfectly evident that the question should again be submitted to the people, that they may say definitely in words which even the Chief Justice says will be unquestionable, whether they wish the old Constitution with its mass of amendments and obsolete parts, or the new and rearranged codification to be the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and it is for this purpose that the present petition is filed."

New York City, N. Y.—Salary Increase for Aldermen Voted.—The Board of Aldermen on Dec. 24 voted unanimously in favor of increasing their salaries from $3,000 to $5,000 annually. The New York "Times" of Dec. 25, in referring to the action of the aldermen, said:

With every member voting in the affirmative the aldermen gave themselves a Christmas present yesterday of a $2,000 annual increase in salary. The increase affects 62 of the 65 members of the Board, the remaining three having received an increase several weeks ago. They are the majority and minority leaders and Frank A. Cunningham, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

The increase, which will take effect on Jan. 1, is from $3,000 to $5,000 a year. The Board of Estimate did the actual raising of the salaries last Friday, the aldermen merely concurring. The resolution must be signed by Acting Mayor Murray Hulbert, but as he voted for it, no hitch is expected.

A number of appreciative addresses were made by members of the Board. All agreed that the increase was well deserved.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Tax Levy Upheld.—In a suit brought by an Oklahoma City financier to prove illegal 2.9 mills of a 9.9-mill levy by the city in 1922, Judge T. G. Chambers in District Court on Dec. 18 upheld the validity of the tax levy. The contention of the plaintiff was that the 9.9-mill levy exceeded the 6-mill limit set by the Legislature, but the Court ruled that under the city charter, Oklahoma City could levy taxes up to 10 mills. The validity of other levies made by the city, the county and the school district, will be decided later. The decision on the 9.9-mill rate is to be appealed. The Oklahoma City "Oklahoman" of Dec. 19, referring to the litigation, said:

The legality of the city levy of 9.9 mills for general purposes in 1922 was upheld by Judge T. G. Chambers in District Court Tuesday. Judge Chambers sustained a demurrer by John Howard Payne, Assistant County Attorney, to that part of a suit by Kee R. McKee, an Oklahoma City financier, to recover taxes paid under protest for that year. Other parts of the demurrer were denied and the case will go to trial on questions of other city, county and school district levies on Jan. 3.

McKee alleged that 3.9 mills of the 9.9-mill levy was illegal because in excess of the 6-mill limit set by the Legislature. The Court followed the rule that the city charter permits Oklahoma City to levy up to the 10-mill limit fixed by the State Constitution. A ruling on this point from the Supreme Court is expected in an appealed case which is set for argument Jan. 8. This was the largest single item of twelve presented in the McKee case.

DATE OF ISSUE OF THIS PUBLICATION.

As explained in previous numbers, the State and City Section, or Supplement, owing to the great pressure for space, is now issued in two parts. The first part, comprising the New England and the Middle and the Central States (the latter embracing Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan), is published in the first half of the year and appears in June. The second part, comprising the rest of the country, is published towards the close of the year, and is sent to our subscribers to-day.

The change has been forced upon us by the constant addition to the number of municipal bond issues and the inability to compress the information concerning the same within the limits of a single number. Not only are the older and more important civic corporate bodies uninterruptedly putting out further bonded obligations, but many of the minor places, previously free from debt, have also entered the ranks of borrowing communities and are constantly creating new issues. Besides this, in the newer sections of the country, where expansion and development are such noteworthy characteristics of affairs, new civil divisions are all the time springing up. The result is that the demands for additional space have outgrown our ability to provide for them in a single number, leaving no alternative but to issue the Supplement in two parts and to assign a portion of the country to each part.

United States Debt and the Congressional Acts Authorizing It.

In 1917 the United States, after a long period of debt retirement, entered upon a new era in its debt history. In the prosecution of the war against the Imperial German Government, new obligations were issued on a scale of unparalleled magnitude. By the Act of April 4 1917 authority was conferred upon the Secretary of the Treasury to issue $5,000,000,000 long-term non-taxable bonds at not to exceed 3½% interest ($3,000,000,000 of this being for the purpose of establishing credits in the United States for the foreign Governments enlisted in the war against Germany), and $2,000,000,000 certificates of indebtedness, the latter running for periods not exceeding one year. By the further Act of Sept. 24 1917, authority was conferred to issue $7,538,945,460 convertible 4% bonds to take up the $3,000,000,000 3½% issue authorized to cover loans to the Allies, and to provide for new Allied credits of $4,000,000,000, the remaining $538,945,460 to be used for converting certain outstanding bonds, including the Danish West Indies, Alaskan Railway, Panama Canal and naval construction issues. The bill also provided for the issuance of $2,000,000,000 each of one-year Treasury certificates of indebtness and five-year war savings certificates. The interest rate on the certificates the Secretary of the Treasury was left to fix. By the further Act of April 4 1918, amending the Act of Sept. 24 1917, authority was conferred to issue $12,000,000,000 of bonds at not exceeding 4¼% interest, the 12 billion dollars, however, to include the bonds issued under the Second Liberty Loan, and $3,638,945,460 being in lieu of corresponding amounts of unissued bonds authorized by previous Acts. Under the same Act the limit upon the amount of certificates of indebtedness that might be outstanding at any one time was raised from $4,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000, and was further raised to $10,000,000,000 under the Act of March 3 1919. By the further Act of July 9 1918, amending previous Liberty bond enactments, the limit of the bond issue was raised to $20,000,000,000 at not exceeding 4¼%, but including bonds theretofore issued, and increasing from $5,500,000,000 to $7,000,000,000 the additional loans or credits that might be extended to the Allies, making $10,000,000,000 altogether that could be loaned to the Allies. By the further Act of March 3 1919 (Victory Liberty Loan Act) amending previous Liberty Loan Acts and the War Finance Corporation Act, the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized to borrow an aggregate not exceeding $7,000,000,000 at such rate or rates of interest as he might prescribe, issuing therefor notes payable in not less than one year nor more than five years. By the Liberty Bond Exemption Bill of Sept. 24 1918, the total of War Savings Certificates that might be issued was raised from $2,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000.

The indebtedness of the Government mounted rapidly as bonds authorized by these enactments were issued, the total indebtedness rising from a pre-war figure of about one billion to $26,596,701,648.01, the peak reached Aug. 31 1919. Since that date there has been in progress a gradual reduction in the debt. As of Nov. 30 1923, the gross indebtedness amounted to $22,055,461,220.87, a decrease of $4,541,240,427.14 since Aug. 31 1919.

The following is a brief review of the more important financing done by the Government since the beginning of the war with Germany:

In June 1917 $2,000,000,000 of 3½% bonds were offered under the Act of April 24 1917. The subscriptions amounted to $3,036,226,850, but only $1,989,455,550 were issued. In October 1917 an offering of $3,000,000,000 4s under the Act of Sept. 24 1917 was made. Subscriptions reached an aggregate of $4,617,532,300. In accordance with previous announcement, one-half of the over-subscription was accepted, making the total of bonds put out under this offer $3,807,865,000. In April 1918 $3,000,000,000 of 4¼% non-convertible bonds (Third Liberty Loan) were offered under the Act of April 4 1918. The subscriptions amounted to $4,175,650,050, all of which were accepted. In Sept.-Oct. 1918 $6,000,000,000 of 4¼% non-convertible bonds (Fourth Liberty Loan) were offered under the Act of July 9 1918. The subscriptions amounted to $6,964,581,100, all of which were accepted. In April-May 1919, $4,500,000,000 of convertible gold notes were issued in two series, the one bearing interest at 3¾%, the other at 4¾%. The subscriptions amounted to $5,249,908,300, but only $4,495,373,000 was accepted. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon on Feb. 8 1922 called for redemption on June 15 1922 all of the Victory Notes of the 3¾% series, and on July 26 1922 he called for redemption on Dec.15 1922, Series A to F, of the 4¾% Victory Notes, aggregating about $702,938,100. The remaining Victory Loan Notes matured on May 20 1923, and were then paid off. In October 1922 an offering of $500,000,000 4¼% 30-year (optional after 25 years) Treasury Bonds, issued under authority of the Act of Sept. 24 1917, as amended, was made for refunding purposes. Subscriptions amounted to no less than $1,651,912,800, of which $763,962,300 were accepted. Treasury Notes, running from three to four years and Certificates of Indebtedness running for six months and a year, have also been issued from time to time. Reference to these will be found under a separate heading.

Note.—The Act authorizing the First Liberty Loan was given in the "Chronicle" of April 28, page 1649, with further particulars in the issue of May 12 1917, page 1849, and the text of the Treasury circular in the issue of May 19, page 1959; and of the Second Loan the full text of the bill as it became a law in the "Chronicle" of Sept. 29 1917, page 1252, and the text of the Treasury circular in the issue of Oct. 6, page 1355. The Act authorizing the Third Liberty Loan was presented in the "Chronicle" of April 6 1918, page 1404, and the text of the Treasury circular in the issue of April 13, page 1517. The Act authorizing the Fourth Liberty Loan appeared in the "Chronicle" of July 13 1918, page 131, the Treasury circular in the issue of Oct. 5, page 1328, and the text of the Liberty Bond Exemption Bill on Oct. 5, page 1327. The Act authorizing the Fifth (Victory) Liberty Loan was given in the "Chronicle" of March 8 1919, page 919, and the text of the Treasury Circular in the issue of April 26 1919, page 1670. Certificates of indebtedness have been issued from time to time under the Act of April 24 1917 and the amendatory Acts of Sept. 24 1917, April 4 1918, July 9 1918 and March 3 1919, always for short periods. The offering of 25-30-year long-term Treasury bonds made in October 1922 was given in the issue of Oct. 14 1922, page 1684; details of subscriptions and allotments in the issue of Nov. 18, page 2219.

Consolidation of Liberty Bond Tax Exemptions.—The degree of tax exemption enjoyed by the different issues of Liberty Loan and Victory Liberty Loan bonds is given below in the remarks relating to each issue. In the Revenue Act of 1921 the various provisions appertaining to the several issues were consolidated in Section 1328 of the Act, which we reprint below. The new Revenue Act, complete, was published in the "Financial Chronicle" of Nov. 26 1921, pages 2267 to 2285.

SECTION 1328. That the various Acts authorizing the issues of Liberty bonds are amended and supplemented as follows:

(a) On and after January 1 1921, 4 per centum and 4¼ per centum Liberty bonds shall be exempt from graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess profits and war profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, corporations, or associations, in respect to the interest on aggregate principal amounts thereof as follows:

Until the expiration of two years after the date of the termination of the war between the United States and the German Government, as fixed by proclamation of the President, on $125,000 aggregate principal amount; and for three years more on $50,000 aggregate principal amount. [The official date of the termination of the war by official proclamation was July 2 1921.—Ed.]

(b) The exemptions provided in Subdivision (a) shall be in addition to the exemptions provided in Section 7 of the Second Liberty Bond Act, and in addition to the exemption provided in Subdivision (3) of Section 1 of the Supplement to the Second Liberty Bond Act in respect to bonds issued upon conversion of 3½ per centum bonds, but shall be in lieu of the exemptions provided and free from the conditions and limitations imposed in Subdivisions (1) and (2) of Section 1 of the Supplement to Second Liberty Bond Act and in Section 2 of the Victory Liberty Loan Act.

Section 1402 of this Act increased from $1,000 to $5,000 the limit placed on the amount of holdings, of any one person, of Treasury (War) Savings Certificates.

In the following we present a preliminary detailed statement of the debt of the United States as made up by the Treasurer at the close of business on Nov. 30 1923, this being based on the daily Treasury statements, and, therefore, subject to revision in a minor way.

Below we analyze the Congressional Acts authorizing the incurring of indebtedness and the issues made under each:

CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS UNDER ACT OF SEPT. 24 1917, APR. 4 1918, APR. 23 1918, MAR 3 1919.—(Column 8.)—Sec 6 of Act of Sept. 24 1917 provides for the issuance of certificates of indebtedness at not less than par and at such rates of interest as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe for the purposes of the Act and to meet public expenditures authorized by law, each certificate so issued payable at such time not exceeding one year from the date of its issue. and redeemable before maturity upon such terms and conditions, and the interest accruing thereon payable at such time or times as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe. The sum of such certificates outstanding was not at any one time to exceed in the aggregate $4,000,000,000. but this was increased under the Act of April 4 1918 to $8,000,000,000 and further increased to $10,000,000,000 under the Act of March 3 1919. Under the authority thus granted the Secretary has issued varying amounts of these certificates from time to time; through the Federal Reserve banks, all for short periods, the rate of interest being at first fixed at 4%, then raised to 4¼%, to 4½, to 4¾, to 5, to 5¼, to 5½, to 5¾, and finally to 6%. During 1921 the rate of interest declined and at the close of the year was down to 4¼ and 4½% and in the first six months of 1922 dropped stil lfurther to 3½%. During the second half of 1922 and the first five months of 1923 the rate increased again to 4½% but an issue put out on June 11 1923 bore only 4%. An issue brought out in September 1923 bore 4¼% interest. Two issues are now (December 1923) being made, part of the funds being to meet the issue of certificates which matured on Dec. 15, in the amount of about $190,000,000. One of the new issues matures in six months and bears 4%; the other matures in one year and bears 4½%. Total subscriptions for both issues aggregated $765,505,500, of which $349,277,500, including $135,128,500 six months 4s and $214,149,000 one-year 4½s, were allotted. There were outstanding Nov. 30 1923 $941,013,500 at various rates of interest.

LOANS TO BE REPLACED BY LIBERTY LOAN.—Under the Act of April 24 1917, authorizing the First Liberty Loan bonds, and again under the Act of Sept. 24 1917, authorizing the Second Liberty Loan, as well as under the Third Liberty Loan, all referred to below, the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized to issue Liberty Loan bonds to replace, at his discretion, bonds not already emitted under the following: Act of Aug. 5 1909, Section 39, Panama Canal Loan (Column 9), referred to above: Act of June 3 1916, Section 124, an Act for making further and more effectual provision for the national defense and other purposes, and providing for the expenditure of not more than $20,000,000 for a Government nitrate manufacturing plant; Act of Sept. 7 1916, Section 13, an Act to establish a United States Shipping Board for the purpose of encouraging, developing and creating a naval auxiliary and a naval reserve and a merchant marine to meet the requirements of the commerce of the United States with its territories and possessions, and with foreign countries, to regulate carriers by water engaged in the foreign and inter-State commerce of the United States, and for other purposes; Act of March 3 1917, Section 400, "An Act to provide increased revenue to defray the expenses of the increased appropriations for the Army and Navy, and the extension of fortifications, and for other purposes." (See certificates of indebtedness above), and the Public Resolution of March 4 1917, entitled: "Joint resolution to expedite the delivery of materials, equipment and munitions and to ecure more expeditious construction of ships."

LIBERTY LOAN OF 1917, FIRST.—(Column 1.) Authorized by Act of April 24 1917, entitled "An Act to authorize an issue of bonds to meet expenditures for the national security and defense, and for the purpose of assisting in the prosecution of the war, to extend credit to foreign governments, and for other purposes." Under the Act the Secretary was empowered to borrow, with the approval of the President, up to $5,000,000,000, exclusive of the sums authorized by Section 4 of the Act (see Loans to be Replaced by Liberty Loan above) to meet expenditures authorized for the national security and defense and other public purposes authorized by law and to issue therefor bonds of the United States. The bonds out bear 3½% interest and are payable in United States gold coin of the present standard of value, and exempt both as to principal and interest, from all taxation, except estate or inheritance taxes, imposed by authority of the United States or its possessions or by any State or local taxing authority. The bonds do not bear the circulation privilege. Provision was made by Section 2 of the Act for the establishing of credits to and the purchasing of obligations of foreign governments, $3,000,000,000, or so much thereof as might be necessary being appropriated for the purpose. Under Section 3 it was provided that payments to the United States on or before maturity by foreign governments for obligations incurred by them under Section 2 must be applied to the redemption or purchase at not more than par and accrued interest of any bonds of the United States issued under authority of the Act; and if such bonds are not available for this purpose the Secretary of the Treasury shall redeem or purchase any other outstanding interest-bearing obligations of the United States which may at such time be subject to call or which may be purchased at not more than par and accrued interest.

Section 5 provides that any series of bonds issued under authority of the Act may be convertible into bonds bearing a higher rate of interest than the rate at which the same were issued if any subsequent series of bonds shall be issued at a higher rate of interest before the termination of the war, the date of such termination to be fixed by a proclamation of the President of the United States.

Under the Act $2,000,000,000 gold bonds, running 15-30 years and bearing 3½ interest payable semi-annually June 15 and Dec. 15 were offered for subscription, denominations of coupon bonds being $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, and registered bonds $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $50,000 and $100,000. Subscriptions were received from over 4,000,000 individual subscribers and aggregated $3,036,226,850. In scaling down the allotments to the total offered, all subscriptions up to and including $10,000 were awarded in full, but on larger amounts the allotments ranged from 60% down to 20.17% The total of bonds issued was $1,409,999,050, but only $1,409,999,550 remained outstanding Sept. 30 1923 a 3½s with full tax exemption; in addition, $8,680,900 appear as First Liberty Loan Convertible 4s; $529,502,300 as converted 4¼s and $3,492,150 Seconds Converted 4¼s. The total of the First Liberty Loan issues outstanding, converted and unconverted, Nov. 30 1923, was $1,951,642,400.

LIBERTY LOAN OF 1917, SECOND.—(Column 2.) —Authorized by Act of Sept. 24 1917, entitled "An Act to authorize an additional issue of bonds to meet expenditures for the national security and defense, and for the purpose of assisting in the prosecution of the war, to extend additional credit to foreign governments, and for other purposes."

The Act in its general outlines is similar to that of April 24 1917, but authorizes the issuance of not exceeding $7,538,945,460 bonds, bearing not exceeding 4% interest, in addition to the $2,000,000,000 bonds issued under authority of the Act of April 24 1917. Provided, That of this sum $3,063,945,460 shall be in lieu of that amount of the unissued bonds authorized by Sections 1 and 4 of the Act approved April 24 1917, $225,000,000 shall be in lieu of that amount of the unissued bonds authorized by Section 39 of the Act, approved Aug. 5 1909, $150,000,000 shall be in lieu of the unissued bonds authorized by the joint resolution approved March 4 1917, and $100,000,000 shall be in lieu of the unissued bonds authorized by Section 400 of the Act, approved March 3 1917.

Section 2 provides for the appropriation out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, of the sum of $4,000,000,000, and in addition thereto the unexpended balance of the appropriations made by Section 2 (the section that authorizes loans to the Allies) of the Act approved April 24 1917 and under the same conditions.

Section 4 provides for the convertibility of the bonds into any issue thereafter bearing a higher rate of interest. Under Section 7 it is provided that none of the bonds shall bear the circulation privilege. The bonds are exempt, both as to principal and interest from all taxation how or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess profits and war profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations. The interest on an amount of such bonds and certificates the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, is exempt from the taxes provided for in subdivision (b) of this section.

Section 11, which relates to the conversion privilege of the first issue of Liberty Loan Bonds, states that no bonds shall be issued under authority of Sections 1 and 4 of said Act approved April 24 1917, in addition to the $2,000,000,000 already issued or offered for subscription.

Under authority of the Act, the Secretary of the Treasury offered for subscription on Oct. 1 an issue of $3,000,000,000 or more of 4% 10-25-Year bonds of the same denominations as the first Liberty Loan, reserving the right to allot bonds in excess of $3,000,000,000 to the extent of not over one-half of the sum by which the subscriptions received exceeded $3,000,000,000. Subscriptions totaled $4,617,532,300, or $1,617,532,300 more than the minimum sought, and on the basis of 50% of the oversubscriptions, the amount issued was $3,807,865,000; all those up to $50,000 were allotted in full. Total number of subscribers was approximately 9,400,000 There were outstanding on Sept. 30 1923, $3,198,437,800, of which only $38,229,600 were 4s, the remaining $3,160,208,200 having been converted into 4¼s. The total of the Second Liberty Loan issues, converted and unconverted, outstanding Nov. 30 1923 was $3,197,957,400.

With the issue of the Second Liberty 4s, dated Nov. 15 1917, a conversion privilege arose with respect to the First Liberty 3½s which continued until May 15 1918. The bonds issued upon conversion retained the date of maturity, the terms of redemption, and the dates of interest payment of the 3½s, but otherwise had the terms of the Second Liberty 4s. When the Third Liberty 4¼s were issued on May 9 1918, the holders of the unconverted First Liberty 3½s had the privilege of conversion into the new 4¼s and so did the holders of First Liberty converted 4s and of Second Liberty 4s. The privilege continued for six months or until Nov. 9 1918. The Third Liberty 4¼s are non-convertible, and hence the 4¼% bonds issued upon conversion of prior issues likewise are non-convertible. With the issuance of the Fourth Liberty Loan on Oct. 24 1918, a new privilege of exchange accrued to the holders of the unconverted First Liberty 3½s; this privilege remained open until April 24 1919. By Sec. 5 of the Victory Liberty Loan Act of March 3 1919, authority was conferred upon the Secretary of the Treasury to extend the privilege of converting the 4% bonds of 1932-47 of the First Liberty Loan converted and the 4% bonds of 1927-42 of the Second Liberty Loan into 4¼% bonds. Accordingly, by circular dated Mar. 7 1919, and published in the "Chronicle" of March 15 1919, page 1021, the Secretary offered a new privilege of conversion. This privilege may be terminated at any time upon six months public notice. The privilege does not apply to the unconverted 3½s of the First Liberty Loan.

LIBERTY LOAN OF 1918, THIRD (Column 3).—Authorized by Act of April 4 1918, amending the Act of Sept. 24 1917. Following the general lines of the Act which it amends, it authorizes the issuance of not exceeding $12,000,000,000 bonds, bearing not exceeding 4¼% interest, in addition to the $2,000,000,000 issued under authority of the Act of April 24 1917, but including the bonds outstanding under the Second Liberty Loan and the $3,063,945,460 reserved for unissued bonds of earlier Acts. Section 2 increased the additional loans or credits that might be extended to the Allies from $4,000,000,000 to $5,500,000,000.

Section 3 provides that holders of bonds bearing interest at a higher rate than four per centum per annum, whether issued under Section 1 or upon conversion of three and one half per centum bonds issued under the Act approved April 24 1917, or upon conversion of four per centum bonds issued upon conversion of such three and one half per centum bonds, shall not be entitled to any privilege of conversion under or pursuant to this section or otherwise. Under Section 7 it is provided that none of the bonds shall bear the circulation privilege. The bonds are non-convertible and not subject to redemption before maturity, but are exempt from taxation as indicated above under Second Liberty Loan and receivable for Federal inheritance taxes.

Under authority of the Act, the Secretary of the Treasury offered for subscription on April 6 1918 $3,000,000,000 4¼% 10-year gold bonds with coupon bonds for $5,000 and $10,000 and registered bonds for $50 in addition to the same denominations as the First Liberty Loan, reserving the right to allot additional bonds to the extent of full amount of any oversubscripion. Subscriptions totaled $4,175,650,050, or $1,175,650,050 more than the minimum sought, and all were allotted. Total number of subscribers was 18,376,815. Outstanding Nov. 30 1923, $3,305,021,900.

LIBERTY LOAN OF 1918, FOURTH (Column 4).—Authorized by Act of July 9 1918, amending previous Liberty Loan enactments. Section 1 increases from $12,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 the total of bonds bearing not exceeding 4¼% interest that may be issued under the various Acts. Section 2 increases the loans or credits that may be extended to the Allies from $5,500,000,000 to $7,000,000,000, in addition to the $3,000,000,000 authorized under the First Liberty Loan Act. Section 3 provides that, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, bonds, while beneficially owned by a non-resident alien individual, or by a foreign corporation, partnership or association, not engaged in business in the United States, shall be exempt both as to principal and interest from any and all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

Under authority of the Act, the Secretary of the Treasury offered for subscription on Sept. 28 $6,000,000,000 4¼% 15-20-year (optional) gold bonds of the same denomination as those of the Third Loan, reserving the right to allot additional bonds to the extent of full amount of any oversubscrip-tion. Subscriptions totaled $6,964,581,100, or $964,581,100 more than the minimum sought, and all were allotted. Total number of subscribers was approximately 21,000,000. The bonds, like all other Liberty Loan issues, are not available for bank note circulation.

Supplementary to the passage of the above authorizing Act, there was passed and signed by the President on Sept. 24 1918 a bill designed to stimulate sales of Liberty Bonds by exempting from the supertaxes and from war excess profits taxes interest on a certain amount of Liberty bond holdings. The principal provisions of the bill are:

(1) The interest on an amount of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan, the principal of which does not exceed $30,000, owned by any individual partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess profits and war-profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations;

(2) The interest received after Jan. 1 1918 on an amount of bonds of the First Liberty Loan converted, dated either Nov. 15 1917 or May 9 1918, the Second Liberty Loan, converted and unconverted, and the Third Liberty Loan, the principal of which does not exceed $45,000 in the aggregate, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from such taxes: Provided, however, That no owner of such bonds shall be entitled to such exemption in respect to the interest on an aggregate amount of such bonds exceeding 1½ times the principal amount of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan originally subscribed for by such owner and still owned by him at the date of his tax return; and

(3) The interest on an amount of bonds, the principal of which does not exceed $30,000, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, issued upon conversion of 3½% bonds of the First Liberty Loan in the exercise of any privilege arising as a consequence of the issue of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan, shall be exempt from such taxes.

The exemptions provided in this section shall be in addition to the exemption provided in Section 7 of the Second Liberty Bond Act in respect to the interest on an amount of bonds and certificates, authorized by such Act and amendments thereto, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, and in addition to all other exemptions provided in the Second Liberty Bond Act. [In the Revenue Act of 1921 the tax provisions of the different issues were consolidated in a single section, as noted under a separate heading in the earlier part of these remarks—Ed.]

Sec. 2. That Section 6 of the Second Liberty Bond Act is hereby amended by striking out the figures "$2,000,000,000," and inserting in lieu thereof the figures "$4,000,000,000." Such section is further amended by striking out the words "The amount of War Savings Certificates sold to any one person at any one time shall not exceed $100, and it shall not be lawful for any one person at any one time to hold War Savings Certificates to an aggregate amount exceeding $1,000," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "It shall not be lawful for any one person at any one time to hold War Savings Certificates of any one series to an aggregate amount exceeding $1,000. The Revenue Act of 1921 raised this limit to $5,000. On Jan. 1 1923 the Treasury Department redeemed the War Savings Certificates of 1918. A new offering of the certificates, Series of 1923, was made, and holders of the maturing certificates were urged to exchange their holdings for the new issue.

Amount of Fourth Liberty Loan bonds outstanding Nov. 30 1923, $6,326,289,100, bearing 4¼% interest. The amount of Savings Certificates outstanding on Nov. 30 1923 was $359,903,342.41.

FIFTH OR VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN OF 1919 (Column 5).—Authorized by Act of March 3 1919, amending previous Liberty Loan enactments and the War Finance Corporation Act. Under the Act the Second Liberty Bond Act is amended by adding thereto a new section [18] which provides (a) for the issuing of notes to an amount not exceeding $7,000,000,000 in the aggregate, at such rates of interest as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe and payable at such time not less than one year nor more than five years as he may prescribe, redeemable before maturity at the option of the United States; (b) the notes to be issued in one or more series as follows: "(1) Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority. (2 and 3) Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes commonly known as surtaxes and excess profits and war profits taxes now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations, except that the interest on an amount of such notes the principal of which does not exceed $30,000 so owned, is exempted. Or, (4) Exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, and (b) all income, excess profits and war profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations or corporations."

Holders had the option of converting their holdings of notes of any series into any other series of same date of issue at par. The notes do not bear the circulating privilege. Under authority of the Act the Secretary of the Treasury on April 21 1919 invited subscriptions for $4,500,000,000 convertible gold notes bearing 3¾% or 4¼% of the same denominations as those of the Fourth Liberty Loan. The notes bearing 3¾% to enjoy exemption as per (1) above and 2, 3 & 4 to apply to the 4¼s. The Secretary announced that allotments would be restricted to the $4,500,000,000 offered, but tha t applications not in excess of $10,000 would be allotted in full. Subscriptions aggregated $5,249,908,300, or $749,908,300 in excess of the offering. Total number of subscribers was approximately 12,000,000. The exact amount issued was $4,495,373,000. On Feb. 9 1922 the Victory Notes bearing 3¾% interest were called for payment on June 15 1922 and none of these, except those not presented for payment ($200,400 in amount) are any longer outstanding. A portion of the 4¼% notes, consisting of Series A, B, C, D, E and F, amounting to $702,9 8,100, was on July 26 1922 called for payment Dec. 15 1922, and on May 20 1923 the remainder of the issue, all bearing 4¼% and about $800,500,000 in amount, matured and were paid off. On Nov. 30 1923, however, $10,487,900 of the notes called for payment Dec. 15 1922, and $22,281,050 of those that matured May 20 1923, had not yet been presented for payment. Both of these items are placed under "Debt on Which Interest Has Ceased" in the financial statement.

The Victory Liberty Loan Act, in addition to providing for the issuance of the $4,500,000,000 notes as above, covered the following changes in the exemption privileges contained in preceding Acts:

Sec. 2. (a) That until the expiration of five years after the date of the termination of the war between the United States and the German Government, as fixed by proclamation of the President, in addition to the exemptions provided in Section 7 of the Second Liberty Bond Act in respect to the interest on an amount of bonds and certificates, authorized by such Act and amendments thereto, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, and in addition to all other exemptions provided in the Second Liberty Bond Act or the supplement to Second Liberty Bond Act, the interest received on and after Jan. 1 1919 on an amount of bonds of the First Liberty Loan Converted, dated Nov. 15 1917, May 9 1918 or Oct. 24 1918, the Second Liberty Loan, converted and unconverted, the Third Liberty Loan, and the Fourth Liberty Loan, the principal of which does not exceed $30,000 in the aggregate, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess profits and war profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations or corporations.

(b) In addition to the exemption provided in subdivision (a), and in addition to the other exemptions therein referred to, the interest received on and after Jan. 1 1919 on an amount of the bonds therein specified the principal of which does not exceed $20,000 in the aggregate, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes therein specified: Provided, That no owner of such bonds shall be entitled to such exemption in respect to the interest on an aggregate principal amount of such bonds exceeding three times the principal amount of notes of the Victory Liberty Loan originally subscribed for by such owner and still owned by him at the date of his tax return. [In the Revenue Act of 1921 the tax provisions of the different issues were consolidated in a single section as noted under a separate heading in the earlier part of these remarks.—Ed.]

ISSUE OF TREASURY NOTES.—In 1921 the new Secretary began issuing Treasury Notes. In June 1921 he made an offer of 5¾% 3-year Treasury Notes (exempt from the normal income tax, but not from the surtaxes, the excess profits and the war profits taxes), the notes not being subject to prior redemption, and allotted $311,191,600. On Sept. 8 1921 he made an offering of three-year notes. These notes were dated Sept. 15 and carried the same exemptions as he others, but bore only 5½% interest. The subscriptions for the notes reached $785,082,900 and the amount allotted was $390,706,100. In Feb. 1922 $601,599,500 notes at only 4¾%, maturing March 15 1925, were issued. In the following March an additional $617,769,700 4¾% notes, to mature Marcn 15 1926, were issued. In June 1922 another issue of Treasury Notes, Series B-1925, bearing but 4¾% interest, dated June 15 1922 and maturing Dec. 15 1925, was offered; subscriptions totaled $335,141,300, all of which were allotted. Along with the call for redemption on Dec 15 of Series A to F of the Victory 4¼s, the Secretary announced the offering of an issue of about $300,000,000 4¼% Treasury Notes, with provision for additional allotments up to a limited amount in exchange for the called Notes. Subscriptions totaled $1,236,861,450. Allotments of $486,940,100, including about $141,500,000 exchanges, were made. An offering of $300,000,000 Treasury Notes was made in December 1922. These notes bore 4½% interest, were dated Dec. 15 1922, and mature June 15 1925. Amount allotted was $469,213,200, of which about $41,000,000 represented exchanges. In January 1923 another offering of $300,000,000 was made. These notes bore 4½%, were dated Jan. 15 1923 and mature Dec. 15 1927. Subscriptions amounted to $581,550,800, of which $366,981,500 were allotted. Another issue, bearing 4¼% interest, dated May 15 1923 and payable March 15 1927, was made in May 1923. The amount of the offering for cash was $400,000,000 or thereabouts. Victory Notes maturing May 20 1923 were accepted in payment for the new notes. Subscriptions, including over $286,000,000 exchanges, totaled $1,234,570,400, while allotments were $668,201,400. A grand total of $4,050,432,000 Treasury Notes was outstanding on Nov. 30 1923.

TREASURY LONG-TERM BOND ISSUE OF 1922.—Under authority of the Act of April 24 1917, as amended, the Secretary on Oct. 9 1922, made an offering of an issue of $500,000,000 4¼% Treasury bonds for refunding purposes. The bonds are dated Oct. 16 1922 and mature Oct. 15 1952, the Government having the option of redeeming the bonds on any interest date on or after Oct. 15 1947 on four months' notice. Cash subscriptions totaled no less than $1,399,851,900. It was announced that all subscriptions up to $10,000 would be allotted in full. The Secretary also reserved the right to accept additional applications where Victory Notes and Treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing Dec. 15 were tendered in payment. Total allotments, both cash and exchanges, amounted to $763,962,300. On Nov. 30 1923 $763,952,300 were outstanding.

Certificates of indebtedness,	School Fund	$1,163,700

*The large increase in values for 1901 and since that date is due to the formation of a new State Board of Assessment by Chapter 237, Laws of 1901, which has construed the existing law to be a command to assess at full value, whereas former boards did not so construe the Act.

[The 1915 Legislature passed an Act (Chapter 407, Laws 1915) providing for the re-assessment of railroad companies so as to include certain docks and elevators omitted from prior valuations and for the distribution of the taxes collected from such docks and elevators to the cities, towns and villages in which they are located.]

DEBT LIMITATION.—The constitutional provision of Wisconsin restricting debt-making are very rigorous, plain and comprehensive. Since the amendment adopted in 1874, debts of cities, &c., as well as the State, are definitely limited by that instrument. We give the provisions first which relate to the State and, after, those which have reference to cities, &c.

(1) STATE indebtedness is confined within very close bounds. The sections which cover the subject are Sections 3, 4, 6, 7, 9 and 10 of Article 8. We give them in full below.

SECTION 3. Credit of State, for what not given. The credit of the State shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association or corporation.

SECTION 4. Contracting Debts. The State shall never contract any public debt, except in the cases and manner herein provided.

SECTION 6. Limitation on Public Debt. For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the State may contract public debts (but such debts shall never in the aggregate exceed $100,000). Every such debt shall be authorized by law, for some purpose or purposes to be distinctly specified therein; and a vote of a majority of all the members elected to each House to be taken by yeas and nays, shall be necessary to the passage of such law; and every such law shall provide for levying an annual tax sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and the principal within five years from the passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation shall not be repealed, nor the taxes be postponed or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid.

SECTION 7. State may borrow money, when. The Legislature may also borrow money to repel invasion, suppress insurrection or defend the State in time of war; but the money thus raised shall be applied exclusively to the object for which the loan was authorized, or to the repayment of the debt thereby created.

SECTION 9. Evidences of debt. No scrip, certificate, or other evidence of State debt whatsoever, shall be issued except for such debts as are authorized by the sixth and seventh sections of this article.

SECTION 10. Internal improvements. The State shall never contract any debt for works of internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on such works; but whenever grants of land or other property shall have been made to the State, especially dedicated by the grant to particular works of internal improvement, the State may carry on such particular works, and shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenues derived from such works in aid of their completion. Provided that the State may appropriate money in the treasury or to be thereafter raised by taxation for the construction or improvement of public highways.

(2) CITIES, counties, towns, villages, &c., were unrestricted except by legislative enactment until 1874, when an amendment, adding Section 3 to Article XI of the Constitution, was adopted, regulating the creation of debt by municipalities. Since that amendment was adopted 5% on the value of the taxable property has been the extreme amount of debt permissible for any municipality. Not only is that the case, but, as will be seen, the municipality is required before, or at the time when it incurs any indebtedness, to make provision for (or according to decisions of the State Supreme Court) levying an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also sufficient to pay the principal within twenty years from the time of contracting the debt. The voters in Nov. 1912 adopted an amendment to Section 3 of Article XI of the Constitution, extending the time to fifty years within which cities or counties having a population of 150,000, or over, shall pay debts incurred for the acquisition of land. The section referred to now reads as follows:

Section 3, Article XI.—It shall be the duty of the Legislature, and shey are hereby empowered, to provide for the organization of cities and incorporated villages, and to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, so as to prevent abuses in assessments and taxation, and in contracting debts by such municipal corporations.

No county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to any amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding 5% on the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. Any county, city, town, village, school district, or other municipal corporation incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid, shall, before or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within twenty years from the time of contracting the same; except that when such indebtedness is incurred in the acquisition of lands by cities, or by counties having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand or over, for public, municipal purposes, or for the permanent improvement thereof, the city or county incurring the same shall, before or at the time of so doing, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within a period not exceeding fifty years from the time of contracting the same.

The Legislature has from time to time passed laws providing for the issuance of bonds for various specified purposes, but these laws are too numerous to be given here. Such authority is of course subject to the foregoing provisions of the constitution.

At its 1917 session the Legislature passed an Act (Chapter 18, approved March 20) relative to the validity of bonds issued by cities for any purpose, and providing that: "If the electors of any city, prior to the passage of this Act, shall have voted in favor of issuing bonds for any purpose or purposes, and the vote on such bonds shall be invalid by reason of the failure or neglect of the city to print on the ballot by which the proposition of issuing said bonds was submitted to the electors a statement of the amount of bonds theretofore issued by such city for said purpose or purposes and then outstanding, as required by Section 943e of the statutes, the Common Council of such city may, notwithstanding such failure or neglect, authorize the issuance of said bonds and when issued, they shall be valid, legal and binding, and of the same force and effect as though said Section 943e of the statutes had been fully complied with." V. 104, p. 1308.

BONDS OF MUNICIPALITIES—WHETHER TAXABLE OR NOT.—By Chapter 516 of the Laws of Wisconsin for 1911, bonds issued by Wisconsin municipalities were made exempt from taxation within the State. V. 93, p. 607. Under date of April 7 1919, however, we were informed in a letter from John H. Leenhouts, Assessor of Incomes, that "under the Wisconsin law all intangible securities were exempt from local assessment as personal property, but in lieu of this exemption the income from such securities is taxable to the recipient. The only bonds or securities which are exempt under our law to-day are the issues of the Federal Government, such as Liberty Loan bonds, and bonds issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act." V. 108, p. 1533.

Bonds of the State of Wisconsin are taxable. Secs. 1034 and 1038, Wisconsin Statutes, 1919.

SAVINGS BANK INVESTMENTS, &c.—DEPOSITS—HOW INVESTED.—The provisions regulating the investments of deposits of any mutual savings bank are contained in Section 2024, paragraphs 68, 69 and 138, of the Banking Law of Wisconsin, revision of 1915.

Paragraph 68 was amended in 1917 so as to permit investment in bonds issued by the Federal Land Bank in the Federal Land Bank District of which Wisconsin is a part. The three sections referred to are given in full herewith:

Deposits, how invested.—Sec. 2024, par. 68. Any mutual savings bank organized hereunder may employ not exceeding one-half of its deposits in the purchase of the bonds of the United States or of the States of the United States or of the authorized bonds of any incorporated city, village, town or county, or school district in the aforesaid States of the United States or of first mortgage bond of any railroad company, which has paid annual dividends of not less than 4% regularly on its entire capital stock for a period of at least five years next preceding the investment, and in the consolidated mortgage bonds of any such company issued to retire the entire bonded debt of such company, or in the farm loan bonds issued by the Federal Land Bank in the Federal Land Bank District of which the State of Wisconsin is a part in accordance with the provisions of an Act of Congress approved July 17 1916. All other loans, except as provided in section 2024, par. 69, shall be secured by mortgage on unencumbered real estate lying and being in the State of Wisconsin and States immediately adjoining the State of Wisconsin, to wit: Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota. No mutual savings bank shall invest any part of its deposits in the stock of any corporation nor loan on, nor invest in any mortgage on real estate, except such real estate as lies in the State of Wisconsin and States immediately adjoining, to wit: Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota. No loan shall be made upon real estate to any amount exceeding 60% of the value thereof as determined upon by not less than a majority of the members of the finance committee, who shall duly certify to the value of the premises to be mortgaged, according to the best of their judgment, and such report shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation.

Collateral security required. Sec. 2024, par. 69. No such mutual savings bank shall loan any money upon any obligation on which only one person or firm shall be holden, unless the same be secured by collateral in which the bank might invest its funds or on which it might loan its money to the extent authorized by the preceding section.

Legal investment. Sec. 2024, par. 138. The bonds of a land mortgage association shall be a legal investment for savings associations, trust companies or other financial institutions chartered under the laws of this State, and shall also be a legal investment for trustees, executors, administrators, or custodians of public or private funds, or corporations, partnerships or associations. Whenever the taxes upon the real estate subject to the mortgages pledged as security for any bonds of any land mortgage association shall be payable by either the mortgagee or the mortgagor then such bonds shall be exempt from further taxation in the hands of their holders.

STATE DEBT.—For the early history of Minnesota's debt see "State and City Supplement," April 1893, page 103. The funded debt of the State on Dec. 15 1923 amounted to $25,910,000, and includes the following:

In addition, the State is responsible for a total of $24,396,616 bonds for County Highways.

INTEREST on bonds marked (*) in New York City; on bonds due Dec. 15 1943 at State Treasurer's office, Merchants' National Bank, St. Paul, or the Bankers Trust Co., New York, on all certificates is payable at State Treasurer's office.

PERMANENT TRUST FUNDS.—The school fund on June 30 1922 amounted to $33,750,529.38, including 168,577.25 in cash, $5,068,280.18 in land contracts and $28,513,671.95 in bonds. The permanent university fund on June 30 1922 amounted to $2,110,195.63, including $10,753.94 cash, $197,653.64 in land contracts and $1,901,788.05 in bonds; swamp land fund to $8,223,536.45, including $29,190.70 in cash, $3,195,956.75 in land contracts, $4,998,389 in bonds and the internal improvement land fund to $373,270.60, including $1,666.69 in cash, $158,728.56 in land contracts and $212,875.35, in bonds.

ASSESSMENTS MADE ON NEW BASIS SINCE 1913.—The Legislature in 1913 passed a new law, known as Chapter 483, General Laws, 1913, under which the county assessor assesses platted real estate at 40% of its full value and unplatted at 33 1-3%, where previously it was customary to assess real property at 60% of its full valuation and any improvement thereon at 50%. The personal property under this new law is now being assessed at 33 1-3% and 25% of its full valuation, where formerly about 50% was assessed. Mining property is assessed at 50% of its full value.

TAXABLE VALUATION.—The taxable valuation, total tax levied, and the rate of State tax have been as follows for the years named:

Note.—Total taxes levied, including those collected by municipalities as well as the State, for 1922 were $114,032,640 99; for 1921, $114,541,635 09; for 1920, $115,391,095 69; for 1919, $96,938,405 04; for 1918, $72,209,340.32. The tax rate given in the table above, however, is for State purposes alone.

x The State Legislature in 1911 passed an Act (Chapter 285), making money and credits exempt from general taxation, but providing that such property shall be taxed annually at the rate of three mills per dollar. We do not include in the above the valuation of moneys and credits since the enactment of this law. The valuation of money and credits since 1910 has been as follows: 1910, $115,676,126; 1911, $134,826,568; 1912, $156,252,274; 1913, $197,625,914; 1914, $197,625,914; 1915, $213,078,632; 1916, $223,858,138; 1917, $285,662,756; 1918, $330,270,597; 1919, $359,112,619; 1920, $443,092,869; 1921, $425,745,839; 1922, $400,960,331.

DEBT LIMITATION.—Minnesota has sought to protect the State from excessive debt issues through restrictions in its Constitution, but the action of the State Legislature in 1919 and 1921 in authorizing $20,000,000 Soldiers' Bonus Certificates and the upholding of the law by the State Supreme Court "Chronicle" Dec. 27 1919, page 2456) shows that the restrictions are not as broad as had been supposed. The Constitution fixes the limit of debt at $250,000 "for the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures"; and an amendment, ratified in 1879, extended this power to $250,000 additional "for erecting and completing buildings for the insane, a deaf, dumb and blind asylum and State prison." On Nov. 2 1920 the voters approved an amendment which added Article 16, providing for the creation of a State highway system and authorizing the issuance of $10,000,000 bonds per year for that purpose, to a grand aggregate of $75,000,000. Then in November 1922 the voters ratified another amendment to Article 9. This changed Section 10 so as to allow the State to organize a rural credit system and to incur indebtedness in unlimited amount to carry the amendment into effect. Under authority of this amendment the State Legislature in 1923 enacted a law organizing a rural credit system and authorizing the issuance of $40,000,000 bonds. With regard to the debt of municipalities, there is but one section in the Constitution which relates to that subject, and that has reference to making railroad debt.

FIRST, as to State indebtedness, Article 9, Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 10 and 14, and Article 16 follow:

SECTION 5. (State Debt Limited—How Contracted.)—For the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenditures, the State may contract public debt but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; every such debt shall be authorized by law for some single object, to be distinctly specified therein, and no such law shall take effect until it shall have been passed by the vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch of the Legislature, to be recorded by the yeas and nays on the journals of each House respectively; and every such law shall levy a tax annually sufficient to pay the annual interest of such debt, and also a tax sufficient to pay the principal of such debt within ten years from the final passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of such taxes to the payment of such principal and interest; and such appropriation and taxes shall not be repealed, postponed or diminished, until the principal and interest of such debt shall have been wholly paid. The State shall never contract any debts for works of internal improvements, or be a party in carrying on such works, except in cases where grants of land or other property shall have been made to the State, especially dedicated by the grant to specific purposes, and in such case the State shall devote thereto the avails of such grants, and may pledge or appropriate the revenue derived from such works in aid of their completion.

SECTION 6 (Issue of Bonds for Created Debt).—All debts authorized by the preceding section shall be contracted by loan on State bonds of amounts not less than five hundred dollars each on interest, payable within ten years after the final passage of the law authorizing such debt; and such bonds shall not be sold by the State under par. A correct registry of all such bonds shall be kept by the Treasurer, in numerical order, so as always to exhibit the number and amount unpaid and to whom severally made payable.

SECTION 7 (Limitation as to When Debt May Be Contracted).—The State shall never contract any public debt, unless in time of war, to repel invasion or suppress insurrection, except in the cases and in the manner provided in the fifth and sixth sections of this article.

SECTION 8 (Disposition of Funds Received for Bonds).—The money arising from any loan made, or debt or liability contracted, shall be applied to the object specified in the Act authorizing such debt or liability, or to the repayment of such debt or liability, and to no other purpose whatever.

SECTION 10.—Credit of the State Prohibited but Rural Credits to an Unlimited Extent May be Granted.—The credit of the State shall never be given or loaned in aid of any individual, association or corporation except as hereinafter provided. Nor shall there by any further issue of bonds denominated "Minnesota State Railroad Bonds," under what purports to be an amendment to Section 10 of Article 9 of the Constitution, adopted April 15 1858, which is hereby expunged from the Constitution, saving, excepting and reserving to the State, nevertheless, all rights, remedies and forfeitures accruing under said amendment. Provided, however, that for the purpose of developing the agricultural resources of the State, the State may establish and maintain a system of rural credits and thereby loan money and extend credit to the people of the State upon real estate security in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by law, and to issue and negotiate bonds to provide money to be so loaned. The limit of indebtedness contained in Section 5 of this article shall not apply to the provisions of this section, and the purposes for which the credit of the State or the aforesaid municipal subdivisions thereof may be given or loaned as herein provided are declared to be public purposes.

SECTION 14.—(Public Debt for State Buildings.)—For the purpose of erecting and completing buildings for a hospital for the insane, a deaf, dumb and blind asylum, and State prison, the Legislature may by law increase the public debt of the State to an amount not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to the public debt already heretofore authorized by the constitution; and for that purpose may provide by law for issuing and negotiating the bonds of the State, and appropriate the money only for the purpose aforesaid; which bonds shall be payable in not less than ten nor more than thirty years from the date of the same, at the option of the State.

We reprint below part of Section 1 and Section 4 of Article 16, which was adopted at the 1920 general election:

ARTICLE 16, SECTION 1.—Provision for the Establishment of a Trunk Highway System.—There is hereby created and established a trunk highway system which shall be located, constructed, reconstructed, improved and forever maintained as public highways, by the State of Minnesota. The said highways shall extend as nearly as may be along the following described routes, the more specific and definite location of which shall be fixed and determined by such boards, officers or tribunals, and in such manner, as shall be prescribed by law, but in fixing such specific and definite routes, there shall not be any deviation from the starting points or terminals set forth in this bill, nor shall there be any deviation in fixing such routes from the various villages and cities named herein, through which such routes are to pass.

SECTION 4.—Ten Million Dollars Bonds Annually for Highway Purposes May Be Issued.—The Legislature may provide by law for the issue and sale of the bonds of the State in such amount as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 1 of this article, provided, however, that the amount of bonds which may be issued in any one calendar year shall not exceed, in the aggregate, ten million dollars, par value, and provided, further, the total amount of such bonds issued and unpaid shall not at any time exceed seventy-five million dollars, par value. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the State and credited to the trunk highway fund. Any bonds so issued and sold shall be for a term not exceeding twenty (20) years. They shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest and shall not bear interest at a greater rate than five per cent per annum. In case the trunk highway sinking fund shall not be adequate to meet the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized by the Legislature as hereinbefore provided, the Legislature may provide by law for the taxation of all taxable property of the State in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may, in its discretion, appropriate to such sinking fund moneys in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Section 5 repeals all provisions of the Constitution inconsistent with Article 16.

SECOND, as to city, county or other municipality*, the only restriction on the debt-making power in the constitution is the following, found in article 9, section 15:

ART. 9, SEC. 15.—(Municipal Debts in Aid of Railroads.)—The Legislature shall not authorize any county, township, city or other municipal corporation to issue bonds, or to become indebted in any manner, to aid in the construction or equipment of any or all railroads to any amount that shall exceed five per centum of the value of the taxable property within such county, township, city, or other municipal corporation, the amount of such taxable property to be ascertained and determined by the last assessment of said property made, for the purpose of State and county taxation, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.

The foregoing was adopted as an amendment in 1879. Before its adoption the section read so as to authorize municipal corporations to issue bonds in aid of railroads to ten per cent of valuation. Hence the amendment consisted in simply changing the word ten and making it five.

This is all the constitution contains with reference to the debts of municipalities.

Legislative Provisions.—The Legislature, however, has made some general provisions governing bond issues which are contained in Sections 1851, 1862, 1903, 1906, 1907 and 1932 of the General Statutes, 1913.

Section 1851 provides that "no city of the first class shall hereafter incur or be subject to a net indebtedness in excess of 5% of its assessed value, nor shall any other municipal corporation except school districts become so indebted beyond 10% of such value." It is provided also "that if the net indebtedness of any municipality, at the time when the Revised Laws take effect, shall exceed the limit herein fixed, or if any village thereafter organized as a city under a home rule charter shall be subject to such excess when so organized, either may issue and sell new bonds sufficient in amount to refund all or any part of such existing indebtedness, but the same shall not thereby be increased."

Section 1862 relating to independent school districts situated wholly or in part within any city having a population of more than 50,000, states that "no such school district shall have power to issue bonds or any evidences of indebtedness running more than two years, whenever the aggregate of the outstanding bonds and evidences of indetedness of such district equals or exceeds 3½% of the assessed value of all taxable property within such school district."

There is no legislation regarding the indebtedness of smaller school districts, but a recent decision of the State Supreme Court regarding the issuance of bonds by such districts furnishes a guide. The Supreme Court, in a decision May 18 1923, held that there was no legislative limit placed upon the indebtedness of smaller districts, and therefore such districts could incur unlimited debt without violating any law. The Court at the same time overruled a contention that the debt of such districts was automatically limited by a limit of 8 mills placed upon the tax that may be levied in any one year for the purchase of sites and erection of buildings, holding that this was not meant to limit the tax that might be levied for bonds and interest. See V. 116, p. 2418.

Section 1903 refers to cities having a population of 20,000 or less and provides that bonds may be issued for such purposes as permanent improvement, bridge, shipping terminal, water and light, city hospital, school and general fund, but stipulates that "none of such bonds above described shall be issued whereby the aggregate bonded indebtedness of the city, excluding any funds, bonds or balances held in a sinking fund, shall be made to exceed 10% of the assessed valuation of the taxable property within the city, provided, however, for the purpose of determining the limitation bonds issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing improving, operating or purchasing water power or lighting plants shall not be included."

No bonds authorized by this Act shall be issued by any city, until the issuance thereof shall have been first authorized by a three-fifths vote of the legal voters of the city voting upon the question, and the question of the issuance of such bonds shall be submitted to the electors of the city proposing to issue the same at a general or special election.

Cities having more than 10,000 and not more than 20,000 inhabitants, in addition to all the powers previously possessed by such cities, are authorized by Section 1906 to issue bonds for local improvements not exceeding $25,000, and according to Section 1907 "the bonds authorized by Section 1 of this Act (Section 1906) or any portion thereof, may be issued and sold by any such city notwithstanding any limitation contained in the charter of such city or in any law of this State, prescribing or fixing any limit upon the bonded indebtedness of such city, but the full faith and credit of any such city shall at all times be pledged for the payment of any bonds issued under this Act and for the current interest thereon, and the city council and common council of such city shall each year include in the tax levy for such city a sufficient amount to provide for the payment of such interest and for the accumulation of a sinking fund for the redemption of such bonds at their maturity."

Section 1932 provides that villages in Minnesota having a floating indebtedness may issue bonds for the purpose of refunding the same; but no such bonds shall be issued, or sold which, with bonds already issued shall exceed 15% of the assessed valuation of real estate of said village.

There has been a mass of other legislation enacted of more or less special application. We have not space here to notice it further than to say that as a rule, bonds for water and light purposes, and possibly for other self supporting enterprises, are not subject to the limitations placed upon indebtedness, and that under Chapter 299, Laws of 1923, no bonds may be sold below par, unless specific provision is made in the law authorizing their issuance that a sale may be effected at less than par.

SOLDIERS' BONUS CERTIFICATES.—The Legislature passed an Act in 1919 creating a Soldiers' Bonus Board and authorizing the "Board to issue certificates of indebtedness in the aggregate amount not to exceed $20,000,000 at not less than par and not more than 5% interest. The State Supreme Court on Dec. 19 1919 sustained the decision of the Hennepin County District Court, which on Nov. 5 1919 held that the Soldiers' Bonus Law was valid. See "Chronicle" Dec. 27 1919, page 2456.) Owing to the inability of the "Board" to sell all of the certificates at par the 1921 Legislature passed an Act permitting the sale of the remainder ($4,538,000) below their face value. Another Act passed in 1921 provided an additional million of bonus certificates.

COUNTY DITCH BONDS. THEIR SECURITY AND METHOD OF ISSUANCE.—For illustration of method of issuing ditch bonds and the security back of them, see "Chronicle" of Oct. 30 1915, page 1490.

DRAINAGE BONDS DIRECT OBLIGATIONS OF COUNTY.—The State Supreme Court holds that drainage bonds issued under Sec. 18, Chapter 230, of the general laws of 1905 as amended, are direct and general obligations of the county issuing the same. V. 94, p. 365.

SUPREME COURT RULING AFFECTING SCHOOL BONDS.—The State Supreme Court on Dec. 28 1917 ruled that bond issues for the erection of new school buildings must be initiated with the passage of resolutions by boards of education under Minnesota laws, otherwise a vote of a school district to that end is ineffective. V. 106, p. 205.

MORTGAGE TAX LAW.—The Legislature of 1907 enacted a law which became effective April 30 1907, imposing a tax of 50 cents upon each hundred dollars of the principal debt, secured by any mortgage of real property located within the State, recorded or registered on or after April 30 1907. The text of this law was given on page 1194 of the "Chronicle" of May 18 1907. This law, as amended, provides for a tax of 25 cents on each hundred dollars of a mortgage running for not more than 5 years and 60 days and 15 cents on a hundred dollars of a mortgage running for more than 5 years and 60 days. The law now reads as follows:

"Sec. 2302. A tax of 15 cents is hereby imposed upon each hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, of the principal debt or obligation which is, or in any contingency may be, secured by any mortgage of real property situate within the State executed and delivered after the passage and approval hereof and recorded or registered hereafter; provided that any such mortgage heretofore executed and delivered shall not be recorded or registered without payment of the tax originally stipulated in section 2 hereof as originally enacted; provided further, that if any such mortgage shall describe any real estate situate outside of this State, such tax shall be imposed upon such proportion of the whole debt secured thereby as the value of the real estate therein described situate in this State bears to the value of the whole of the real estate described therein, as such value shall be determined by the State Auditor upon application of the mortgagee; and provided further, that if the maturity of any portion of said debt secured by the said mortgage, as therein stipulated, shall be fixed at a date more than five years and sixty days after the date of said mortgage, then and in that case the tax to be paid on such portion shall be at the rate of 25 cents on each hundred dollars or fraction thereof."

TAXATION OF MUNICIPAL BONDS, MONEY AND CREDITS.—Under authority of Chapter 242, Laws of 1911 (Section 1971, General Statutes, 1913), bonds thereafter issued by the State of Minnesota and its political subdivisions, are exempt from taxation. See V. 92, p. 1263. The law reads: "That bonds and certificates of indebtedness hereafter issued by the State of Minnesota, or by any county, city or village of said State, or any township, or any common or independent school district of said State, or any governmental board of said State, or any county, city or village thereof, shall hereafter be exempt from taxation, provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed as exempting such bonds from the payment of a tax thereon, as provided for by Chapter 288, Laws of 1905 (Secs. 2271 to 2298, Gen. Stat., 1913), when any of such bonds constitute in whole or in part any inheritance or bequest, taken or received by any person or persons or corporation."

In 1923 the Legislature passed a law (Chapter 102) amendatory to Section 2316, Gen. Stat. of 1913, which levies a tax of 3 mills on a dollar of certain money and credits. Under this statute, bonds issued by States other than Minnesota and by municipalities located outside Minnesota are taxable at the rate of 3 mills on the dollar. This section now reads:

2316. As used in this section the word "money" means gold and silver coin, treasury notes, bank notes and other forms of currency in common use; and the word "credits" means and includes every claim and demand for money or otner valuable tning, and every annuity or sum of money receivable at stated periods, due or to become due, and all claims and demands secured by deed or mortgage due or to become due, and all shares of stock in corporations tne property of which is not assessed or taxed in this State.

As hereinbefore defined, money and credits are hereby exempt from taxation other than that imposed by this Act and shall hereafter be subject to an annual tax of 3 mills on each dollar of the fair casa value thereof. But nothing in this Act shall apply to money or credits belonging to incorporated banks located within this State, nor to any indebtedness on which taxes nave been properly and fully paid under the provisions of Sections 2301-2309, General Statutes of Minnesota 1913 [mortgage tax law referred to above—Editor], nor to moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of this State coming into competition with the business of national banks; provided, that bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness in the hands of individual citizens not employed or engaged in the banking or investment business and representing merely personal investments not made in competition with sucn business, shall not be deemed moneyed capital within the meaning of this section.

SAVINGS BANK INVESTMENTS.—The law relating to the investment of savings banks funds in the State of Minnesota is contained in Section 6393 of the General Statutes of 1913. This section was amended in 1917 so as to provide that investments may be made in Federal Farm Loan bonds and in 1919 so as to allow of the purchase of bankers' acceptances. The law was further amended by Chapter 421, Laws of 1923. Section 6393 now reads:

Section 6393. The trustees of any savings bank shall invest the moneys deposited therein only as follows:

1. In the bonds or other interest-bearing obligations of the United States, or in securities for the payment of which and interest thereon the faith of the Government is pledged.

2. In the bonds of any State which has not defaulted in the payment of any bonded debt within 10 years prior to the making of such investment.

3. In the bonds of any county, city, town, village, school, drainage or other district created pursuant to law for public purposes in Minnesota, or in any warrant, order, or interest-bearing obligation issued by this State, or by any city, city board, town or county therein, provided that the net indebtedness of any such municipality or district, as net indebtedness is defined by Revised Laws of 1905, Section 777 (1848), and its amendments, shall not exceed 10% of its assessed valuation, or in the bonds of any county, city, town, village, school, drainage or other district created pursuant to law for public purposes, in Iowa, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota, or in the bonds of any city, county, town, village, school district, drainage or other district created pursuant to law for public purposes, in the United States, containing at least 3,500 inhabitants; provided that the total bonded indebtedness of any such municipality or district shall not exceed 10% of its assessed valuation.

4. In notes or bonds secured by mortgages or trust deeds on unencumbered real estate in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, worth when improved at least twice and when unimproved at least three times the amount loaned thereon. But not more than 70% of the whole amount of the moneys of the bank shall be so loaned and such investment shall be made only on report of a committee directed to investigate the same and report its value, according to the judgment of its members, and its report shall be preserved among the bank's records.

5. In notes secured by such bonds or mortgages, as the bank under this section is authorized to invest in, but no such bond or mortgage shall be taken as collateral security for more than its par value, nor shall the aggregate amount of securities taken be less than the full amount loaned thereon, and no such loan shall be made for a longer time than one year, nor to a greater amount to any one person than 3% of the total deposits of the bank. No such bank shall loan in the aggregate, on the security specified in this paragraph, more than ¼ of its deposits.

6. In the bonds of any railroad company, or the successor of any railroad company, which has received a land grant from the Government and whose bonds are secured by first lien upon its railroad.

7. In the bonds of any other railroad company, which are secured by first lien upon a railroad within the United States, or in the mortgage bonds of any such company, of an issue to retire all prior mortgage indebtedness thereof, or in the bonds of any railroad company in the United States which are guaranteed or assumed by another railroad company within the United States; provided, that the railroad company, except one whose bonds are so guaranteed or assumed, either issuing, guaranteeing, or assuming any of such bonds, has not within five years prior to such investment failed in the payment of a dividend upon its entire capital stock outstanding of not less than 4% per annum each fiscal year, and has not within such time defaulted in the payment of any part of the principal or interest of any debt incurred by it and secured by trust deed or mortgage upon its road or any part thereof, or in the payment of any part of the principal or interest of any bonds guaranteed or assumed by it. But no such bank shall loan upon or invest in railroad bonds to an amount exceeding in the aggregate 20% of its deposits, nor exceeding 5% of its deposits in the bonds issued, guaranteed or assumed by any one railroad company.

8. In farm loan bonds issued by the Federal Land Bank in the Federal Land Bank District of which the State of Minnesota is a part, or by a branch of said Federal Land Bank, or by a Joint Stock Land Bank in said district, in accordance with the provisions of an Act of Congress of the United States of July 17 1916, known and designated as "The Federal Farm Loan Act," and Acts amendatory thereto.

9. In bankers' acceptances of the kind and character following:

a. Bankers' acceptances of the kind and maturities made eligible by law for rediscount with or purchase by Federal Reserve banks, providing the same are accepted or endorsed by a bank, or a trust company incorporated under the laws of this State; or by any bank or trust company in the United States which is a member of the Federal Reserve System.

b. Not more than 20% of the assets of any savings bank shall be invested in such acceptances. Not more than 7% of the aggregate amount credited to the depositors of any savings bank shall be invested in the acceptances of or deposited with a trust and banking company or with a national bank of which a trustee of such savings bank is a director.

10. In equipment obligations or equipment trust certificates: Provided that such obligations or certificates mature not later than 15 years from their date and are issued or guaranteed by a corporation to which a loan or loans for the construction, acquisition, purchase or lease of equipment have been made or approved by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, under authority conferred by Act of Congress of the U. S. of America or are secured by or on evidence of a prior or preferred lien upon interest in, or of reservation of title to, the equipment in respect of which they have been sold, or by an assignment of or prior interest in the rent or purchase notes given for the hiring or purchase of such equipment, and provided, further, that the total amount of principal of such issue of equipment obligations or trust certificates shall not exceed 60% of the cost or purchase price of the equipment in respect of which they were issued. The remaining 40% of said cost or purchase price having been paid by or for the account of the railroad so constructing, requiring, purchasing or leasing said equipment, or by funds loaned or advanced for the purpose by the Government of the U. S. or one its agencies or instrumentalities and subordinated in the event of default, in respect of the lien or interest thereof upon or in such equipment or rent or purchase notes, to the lien or interest of said prior preferred equipment obligations or equipment trust certificates.

The term "authorized securities" whenever used in the Revised Law shall be understood as referring to the securities specified in this section. At least half of the whole amount deposited shall be invested;

First—In the bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith of the United States is pledged for the payment of the interest and principal.

Second—In the bonds of any State in the Union, provided that such State has not within ten (10) years previous to making such investment by such corporation defaulted in the payment of any part of the principal or interest on any debts authorized by any Legislature of such State to be contracted, and of the State of Minnesota, issued since 1860.

Third—In the bonds of any city, county, town, village or school district in the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio or Michigan, or in any warrants or interest-bearing obligations issued by the said States or counties in said States, or city or city board, town, village or school district within the county in which such banks shall be situated, or in the bonds of any city, county, town, village or school district of the United States, which city, county, town, village or school district had at least five thousand (5,000) inhabitants as determined by the State or United States Census taken next preceding the issue of bonds tendered; provided, that the bonded indebtedness of any such city, county, town, village or school district so tendering bonds shall not exceed ten per centum upon the assessed valuation of such city, county, town, village or school district at the time of the issue of the bonds tendered.

Fourth—In notes secured by mortgage on unincumbered real estate situate in the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Montana, North Dakota or South Dakota, and worth at least twice the amount loaned thereon, but in case the loan is on unimproved or unproductive real estate the amount loaned thereon shall not be more than thirty (30) per cent of its actual value, and no investment in any bond and mortgage shall be made by any savings bank except upon the report of a committee charged with the duty of investigating the same, and who shall certify to the value of the premises mortgaged, or to be mortgaged, according to their best judgment, and such report shall be filed and preserved among the records of the institution.

Fifth—The remaining one-half (½) may be invested in said bonds or loaned on the aforesaid securities or upon approved personal or collateral security or in the bonds of any railroad company as hereinafter provided, or used to buy and sell exchange.

Sixth—In the bonds of any railroad company, or the successor of any railroad company, which has received a land grant from the Government of the United States, and which are secured by first lien upon its railroad.

Seventh—In the bonds of any other railroad company, which are secured by first lien upon a railroad within the United States, or in the mortgage bonds of any such railroad company of an issue to retire all prior mortgage indebtedness of such railroad company; or in the bonds of any railroad company within the United States, which are guaranteed or assumed by another railroad company, within the United States; provided that the railroad company (except a railroad company whose bonds are guaranteed or assumed as aforesaid) either issuing, guaranteeing or assuming any of said bonds has not within five years prior to the time of making such investment by said bank failed in the payment of a dividend, upon its entire capital stock outstanding, of not less than four (4) per cent per annum each fiscal year during said five-year period; and has not within five years prior to the time of making such investment by said bank defaulted in the payment of any part of the principal or interest of any debt incurred by it and secured by mortgage or trust deed upon its railroad, or any part thereof, or in the payment of any part of the principal or interest of any bonds guaranteed or assumed by it; and provided further, that no savings bank shall ever loan pon or invest in railroad bonds to exceed in the aggregate twenty (20) per cent of its deposits, nor shall such savings bank ever loan upon or invest in the bonds issued or guaranteed or assumed by any one railroad company to exceed in the aggregate five (5) per cent of its deposits.

The maintenance of this sinking fund for the payment of the principal of the bonds is "declared to be part of the contract with the holder of any bonds of the city that may hereafter be issued and shall be kept inviolate." HISTORY OF DEBT.—For the early history of Iowa's debt see "State and City Supplement" of April 1893, page 108.

FINANCIAL CONDITION.—This State during June (see remarks below) contracted its only bonded indebtedenss since 1892 throuhg marketing the $22,000,000 soldiers bonus bonds, a description of which follows:

4¼s' 22 J-D {$11,000,000c..Dec 1 '24-'33 / 245,000c...Dec 1 1934
4½s'23 J-D {$855,000c...Dec 1 1934 / 8,800,000c..Dec 1 '35-'42

$1,100,000 matured Dec. 1 1923. Interest payable at Des Moines.

On June 30 1922 there were $1,279,240.70 warrants outstand ng and the State had cash in the general revenue fund amounting to $5,217,592.37. The Permanent School Fund on June 30 1922 aggregated $4,820,078.72.

During 1913, 1914, 1915 and 1916 up to 1921 the State issued and disposed of $1,085,000 5% certificates, the proceeds of which have been applied to the extension of the capitol grounds. Up to June 30 1922 $900,000 of these certificates had been redeemed, leaving $195,000 outstanding on that date.

SOLDIERS' BONUS.—The 1921 Legislature passed an Act authorizing the State to become indebted in the amount of $22,000,000 and providing for the issue and sale of soldiers' bonus bonds for that amount. In accordance with Sec. 5 of Article 7 of the Constitution, this Act was submitted to the voters on Nov. 7 1922 and was approved—V. 115, p. 2179. Later—March 13 1923—the validity of the Act was unanimously upheld in a decision handed down by the State Supreme Court (V. 116, p. 1209) The bonds were marketed during June 1923 (V. 116, p. 2675).

The value of moneys and credits amounting to $700,106,943 are not included in the valuation figures for 1921 or subsequent years, as they are now taxed as a separate item at a flat rate of 5 mills on the dollar of actual value. The value of moneys and credits for 1922 amount to $645,695,400. See following item.

TAXATION OF MONEYS AND CREDITS.—The Legislature in 1911 passed an Act (Chapter 63) requiring that moneys and credits be taxed at full value with a flat levy of 5 mills. Previously moneys and credits were assessed at full value and taxed at 25% of this value the same as other property.

TAX RATE.—The State tax (per $1,000) for 1921 was $8.75; in addit on there was a tax of 14 cents for Capitol Ground extension. For 1922 the general tax was $9.11; and in addition there were levies of 15 cents for Capitol Extension and $2 for soldiers' bonus. The tax rate for 1923 is $11.50, including $10.19 general levy and $1.31 soldier bonus levy. These taxes were based on the equalized taxable value, which is ¼ of the appraised value.

The net taxable valuation for 1923 has been fixed at $1,095,336,310. This valuation is based on the following appraisals: Lands, $2,659,408,045; forest lands, $47,788; town lots, $901,531,470; livestock, $213,696,020; personal property, $291,627,994; railroads, $314,886,486; sleeping cars, $2,009,150; interurbans, $2,419,182; trasnmission lines, $5,906,192; telephone and telegraph, $29,481,998; express, $1,305,305; total, $4,428,319,630. Exemptions, $47,014,390, making the net actual value total $4,381,305,240.

MUNICIPAL DEBTS.—Title V, Chapter 14-A, Supplement to the Code, 1913, requires town and city officials to file annually with the State Auditor reports of the financial condition of their municipalities. These statements show that the total indebtedness of the municipalities on April 1 1922 was $47,180,119 divided as follows:

	Cities.	Towns.
General bonds	$16,780,796	$7,087,471
Municipal industry bonds	5,146,852	3,640,859
Temporary loans	320,759	609,476
Outstanding warrants	1,082,444	721,605
Special fund (assessment) bonds	11,235,919	553,947
Total	$34,566,770	$12,613,349
Cities		$34,566,770
Towns		12,613,349
Total		$47,180,119

The per capita debt of the cities average $37.76 and of the towns $29.52,

DEBT LIMITATION.—Iowa's Constitution restricts the creation of both State and municipal debt.

FIRST, as to State debt, the limitation made is not absolute, for it permits other debt if authorized by some law for some single specified work. But this permission is very safely guarded—(1) the law must provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest regularly and discharge the debt in twenty years; and (2) the law cannot take effect until it has been submitted to the people at a general election, and has received a majority of the votes cast. All the debt provisions relating to the State we give below:

ARTICLE 7, Section 1. [Limitation of State indebtedness.] The credit of the State shall not in any manner be given or loaned to, or in aid of, any individual, association or corporation; and the State shall never assume or become responsible for, the debts or liabilities of any individual, association or corporation, unless incurred in time of war for the benefit of the State.

Section 2. [Same.] The State may contract debts to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debts, direct and contingent, whether contracted by virtue of one or more Acts of the General Assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed the sum of $250,000; and the money arising from the creation of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

Section 4. [For what other purposes State may contract debt.] In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the State may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the State in war; but the money arising from the debts so contracted shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

Section 5. [Other debts to be authorized.] Except the debts herein before specified in this article, no debt shall be hereafter contracted by or on behalf of this State, unless such debt shall be authorized by some law for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt, within twenty years from the time of contracting thereof; but no such law shall take effect until at a general election it shall have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money raised by authority of such law, shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated, or to the payment of the debt created thereby; and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each county, if one is published therein, throughout the State, for three months preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people.

ARTICLE VIII, Section 3. [State not to be a stockholder.] The State shall not become a stockholder in any corporation, nor shall it assume or pay the debt or liability of any corporation, unless incurred in time of war for the benefit of the State.

SECOND, as to municipal indebtedness, the limit is fixed absolutely in the Constitution. The provisions covering the subject are as follows:

ARTICLE VIII, Section 4. [Corporation not to be a stockholder.] No political or municipal corporation shall become a stockholder in any banking corporation, directly or indirectly.

ARTICLE XI, Section 3. [To what amount county or other corporations may become indebted.] No county, or other political or municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose to an amount in the aggregate, exceeding 5% on the value of the taxable property within such county or corporation—to be ascertained by the last State and county tax list, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. The Legislature, however, has fixed a lower limit, as stated below.

The above (Section 3, Article XI) covers cities, counties, towns and every other kind of political or municipal corporation. The Supreme Court of Iowa has decided that even a school district is such a corporation and subject to same limit. The Legislature of 1900 passed a bill (Chapter 41, Laws of 1900) fixing the limit of indebtedness of counties or other political or municipal corporations at 1¼% of the actual value of property therein as returned by the last tax list, but it is further provided that such corporations may incur additional indebtedness, after the electors have authorized the action, for water-works, electric light and power plants, gas works and heating plants, and sewers; the total of all not to be in excess of 5% of the assessed valuation. This change was made because, under a revision of the Revenue Law which went into effect in 1898, property is now appraised for taxation on a much higher basis than formerly. In 1904 and again in 1906 the Act was amended, the important sections now reading as follows:

Section 1. That section thirteen hundred and six-b (1306-b) of the supplement to the code and chapter forty-three (43) of the Acts of the 30th General Assembly be and the same are hereby repealed, and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

"No county or other political or municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount exceeding in the aggregate the amount of one and one-fourth per centum of the actual value of the taxable property within such county or corporation, except that cities and incorporated towns may, for the purpose of purchasing, erecting or maintaining and operating waterworks, electric light and power plants, gas works and heating plants, or of building and constructing sewers, incur an indebtedness not exceeding in the aggregate, added to all other indebtedness, five per centum of the actual value of the taxable property within such city or incorporated town. The amount of such taxable property shall be ascertained by the last State and county tax list previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.

Section 2. Provided that before such indebtedness can be contracted in excess of one and one-quarter per centum of the actual value of the taxable property ascertained as above provided in this Act, a petition signed by a majority of the qualified electors of such city or town shall be filed with the Council of such city or town, asking that an election shall be called, stating the purposes for which the money is to be used and that the necessary waterworks, electric light and power plants, gas works heating plants or sewers, cannot be purchased, erected, built or furnished within the limit of one and one-quarter per centum of the valuation. And provided that in cities having a population of more than ten thousand, the petition need not be signed by more than two hundred qualified electors.

In 1904 an Act passed the Legislature, approved Mar. 30, 1904, which permits independent school districts containing or contained in any incorporated town or city of the second class of 3,000, or less population to become indebted for the purpose of building and furnishing school houses and procuring sites, to an amount not exceeding 2½% of the actual value of taxable property. It is provided, however, that any excess above the 1¼% limit must be authorized by a vote of the people. See V. 78, p. 1408.

The 1913 Legislature passed an Act authorizing cities of the first-class to issue flood protection bonds up to 5% of the actual value of the taxable property as shown by the last preceding assessment roll. This Act is to be construed as granting additional power without limiting the power already existing in cities of the first class, including cities acting under the commission plan of government. See V. 96, p. 1241.

The Supreme Court of Iowa has held that city bonds payable from a specific fund provided for by a tax levy, and not from the general revenue of the city, are not to be considered as debts within the meaning of the constitutional provision. (Swanson vs. Ottumwa, 118 Iowa, 161). The court has also held that State bonds payable from a like tax levy rather than from the general funds of the State are not State debts within the meaning of the constitutional provision. (Rowley vs. Clark, 162 Iowa, 132.)

A constitutional amendment was adopted by the voters in November 1908 providing for an additional section to Article I to be known as Section 18, and providing for the construction of drains, ditches and levees, as well as the organization of drainage districts. V. 87, p. 1556.

BONDS NOT TO BE SOLD BELOW PAR.—The 1923 Legislature passed an Act (Chap. 14) making it unlawful for any county, city, town, township or school corporation to sell its bonds at less than par or to pay any commission or expenses, except for advertising, in connection with the sale. V. 117, p. 803.

DECISION REGARDING DEBT LIMIT.—Judge Smith McPherson of the U. S. Circuit Court on Oct. 22 1909, in a case involving the right of the City of Council Bluffs to issue bonds for a muncipal water system, sustained the city's contention that it could issue bonds up to 5% of the actual value of the property of the city and was not limited to 5% of the taxable value. Judge McPherson construed "taxable" to mean the actual value of property subject to taxation, and not the assessed value, which, by the State code, is fixed at only 25% of the actual value. In taking this position Judge McPherson referred to the opinion of the State Supreme Court handed down in 1905, in the case of Halsey vs. City of Belle Plaine (128 Iowa 467), which, he said, puts at rest the question raised. V. 89, p. 1176.

OPINION REGARDING MUNICIPAL IMPROV'T BONDS.—The Department of Justice in Nov. 1911 rendered an opinion to the effect that municipal improvement bonds or certificates issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes need not be considered in determining the constitutional limit of indebtedness as fixed by Section 74-v of the Supplement to the Code, 1907. V. 94, p. 365.

BONDS TAX FREE.—The 1909 Legislature passed an Act (Sec. 4482 Compiled Code of 1919), providing for the exemption from taxation of municipal, school and drainage bonds or certificates thereafter issued. It is expressly provided, however, that banks or trust companies holding such bonds or certificates shall not be permitted to make any deduction from the assessment of their shares by reason of that fact. V. 88, p. 1329. State bonds are taxable at the rate of 5 mills on the dollar. Secs. 4490 and 4504, Compiled Code of 1919.

SAVINGS BANKS' INVESTMENTS.—Investments of funds of State and savings banks in Iowa are governed by Section 1850 of the Supplement to Code, 1913, as amended in 1917 and 1921, which reads as follows:

Sec. 1850. Investment of funds. Each savings bank shall invest its funds or capital, all moneys deposited therein and all its gains and profits, only as follows—

1. In bonds or interest-bearing notes or certificates of the United States.
2. In bonds or evidence of debts of this State, bearing interest;
3. In bonds or warrants of any city, town, county, school district, or drainage district of this State, issued pursuant to the authority of law; but not exceeding 25% of the assets of the bank shall consist of such bonds or warrants.
4. In notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon unencumbered real estate located in Iowa or upon unencumbered farm land in adjoining States, worth at least twice the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no such loan shall be made upon any real estate located west of the one-hundredth meridian line.
5. An amount not exceeding ten per cent 10% of their capital stock and surplus in the capital stock of corporations chartered or incorporated under the provisions of Section Twenty-five-a (25-a) of the Federal Reserve Act, approved Dec. 24 1919, and a like amount in the capital stock of corporations organized under the laws of this State for the purpose of extending credit to those engaged in agriculture and to agricultural organizations, subject, however, to the approval of the Superintendent of Banking; provided that said investments by savings banks shall in no event exceed in the aggregate 20% of the capital stock and surplus of said bank.
6. It may discount, purchase, sell and make loans upon commercial paper, notes, bills of exchange, drafts, or any other personal or public security, but shall not purchase, hold or make loans upon the shares of its capital stock.
7. In all cases of loans upon real estate, all the expenses of searches, examination and certificates of title, or the inspection of property, appraisals of value, and or drawing, perfecting and recording papers, shall be paid by such borrowers; if buildings are included in the valuation of real estate upon which a loan shall be made, they shall be insured by the mortgagor for at least two-thirds of their value, in some solvent company, and the loss, if any, under the policy of insurance shall be made payable to the bank or it assigns, as its interests may appear. When the mortgagor neglects to procure the insurance as above provided, the mortgagee may procure the same in the mortgagor's name for its benefit, and the premium so paid therefor shall be added to the mortgage debt.

INVESTMENT OF TRUST FUNDS (In What to Be Made) was regulated by Section 364 of the Code of 1897, as amended by Laws of 1913 In 1921 this section was repealed and an Act known as Chapter 126, Laws o 1921, substituted, which we give in full below.

Chapter 126—Investments—In What to Be Made.—Where investments or funds are to be made, including those to be made by executors, administrators, trustees and guardians, and no mode of investment is pointed out by statute, they may under order of court be made in the bonds of this State, or of those of the United States, or Federal Farm Loan bonds issued under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved July 17 1916, or in bond or mortgage upon real property of the clear, unencumbered value of twice the investment or in bonds, issued by or under the direction of cities, towns, counties, school or drainage districts of this State.
